

Kenneth D. Merchant, Major General, USAF (Ret)

Career Air Force Officer; currently serves as the Vice President, F-22 Programs at Lockheed Martin; served previously as Lockheed's Director of F-22 Modernization; while on active duty, served as a program manager on numerous weapon systems development and production programs, Program Executive Officer (PEO) for Weapons, and commanded the 551st Electronic Systems Wing at Hanscom AFB, MA, and the Air Armament Center at Eglin AFB, FL. In his final assignment, he served as Director for Global Reach Programs in SAF/AQ.