

National Guard Reaction Force

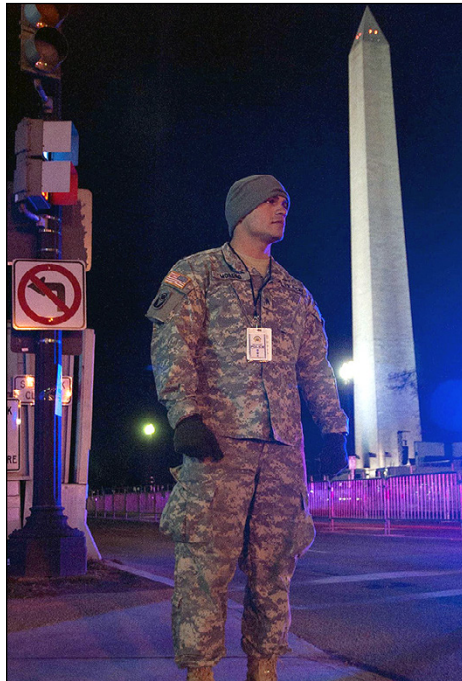

Highlights

Potential Missions:

- Site security
- Roadblocks and checkpoints
- Civil disturbance control
- Critical infrastructure protection
- Personnel security

Unique Capabilities:

- Organic personal protective gear (face shields, body shields, body armor and shin guards)
- Organic counter-personnel equipment – TASERS, Oleoresin Capsicum Spray and batons
- Logistically self sustaining up to 72 hours

Critical to the first line of defense in counter-terrorism

Mission: The National Guard Reaction Force (NGRF) is a specially trained force comprised of Soldiers and Airmen from existing National Guard units that provide each state, territory, and the District of Columbia with a rapid response capability focused on incidents requiring law enforcement or security support.

The NGRF is designed to respond to an incident ahead of federal assets and capable of delivering an initial force of 75-125 personnel within eight hours and a follow-on force of up to 375 personnel within 24 hours.

NGRFs are organized as temporary task forces and perform their mission primarily under the command and control of their home state, territory or District of Columbia.