Leadership Focus Points

Chief of Navy Reserve:

CNR discusses benefits and opportunities in her annual Almanac column in TNR: “Today, over 62,000 Sailors are serving in the Navy Reserve, with over 12,700 providing critical operational support to Fleet and Combatant Commanders around the world. They are participating in combat operations in Afghanistan and numerous operational deployments and exercises. The demand for Reserve Sailors to perform as Individual Augmentees will remain steady through 2014; conditions will dictate the future IA requirement for 2015 and beyond.”

FORCM:

FORCM discusses efficiency and readiness in his annual Almanac column in TNR: “Time, people and funds are valuable assets in this challenging and constantly evolving fiscal environment, and as a Citizen Sailor, you must continue to be an effective resource manager and find that proper and necessary balance. Being responsible and conscientious with ALL of our resources should be our goal as we pursue maximum efficiency and readiness to support and contribute effectively to the maritime strategy.”

“We know that a Reserve sailor is about 1/3 of the cost of an active duty sailor. Currently, we need every sailor we have.”

Vice Admiral Robin Braun, Chief of Navy Reserve, May 18, 2013
