

WARRIOR CARE MONTH 2015 – Show of Strength

Take Care of the Troops!

November is Warrior Care Month. Since its inception in 2008, Warrior Care Month continues to remind us of our unyielding commitment to the wounded, ill and injured Soldiers and their support network of Families and caregivers. These brave Soldiers did not waver in their commitment to this great Nation and its strengths. We are inspired by their resiliency in recovery, rehabilitation and reintegration as Soldiers and Veterans.

Show of Strength is our enduring theme in observance of Warrior Care Month. At our numerous posts, stations and installations across the Army, we will observe weekly sub-themes celebrating the commitment of our Warriors who are wounded, ill and injured along with their Families and caregivers. The enduring subthemes are Recovery, Reconditioning, Reintegration and Remaining Strong.

Since 2007, the Warrior Care and Transition Program (WCTP) has supported more than 68,000 Soldiers, with more than 30,000 returning to the force. Every Soldier assigned to one of the 25 Warrior Transition Units participates in a six-part process known as the Comprehensive Transition Plan, which is customized to each Soldier's recovery – enabling them to set and pursue their personal goals to return to the force or transition to Veteran status. The Army's monthly commemoration will align with other key initiatives such as the Ready and Resilient Campaign and Soldier for Life. These programs, along with the WCTP, support wounded, ill and injured Soldiers throughout each phase of their recovery and transition.

Warrior Care Month is an opportunity for the Army to communicate its sacred obligation and enduring commitment to wounded, ill and injured Soldiers, their Families and caregivers.

Army Strong!

Daniel A. Dailey
Sergeant Major of the Army

Mark A. Milley
General, United States Army
Chief of Staff

John M. McHugh
Secretary of the Army