RACIAL PROFILING ANALYSIS

PREPARED BY:

University of North Texas

Executive Summary

Article 2.132 (7) of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure requires the annual reporting to the local governing body of data collected on the race or ethnicity of individuals stopped and issued citations or arrested for traffic violations and whether or not those individuals were searched. Since the law provides no clear instruction to a governing body on how to assess such data, the Coppell Police Department requested this analysis and review to assist the City Council in interpreting the data.

The analysis of material and data from the Coppell Police Department revealed the following:

- A COMPREHENSIVE REVIEW OF THE COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT REGULATIONS, SPECIFICALLY GENERAL ORDER 100.003 AND SECTION XI OUTLINING THE DEPARTMENT'S POLICY CONCERNING RACIAL PROFILING, SHOWS THAT THE COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT IS FULLY IN COMPLIANCE WITH ARTICLE 2.132 OF THE TEXAS CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.
- A REVIEW OF THE INFORMATION PRESENTED AND SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION REVEALS THAT THE COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT IS IN FULL COMPLIANCE WITH TEXAS LAW ON TRAINING AND EDUCATION REGARDING RACIAL PROFILING.
- A REVIEW OF THE DOCUMENTATION PRODUCED BY THE DEPARTMENT IN BOTH PRINT AND ELECTRONIC FORM REVEALS THAT THE DEPARTMENT IS FULLY IN COMPLIANCE WITH APPLICABLE TEXAS LAW ON THE RACIAL PROFILING COMPLAINT PROCESS AND PUBLIC EDUCATION ABOUT THE COMPLAINT PROCESS.
- ANALYSIS OF THE DATA REVEALS THAT THE DEPARTMENT IS IN COMPLIANCE WITH APPLICABLE TEXAS LAW ON THE COLLECTION OF RACIAL PROFILING DATA.
- THE ANALYSIS OF STATISTICAL INFORMATION FROM COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT REVEALS THAT THERE ARE NO METHODOLOGICALLY CONCLUSIVE INDICATIONS OF SYSTEMIC RACIAL PROFILING BY THE DEPARTMENT.
- THE COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT IS FULLY IN COMPLIANCE WITH APPLICABLE TEXAS LAW CONCERNING THE PROHIBITION OF RACIAL PROFILING.
- THE COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT IS FULLY IN COMPLIANCE WITH APPLICABLE TEXAS LAW CONCERNING THE REPORTING OF INFORMATION TO TCLEOSE.

Introduction

This report details an analysis of the Coppell Police Department's policies, training, and statistical information on racial profiling for the year 2012. This report has been prepared to comply with Article 2.132 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure (CCP) regarding the compilation and analysis of racial profiling data. Specifically, the analysis will address Articles 2.131 – 2.135 of the CCP and make a determination of the level of compliance with those articles by the Coppell Police Department in 2012. The full copies of the applicable laws and regulations pertaining to this report are contained in Appendix A.

This report is divided into six analytical sections:

- 1) Coppell Police Department's policy on racial profiling;
- 2) Coppell Police Department's training and education on racial profiling;
- 3) Coppell Police Department's complaint process and public education on racial profiling;
- 4) Analysis of statistical data on racial profiling;
- 5) Analysis of Coppell Police Department's compliance with applicable laws on racial profiling; and
- 6) Data and information reporting forms required to be sent to TCLEOSE beginning in 2011.

For the purposes of this report and analysis, the following definition of racial profiling is used: racial profiling means a law enforcement-initiated action based on an individual's race, ethnicity, or national origin rather than on the individual's behavior or on information identifying the individual as having engaged in criminal activity (Texas CCP Article 3.05).

Coppell Police Department Policy on Racial Profiling

A review of Coppell Police Department General Order 100.003 and Section XI (Racial Profiling) revealed that the department has adopted policies to comply with Article 2.132 of the Texas CCP (see Appendix B). There are seven specific requirements mandated by Article 2.132 that a law enforcement agency must address. All seven are clearly covered in General Order 100.003. Coppell Police Department regulations provide clear direction that any form of racial profiling is prohibited and that officers found engaging in inappropriate profiling may be disciplined up to and including termination. Appendix C lists the applicable statute and corresponding Coppell Police Department regulation.

A COMPREHENSIVE REVIEW OF COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT GENERAL ORDER 100.003 AND SECTION XI (RACIAL PROFILING) SHOWS THAT THE COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT IS FULLY IN COMPLIANCE WITH ARTICLE 2.132 OF THE TEXAS CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

Coppell Police Department Training and Education on Racial Profiling

Texas Occupation Code § 1701.253 and § 1701.402 require that curriculum be established and training certificates issued on racial profiling for all Texas Peace officers. Documentation provided by Coppell Police Department reveals that racial profiling training and certification did occur in 2012 and was provided to all officers requiring such training.

A REVIEW OF THE INFORMATION PRESENTED AND SUPPORTING DOCUMENTATION REVEALS THAT THE COPPELL POLICE DEPARTMENT IS FULLY IN COMPLIANCE WITH TEXAS LAW ON TRAINING AND EDUCATION REGARDING RACIAL PROFILING.

Coppell Police Department Complaint Process and Public Education on Racial Profiling

Article 2.132 §(b)3-4 of the Texas Code of Criminal Procedure requires that law enforcement agencies implement a complaint process on racial profiling and that the agency provide public education on the complaint process. Coppell Police Department General Order 100.003, Section XI-D, specifically covers this requirement. Moreover, the department has prepared a tri-fold pamphlet on the complaint process that is available in the lobby of the police department and on the Coppell Police Department's website (<http://www.ci.coppell.tx.us/racial-profiling-policy.html>). The pamphlet is clearly written, available in English and Spanish, and provides detailed information on the process and whom to contact to file a complaint.

Coppell Police Department Statistical Data on Racial Profiling

Article 2.132(b) 6 requires that law enforcement agencies collect statistical information on traffic stops in which a citation is issued and arrests with specific information on the race of the person cited. In addition, information concerning searches of persons and whether or not the search was based on consent is also required to be collected. Coppell Police Department submitted statistical information on all citations in 2012 and accompanying information on the race of the person cited. Relevant information on searches was also provided.

Analysis of the Data

The first chart depicts the percentages of people cited by race among the total 7,357 traffic contacts where a citation was given in 2012.¹ White drivers constituted 61.56 percent of all drivers cited, whereas Whites constitute 66.10 percent of the city population, 33.10 percent of the Dallas County population, 64.40 percent of the Denton County population, and 50.90 percent of the region population.² African-American drivers constituted 17.10 percent of all drivers cited,

¹ There were a total of 85 citations given to citizens of Middle Eastern or Native American descent. These were not charted due to the small number of citations relative to the population of Coppell. This report utilizes the term "citations" to include both the total number of citations (6,929) plus the total number of arrests (285) plus both arrest and citation (143) as indicated on the TCLEOSE reporting forms near the end of this report.

² City and County populations were derived from the 2010 Census of the U.S. Census Bureau. Note that the City of Coppell is found within both Denton and Dallas counties and both population base-rates were utilized in this report. Regional population figures were derived from 2010 Census data compiled and published by the North Central whereas African-Americans constituted 4.50 percent of the city population, 22.30 percent of the Dallas County population, 8.40 percent of the Denton County population, and 14.50 percent of the region population. Hispanic drivers constituted 11.96 percent of all drivers cited, whereas Hispanics constituted 11.30 percent of the city population, 38.30 percent of the Dallas County population, 18.20 percent of the Denton County population, and 27.30 percent of the region population. Asian drivers constituted 8.22 percent of all drivers cited, whereas Asians constituted 15.90 percent of the city population, 5.00 percent of the Dallas County population, 6.60 percent of the Denton County population, and 5.20 percent of the region population.

The chart shows that White drivers are cited at rates higher than the percentage of Whites in the region and Dallas County population, but slightly lower than the percentage of Whites in the city and Denton County population. African-Americans are cited at rates higher than the percentage of African-Americans found in the city, Denton County, and regional population, but lower than the percentage of African-Americans found in the Dallas County population. Hispanics are cited at rates lower than the percentage of Hispanics found in the Dallas County, Denton County, and regional populations but slightly higher than the percentage of Hispanics in the city population. Asians are cited at rates lower than the percentage of Asians in the city population, but higher than the percentage of Asians in the Dallas and Denton County populations and the regional population.

Texas Council of Governments which is defined as the 16 county Dallas-Ft. Worth Area including the following counties: Collin, Dallas, Denton, Ellis, Erath, Hood, Hunt, Johnson, Kaufman, Navarro, Palo Pinto, Parker, Rockwall, Somervell, Tarrant, and Wise.

Easy determinations regarding whether or not Coppell officers have “racially profiled” a given motorist are impossible given the nature of the data that has been collected and presented for this report. The law dictates that police agencies compile aggregate-level data regarding the rates at which agencies collectively stop motorists in terms of their race/ethnicity. These aggregated data are to be subsequently analyzed in order to determine whether or not individual officers are “racially profiling” motorists.

This methodological error, commonly referred to as the “ecological fallacy,” defines the dangers involved in making assertions about individual officer decisions based on the examination of aggregate incident level data. In short, one cannot “prove” that an individual officer has “racially profiled” any individual motorist based on the rate at which a department stops any given group of motorists. This kind of determination necessarily requires an examination of data at the individual officer level for a more detailed analysis of individual officer decision-making. Unfortunately, the law does not currently require the collection of this type of data, resulting in a considerable amount of conjecture as to the substantive meaning of aggregate level disparities.

Additional interpretation problems remain in regards to the specific measurement of racial “profiling” as defined by Texas state code. For example, officers are currently forced to make subjective determinations regarding an individual’s race based on his or her personal observations because the Texas Department of Public Safety does not provide an objectively-based determination of an individual’s race/ethnicity on the Texas driver’s license. The absence of any verifiable race/ethnicity data on the driver’s license is especially troubling given the racial diversity within the North Texas region as a whole, and the large numbers of citizens who are of Hispanic and/or mixed racial descent. The validity of any racial/ethnic disparities discovered in the aggregate level data becomes threatened in direct proportion to the number of subjective “guesses” officers are forced to make when trying to determine an individual’s racial/ethnic background.

In addition, the data collected for the current report does not allow for an analysis that separates (or disaggregates) the discretionary decisions of officers to stop a motorist from those that are largely non-discretionary. For example, non-discretionary stops of motorists based on the discovery of outstanding warrants should not be analyzed in terms of whether or not “profiling” has occurred simply because the officer who has stopped a motorist as a result of the discovery of an outstanding warrant does not independently make the decision to stop, but rather, is required to stop that individual regardless of any determination of race. An officer cannot be determined to be “racially profiling” when organizational rules and state codes compel them to stop regardless of an individual’s race/ethnicity. Straightforward aggregate comparisons of stop rates ignore these realities, and fail to distinguish between discretionary and non-discretionary law enforcement actions. In the future, this validity issue could be lessened by the collection of data indicating the initial reason for the traffic stop, whether it be an observed traffic violation, other criminal activity, the existence of an outstanding warrant, or some other reason.

Finally, there has been considerable debate as to what the most appropriate population “base-rate” is in determining whether or not racial/ethnic disparities exist. Questions concerning the most appropriate base-rate are most problematic in the case of traffic stops, because there are problems associated with using any number of different population measures to determine whether or not aggregate level racial disparities exist. As the current analysis shows in regards to the use of city, county, and regional base-rates, the outcome of analyses designed to determine whether or not disparities exist is obviously dependent on which base-rate is used. This is especially relevant for the City of Coppell which straddles two different Texas counties with quite different population demographics. In addition, changes in the demographic character of North Texas have made the base-rate issue especially problematic because measures derived exclusively from the U.S. Census can become quickly outdated since they are compiled only once per decade. Although the 2010 Census data is useful for this report, it will too become quickly outdated due to the rapid changes still being experienced in the North Texas region. Moreover, the determination of valid stop base-rates becomes multiplied if analyses fail to distinguish between residents and non-residents who are stopped, because the existence of significant proportions of non-resident stops will lead to invalid conclusions if racial/ethnic comparisons are made exclusively to resident population figures.

In short, the methodological problems outlined above point to the limited utility of using aggregate level comparisons of the rates at which different racial/ethnic groups are cited in order to determine whether or not racial profiling exists within a given jurisdiction.

The table below reports the summaries for the total number of persons cited by the Coppell Police Department for traffic offenses in 2012. In addition, the table shows the number of cited individuals who granted consent to search and those cited drivers who were arrested pursuant to the stop. The table shows that roughly 62 percent of all persons cited were White drivers (4,529/7,357 total citations), roughly 17 percent (1,258) of all persons cited were African-American drivers, roughly 12 percent (880) of all persons cited were Hispanic drivers, and roughly 8 percent (605) of all persons cited were Asian drivers. In addition, roughly 39 percent of all drivers searched were White (176/446), roughly 21 percent were Hispanic, less than 2 percent were Asian, and roughly 35 percent were African-American. It is clear that the vast majority of the total number of drivers cited (including White, African-American, and Hispanic groups) were not searched (94%) (446/7,357).

Action	White	African-American	Hispanic	Asian	Other	Total
Stops	4,529	1,258	880	605	85	7,357
Searches	176	155	93	7	15	446
Consent Searches	17	13	2	1	0	33
Arrests	165	146	100	10	7	428

It should be noted that aggregate level comparisons regarding the rates at which drivers are searched by police are subject to some of the same methodological issues as those outlined above regarding analyses of aggregate level stop rates. Of particular concern is the absence of any analyses that separates discretionary searches from non-discretionary searches. For example, searches that are conducted incident to an arrest or as part of a vehicle tow inventory should not be included in analyses designed to examine whether or not racial profiling has occurred because these types of searches are non-discretionary in that the officer is compelled by law or departmental guidelines to conduct the search irrespective of the race of the stopped driver.

The bar chart below depicts the percentage of cited drivers who were searched within each racial category. The chart indicates that drivers who were cited were rarely searched across the racial categories. For example, only 3.89 percent of all White drivers who were cited were also searched, 1.16 percent of all Asian drivers who were cited were searched, 10.57 percent of all Hispanic drivers who were cited were searched, and 12.32 percent of all African-American drivers who were cited were searched. Relative to consent searches, only 33 consent searches occurred among the 7,357 stops in 2012.

Analysis of Racial Profiling Compliance by Coppell Police Department

The foregoing analysis shows that the Coppell Police Department is fully in compliance with all relevant Texas laws concerning racial profiling, including the existence of a formal policy prohibiting racial profiling by its officers, officer training and educational programs, a formalized complaint process, and the collection of data in compliance with the law. Finally, internal records indicate that during 2012 the department received one complaint that could be categorized as involving some type of racial profiling. Upon internal investigation, the resolution of the incident was deemed “proper conduct.”

In addition to providing summary reports and analysis of the data collected by the Coppell Police Department in 2012, this report also included an extensive presentation of some of the limitations involved in the level of data collection currently required by law and the methodological problems associated with analyzing such data for the Coppell Police Department as well as police agencies across Texas. The Coppell Police Department should continue its educational and training efforts within the department on racial profiling. Finally, the department should continue to conduct periodic evaluations of individual officers to assess whether or not an officer is engaging in racial profiling (e.g., continue the random review of patrol vehicle videos on a monthly basis). The final section of this report includes newly required TCLEOSE reporting information by Texas law enforcement organizations.

(B) each motor vehicle stop made by an officer employed by the agency that is capable of being recorded by video and audio or audio equipment, as appropriate, is recorded by using the equipment; or

NO. 100.003

EFFECTIVE DATE:
06-30-95

REVISED DATE:
09-04-12

SUBJECT: CODE OF CONDUCT

I. PURPOSE / POLICY OF GENERAL ORDER

- A. PURPOSE. The purpose of this General Order is to officially adopt and set forth rules and regulations for the guidance, regulation, and control of the conduct of all members of the Coppell Police Department. Employees of the Police Department are among the most conspicuous representatives of City government and to the majority of the people, they are symbols of stability and security upon whom they rely. The conduct of employees of the Department is closely scrutinized, and when actions are found to be excessive, unwarranted or unjustified, they are criticized far more severely than comparable conduct of persons in other walks of life. Since the employee's conduct both on and off duty may reflect directly upon the Department, employees will conduct themselves in a manner which does not bring discredit upon themselves, the Department or the City and which exhibits the highest degree of professionalism. Therefore, this Code of Conduct is designed to promote professional behavior, efficiency, discipline, and good public relations by setting forth policies governing the conduct of all employees of the Police Department.

II. AUTHORITY OF CODE

- A. AMENDMENTS / POWER OF DISCIPLINARY ACTION. These rules and regulations may be amended from time to time by the Chief of Police as necessary for the efficient operation of the Department. The Chief of Police shall have the authority to take disciplinary action or removal of a member under his supervision or jurisdiction for violation of this Code or other Department rules and regulations.
- B. APPLICABILITY TO MEMBERS. This General Order shall apply to all members, whether sworn or civilian, unless specifically stated otherwise, or unless a certain portion obviously would not apply to a particular group of employees.
- C. CONFLICT WITH EXISTING LAWS. No procedure, regulation, section, sentence, clause, or phrase as provided herein is to be construed to be in conflict with any law, ordinance, or policy of the United States or the State of Texas.
- D. SEVERABILITY. If any procedure, regulation, section, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Code is for any reason held to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Code.
- E. RESPONSIBILITY OF MEMBERS. Each member of the Coppell Police Department shall have unlimited access to the Coppell Police Department's Manual of Written Directives containing this General Order of rules and regulations of the Department and other general/special orders, and without exception, shall be governed thereby. Each member will acknowledge such access to the manual by placing his signature on the acknowledgement form provided.
1. Access to the Manual of Written Directives will be provided through access to a shared computer drive. This shall always be the most current and in-effect version.

2. Members may be issued the Manual of Written Directives in written or portable digital format, however members should always defer to the most current version on the shared computer drive.
3. Members shall return all copies of the Manual of Directives upon termination of employment.

F. IGNORANCE OF POLICY. Ignorance of any policy, rule or regulation, order or directive, shall neither be an excuse nor serve as a defense for violation or failure to comply therewith.

G. APPEAL / GRIEVANCE PROCESS. Appeals or grievances by members shall be conducted in accordance with established Department procedures and/or City procedures as outlined in the City of Coppel Employee Policy and Procedure Handbook.

III. PROFESSIONAL ETHICS - The Law Enforcement Code of Ethics

The Law Enforcement Code of Ethics (refer to Coppel Police Department General Order entitled “Law Enforcement Code of Ethics”) as adopted by the International Association of Chief of Police (I.A.C.P.) has been adopted by the Coppel Police Department as a statement of its official Code of Conduct with respect to the standard of ethical conduct for all Department members. Violations of this Code of Ethics shall be deemed a violation of the Code of Conduct of the Department.

IV. SCOPE

- A. The provisions of the Code of Conduct are observed by all employees of the Department in order to maintain the confidence, respect, and support of the public.
- B. Violations of the Code of Conduct, the City of Coppel personnel rules, Departmental rules, general orders, regulations, policies, directives issued with proper authority, ordinances of the City of Coppel, and/or laws of the State of Texas or the United States, subject the offender to disciplinary actions. Action taken will depend on the degree of severity of the offense, the record of the offender, and the seriousness of the consequences of the violation.
- C. Disciplinary action under the code is in accordance with City of Coppel Employee Policy and Procedure Handbook. All disciplinary actions are based on substantial evidence; however, “proof beyond a reasonable doubt” is not required.
- D. It is the duty of all employees to take appropriate corrective action and/or submit a written report to their immediate supervisor when they learn through personal observations or report of a violation of law or regulatory decree set down in Section B.
 1. In cases where the employee experiences or fears intimidation, or in the case when the violation involves the employee’s immediate supervisor, the reporting employee may report to any member of their chain of command, up to and including the Chief of Police.
- E. Pursuant to the authority granted by Article 4, Section 4.02 of the Coppel City Charter, the Chief of Police has the exclusive right to suspend any employee who is under his jurisdiction and control for incompetence, neglect of duty, immorality, drunkenness, the improper use of any substance that modifies behavior, and/or failure to obey orders given by proper authority or the orders, rules, regulations, and policies promulgated by the Chief of Police of the City of Coppel. The Chief, with approval of City Manager, may terminate employees for the above noted violations.

- F. Members of the Police Department who are in a probationary status may be terminated from employment by the Chief of Police, with the approval of the City Manager, when they fail to meet the minimum standards of employee performance or when they violate a law or regulatory decree announced in this Code.

V. APPEARANCE, UNIFORM, AND EQUIPMENT

- A. Employees of the City of Coppell shall present a “neutral image” to effectively relate to all segments of the population they serve. - D. The police officer normally wears a uniform on a tour of duty. However, commanding officers may authorize other clothing to be worn as required by the nature of duty to which the particular officer is assigned.
- E. When an officer is in uniform, the complete uniform, including duty belt, is worn at all times in the prescribed manner. The cap is optional. Uniform items are those furnished by, or authorized by, the Department. No part of the uniform is worn with civilian clothing or vice-versa.
- F. Officers who are placed on suspension will immediately surrender their badges, identification card and Departmental issued firearm to the commanding officer notifying the offender of suspension.
- G. Badges personally owned by officers are not to be used in the performance of official duties or any other purpose without specific permission of the Chief of Police. Only the Chief of Police may authorize the purchase of personally owned badges.
- H. Improper or negligent handling of or willful damage to city property is a violation of this Code.

This includes, but is not limited to, buildings, office equipment, or motor vehicles. This is not to be interpreted to preclude officers from having minor repairs made to vehicles or other essential equipment to enable the equipment's continued use on duty.
- L. Employees do not convert or use Departmental equipment for personal advantage outside the scope of their own employment. Police identification cards issued to an employee will not be used by or given to any other person.

RACIAL PROFILING POLICY

 CPD GENERAL ORDER NO. 100.003 (XI)

Coppel Police Officers are strictly prohibited from engaging in racial profiling. Racial profiling is defined as a law enforcement-initiated action based on an individual's race, ethnicity, or national origin rather than on the individual's behavior or on information identifying the individual as having engaged in criminal activity.

Any person who believes they are a victim of racial profiling is urged to speak with an on-duty supervisor at 972-304-3610. We would prefer to speak with you in person but all complaints will be addressed regardless of the manner they are received. If the matter proves to be more serious in nature, Texas state law requires that the complaint be signed and in writing. A brochure on how to file this complaint is available at the police department or can be downloaded from this web site.

To maintain a professional and impartial relationship with motorists stopped for traffic violations, the Coppel Police Department has equipped every vehicle used for enforcement with an audio/video recording system. Officers are required to activate the cameras during all traffic and pedestrian stops and the recording is available for review by supervisors in the event of a complaint.

An annual analysis of traffic stops that result in a citation or arrest is completed each year and submitted to the City Council by March 1. A copy of the annual report is also forwarded to the Coppel Public Library for citizen review.

Racial Profiling Policy

Coppell Police Officers are strictly prohibited from engaging in racial profiling.

THE IMPORTANCE OF YOUR COMPLAINT

The Coppel Police Department recognizes that its employees are responsible for their conduct where the public is concerned. The department also acknowledges that at certain times, conflicts between citizens and agency employees can arise. It is essential to the safety of our community that the relationship between police and citizens be built on confidence and trust.

Police Officers must be free to exercise their best judgment and initiate proper action in a reasonable, lawful, impartial manner, without fear of reprisal. At the same time, they must observe the rights of all people. The complaint process and appropriate disciplinary procedures not only subject agency members to corrective action when they conduct themselves improperly, the guidelines also protect them from unwarranted criticism when they discharge their duties properly.

A disagreement over the validity of a traffic citation is not a complaint. Such disagreements should be directed to the court that has jurisdiction in the matter.

Filing False Police Complaints

The deliberate making of a report that the complainant knows to be false or misleading could constitute a violation of State Law.

Making a False Complaint (Texas Penal Code Section 37.02, Perjury Section) is a Class A misdemeanor punishable with a fine of up to $4,000, or confinement in jail for up to one year or both.

Types of Complaints

Any person who believes that any Coppel Police Department employee has been involved in improper conduct or has a criticism of Department services has the right to make a complaint. There are two types of complaints that may be made against members of the police department:

Class I Incidents usually involve serious alleged acts such as criminal misconduct, allegations of civil rights violations or discrimination, or allegations of unnecessary force. Class I Incidents must be in writing and must be signed by the complainant. (Texas Government Code 614.022)

Class II Incidents usually involve employee behaviors, such as rudeness, discourtesy, offensive language, harassment, minor misconduct, or improper police procedures. Class II Incidents will normally be investigated by the immediate supervisor. Class II Incidents may be made in person, by telephone, or by letter.

The Chief of Police or his designee will determine if an internal investigation (also known as an Internal Affairs investigation) will be conducted.

The Complaint Process

There are several ways you can file a complaint. You can call, mail a letter, or ask to speak with a police supervisor about your complaint. The police supervisor may be able to investigate and resolve your complaint. If not, the police supervisor can assist you with the process of filing your complaint. If you do not wish to speak with the supervisor about the incident, the supervisor can provide you with a written form to complete.

Complaints may be filed anonymously without giving your name, but you will not be notified of the end result if you choose to remain anonymous.

The Investigation Process

The Coppel Police Department investigates all complaints received from citizens in a fair and unbiased manner. Citizens who file complaints are treated respectfully, and their accusations are taken seriously.

After receiving a complaint, an investigation will be conducted. During the course of an investigation, the investigator will interview witnesses and subjects involved with the complaint. The investigator will also review documents, audio and video recordings, or other items as necessary related to the complaint.

Investigations of complaints regarding employees are taken very seriously and will be completed in a timely manner.

The primary objectives of internal investigations are:

- Protection of the Public
- Protection of the Department
- Protection of the Employee
- Removal of Unfit Personnel
- Correction of Procedural Problems

If it becomes necessary for you to make a complaint, you can be assured it will be given a fair and thorough investigation. By the same token, if you have occasion to see a police officer doing outstanding work, tell us about it. Your Coppel Police Department Officers are dedicated to serving you and our community.

Departamento de Policía de Coppell

La misión del Departamento de Policía de Coppell es mantener un ambiente seguro y pacífico en la comunidad por medio de brindar servicios para mantener el orden público a través de colaborar con la comunidad, educar al público y brindar un servicio de calidad.

Principios y filosofía de la organización

- Logramos nuestra misión a través de las aportaciones colectivas de nuestra gente y la comunidad.
- Manejamos nuestras responsabilidades y recursos por medio de apropiarnos de nuestro trabajo.
- Alentamos la resolución creativa de problemas, celebrando nuestros logros y reconociendo que habrá errores de los cuales podremos aprender.
- Constantemente evaluamos nuestras acciones contra pruebas básicas de comportamiento ético (Lippitt, 1969).
- Reconocemos la exigente naturaleza de nuestro trabajo y promovemos un ambiente conducente al bienestar total de nuestros empleados.

Política de perfiles raciales

Los Oficiales de Policía de Coppell tienen estrictamente prohibido participar en la realización de acciones basadas en perfiles raciales.

Actuar a partir de perfiles raciales es definido por el Código de Procedimientos Criminales de Texas como una acción iniciada por los responsables de mantener el orden público con base en la raza, origen étnico o nacional del individuo en lugar de en el comportamiento o en la información que identifique que el individuo haya participado en alguna actividad criminal.

A cualquier persona que crea haber sido víctima de discriminación por perfil racial se le insta a que hable con uno de los supervisores en turno en persona o por teléfono al 972-304-3610. Preferimos hablar con usted en persona, no obstante todas las quejas serán atendidas sin importar la manera en que sean recibidas. Si el asunto prueba ser más serio en naturaleza, la ley del estado de Texas exige que la queja se presente firmada y por escrito.

Para mantener una relación profesional e imparcial con los automovilistas que sean detenidos por violaciones al reglamento de tránsito, el Departamento de Policía de Coppell ha equipado cada vehículo utilizado para el mantenimiento del orden público con un sistema de grabación de audio y video. A los oficiales se les exige que activen las cámaras al detener automovilistas o peatones y la grabación está disponible para ser revisada por los supervisores en caso de que se presente una queja.

Dentro de este folleto usted encontrará los pasos necesarios para presentar una queja.

LA IMPORTANCIA DE SU QUEJA

El Departamento de Policía de Coppell reconoce que sus empleados son responsables por su conducta con relación al público. El departamento también reconoce que en ciertos momentos pueden surgir conflictos entre los ciudadanos y los empleados de la agencia. Es esencial para la seguridad de nuestra comunidad que la relación entre la policía y los ciudadanos se construya sobre confianza y certidumbre.

Los Oficiales de Policía deberán sentirse libres de ejercer su mejor juicio e iniciar acciones apropiadas de una manera razonable, imparcial, apegada a la ley, sin temor de represalias. Al mismo tiempo, deben respetar los derechos de todas las personas. El proceso de queja y los procedimientos disciplinarios apropiados no solamente sujetan a los miembros de la agencia a acciones correctivas cuando se conduzcan de manera inapropiada, los lineamientos también los protegen de crítica injustificada cuando realicen su deber de manera apropiada.

Un desacuerdo sobre la validez de un citación por haber cometido una infracción de tránsito no es una queja. Tales desacuerdos se deben dirigir a la corte que tenga jurisdicción en la materia.

Presentar quejas falsas contra la policía

La elaboración deliberada de un reporte que el quejoso sepa que es falso o engañoso podría constituir una violación a la Ley Estatal.

Presentar una queja falsa (Código Penal de Texas Sección 37.02, Sección de Perjurio) es un delito Clase A que puede ser penalizado con una multa de hasta $4,000 dólares, o con confinamiento en prisión por hasta un año o con ambos.

Tipos de quejas

Cualquier persona que crea que un empleado del Departamento de Policía de Coppell ha participado en una conducta inapropiada o tiene una crítica hacia los servicios del Departamento tiene el derecho de presentar una queja. Hay dos tipos de quejas que se pueden presentar en contra de los miembros del Departamento de Policía:

Los Incidentes Clase I suelen tener que ver con presuntos actos graves como: conducta criminal, acusaciones de violaciones a los derechos humanos o discriminación, o bien acusaciones de abuso en el uso de la fuerza. Las quejas por Incidentes Clase I deberán presentarse por escrito y ser firmados por el quejoso. (Código de Gobierno de Texas 614.022)

Los Incidentes Clase II suelen tener que ver con conductas de los empleados como: falta de respeto, descortesía, lenguaje ofensivo, hostigamiento, conducta inaceptable o procedimientos policíacos inapropiados. Los Incidentes Clase II normalmente serán investigados por el supervisor inmediato. Las quejas por Incidentes Clase II pueden presentarse en persona, por teléfono o por carta.

El Jefe de Policía, o quien este haya designado, determinará si se conducirá una investigación interna (también conocida como una investigación de Asuntos Internos).

El proceso de queja

Hay varias maneras en las que puede presentar una queja. Puede llamar por teléfono, enviar una carta o solicitar hablar con un supervisor de policía con respecto a su queja. El supervisor de policía quizá pueda investigar y resolver su queja. Si no, el supervisor de policía lo puede ayudar en el proceso de presentar su queja. Si no quiere hablar con el supervisor acerca del incidente, el supervisor puede darle un formulario escrito para que usted lo llene.

Las quejas se pueden presentar de manera anónima (sin dar su nombre) pero no se le notificará el resultado final si escoge permanecer en el anonimato.

El proceso de investigación

El Departamento de Policía de Coppell investiga todas las quejas recibidas de parte de los ciudadanos de una manera justa e imparcial. Los ciudadanos que presentan quejas son tratados con respeto y sus acusaciones son tomadas con seriedad.

Después de recibir una queja, se conducirá una investigación. Durante el curso de una investigación el investigador entrevistará a los testigos y a los sujetos involucrados en la queja. El investigador también revisará los documentos, las grabaciones de audio y de video, así como otros artículos relacionados con la queja según sea necesario.

Las investigaciones de quejas con respecto a los empleados son tomadas con suma seriedad y serán llevadas a cabo de manera oportuna.

Los objetivos primarios de las investigaciones internas son:

- Protección del público
- Protección del departamento
- Protección del empleado
- Remoción de personal inadecuado
- Corrección de problemas de procedimiento

Si llegara a ser necesario que usted presente una queja, puede tener la seguridad de que se llevará a cabo una investigación imparcial y exhaustiva. De la misma manera, si usted llega a ver a un oficial de policía realizando un trabajo extraordinario, déjenoslo saber. Los Oficiales del Departamento de Policía de Coppell están dedicados a servirlo a usted y a nuestra comunidad.
