Beware of Credit Score

Many people do not know about the credit scoring system much less their credit score until they attempt to buy a home, or maintain a security clearance. More and more sailors are being put out of the Navy for this reason. It's imperative that all of our service members and their spouses be aware of their score and where they stand. To get started and know where you stand, you can request your credit report and score by calling FFSC at 817-782-5287.

Domestic violence is the willful intimidation, physical assault, sexual assault, and/or other abusive behavior perpetrated by an intimate partner against another. It is epidemic for women affecting every community. It does not know age, economic status, race, religion, nationality or educational background. Domestic violence results in physical injury, psychological trauma, and sometimes death. And each year the number of non-reported incidents grow higher, for fear of retaliation or Humiliation.

- 1 in 4 women will experience Domestic Violence in her lifetime.
- 1.3 million women per year
- 1/3 of female homicide victims are the results of Domestic Violence
- Boys in domestic violence households are twice as likely to commit violence against their future partner

TAP

Transition Goals Plans Success, known simply as Transition GPS, replaces the 20-year-old Transition Assistance Program, or TAP. In a sweeping overhaul of the 20-year-old TAP, as part of the VOW to Hire Heroes Act passed in 2011, Transition GPS takes military members through a week-long class, compared to the original TAP's mandatory two to four hours of separation counseling.

The Transition Assistance Program has been redesigned into a comprehensive, mandatory program that includes pre-separation counseling, a military to civilian skills review, a VA benefits briefing and application sign-up, financial planning support, job search skills building, and individual transition plan preparation

Those who are separating from the military must prepare a year in advance, for retirees preparations for Transition GPS must begin two years in advance. In order to attend the service member's Command Career Counselor must be contacted.

October 2013 FFSC Events

All workshops and classes are held at the FFSC Building 3175, unless noted differently.
