Provides the State Common Operating Picture

Mission: The Joint Force Headquarters-State (JFHQ-State) provides command and control of all National Guard forces in the state or territory for the governor, or in the case of the District of Columbia, the Secretary of the Army. One of the responsibilities of the JFHQ-State is to support JTF-State commanders and all of the deployed units within the state, as well as acting as an information channel to the National Guard Bureau and combatant commanders. The JFHQ-State coordinates any additional support required, such as mobilization of extra forces, or providing other logistical support. The JFHQ-State can also act as a joint headquarters for national-level response efforts during contingency operations.

Overview: The JFHQ-State assumes operational control of all assigned military units ordered to support contingency operations, and coordinates situational awareness and resource requirements with combatant commanders. It is also responsible for providing situational awareness and common operating picture information to national level headquarters before and during contingency operations. In addition, it is responsible for providing joint reception, staging, onward movement, and integration of all inbound forces. For small operations, task force functions are performed by the adjutant general using existing JFHQ-State staff, without any augmentation, and with small troop elements such as transportation or aviation units, or Weapons of Mass Destruction Civil Support Teams.
