NOTE ON THE AUTHORS

Lisa Mighetto received her Ph.D. from the University of Washington, where she specialized in environmental history and the American West. She co-authored Saving the Salmon: A History of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' Efforts to Protect Anadromous Fish on the Columbia and Snake Rivers (1995). In addition, she has published two books, Wild Animals and American Environmental Ethics (1991) and Muir Among the Animals: The Wildlife Writings of John Muir (1986). Her articles have appeared in The Alaska Journal, Harper's, Sierra, Pacific Historical Review, Environmental Review, Pacific Northwest Quarterly, Columbia, and The Public Historian. She has worked for Historical Research Associates, Inc. in Seattle since 1991.

Carla Homstad earned her M.A. in history from the University of Montana. She concentrated on Western U.S. history, as well as social and cultural American studies. She has worked for HRA's Missoula office since 1993 where her contributions have included archival research, technical report writing and editing.

Historical Research Associates, Inc. (HRA) has provided cultural and environmental resource consulting services to public and private clients since 1974. Based in Missoula, Montana, HRA also maintains offices in Seattle and Washington, D.C.
