

COLORADO ARMY NATIONAL GUARD ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY STATEMENT

The Soldiers of the Colorado Army National Guard are a professional military force composed of men and women dedicated to performing their Federal, State and community support missions. Trained and ready Soldiers are our primary product. The activities that support the training and readiness of these Soldiers are located in armories and facilities across the State of Colorado

As good stewards of our environment, Soldiers of the Colorado Army National Guard are seriously committed to both military readiness and environmental stewardship. In order to achieve this melding of military readiness and environmental stewardship, the Colorado Army National Guard is committed to:

- Continuous improvements in our environmental programs and performance metrics
- Establish and review significant environmental aspects and ensure that they are in the forefront when setting and reviewing objectives and targets in our Environmental Management Programs
- Minimizing our pollution of the land, water, and air to the extent that our mission allows
- Maintaining compliance with all applicable Federal, State, and local environmental laws and regulations, and to other requirements to which we subscribe

H. MICHAEL EDWARDS, Major General, COANG
The Adjutant General
Commander, Joint Forces Headquarters - Colorado