UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

CHIEF MASTER SERGEANT RONALD C. ANDERSON

Chief Master Sergeant Ronald C. Anderson is the twelfth Command Chief Master Sergeant for the Air National Guard. He represents the highest level of enlisted leadership and is the principal advisor to the Director of the Air National Guard. Chief Anderson is responsible for matters influencing the health, morale, welfare and professional development of more than 105,400 Air Guard members.

Chief Anderson entered the Air Force in December 1987. His extensive background includes several active duty Air Force positions including a direct duty assignment to Zweibrücken Air Base, Germany, assignment to Air Education and Training Command instructor duty at Aberdeen Proving Ground, Maryland, and Camp Red Cloud, Korea. In July 1999, Chief Anderson joined the Maryland Air National Guard's 175th Wing, where he deployed as part of Operation Southern Watch. After six years in the 175th, he transferred to the National Guard Bureau, Arlington, Virginia. Chief Anderson held several positions within the National Guard Bureau such as NCOIC Counterdrug, Media Operations; Executive Assistant to the Deputy Director, NGB; Superintendent, Office of the Director, NGB; and Special Assistant to the Director, ANG. In 2010, he transferred to the 113th Wing, District of Columbia Air National Guard where he held the positions of Force Support Squadron Superintendent and Command Chief, 113th Wing. Prior to his current assignment, Chief Anderson served as the Command Chief Master Sergeant, Continental U.S. North American Aerospace Defense Command Region, and Command Chief Master Sergeant, 1st Air Force (Air Forces Northern), Tyndall Air Force Base, Florida.
