

U.S. ARMY SUSTAINMENT COMMAND

Major General Edward M. Daly Commanding General

Major General Edward M. Daly assumed the duties as Commanding General of the US Army Sustainment Command in August 2016. MG Daly was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the Ordnance Corps upon his graduation from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1987. Upon graduating from the Ordnance Officer Basic Course, he was assigned to the 189th Maintenance Battalion, 1st Corps Support Command, XVIII Airborne Corps at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Highlights of his tour at Fort Bragg included participation in Operation DESERT SHIELD/STORM as the Shop Officer in the 659th Maintenance Company, Platoon Leader, Battalion Maintenance Officer, and Class IX Accountable Officer.

After graduating from the Transportation Officer Advanced Course in 1992, MG Daly served in the 3d Infantry Division as the Deputy Support Operations Officer for the Division Support Command. He then commanded the 147th Maintenance Company in Kitzingen, Germany (1993-1995). Upon completion of Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, in 1999, Major General Daly was assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division at Fort Hood, Texas. While assigned to the First Team, he served as a Support Operations Officer, Division Materiel Management Center Chief, Brigade Executive Officer, and Division G-4.

After commanding the 702d Main Support Battalion, 2d Infantry Division, from 2003-2005, Major General Daly served as the International Security Assistance Force (ISAF) CJ4 in Afghanistan (2005-2006) and later as the Chief of Staff (Forward), NATO Training Mission - Iraq (NTM-I) in support of Operation IRAQI FREEDOM. He then assumed command of the 43rd Sustainment Brigade at Fort Carson, Colorado in 2008. The 43rd SBDE HQ deployed to Afghanistan (2010-2011) in support of Operation ENDURING FREEDOM.

From 2011 to 2012, Major General Daly served as the Executive Officer to the Deputy Chief of Staff, HQDA G-4, United States Army. Following that assignment, he served as the 37th Chief of Ordnance and Commandant of the U.S. Army Ordnance School. Major General Daly most recently served as the U.S. Army Materiel Command Deputy Chief of Staff.

Major General Daly holds a bachelor's degree in Engineering from West Point, a master's degree in Business Administration from Gonzaga University, and a master's degree in Strategic Studies from the U.S. Army War College. His awards and decorations include the Distinguished Service Medal, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal, Defense Meritorious Service Medal, Meritorious Service Medal, Joint Service Commendation Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Army Achievement Medal, Combat Action Badge, and Parachutist Badge.

Major General Daly is married and they have three children.

Aug 2016

