84.010 TITLE I GRANTS TO LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES

(Title I Basic, Concentration, Targeted and Education Finance Incentive Grants)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Office of Elementary and Secondary Education, Department of Education

AUTHORIZATION:

Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA), as amended, Title I, Part A, 20 U.S.C 6301 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To help local educational agencies (LEAs) improve teaching and learning in high-poverty schools in particular for children failing, or most at-risk of failing, to meet challenging State academic achievement standards.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Use of funds varies, depending on whether a school is operating a schoolwide program under Section 1114 of the ESEA or a targeted assistance program under Section 1115 of the ESEA. A school with at least a 40 percent poverty rate may choose to operate a schoolwide program under Section 1114, which allows Title I funds to be combined with other Federal, State, and local funds to upgrade the school's overall instructional program in order to raise the achievement of the lowest-achieving students. Schoolwide program schools must receive the amount of non-Federal resources they would have received in the absence of Title I funds. All other participating schools must operate a targeted assistance programs, which provide extra instruction to those children failing, or most at risk of failing, to meet challenging State academic achievement standards. Targeted assistance schools must ensure that Title I services supplement, and do not supplant, services normally provided with non-Federal funds by local educational agencies. This program is subject to non-supplanting requirements and must use a restricted indirect cost rate which is referenced under 34 CFR 76.564-76.569. For assistance call the Office of the Chief Financial Officer/Indirect Cost Group on (202) 708-7770.

Applicant Eligibility:

State educational agencies (SEAs) including for the Outlying Areas and the Secretary of the Interior. Local educational agencies (LEAs) and Indian tribal schools are subgrantees.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

In a targeted assistance program, children who are failing, or most at risk of failing, to meet challenging State academic standards. In a schoolwide program, all children in the school.

Credentials/Documentation:

2 C.F.R. Part 225 formerly. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

OMB Circular No. A-102 applies to this program. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-110. SEAs apply for funds as part of Title I, Part A, State plans submitted to the Department of Education in accordance with Section 1111 of the ESEA or as part of a consolidated State plan submitted under Section 9302 of the ESEA. The plan remains in effect for the duration of the SEA's participation in Title I, Part A, but must be updated to reflect substantive changes. Participating LEA's must file an approved plan with their SEAs.

Award Procedure:

The Department of Education (ED) makes grants through SEAs to LEAs using four statutory formulas based primarily on Census Bureau estimates of the number of children from low-income families in each LEA and State per pupil expenditures.

Deadlines:

Not Applicable.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable.

Appeals:

If an LEA's plan is disapproved by the SEA, the LEA may appeal to the SEA and then to the Department of Education under Section 432 of the General Education Provisions Act (GEPA).

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title I, Part A. The statute includes four separate formulas for allocating Title I Grants to LEAs. Under the statute, Basic and Concentration Grants are funded approximately at the 2001 appropriation level. Basic Grants are allocated to almost all LEAs based on each State's per-pupil expenditure for education and the number of school-aged children from low-income families. Concentration Grants are allocated to LEAs having more than 6,500 children from low-income families or a poverty rate of more than 15 percent. In addition, funds appropriated in excess of the fiscal year 2001 level are to be allocated as Targeted Grants, which make higher payments to LEAs with higher numbers or percentages of poor children. The law also includes a separately authorized Education Finance Incentive Grants formula, which incorporates factors designed to measure a State's commitment to provide sufficient education funding, as well as how equitably that funding is distributed across districts. Allocations from all four formulas are combined into a single award to eligible LEAs. Within LEAs, funds are targeted to schools with the greatest percentages of poor children.

Matching requirements are not applicable to this program.

This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details. The maintenance-of-effort requirements in sections 1125A(e) and 9521 of the ESEA apply to Title I, Part A.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Generally, awards to SEAs are made on July 1 and October 1 of the following fiscal year. In addition, funds remain available to SEAs and LEAs for an additional fiscal year for obligation and expenditure under section 421(b) of GEPA, subject to the carryover limitation of section 1127 of the ESEA. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Contact program office.

Reports:

SEAs submit annual performance reports. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Expenditure reports are not applicable. Performance monitoring is not applicable.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133.

Office of Special Education and Rehabilitative Services, Department of Education

AUTHORIZATION:

Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), as amended, Part B, Sections 611-618, 20 U.S.C 1411-1418.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide grants to States to assist them in providing special education and related services to all children with disabilities.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

States must distribute all grant funds that the State does not reserve for administration of the program or other State-level activities to eligible local educational agencies. Funds are used by State and local educational agencies, in accordance with the IDEA, to help provide the special education and related services needed to make a free appropriate public education available to all eligible children and, in some cases, to provide early intervening services.

Applicant Eligibility:

State educational agencies in the 50 States, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, American Samoa, Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, Guam and Virgin Islands, the Department of the Interior, and freely associated States. Local educational agencies apply to their State educational agency for subgrants.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Children with disabilities will benefit.

Credentials/Documentation:

No State or jurisdiction may receive a grant unless the Secretary has approved the annual application and statement of assurances. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Local education agencies establish eligibility by meeting local application eligibility requirements of Section 613 of Part B of the IDEA.

Award Procedure:

Once the State application has been approved, a grant award is forwarded to the State department of education. Notification of the award is made to Chief State School Officer. The State must request a hearing no later than 30 days after it receives notice of the proposed final determination that the State is not eligible to receive its award.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Statutory citation: IDEA Part B Sec. 611. Funds are allocated among States, including the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico, in accordance with a variety of factors. First, each State is allocated an amount equal to the amount that it received for fiscal year 1999. If the total program appropriation increases over the prior year, 85 percent of the remaining funds are allocated based on the number of children in the general population, between the ages of 3 through 21, in the age range for which the States guarantee a free appropriate public education (FAPE) to children with disabilities. Fifteen percent of the remaining funds are allocated based on the number of children living in poverty, between the ages of 3 through 21, that are in the age range for which the States guarantee FAPE to children with disabilities. The statute also includes several maximum and minimum allocation requirements when the amount available for distribution to States increases. If the amount available for allocation to States remains the same from one year to the next, States receive the same level of funding as in the prior year. If the amount available for allocation to States decreases from the prior year, any amount available for allocation to States above the 1999 level is allocated based on the relative increases in funding that the States received between 1999 and the prior year. If there is a decrease below the amount allocated for 1999, each States allocation is reduced from the 1999 level.

This program has no matching requirements. However, there are non-supplanting and excess cost requirements. MOE requirements for this program apply to both State Educational Agencies and local educational agencies. Contact the program office for further details.

84.041 IMPACT AIDFEDERAL AGENCY:

Office of Elementary and Secondary Education, Department of Education

AUTHORIZATION:

Elementary and Secondary Education Act (OESE), as amended, Title VIII.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide financial assistance to local educational agencies (LEAs) where affected by Federal activities, i.e., where the tax base of a district is reduced through the Federal acquisition of real property (Section 8002, ESEA), and where the presence of certain children living on Federal property places a financial burden on the LEAs that educate them (Sections 8003 and 8007, ESEA).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS; Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Under formula awards, most assistance becomes part of the general operating fund of the LEAs. Districts usually deposit the Federal payment in the general operating funds account in accordance with State laws, together with all State and local funds available for current operating expenses and use this combined account to finance the school program in the district. Special additional payments made to LEAs related to enrollments of federally connected children with disabilities must be used for programs and projects designed to meet the special educational and related needs of these children. Payments for construction may be used for construction and renovation, debt service, or other capital fund activities. Under discretionary construction awards, funds must be used for the project grant described in the application and grant award notification. The discretionary construction grant program is subject to non-supplanting requirements and must use a restricted indirect cost rate which is referenced under 34 CFR 76.564-76.569. For assistance call the Office of the Chief Financial Officer/Indirect Cost Group on 202-708-7770.

Applicant Eligibility:

Local educational agencies that provide free public elementary or secondary education may apply. Under Section 8002, generally, assistance is provided to districts where an aggregate of 10 percent or more of the assessed valuation of all real property in the school district as of the time(s) of acquisition has been acquired by the Federal Government since 1938 and the district is not being substantially compensated by revenue from activities on the eligible Federal property. Under Section 8003, assistance is provided to districts where at least three percent or 400 of the total number of eligible federally connected children in average daily attendance (ADA) live on Federal property including Indian lands and/or have a parent who works on Federal property or is on active duty in the uniformed services. Under Section 8007(b), "heavily impacted" LEAs that enroll a high proportion (at least 40 percent) of federally connected children, or have little or no funding capacity, may be eligible for a competitive construction award.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Public elementary and secondary school children benefit.

Credentials/Documentation:

Costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular No. A-87 for State and local governments. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-102. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-110. Applications are submitted to the Secretary of Education and a copy is sent to the State educational agency (SEA). Applications become available on the Department's e-Grants web site annually, typically in mid November. Applications must show the membership of federally connected children on the survey date chosen by the school district within the period prescribed by the Secretary.

Award Procedure:

Funds are generally made available when an appropriation is made.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Contact the Program Office for this information.

Appeals:

An administrative law hearing is available for any LEA or State adversely affected by any action of the Secretary. The hearing must be requested under the time frame included under the program regulations.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title VIII, Sections 8002, 8003, and 8007(a).
Matching Requirements: Under Section 8002, payments are determined under a statutory formula that considers the assessed valuation of the property acquired by the Federal government and the LEA's local tax rate for current expenditures. Under Section 8003, payments are determined under a statutory formula that considers the average daily attendance of federally connected students for the previous year, the per-pupil expenditure average from the third preceding year, the weight in the statute attached to certain categories of federally connected students, the total current expenditures of the LEA, and the total membership of the LEA. Under Section 8007(a), payments are determined under a statutory formula that considers the average daily attendance of children living on Indian lands and dependents of the military living on and off base. Under Section 8007(b), payments are awarded on a competitive basis to certain eligible LEAs that receive Impact Aid.
This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Payments are made annually to eligible LEAs. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: This information is included in award documents.

OBJECTIVES:

To develop more fully the academic, career, and technical skills of secondary and postsecondary students who elect to enroll in career and technical education programs.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Funds are used by eligible agencies and their eligible recipients (local subgrantees), in accordance with Perkins IV, to provide career and technical education. Each State must distribute at least 85 percent of its award to local agencies to fund secondary and postsecondary institutions that provide career and technical education services, from which the State may choose to award an amount equivalent to 10 percent of its award to make awards to local agencies in rural areas, areas with high percentages of career and technical education students, and areas with high numbers of career and technical education students. Each State may keep up to 5 percent (or $250,000, whichever is greater) of its award for State administration and up to 10 percent of its award to fund leadership activities (and from that amount, it must reserve an amount equivalent to 1 percent of its award to assist individuals in State institutions and between $60,000 and $150,000 to fund services to prepare individuals for non-traditional fields). This program is subject to non-supplanting requirements and must use a restricted indirect cost rate, pursuant to 34 CFR 76-564-76.569. For assistance call the Office of the Chief Financial Officer/Indirect Cost Group on (202) 708-7770.

Applicant Eligibility:

The Department of Education makes formula grants to State boards for career and technical education or the agency responsible for overseeing career and technical education in States. Eligible recipients for subgrants include local educational agencies and postsecondary institutions.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

A wide range of individuals pursuing career and technical education will benefit.

Credentials/Documentation:

The establishment of a State Board for Career and Technical Education is required. Costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular No. A-87 for State and local governments. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:

OMB Circular No. A-102 applies to this program. OMB Circular No. A-110 applies to this program. OMB Circular No. A-21 applies to this program. Eligible agencies submit 5-year State plans for career and technical education, and annual revisions, to the Department pursuant to section 122 of Perkins IV. However, the outlying areas, except for Palau, are eligible to submit an application for Perkins IV funding under the Consolidated Grants to Insular Areas Program. See CFDA 84.403. Eligible recipients submit local plans to the eligible agency in their States pursuant to section 134 of Perkins IV.

Award Procedure:

Once the Secretary approves an eligible agency's 5-year State plan or annual revisions, the Department forwards the grant award to the State official designated by the eligible agency and notifies the State director for CTE. States make subgrants to eligible recipients from their grant awards after setting aside funds for State administration and State leadership activities.

Deadlines:

Mar 30, 2014 The submission date for the State plan or annual revisions is generally late March or early April is set in guidance issued annually by the Department.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Within 90 days.

Appeals:

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Sec. 111 of the Carl D. Perkins Career and Technical Education Act of 2006. The funding formula is based on State per-capita income and population in three age cohorts (15-19,20-24, and 25-65). The formula provides for a minimum State allocation, and a "hold-harmless" provision in the formula ensures that no State's share of the appropriation is less than its share of the fiscal year 1998 appropriation. A special provision limits the increase a State with an initial allocation of the 0.5 percent minimum may receive, resulting in a number of States that receive an allocation of less than 0.5 percent of the total. If appropriations result in the amount of funds for allocation to States exceeding the amount of funds allocated to States from the FY 2006 appropriation, up to one-third of the additional funds are allotted to States with FY 2006 grants that are less than the minimum 0.5 percent grant amount and the remainder flows to the other States. In addition, the outlying areas (except the Virgin Islands) receive 0.13 percent of the total appropriated for State Grants to operate the same kinds of career and technical education programs as the States. Also, 1.25 percent of the total appropriation for State Grants is set aside for grants to federally recognized Indian tribes and tribal organizations, and 0.25 percent is set aside for competitive grants to organizations that primarily serve and represent Native Hawaiians. The Bureau of the Census supplies the population data; the Department of Labor supplies the per-capita income data.

Matching Requirements: Section 112(b) of the Perkins Acts requires 50/50 matching for State administration, which is also subject to the hold-harmless requirement imposed by section 323. An outlying area that submits an application for its Perkins IV funds under the Consolidated Grants to Insular Areas Program is not required to match. See CFDA 84.403.

Section 311(b) of the Perkins Act describes maintenance-of-effort requirements.

This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Generally, annual grants to eligible agencies are made from July 1 to September 30 of the following year. In addition, funds remain available to the eligible agencies for an additional fiscal year for obligation and expenditure under section 421(b) of the General Education Provisions Act, as amended (GEPA). Contact the headquarters office for information on how assistance is awarded/released. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: States draw funds as needed under the Electronic Funds Transfer System.

Eligible agencies must also submit Office for Civil Rights Compliance Reports. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Expenditure reports are not applicable. Performance monitoring is applicable.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Student completes a "Free Application for Federal Student Aid" and submits it to the agency specified on the form. Students may apply using a paper application, an electronic application, or via the Internet. The Department of Education calculates the student's financial eligibility for assistance and the agency to which the student sent the application returns a notification to the student of his or her eligibility for assistance. The student submits this notification to the institution of his or her choice in order to have his or her award calculated.

Award Procedure:

Institutions act as disbursing agents for the Department of Education. The institution that the student attends calculates and disburses the Federal Pell Grant, using a payment schedule developed by the Department of Education that determines the amount of the award based on the student's expected family contribution, cost of attendance, and enrollment status.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 15 to 30 days.

Appeals:

An institution, on the basis of supplemental documentation, may rule that an applicant is self-supporting, even though under the standard criteria, the applicant would normally be considered financially dependent on his or her parents. An institution may adjust on a case-by-case basis a student's data elements used to calculate his or her EFC and cost of attendance due to unusual circumstances documented by the institution.

Renewals:

Students who have applied in the previous award year may be eligible to complete a paper or electronic renewal application which contains preprinted student data and requires students only to update certain information. However, eligibility is still annually determined.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title IV, Part F.

Matching Requirements: Federal Pell Grant eligibility determinations are based on Part F of the HEA, as amended. This national need analysis formula determines financial eligibility for Federal Pell grants and other Federal student aid and is applied uniformly to all applicants. This formula determines a student's "expected family contribution" (EFC). The fundamental elements of this need analysis formula are the parents' and/or the student's income and assets (excluding home), the family's household size, and the number of family members attending postsecondary institutions. The EFC is determined as the sum of: (1) A percentage assessment of net income (remaining income after subtracting allowances for basic living expenses) and (2) a percentage assessment of net assets other than a home (remaining assets after subtracting an asset protection allowance).

This program does not have MOE requirements.

Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, Title VII, Chapter 1, Part C.

OBJECTIVES:

To support a Statewide network of centers for independent living (centers or CILs) and provide financial assistance to centers that comply with the standards and assurances in section 725(b) and (c) of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended (Rehabilitation Act) consistent with the design included in the State Plan for Independent Living for establishing a statewide network of centers. Centers are consumer-controlled, community-based, cross-disability, nonresidential, private nonprofit agencies that are operated in local communities by individuals with disabilities and provide an array of IL services that are designed to enhance independence and productivity of individuals with significant disabilities and to promote their full inclusion and integration into the mainstream of American society.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants (Discretionary)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Federal funds awarded under this program, the CIL program, are used for the establishment and operation of centers for independent living which offer a wide range of independent living (IL) services. Services must include independent living core services which are information and referral services, independent living skills training, peer counseling, including cross-disability peer counseling, and individual and systems advocacy. As appropriate, IL services include a combination of any other independent living services specified in the Rehabilitation Act and 34 CFR Section 364.4 of the IL program regulations. Section 721(b) of the Rehabilitation Act specifies that not less than 1.8 percent and not more than two percent of Federal funds appropriated for the CIL program must be reserved each fiscal year to provide training and technical assistance under contracts with entities who have experience in the operation of centers for independent living.

Applicant Eligibility:

Private non-profit organizations. An eligible agency under the CIL program is a consumer-controlled, community-based, cross-disability, nonresidential, private nonprofit agency or a state agency in states in which no eligible private non-profit organization applies for a grant. The Rehabilitation Act and regulations require the Commissioner of the Rehabilitation Services Administration to make awards based on a statutory order of priority. A States allotment for IL Part C funds is determined according to a population-based formula. To the extent funds are available, the order of priority is as follows: existing centers that meet the standards and assurances in section 725(b) and (c) of the Act must receive the level of funding each center received in the prior year. Existing centers that meet the Acts standards and assurances then receive a cost-of-living increase consistent with section 721(c)(3) of the Act. If there are sufficient excess funds in a States allotment, and there are areas in the State that are unserved or underserved by centers, the Commissioner must fund new centers. If there are insufficient funds to fund new centers, the excess funds may be distributed to existing centers or reallocated to other States.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individuals with significant disabilities as defined in section 7 of the Rehabilitation Act and 34 CFR 364.4 of the IL program regulations. This refers to an individual with a severe physical, mental, cognitive or sensory impairment whose ability to function independently in the family or community or whose ability to obtain, maintain, or advance in employment is substantially limited and for whom the delivery of IL services will improve the ability to function, continue functioning, or move toward functioning independently in the family or community or to continue in employment.

Credentials/Documentation:

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Statutory citation: IDEA Part B Sec. 619(c)

In general, funds are distributed to eligible entities through a formula based on general population and poverty. Under the formula, each State is first allocated an amount equal to its fiscal year 1997 allocation. For any year in which the appropriation is greater than the prior year level, 85 percent of the funds above the fiscal year 1997 level are distributed based on each States relative percentage of the total number of children aged 3 through 5 in the general population. The other 15 percent is distributed based on the relative percentage of children aged 3 through 5 in each State who are living in poverty.

The statute also includes several maximum and minimum allocation requirements when the amount available for distribution to States increases. If the amount available for allocation to States remains the same from one year to the next, States receive the same level of funding as in the prior year. If the amount available for allocation to States decreases from the prior year, any amount available for allocation to States above the 1997 level is allocated based on the relative increases in funding that the States received between 1997 and the prior year. If there is a decrease below the amount allocated for 1997, each States allocation is ratably reduced from the 1997 level.

Repayment on Federal Stafford loans begins six months after the student ceases to carry at least one-half the normal full-time academic workload. Repayment of principal and interest on PLUS loans generally begins within 60 days of disbursement of the last installment; repayment of a Consolidation loan begins within 60 days after the proceeds of the loan have been used to discharge the liability of the borrower on the loans selected for consolidation. Deferments and forbearance of payment may be granted for certain authorized periods.

The applicant must be a U.S. citizen, national, or person in the United States for other than a temporary purpose. A student borrower must be enrolled or accepted for enrollment in a degree or certificate program on at least a half-time basis as an undergraduate, graduate, or professional student at a participating postsecondary institution. An otherwise eligible student is eligible for loans during a single twelve-month period in which the student is enrolled in a non-degree/non-certificate course of study that the institution has determined is necessary in order for the student to enroll in a program leading to a degree or certificate. Under the Direct PLUS program, parents may borrow for dependent students. Also, graduate and professional students are eligible to borrow PLUS Loans. Direct Unsubsidized and PLUS loans are non-need based programs. A financial needs test based on family income is required for an undergraduate student to receive a Direct Subsidized loan. A student that is presently enrolled at a participating institution must be maintaining satisfactory academic progress in the course of study that they are pursuing. The borrower may not owe a refund on any Title IV grant or be in default on any Title IV loan received for attendance at any institution. The borrower must also file a Statement of Registration compliance (Selective Service).

To obtain a Direct Subsidized or Unsubsidized loan, a student shall complete and submit a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). All applications (with the exception of PLUS) for Direct Loans are processed by the Central Processor System (CPS) in the initial step to determine a student's Title IV eligibility. Institutions will receive official output from the CPS, and then will be able to assemble a financial aid award package. An institution participating in the Direct Loan program may award Direct Loans as part of the financial aid package. If a Direct Loan is not included in the aid package, a student may contact the institution to request loan information.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Applicants may apply for a loan for any year of attendance at a postsecondary institution. Starting July 1, 2013, the interest rate on new Stafford Loans is fixed at a rate equal to the 10-year Treasury note plus 2.05 percent (capped at 8.25 percent); new Unsubsidized Stafford loans have a fixed interest rate equal to the 10-year Treasury note plus 3.6 percent (capped at 9.5 percent); and Direct PLUS loans have a fixed interest rate equal to the 10-year Treasury note plus 4.6 percent (capped at 10.5 percent). There are four repayment plans that are available for Direct Loan borrowers: (1) A standard repayment plan with a fixed monthly payment amount over a period of up to 10 years; (2) an extended repayment plan with a fixed monthly payment amount paid over a period of 12 to 30 years, depending on the amount owed; (3) a graduated repayment plan with a monthly payment that will increase generally every 2 years. The repayment period varies from 12 to 30 years, depending on the amount owed; and (4) except for Direct PLUS Loan borrowers, an income contingent repayment (ICR) plan with a monthly payment that is adjusted annually based on the income of the borrower and paid over an extended period of time not to exceed 25 years. Any unpaid balance remaining after 25 years in the ICR plan is forgiven by the Secretary of Education. However, under current IRS rules, the amount written off is considered taxable income to the borrower in the year it is written off. In 2007, a new income-based repayment plan was created for those borrowers meeting a standard of "partial financial hardship" based on their annual repayment amount in relation to their adjusted gross income. Generally a borrower would not have to repay on a monthly basis more than 15 percent of their discretionary income, and any outstanding balance would be forgiven after 25 years of repayment. For new borrowers on or after July 1, 2014, these limits have been lowered to 10 percent of discretionary income and forgiveness after 20 years. Additionally, as of December 21, 2012, the Pay As You Earn plan, an income-sensitive repayment plan, is an option for eligible borrowers: those who meet the partial financial hardship standard, were a new borrower as of October 1, 2007, and who received a Direct Loan disbursement on or after October 1, 2011. Borrowers in this plan have to repay on a monthly basis no more than 10 percent of their discretionary income, and receive forgiveness on their remaining loan balances after 20 years of repayment. Direct Loan borrowers who work in public service are eligible for forgiveness during a 10-year period while they are repaying their loans. If these borrowers, during repayment, have an outstanding loan balance after 10 years of working in public service, the Federal Government will forgive the remaining balance on behalf of the borrower. Public service may include a variety of public disciplines such as education, health, law, military service and public safety. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Electronic transfer.

Reports:

The Department will produce a variety of management information system accounting, and financial management reports. Institutions must submit all reports required by 34 CFR 685 and 34 CFR 668. For the RLIS, an SEA must submit an application that includes specific, measurable goals and objectives for the activities to be carried out through the grant. If an SEA does not participate in the program, eligible LEAs in the State may submit an application directly to the Department.

Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), as amended , Executive Order Section 1003(g), 115 Stat. 1442, 20 U.S.C 6303(g).

OBJECTIVES:

To support competitive subgrants to local educational agencies (LEAs) that demonstrate the greatest need for the funds and the strongest commitment to use the funds to provide adequate resources to raise substantially the achievement of students in their lowest-performing schools. In general, State educational agencies (SEAs) must give priority for subgrants to LEAs with Title I-eligible schools ranked in the bottom five percent of such schools, based on student achievement and lack of progress in improving student achievement, as well as secondary schools with a graduation rate below 60 percent over a number of years. LEAs seeking funding to serve such schools must implement one of four school intervention models: turnaround model, restart model, school closure, or transformation model.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

An SEA must allocate at least 95 percent of the amount of the funds it receives directly to LEAs, primarily to implement specified school intervention models in Title I-eligible schools ranked in the bottom five percent of such schools, based on student achievement and lack of progress in improving student achievement, as well as secondary schools with a graduation rate below 60 percent over a number of years. An SEA may retain up to 5 percent of the grant amount received for administration, evaluation, and technical assistance expenses. At the LEA level, these funds may be used for any reasonable costs associated with implementing required school intervention models, or with carrying out school improvement, corrective action, or restructuring activities described in Section 1116(b) of the ESEA.

Applicant Eligibility:

SEAs with approved State plan amendments are eligible to receive funds.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

To be eligible to receive Title I School Improvement Grant funds, an LEA must have one or more schools identified for school improvement, corrective action, or restructuring under Section 1116(b) of Title I of the ESEA.

Appeals:

In programs administered by ED, Section 432 of the General Education Provisions Act provides LEAs with a right of appeal when there are disagreements between State and local educational agencies, including disagreements over funding decisions. Where an LEA alleges that the denial of funding is a violation of State or Federal law, rules, regulations, or guidelines governing the applicable program, it may, within 30 days, request a hearing from the SEA. Once the hearing is held and the SEA issues its written ruling, the LEA may appeal a negative ruling to the Secretary.

Renewals:

2. How a project/program will be sustainable over time;
3. Why a project/program is likely to succeed; and
4. Whether and how a project/program benefits the human community.

These Focus Areas and Emphasis Areas may be modified for subsequent amendments to the FPL.

Pursuant to the Initial Comprehensive Plan of the RESTORE Council and RESTORE Act, all proposals must include and address elements of the six subsections below.

OBJECTIVES:

The Office for Civil Rights (OCR) in the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) promotes and ensures that people have equal access to and the opportunity to participate in and receive services from all HHS-funded programs without facing unlawful discrimination, and that the privacy of their health information is protected. OCR protects the civil rights of all individuals who are subjected to discrimination in health and human services programs, and protects the health information privacy rights of consumers, and ensures that electronic protected health information is safeguarded against unauthorized use of disclosure through investigations, voluntary dispute resolution, enforcement, technical assistance, policy development and information services.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

ADVISORY SERVICES AND COUNSELING; INVESTIGATION OF COMPLAINTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Office for Civil Rights (OCR) in the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) is responsible for promoting and ensuring that people have equal access to and the opportunity to participate in and receive services from all HHS-funded programs without facing unlawful discrimination, that the privacy of their health information is protected, and that electronic protected health information is safeguarded against unauthorized use or disclosure. These HHS funded programs are provided through state agencies, nursing homes, skilled nursing facilities, medical laboratories, hospitals, day care centers, social service agencies and other providers. Any person who believes that an individual has been discriminated against in the provision of these services because of race, color, national origin, disability, age, sex or religion, may file a complaint with OCR. An individual who believes that discrimination on the basis of disability has occurred in a health or social services program of a state or local government entity may file a complaint with OCR under Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, regardless of whether the entity receives Federal funds. Individuals may also file complaints of denials of health care for reasons other than the need and availability of services, by recipients of Hill-Burton grants and loans. In addition, a person may file a complaint under the Multiethnic Placement Act of 1994, as amended by Section 1808 of the Small Business Job Protection Act of 1996, alleging that an adoption or foster care agency or entity funded by HHS discriminatorily relied on a parents or child's race, color, or national origin in making a placement decision. OCR will investigate complaints and take steps to ensure compliance with applicable civil rights laws.

OCR also enforces the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) Privacy Rule and Security Rule as well as the HITECH Breach Notification Rule and the confidentiality provisions of the Patient Safety and Quality Improvement Act (PSQIA) of 2005. OCR's activities under the Privacy, Security and Breach Notification Rules include enforcement actions, including conducting investigations, taking compliance actions, and making penalty determinations, and conducting public education, technical assistance and other outreach activities: to health care providers, health care clearinghouses, health plans, and business associates of covered entities to ensure that they understand their responsibilities under the Rules; to other entities that may be impacted by the Rules, including Federal, State and local government agencies, and researchers; and to consumers, to inform them of their rights under the Privacy Rule. Anyone who believes that a person, agency or organization covered under the HIPAA Privacy and Security Rules ("a covered entity") has violated the Privacy and/or Security Rules may file a complaint with OCR. In addition, the Breach Notification Rule requires HIPAA covered entities to promptly notify affected individuals of a breach, as well as the HHS Secretary and the media in cases where a breach affects more than 500 individuals; OCR is required to publish a list of entities that incur large breaches. Where a breach of unsecured protected health information occurs at or by a business associate, the business associate must notify the covered entity following the discovery of the breach. Additionally, the HITECH Act now makes business associates accountable for protecting the privacy and security of protected health information and directly liable for criminal and civil penalties for violations of HIPAA and Security Rules.

OCR's activities under PSQIA include administering an enforcement program regarding the confidentiality protections, including conducting investigations, taking compliance actions, making penalty determinations, and interpreting standards for confidentiality protections and the enforcement program for guidance and technical assistance to Patient Safety Organizations (PSOs), providers and public information.

Applicant Eligibility:

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Individuals subject to discrimination and recipients who require technical assistance and information. Regarding the HIPAA Privacy Rule, individuals subject to violation of their health information privacy, covered entities, and others needing or seeking technical assistance and information concerning the Rule.

Award Procedure:

Complaints under the Privacy and/or Security Rules must be filed within 180 days of the date when the complainant knew, or should have known, that the act or omission complained of occurred, unless the time limit is waived for good cause. Complaint processing time varies considerably based on the type of complaint, the complexity of the issues, and current OCR caseload.

Appeals:

Individuals can appeal a civil rights discrimination complaint determination in some instances by submitting, in writing, a request for reconsideration to the Director, Office for Civil Rights. OCR imposes civil money penalties (CMPs) on covered entities and their business associates found to be in violation of the HIPAA Privacy, Security and/or Breach Notification Rules. If CMPs are imposed, the covered entity, or any applicable business associates, may request a hearing in which an HHS administrative law judge (ALJ) decides if the CMPs are supported by the evidence in the case. OCR is required to present the evidence to support the imposition of CMPs to the ALJ. The covered entity and/or business associate(s) may also then appeal the ALJ's decision to the HHS Departmental Appeals Board (DAB) and ultimately to the U.S. Courts of Appeal.

93.007 PUBLIC AWARENESS CAMPAIGNS ON EMBRYO ADOPTION

(Embryo)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Office of the Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

This program is authorized by Section 1704 of the Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C. Section 300u-3, , 42 U.S.C 300u-3.

OBJECTIVES:

To fund public awareness campaigns on embryo adoption. The intent is to fund at least one project in each of three distinct categories (1) training for professionals to equip them with the specific knowledge and skills to support the unique needs of embryo donors; (2) regional/local strategies for informing and educating professional audiences; and (3) the use of new media with the goal of increasing public awareness regarding embryo donation and/or adoption. Entities may apply for more than one category; however, a separate application is required for each category identified in this announcement. Applicants should demonstrate experience with embryo donation and/or adoption programs that conform to professionally recognized standards governing embryo donation and/or adoption and other applicable Federal or State requirements. For the purposes of this announcement, embryo donation and/or adoption is defined as the donation of frozen embryo(s) from one party to a recipient who wishes to bear and raise a child or children.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The increasing success of assisted reproductive technologies (ART) has resulted in a situation in which an infertile couple typically creates several embryos through in-vitro fertilization (IVF). During IVF treatments, couples may produce many embryos in an attempt to become pregnant with several being cryopreserved (frozen) for future use. If a couple becomes pregnant without using all of the stored embryos, they may choose to release the remaining unused embryos for donation and adoption allowing other infertile couples the experience of pregnancy and birth. Embryo donation and/or adoption is a relatively new process in which individuals who have extra frozen embryos agree to release the embryos for transfer to the uterus of another woman, either known or anonymous to the donor(s) for the purpose of the recipient(s) attempting to bear a child and be that child's parent.

Applicant Eligibility:

Eligible applicants include public agencies, nonprofit organizations, and for-profit organizations. Eligibility to compete for this announcement is limited to particular applicant organizations. Only agencies and organizations, not individuals, are eligible to apply. One agency must be identified as the applicant organization and will have legal responsibility for the project. Additional agencies and organizations can be included as co-participants, subgrantees, subcontractors, or collaborators if they will assist in providing expertise and in helping to meet the needs of the recipients. Faith-based and community-based organizations meeting the eligibility requirements may apply, or they may be included as co-participants, subgrantees, subcontractors, or collaborators if they will assist in providing expertise and in helping to meet the needs of recipients. Eligibility is limited to organizations that can demonstrate previous experience with embryo adoption and are knowledgeable in all elements of the process of embryo adoption.

93.009 COMPASSION CAPITAL FUND (CCF)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 1110 of the Social Security Act governing Social Services Research and Demonstration activities; the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act of 2004. , Public Law 107-116.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide grants to charitable organizations to emulate model social service programs and to encourage research on the best practices of social service organizations. This is accomplished through the goal of assisting faith-based and community organizations to increase their effectiveness, enhance their ability to provide social services, expand their organizations, diversify their funding sources, and create collaborations to better serve those most in need. This is accomplished by funding experienced intermediary organizations in well-defined geographic locations with a proven track record of providing technical assistance to smaller faith-based and community organizations in their communities, providing one-time $50,000 grants to smaller faith-based and community organizations to build their capacity, and providing grants to strengthen broad-based collaborative community that are working to reduce gang involvement, youth violence, and child abuse and neglect and to foster positive youth development.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Intermediary organizations use the CCF funds to provide two services within their communities: 1) Training assistance to faith-based and community organizations; and 2) Financial support through sub-awards to some subset of the faith-based and community organizations in their communities. Technical assistance activities funded under CCF are to be conducted at no cost to interested faith-based and community organizations. Applicants must have demonstrated experience in the delivery of capacity-building assistance to smaller organizations in several of the following areas: strategic planning, financial management, board development, fund development, and outcome measurement. Technical assistance should be provided on a long-term, on-going basis to smaller organizations. The program goals are further accomplished through the issuance of sub-awards by the funded intermediary organizations to a diverse set of small faith-based and community organizations that seek to increase program and organizational effectiveness for a 12-month period. Sub-award recipients must adhere to the following: sub-award recipients must be chosen from fair and open competitive process; sub-award recipients must not be pre-selected; the awarding process must be fair and open competition and include outreach to both faith-based and community organizations; intermediary organizations must provide on-going technical assistance and capacity-building support to the organizations to which they issue sub-awards; and the criteria for selection must not include consideration of the religious nature of the program it offers. Priority for sub-awards is given to organizations that historically have not received grants from the Federal government. Intermediaries must not require sub-award applicants to provide matching funds even if the applicants offer matching funds in their applications. Intermediaries must not require sub-award applicants to have 501 (c) (3) status or to identify a sponsoring organization with 501 (c) (3) status; Organizations that partner with an intermediary to deliver technical assistance or provide a cost-sharing fund for the proposed project are not to be eligible for sub-awards, unless approved by the Administration for Children and Families; Sub-awards should not be used to assist organizations in differing stages of development. Sub-awards may also be provided to promising organizations to expand the reach of existing programs; Sub-awards must not be used to provide direct services, but rather improve the sub-awardee's efficiency and capacity. The Office of Community Services (OCS) will not fund any project, where the role of the applicant is primarily to serve as a conduit for funds to organizations other than the applicant. The applicant must have a substantive role in the implementation of the project for which funding is requested. This prohibition does not bar the making of sub-grants or sub-contracting for specific services or activities needed to conduct the project. CCF monies shall not be used to support inherently religious practices such as religious instruction, worship, or proselytization. Grant or sub-award recipients, therefore, may not and will not be selected based on religious criteria. Neutral, non-religious criteria that neither favor nor disfavor religion must be employed in a selection of a grantee and sub-award recipients.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2013: Activity 1: Assure Compliance with National Standards

Status: Ongoing

NAPHSIS continues to support and promote the use of the 2003 standard certificates in all communications and site visits with its jurisdictional and corporate members. Patricia Potrzebowski promoted the 2003 certificates in all regional meetings in the fall of 2013 and reminded all jurisdictions that they must implement the 2003 revisions on or before January 1, 2014 in order to be compliant with Vital Statistics Cooperative Program (VSCP) contract requirements.

Currently, 49 jurisdictions (86%) have implemented the 2003 standard certificate of Birth and 46 (81%) have implemented the 2003 standard certificate of Death. 39 jurisdictions (68%) have implemented the 2003 standard certificate of Fetal Death.

Activity 2: Provide Technical Assistance to Jurisdictions

Status: Ongoing

NAPHSIS has promoted technical assistance services in its regional meetings and Executive Director Newsletter. It is expected that with the increased emphasis on improved timeliness and data quality in the new VSCP contract, the technical assistance services provided to jurisdictions by NAPHSIS in future will focus more on those areas, which is why the identification of jurisdictions with timeliness issues, discussed in Activity 6, will become more critical going forward.

In September, NAPHSIS staff person Larry Nielsen, along with NCHS staff members Delton Atkinson and Rajesh Virkar, completed a technical assistance visit requested by the North Carolina Vital Records Unit and State Center for Health Statistics. A copy of that site visit report is included as an attachment. NAPHSIS participated in the VIEWS user group meeting at the 2013 annual meeting and in subsequent conference calls of the user group.

NAPHSIS maintains a Jurisdiction Dashboard that includes jurisdictional re-engineering and 2003 revision status. This has been provided to NCHS and made available on the NAPHSIS web site. A copy of the most recent dashboard is included as an attachment.

Activity 3: Disseminate Best Practices

Status: Ongoing

Disseminating best practices for vital records offices in a number of areas is an important ongoing activity of this cooperative agreement.

In the first six months of the cooperative agreement, NAPHSIS expanded its online portal that supports the dissemination of best practices and provides real-time collaboration for resolving issues and sharing ideas. NCHS was provided with access to all requested portions of the portal. There was an increase in members who had registered for access to the portal from 132 to 189 (a 43% increase). The NAPHSIS portal is integrated with the organizations website and provides access to both members and authorized partners including NCHS staff. This will be demonstrated at the 2014 NAPHSIS annual meeting.

The checklist tool, developed during Year Two, to use for jurisdictional self-assessment against the 98 Comprehensive Vital Statistics Standards was announced and distributed to the NAPHSIS membership in an Executive Director Update. Patricia Potrzebowski promoted the NAPHSIS standards, security guidelines, and the standards checklist tool at all the 2013 regional meetings.

In September, Patricia Potrzebowski and NAPHSIS members from five states met with staff from the Public Health Accreditation Board (PHAB) to study the relationship between the PHAB standards and the measures and best practices in vital records and health statistics, as well as exploring accreditation of vital records agencies as part of state and local health department accreditation. The topic of accreditation was discussed further at each of the 2013 regional meetings and feedback was gathered from meeting attendees. A presentation on this will be given at the 2014 NAPHSIS annual meeting.

Activity 4: Track Jurisdictional Progress

NAPHSIS continues to maintain data on re-engineering and implementation of 2003 standard certificates. The data is maintained by surveys, structured interviews, and other communications with member jurisdictions. It is provided to NCHS twice a year. The current jurisdictional dashboard is attached to this proposal.

With assistance from Will Whitman and Sukhjeet Ahuja in combing through our extensive array of jurisdiction survey data, Larry Nielsen has collected, organized and updated jurisdiction information to be included in a jurisdictional database. This database will be demonstrated at the 2014 NAPHSIS annual meeting.

Activity 5: Provide Training and Skills Enhancement for Jurisdictions

Status: Ongoing

In the first six months, NAPHSIS has implemented an online portal that will support and host online learning tools and other on-demand training services, as well as collect and maintain relevant usage statistics and feedback results.

Between September and February, NAPHSIS conducted training webinars on principles of presentation skills, STEVE program filters and proper use of the system mailboxes, and using EDRS to conduct real time disaster mortality surveillance.

Activity 6: Enhance Data Quality and Timeliness

In March, NCHS began sending regular timeliness reports to the jurisdictions. It forwarded the reports with timeliness problems to NAPHSIS.

NAPHSIS has been requested by NCHS to participate in the review of jurisdictional action plans. As of February 28, NAPHSIS had not received any action plans related to timeliness.

Sukhjeet Ahuja and the NAPHSIS/NCHS Birth Data Quality workgroup issued a survey to assess the current jurisdictional data evaluation and quality improvement activities.

Between September 1 and February 28, NAPHSIS received 63 new NCHS research proposal review requests by February for researchers requesting national mortality, natality and linked births/infant deaths data. Of these proposals, 45 were approved and the rest were under review. NAPHSIS also approved 39 existing proposals that were under review from prior months. Research proposal reviews were conducted by the NAPHSIS Research Review committee.

The VSCP project director conference calls, which started earlier in 2012, were held monthly during the first six months of the cooperative agreement.

Activity 7: Implement a National Data Exchange Program / STEVE

As of February 28, 45 jurisdictions had installed STEVE. All other jurisdictions were in the preparation or planning stage. Fifteen jurisdictions were fully certified to send data to NCHS using STEVE. Seventeen others were certified on at least one data type. The STEVE map is updated monthly and posted on the NAPHSIS website.

As an ongoing activity, NAPHSIS heavily promoted the implementation of STEVE during the regional meetings, VSCP project calls, and the executive director newsletter. Jurisdictions were reminded that the VSCP contract required data to be sent to NCHS via STEVE as of January 1, 2014 and that there are several steps involved in installing and implementing STEVE and then getting certified by NCHS to send data files.

STEVE was the primary topic in two VSCP project director conference calls, focusing on certification to send data through NCHS and on setting up filters and mailboxes to send data to approved data partners.

Activity 8: Support EHR/VR Interoperability

In the first six months, NAPHSIS staff and members participated in the Vital Records Functional Profile workgroup in completing its review of the Public Health Functional Profile of the HL7 standards.

Richard McCoy (VT) and Larry Nielsen attended the NCHS Interoperability Showcase at the HIMSS conference in February. Fiscal Year 2014: Activity 1: Assure Compliance with National Standards

Our activities to assure compliance with national standards will focus on the following requirements from the solicitation:

Promote the use of the U.S. Standard Certificates of Birth and Death and the U.S. Standard Report of Fetal Death in each of the 57 registration jurisdictions. Identify states not using the standard certificates and explore / devise strategies with NCHS to move them forward.

We will continue to help non-revised jurisdictions plan for revising to the 2003 standards for birth, death and fetal death as soon as possible. This will involve providing technical assistance to help states develop strategies to acquire or develop appropriate information technology, and providing assistance to jurisdictions in implementing these systems. There are eight jurisdictions not yet on the 2003 revised birth certificate, 11 not yet on the 2003 death certificate, and 18 not yet on the 2003 report of fetal death. During Year Three, NAPHSIS will work with NCHS staff to identify a priority list of jurisdictions for NAPHSIS to work with that have not, as of September 2014, implemented the new revision. We have budgeted one remote technical assistance visit. NAPHSIS will work with the remaining jurisdictions to determine what assistance we can provide via email and conference calls.

NAPHSIS will identify the barriers to implementation and strategize with NCHS and the jurisdictions to overcome those barriers. A Corrective Action Plan will be developed. For each plan:

1. NAPHSIS will review the Corrective Action Plan to ensure there is sufficient detail in how and when the state is to become 2003 compliant.
2. The jurisdiction will then submit the plan to NCHS.
3. NAPHSIS and the jurisdiction will work with NCHS in the approval of the plan.
4. NAPHSIS will determine the best strategy to support the jurisdiction and implement that strategy.
5. NAPHSIS will monitor progress on the plan through, at least, quarterly telephone reviews.

Larry Nielsen and Patricia Potrzebowski will be responsible for this activity.

Activity 2: Provide Technical Assistance to Jurisdictions

Our approach to this task in Year Three combines a number of different types of technical assistance, as represented by the following from the solicitation:

Provide technical assistance to states that are re-engineering, or planning to re-engineer, their death and fetal death IT systems and actively promote the use of national requirements, templates, edit specifications, and other standards and guidelines for use with these systems.

We propose to provide technical assistance (TA) to jurisdictions to support re-engineering activities, business process improvements and enhanced physical and data security in vital record offices. Technical assistance will be primarily via email and conference calls with at least one on-site review. NAPHSIS will work with jurisdictions to determine whether each jurisdiction's EDRS meets minimum requirements to communicate/operate with VIEWS II or an acceptable substitute.

Patricia Potrzebowski and Larry Nielsen will oversee re-engineering, business process improvement and physical/data security site visits and the reports of findings and recommendations.

The Security Guidelines and the NAPHSIS Standards will be promoted in all technical assistance visits.

When a TA site visit is scheduled, we will inform the VSI project officer in advance so that NCHS staff can participate in the visit if they wish and provide any input they believe may be helpful prior to the visit.

At the conclusion of each technical assistance site visit, a report of findings and recommendations will be developed. A draft will be reviewed first with the jurisdiction. Once finalized, a copy of the report will be provided to the jurisdiction and to the NCHS Project Officer. A six month follow-up of site visits will be conducted and shared with NCHS to determine the status of implementation of recommendations included in the technical assistance reports. For technical assistance provided via email and conference calls, a summary report will be provided to the jurisdiction and shared with NCHS.

We will maintain a dashboard of jurisdictional re-engineering and 2003 revision status and provide them to NCHS as part of scheduled deliverables, on request, and as part of the NAPHSIS website that is available to NCHS.

Activity 3: Disseminate Best Practices

Activity 3 addresses our approach to the following requirement from the solicitation:

Identify best practices on vital statistics operations, statistical analysis and dissemination, IT system, model laws, and security and fraud prevention, and develop / implement effective mechanisms to share and facilitate their use among the states.

For the purpose of disseminating the standards and best practices developed by NAPHSIS in cooperation with NCHS during the previous Cooperative Agreement, NAPHSIS has implemented a robust online portal that supports the dissemination of best practices and provides real-time collaboration for resolving issues and sharing ideas. The portal allows members, staff and partners to work together on documents; access information in libraries; have discussions that can be captured and indexed; conduct surveys, consolidate data and manage group calendars. The NAPHSIS portal is seamlessly integrated with the NAPHSIS website and provides access to both members and authorized partners such as NCHS. In Year Three, NAPHSIS will develop a report by April 15, 2015 on the usefulness of the portal and the changes and improvements needed. Shawna Webster has primary responsibility for the NAPHSIS portal.

During Year Three, we will continue to promote the use of 98 comprehensive vital statistics standards piloted in 12 jurisdictions and approved by the NAPHSIS membership at the 2012 annual meeting for self-assessment purposes. We will promote the use of the checklist tool to aid jurisdictions in conducting their self-assessments by:

1. Promoting the use of the checklist tool with the goal of getting at least five additional jurisdictions using it.
2. Providing guidance and technical assistance, as requested, to the five jurisdictions that started to use the self-assessment during Year Two and the five additional jurisdictions to address deficiencies identified via this process.
3. Promoting the use of the security guidelines, the NAPHSIS standards, and the checklist tool for self-assessment at the fall 2014 regional meetings.
4. Continue to document the best registration practices.
5. Producing a report for dissemination to the jurisdictions and NCHS, and placing the report on the NAPHSIS web site.

Larry Nielsen will oversee the use of the checklist tool. Patricia Potrzebowski will promote it in Executive Director Newsletters and the 2014 regional meetings.

Activity 4: Track Jurisdictional Progress

Our plan to meet the following requirement from the solicitation is detailed in Activity 4:

Maintain an up-to-date database on state IT birth, death, and fetal death systems including but not limited to the following:

- o Name of the vendor used
- o Statewide coverage of the jurisdictions system
- o Use of spell checker with EDRs
- o Whether or not their systems are using the national edits and specifications
- o Percent of records being filed electronically through the EBR system and through the EDR systems (include graphic representation as appropriate).

NAPHSIS will continue to maintain the jurisdictional database developed in Year Two. The membership will be asked to advise NAPHSIS, on an ongoing basis, of any updates that need to be made to the database. Twice a year, NAPHSIS will ask all members to review the contents of the database and provide updates. Associated documents will also be kept up to date, including a jurisdictional dashboard. This dashboard provided to NCHS shall be no more than six months old.

In Year Three, the database will be expanded to add the following:

- Statewide coverage of the jurisdictions system
- Use of spell checker with EDRs
- Whether or not their systems are using the national edits and specifications
- Percent of records being filed electronically through the EBR system and through the EDR systems

Larry Nielsen and Stephanie NGarsanet have responsibility for the jurisdictional database.

Activity 5: Provide Training and Skills Enhancement for Jurisdictions

Activity 5 describes our approach to meeting the following requirements from the solicitation:

Enhance training and education programs / courses / opportunities (including the use of e-learning opportunities) available to state and territorial vital registration officials and to data providers on the collection, processing, analysis, dissemination, and / or sharing of vital statistics records / data (i.e. beyond those programs available through NCHS).

The NAPHISIS Annual Meeting is the premier venue for providing training and skills enhancement for personnel from the states and territories. The regional meetings are an important supplement to the annual meeting and provide professional development opportunities that may be of key importance to NAPHISIS regions. We plan to continue providing presentations and programs at the annual and regional meetings to update skills and knowledge among our members and other attendees. Will Whitman and Shawna Webster will arrange for guest speakers to deliver the training.

We will continue to support travel for Ron Hyman to co-teach the basic vital statistics course offered by NCHS.

Given the current limited jurisdiction resources and limitations on travel, we recognize the importance of online training and education capabilities in order to reach the widest possible audiences and broadest range of topics. In Year Three, NAPHISIS will promote utilization of the web-based educational resource for vital records and vital statistics currently available on the NAPHISIS website and determine the best approaches to future enhancements to improve the registration, IT, data quality, statistical, and management skills of jurisdiction personnel working in vital records/statistics offices.

By the second quarter of Year Three, NAPHISIS will implement feedback gathered from pilot registrars during webinar to be held late in Year Two on the new state vital records registrar educational resource that was developed in Year One and placed on the NAPHISIS web site. This resource provides the critical information needed by a new state registrar for the successful management of a vital records office. It contains basic information available to new state registrars immediately upon appointment. While the NCHS training course is offered only one time a year, a new state registrar may be appointed shortly after the course is offered and have to wait for an entire year until they can attend, or the registrar may be denied out-of-state travel to attend the NCHS course. The NAPHISIS online educational resource will be available to any NAPHISIS member at any time.

Will Whitman, Stephanie NGarsanet, and Shawna Webster are responsible for the NAPHISIS training resources.

Activity 6: Enhance Data Quality and Timeliness

Activity 6 details our proposed tasking to address the following requirement from the solicitation:

Provide assistance to NCHS in enhancing the quality, frequency, and timeliness of state reporting of birth, death, and fetal death data for public health surveillance and medical research.

The 2012 Vital Statistics Cooperative Program (VSCP) contract imposes new timeliness and data quality requirements that will be a challenge for some to meet. To be proactive about helping jurisdictions avoid trouble with their contractual obligations, we propose to monitor the regular timeliness letters sent by NCHS to the jurisdictions. For those jurisdictions experiencing regular or severe problems with timeliness, NAPHISIS will assist NCHS in developing a continuous quality improvement feedback loop to jurisdictions. Patricia Potrzebowski has the lead in working with NCHS on this task. NAPHISIS will also encourage jurisdictions to let us know when they are in trouble so that, when appropriate, technical assistance can be provided to assist in resolving problems before they become too great, resulting in deliverables not being met and the need for action plans. This will also help us strategize the provision of TA site visits in the next year.

Under the terms of the 2012 VSCP contract, jurisdictions not meeting specific contract requirements will be required to develop and submit to NCHS a corrective action plan stating how they plan to remedy identified deficiencies. NCHS has requested that NAPHISIS participate in the review of each plan prior to its submission by the jurisdiction to NCHS. We propose to continue the process, developed with NCHS during Years One and Two, for states to request a NAPHISIS review of its corrective action plan and for NAPHISIS to provide timely comments to the jurisdictions. Most corrective actions will be directed to improving timeliness. Our involvement in the review of corrective action plans will allow us to provide more targeted and timely technical assistance to jurisdictions challenged to comply with VSCP requirements, as described in Activity 2.

We will continue to promote the use of STEVE as a way for jurisdictions to improve the timeliness of reporting to NCHS once full connectivity has been established (see Activity 7). The capability will also be in place during Year

Three for states to receive data from NCHS via STEVE. Larry Nielsen will oversee the activities related to timeliness targets and the promotion of STEVE.

We will also work with the NAPHISIS/NCHS joint Data Quality Workgroup to promote improvements in vital statistics data that will make these data more useful for public health surveillance and research. We plan in Year Three to assist the workgroup as it continues to document best practices for evaluating and providing feedback to facilities on the quality of birth reporting, document best practices for engaging hospitals in improving data quality and assess the quality of birth data items and recommend items to be dropped from the national birth file as it develops content for e-learning training for hospital staff. Patricia Potrzebowski and Will Whitman will take responsibility for assisting the workgroups efforts as needed.

In Year Three, the Data Quality Workgroup, including NAPHISIS, NCHS, and other partners (e.g. ACOG), will finalize content for a tutorial to educate hospital birthing staff on the importance and uses of birth data and how to accurately and completely report the birth certificate medical and health information. This content will be posted on the NAPHISIS web site. NAPHISIS will pilot test the content of the tutorial in one or more jurisdictions. The monthly teleconference for VSCP project directors to discuss contract issues will continue during Year Three. In addition, we will expand use of the online portal for the VSCP project directors and NCHS to facilitate communication and collaboration in real-time. Will Whitman will continue to coordinate this meeting series and its online workspace.

Activity 7: Implement a National Data Exchange Program / STEVE

Our approach to meeting the following requirement from the solicitation is detailed in Activity 7:

Increase the number of states using the STEVE system for the matching of birth and death records and for exchanging birth, death and fetal death information with NCHS.

The State and Territorial Exchange of Vital Events (STEVE) is a NAPHISIS-owned software product installed in jurisdictions and connected to NCHS and (future) other authorized data exchange partners. There are currently 50 jurisdictions with STEVE installed. Seventeen jurisdictions are fully certified, 17 are certified in at least one record type, 4 are in testing to become certified, and 8 have submitted CAPs.

All jurisdictions that do not yet have STEVE installed are in active planning or preparation for STEVE. STEVE became the mandatory vehicle for transmitting VSCP data to NCHS on January 1, 2014. Many jurisdictions did not make that date. Some missed the date because they did not have one or more electronic registration systems and/or did not have one or more 2003 U.S. Standard certificate systems in place in time to implement STEVE and get certified for sending data to NCHS via STEVE.

NAPHISIS will continue work with the jurisdictions to get STEVE running and certified in all jurisdictions during Year Three. For those jurisdictions without STEVE and those not currently certified to send data to NCHS via STEVE, NAPHISIS will work with those jurisdictions to develop and submit a corrective action plan, enabling that jurisdiction to continue providing VSCP data through the old mechanism. Larry Nielsen will work with the jurisdictions in implementation and certification of STEVE.

Once a jurisdiction has installed STEVE and paid the $3,000 use fee for the first year of service, NAPHISIS will provide for routine maintenance and ongoing management of the system at no additional cost to the jurisdiction using the subsidy provided in this Cooperative Agreement.

Activity 8: Support EHR/VR Interoperability

We plan to address the solicitation requirement below as described under Activity 8:

Provide support to states and NCHS in researching, developing, testing/piloting and, if shown to be effective, implementing interoperable systems for the electronic exchange vital events data between electronic medical records and vital records systems.

We will support NCHS standardization activities and participate with individual jurisdictions in NCHS workgroups developing HL7 standards for EHR-VR exchange. We will collaborate with NCHS in planning for any 2015 Interoperability Showcase activities.

In addition, we will participate in and support all activities of the e-Health Workgroup. NAPHISIS will encourage the broadening of knowledge of interoperability among our members and educating the jurisdictions on EHR/VR interoperability.

Having said that, it is not known whether there will be any direct activity in this area during Year 3. The e-Health Workgroup will continue to support standards and vocabulary work as it comes up. The EHR special projects are no longer funded and are wrapping up. There is no funding for jurisdictions to initiate any such additional projects.

Activity 9: Support Enhanced State-based Network of EDRS (If funding becomes available)

We plan to address the solicitation requirement below as described under Activity 9:

If funding becomes available prior to September 1, 2014, provide technical assistance to NCHS and to states in the implementation and/or expansion of the Initiative on Enhanced State-based Network of Electronic Death Registration Systems.

Should the funding for this requirement become available, NAPHSIS will add a staff person to work with the states and with NCHS on the implementation and/or expansion of the Initiative on Enhanced State-based Network of Electronic Death Registration Systems. Larry Nielsen will manage the project and Rose Trasatti Helm will be heavily involved in these activities. The addition of another staff person at NAPHSIS will enable us to work more closely with NCHS and to provide more personalized assistance at an increased level of effort to help jurisdictions participating in the expanded Initiative on Enhanced State-based Network of Electronic Death Registration Systems. For Year Three, these activities will emphasize EDRS for improving timeliness, participation, and coverage, VIEWS implementation, and on-site technical assistance visits to improve timeliness and quality of data.

During Year Three, NAPHSIS plans to establish a working group of the states involved, conduct regular telephone conference calls, and host a 2 day reverse site visit in which representatives from the states would come to Silver Spring, Maryland to provide status updates and share experiences and best practices. NAPHSIS will then produce a short report on this workshop, similar to our MORE BETTER FASTER report, to be shared with other states. It is anticipated that this report will be useful not only to other jurisdictions that were not present at the meeting, but also to promote resource support in states for more complete participation by physicians in EDRS. Fiscal Year 2015: We will continue to carry out the activities from Fiscal Year 2014.

93.069 PUBLIC HEALTH EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS

PERLC: PREPAREDNESS AND EMERGENCY RESPONSE LEARNING CENTER (PERLC) (Supporting PHEP; awards other than PHEP Cooperative agreement not recorded under 93.074)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, Section 319C-1, Public Law 112-10; Public Health Services Act, Section 317(a); Public Health Services Act, Section 317(d).

OBJECTIVES:

The PHEP program is a critical source of funding, guidance, and technical assistance for state, territorial, and local public health departments. Preparedness activities funded by the PHEP program are targeted specifically for the development of emergency-ready public health departments that are flexible and adaptable. These efforts support the National Response Framework (NRF), which guides how the nation responds to all types of hazards including infectious disease outbreaks; natural disasters; biological, chemical, and radiological incidents; and explosions.

To help public health departments with their strategic planning, CDC identified 15 public health preparedness capabilities to serve as national public health preparedness standards. State and local jurisdictions can use CDC's Public Health Preparedness Capabilities: National Standards for State and Local Planning to better organize their work and identify the capabilities they have the resources to build or sustain. These standards help ensure that federal preparedness funds are directed to priority areas within individual jurisdictions.

The 2012 PHEP program is currently funded via a joint cooperative agreement award and aligned with the Hospital Preparedness Program (HPP). PHEP program guidance assists the 62 PHEP awardees in demonstrating measurable and sustainable progress toward achieving the 15 public health preparedness capabilities and other activities that promote safer and more resilient communities.

Maintenance of Funding (MOF)
PHEP awardees must maintain expenditures for healthcare preparedness and public health security at a level that is not less than the average level of such expenditures maintained by the awardee for the preceding two-year period. This represents an awardees historical level of contributions or expenditures (money spent) related to federal programmatic activities that have been made prior to the receipt of federal funds. The MOF is used as an indicator of nonfederal support for public health security and healthcare preparedness before the infusion of federal funds. These expenditures are calculated by the awardee without reference to any federal funding that also may have contributed to such programmatic activities in the past. The definition of eligible state expenditures for public health security and healthcare preparedness includes: Appropriations specifically designed to support healthcare or public health emergency preparedness as expended by the entity receiving the award; and

Funds not specifically appropriated for healthcare or public health emergency preparedness activities but which support healthcare or public health emergency preparedness activities, such as personnel assigned to healthcare or public health emergency preparedness responsibilities or supplies or equipment purchased for healthcare or public health emergency preparedness from general funds or other lines within the operating budget of the entity receiving the award.

93.077 FAMILY SMOKING PREVENTION AND TOBACCO CONTROL ACT REGULATORY RESEARCH

NIH-FDA Tobacco Control Regulatory Research

FEDERAL AGENCY:

National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

The Public Health Service Act and the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act, Public Law 111-31, 42 U.S.C 300u-3.

OBJECTIVES:

The Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act (TCA) provides the authority to regulate tobacco product manufacturing, distribution and marketing. Regulatory research will provide the scientific evidence to guide the implementation of this authority. Research areas include (1) understanding the diversity of tobacco products, (2) reducing addiction to tobacco products, (3) reducing toxicity and carcinogenicity of tobacco products and smoke, (4) understanding the adverse health consequences of tobacco use, (5) understanding communications about tobacco products, (6) understanding tobacco product marketing, and (7) understanding how economics and policies affect tobacco product use. This regulatory research will help understand tobacco and its ingredients and constituents, tobacco addiction, tobacco marketing and labeling, and childhood tobacco use. The strategic priorities for these research areas can be found at <http://www.fda.gov/downloads/TobaccoProducts/NewsEvents/UCM293998.pdf>

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements; Project Grants; Project Grants (Contracts); Training

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

(1) Research project grants provide support for clearly defined projects or a small group of related research activities, and when appropriate, support of research conferences; (2) program project and center grants support large-scale, broad-based programs of research, usually interdisciplinary, consisting of several projects with a common focus; (3) exploratory/development and clinical exploratory/developmental grants encourage the development of new research activities in categorical program areas; (4) cooperative agreements support single or a group of related research activities with significant involvement of federal staff; (5) small grants support newer, less experienced investigators; investigators at institutions without a well developed research tradition and resources; the testing of new methods or techniques; small-scale exploratory and pilot studies, or exploration of an unusual research opportunity; small grants provide research support of up to $50,000 direct costs per year for a period of up to 2 years; (6) research training grants including fellowships and institutional training grants, career development grants and loan repayment contracts; and (7) SBIR Phase I grants (of approximately 6-months' duration) are to establish the technical merit and feasibility of proposed research or research and development efforts to determine the quality of performance of the small business grantees. Phase II grants are for the continuation of the research initiated in Phase I and that are likely to result in commercially viable products or processes. Only Phase I awardees are eligible to apply for Phase II support; STTR Phase I grants (normally of 1-year duration) are to determine the scientific, technical, and commercial merit and feasibility of the proposed cooperative effort that has potential for commercial application and the quality of performance of the small business concerns. Phase II funding is based on results of research initiated in Phase I and scientific and technical merit and commercial potential of the Phase II application. Research must directly support the Family Smoking Prevention and Tobacco Control Act and the Center for Tobacco Products, Food and Drug Administration Research Priorities found at <http://www.fda.gov/downloads/TobaccoProducts/NewsEvents/UCM293998.pdf>

Applicant Eligibility:

Applicants should review the eligibility information in the individual funding opportunity announcements issued under this CFDA.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

This Tobacco Control Regulatory Research Program will support research aimed at providing guidance and evidence to develop regulation for tobacco product manufacturing, distribution and marketing. The general public will ultimately benefit.

Credentials/Documentation:

No Credentials or documentation are required. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-87.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is generally not applicable, though applicants requesting direct costs of $500,000 or more for any one year must contact the appropriate NIH Institute or Center no later than 6 weeks before the anticipated submission date. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-102. OMB Circular No. A-110 applies to this program. Most applications must be prepared and submitted electronically. Most applicants use the SF 424 (Research & Related) for electronic submission. Information about the SF 424 form may be found on <http://grants.nih.gov/grants/funding/424/index.htm>, but application packages should be accessed through the appropriate funding opportunity announcement, found either on the NIH Guide to Grants and Contracts (<http://grants1.nih.gov/grants/guide/index.html>) or through the Grants.gov website (<http://www.grants.gov/>). Some institutions may submit the grant data directly (using what is called a system-to-system transfer). For further details, see grants.gov or eRA Commons. Application forms for SBIR and STTR grants may be obtained through the SBIR/STTR funding announcements posted on the NIH Guide to Grants and Contracts and the Grants.gov sites (see URLs listed above). All SBIR and STTR applications must be submitted electronically. The timeline for transition to electronic applications and the new forms may be found at: <http://era.nih.gov/ElectronicReceipt/>. 93.079 COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS TO PROMOTE ADOLESCENT HEALTH THROUGH SCHOOL-BASED HIV/STD PREVENTION AND SCHOOL-BASED SURVEILLANCE

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, Title III, Part B, Section 317(b)(k)(2), 42 U.S.C 247(b)(k)(2).

OBJECTIVES:

Funding will build the capacity of state, territorial, and local (STL) agencies and support the efforts of national, non-governmental organizations (NGO) to help school districts and schools develop and implement sustainable program activities to:

- 1) Reduce HIV infection and other STD among adolescents; and
- 2) Reduce disparities in HIV infection and other STD experienced by specific adolescent sub-populations.

It is also expected that applicants activities will reinforce efforts to reduce teen pregnancy rates.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Throughout the 5-year cooperative agreement, awardees will conduct the Youth Risk Behavior Survey (YRBS) and the School Health Profiles (Profiles) and will aim to improve the sexual health of high school students within their jurisdiction by delaying the onset of sexual activity; reducing the number of sexual partners; promoting the dual use of condoms and a highly effective contraceptive method among adolescents who are sexually active; increasing STD and HIV testing, counseling, and treatment; and addressing key social determinants of health to ensure we are reaching youth at most disproportionate risk for HIV infection and other STD.

Separate funding pools are available for State and Territorial Education Agencies (SEA/TEA); Local Education Agencies (LEA); and National Non-Governmental Organizations. In addition, state, territorial, and local health agencies may be eligible for School-Based Surveillance funding if the education agency in their jurisdiction does not apply for it.

Funding will be for agencies and organizations to implement four key strategies:

Strategy 1: School-Based Surveillance

Strategy 2: School-Based HIV/STD Prevention

Strategy 3: Capacity Building Assistance for School-Based HIV/STD Prevention

Strategy 4: School-Centered HIV/STD Prevention for Young Men Who Have Sex with Men

Cooperative agreement funds may be used to support personnel, purchase equipment, supplies, services, and travel directly related to program activities and consistent with the scope of this program. Cooperative agreement funds are used to help schools prevent sexual risk behaviors that result in HIV and STD infection, especially among youth who are at highest risk.

CDC believes that the specific scope and content of HIV education programs in schools should be locally determined and should be consistent with parental and community values. CDC supports local decision making by providing sound scientific information to grantees who work directly with schools, communities, and parents. Funds may be expended for written materials, pictorials, audiovisuals, questionnaires, or survey instruments, and educational group sessions related to HIV education youth, school, and college populations if approved in accordance with the document Content of AIDS-Related Written Materials, Pictorials, Audiovisuals, Questionnaires, Survey Instruments, and Educational Sessions in Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Assistance Programs.

Cooperative agreement funds are also used to build state education and state health agency partnership and capacity to implement and coordinate school health programs across agencies and within schools. For example, cooperative agreement recipients implement and integrate effective policies, environmental changes, and educational strategies to reduce risky behaviors; leverage resources to avoid duplication at the state and local levels; and evaluate school health capacity-building efforts while implementing effective strategies to reduce priority health risks. Funds may not be used to conduct research projects, provide direct delivery of patient care or treatment services, or purchase or disseminate condoms. Although public health may have an assurance role in clinical testing and screening, funds are not to be used to provide clinical testing or screening services. Funds may not be used for purchasing computer equipment, office equipment, or furnishing, renting, or leasing office space, or to support constructions or renovation unless specifically approved.

Applicant Eligibility:

All 50 state education agencies, plus the District of Columbia, and the territorial education agencies in Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, American Samoa, Northern Mariana Islands, Federated States of Micronesia, Guam, Republic of the Marshall Islands, and Republic of Palau are eligible to apply for Strategies 1 and 2. SEA and TEA are not eligible for Strategy 3.

If a state or territorial education agency declines to apply for Strategy 1, the health agency in the same jurisdiction or the health agency's Bona Fide Agent may apply on their behalf. Either the education agency or the health agency in a state or territory must be awarded for Strategy 1 and include at least four of the seven sexual behavior questions on the 2015 YRBS questionnaire in order for the education agency in that state or territory to be awarded for Strategy 2. SHA/THA are not eligible for Strategy 2, 3 or 4.

Thirty-one local education agencies are eligible to compete for Strategies 1 and 2, and twelve of the 31 LEA are eligible to compete for Strategy 4. LEA are not eligible for Strategy 3.

If a local education agency declines to apply for Strategy 1 funding, the health agency in the same jurisdiction or the health agency's Bona Fide Agent may apply on its behalf. 93.082 SODIUM REDUCTION IN COMMUNITIES

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

This program is authorized under Section 317(k)(2) of the Public Health Services Act (PHS Act), 42 U.S.C. 247b(k)(2) as amended.

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of this program is to reduce Americans sodium intake to limits recommended by the Dietary Guidelines. TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Funding is provided on an open-ended basis in accordance with sec. 474(a) of the Social Security Act.

93.092 AFFORDABLE CARE ACT (ACA) PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY EDUCATION PROGRAM

(PREP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, Title II Role Of Public Programs, Subtitle L, Maternal and Child Health Services , Title V, Section 2953, Public Law 113-93, 42 U.S.C 713(c)(1).

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of this program is to educate adolescents and young adults on both abstinence and contraception for the prevention of pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections, including HIV/AIDS. The Affordable Care Act was established and provided funding for this program through FY 2014. The program was extended through September 30, 2015 by P.L. 113-193.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants; Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

To carry out personal responsibility education programs designed to educate adolescents on both abstinence and contraception for the prevention of pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections, including HIV/AIDS. The State program component must fund teen pregnancy prevention and personal responsibility education programs that have been proven on the basis of rigorous scientific research, to change behavior, which means delaying sexual activity, increasing condom or contraceptive use for sexually active youth, or reducing pregnancy among youth. State programs must teach adulthood preparation subjects including healthy relationships, adolescent development, financial literacy, parent-child communication, educational and career success, and healthy life skills. Applicants for innovative program funding should describe the research base for proposed projects, such as the rationale for substantial modifications to evidence-based models and/or developmental research that suggests an innovative model is likely to be effective with a vulnerable or underserved population. The list of evidence-based models was developed and is updated by the HHS Office of the Assistant Secretary for Planning and Evaluation (ASPE). Additionally, the innovative practices component must implement programs to target high-risk, vulnerable, and culturally under-represented youth populations. Such programs must be either significant modifications of the above list of evidence-based models or are based upon other promising approaches with a strong research basis. All programs must agree to participate in a rigorous Federal evaluation of their project. Innovative programs must conduct their own rigorous, independent evaluations unless they are selected for the Federal evaluation. From the $75,000,000 appropriation, $10,000,000 (13.3%) is designated for PREIS, which are demonstration grants for innovative teen pregnancy prevention and personal responsibility education programs (PREIS); $3,250,000 (5% of the appropriation after the $10,000,000 is removed) is set aside for Tribes and Tribal organizations; $6,500,000 (10% of the appropriation after the $10,000,000 is removed) is designated for program support and evaluation. The remaining $55,250,000 (73.7% of the appropriation) is for States to implement evidence-based demonstration projects and is allotted by formula. However, beginning in 2012, funds from States that did not apply for FY10 or FY11 funding was distributed on a discretionary basis to community-based organizations within those States. These Competitive PREP projects have a three year project period.

Applicant Eligibility:

There is $55,250,000 appropriated annually to fund 59 States and Territories to enable them to carry out Personal Responsibility Education Programs (PREP). Eligible applicants include the 50 United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, Northern Mariana Islands, Federated States of Micronesia, the Republic of the Marshall Islands, and the Republic of Palau.

If any States or Territories did not apply for funding in FY 2010 or 2011, they are no longer eligible to apply for this program and their allotments were made available as Competitive PREP grants to community-based organizations for the same State or territory. The annual award for Competitive PREP is $18,856,405.

Funds ($10,000,000) shall be reserved to award PREP Innovative Strategies (PREIS) grants to entities to implement innovative youth pregnancy prevention strategies and target services to high-risk, vulnerable, and culturally under-represented youth populations.

Funds ($3,250,000) shall be reserved for Tribal PREP grants to Indian tribes and tribal organizations.

Funds ($6,500,000) shall be reserved for program support that may be provided directly or through a competitive award process. Program support includes research, training and technical assistance, providing consultation and resources on a broad array of teen pregnancy prevention strategies, and developing materials to support grant activities. Funds shall also be reserved to evaluate PREP programs and activities.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

PREP shall provide services to adolescents and young adults. Applicants are encouraged to serve youth populations that are the most high-risk or vulnerable for pregnancies or otherwise have special circumstances, including youth in and aging of out foster care, homeless youth, youth with HIV/AIDS, pregnant youth who are under 21 years of age, mothers who are under 21 years of age, and youth residing in areas with high birth rates for youth. Applicants must include the most recent pregnancy data for the State for youth ages 10 to 14 and youth ages 15-19, and the most recent birth rates among the same age groups, and trends in those rates for the most recently preceding 5-year period for which data are available.

Credentials/Documentation:

A signed letter from the authorized representative must accompany each application; it should include documentation establishing the authorized representatives authority to apply for and administer the PREP grant program funds on behalf of the State or Territory.

For other funding available under this CFDA number, non-profit organizations applying for funding are required to submit proof of their non-profit status. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

OMB Circular No. A-102 applies to this program. OMB Circular No. A-110 applies to this program. The PREP program includes formula and competitive grant awards to a range of entities. The OMB circulars that are relevant vary according to the funding opportunity and the kind of organization that will be implementing the grant award.

Award Procedure:

For FY 2010 and FY 2011 funds allotted to States and Territories (States), the Administration for Children and Families (ACF) advised States and Territories of the funding opportunity through a Federal Register notice and/or by a Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA). Applications were rated Approved, Approved with Conditions, or Approval Pending by Program administrators. Applicants that received an Approved rating received grant awards and did not need to send further information. States that submitted applications that were Approved with Conditions" received grant awards with descriptions of weaknesses and subsequent conditions that were to be met in order to receive Approved status. The States were given a set period to send to a response to ACF that addressed the identified weaknesses. States that submitted applications that were rated Approval Pending received a list of weaknesses cited by the reviewer and directions for submitting an amended application that addressed the weaknesses. States and Territories that were awarded FY 2010 and/or FY 2011 funds were to submit a letter of intent in order to receive awards in FY 2012, FY 2013 and FY 2014. There are 48 State PREP grantees.

A FOA was published to award funds to community based organizations in the States and Territories that did not receive FY 2010 and FY 2011 PREP funding. Applications were reviewed by an Objective Review Committee which applied the criteria given in the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) in order to derive priority scores. The review panels consisted of expert peer reviewers who reviewed each application that met the responsiveness and screening criteria. Federal staff provided oversight to the review process. Thirty-seven applicants were awarded Competitive PREP funding in FY2012 for a three year project period.

For funds reserved for PREIS grants, applications were reviewed on a nationwide basis and in competition with other submitted applications. Eligible applications were reviewed by an Objective Review Committee which applied the criteria given in the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) in order to derive priority scores. The applications were reviewed by expert peer reviewers who reviewed each application that met the responsiveness and screening criteria. Federal staff provided administrative oversight to the grant review process. The review results formed the basis for development of the programmatic terms and conditions of the cooperative agreement. Funding decision recommendations were provided to the Director of the Office of Adolescent Health and the Commissioner for the Administration on Children, Youth and Families (ACYF) in order by score and rank determined by the review panel. Final award decisions were made collaboratively by the Director of OAH and the Commissioner of ACYF. In making the award decision, the Director and the Commissioner took into account the score and rank order given by the Objective Review Committee, and other considerations given in the FOA. Thirteen applicants were awarded cooperative agreements in FY2010 and one grantee relinquished funding in FY2012. There are 12 funded PREIS projects.

Funds reserved for grants to Indian tribes and tribal organizations were made available in a manner determined by the Secretary, in consultation with Indian tribes and tribal organizations, to be appropriate. In FY 2011, a funding opportunity announcement was issued for the award of the grants. Sixteen applicants were awarded Tribal PREP funding through the discretionary grant review process.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title V, Public Law 113-93.

This program has no matching requirements. Cost sharing or matching of non-Federal funds is not required. However, funded programs should build on but not duplicate or replace current Federal programs as well as state, local or community programs, and programs should coordinate with existing programs and resources in the community.

This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details. This program has an MOE (Maintenance of Effort) requirement for states and local entities to require that expenditure of non-federal funds for activities, programs or initiatives allowed in this program be no less than such expenditures in FY 09. The intent is to supplement and not supplant the funds expended in FY 09 or the year prior to new awards.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Funds allotted to States and Territories for a fiscal year shall remain available for expenditure by the State through the end of the second succeeding fiscal year. If a State or territory did not submit an application for FY2010 or FY2011, they are no longer be eligible to submit an application to receive funds from the amounts allotted to the State for each of fiscal years 2010 through 2014. State PREP grantees awarded in FY2010 and FY2011 will submit a letter of intent to receive FY2015 funding.

State PREP allocated funded that was not requested by States is used to award three year discretionary grants to local organizations and entities for the same purpose and in the same geographic regions in FY2012. The Competitive PREP grant funding is available over a 36 month project period from FY2012 through FY2014. Annual funding for this program is to be expended within 12 months of award. A funding opportunity announcement will be drafted and published to award FY2015 appropriated Competitive PREP funding.

The PREIS grantees were awarded funding through cooperative agreements over a five year project period. The annual funding is to be expended at the end of each 12 month budget period. Funding available through the FY2015 extension of the program will be awarded through supplements to current PREIS grantees, with a one year project period.

Tribal PREP grants are discretionary awards with a four year project period. Annual awards are to be expended at the end of each 12 month budget period. Funding available through the FY2015 extension of the program will be awarded through supplements to current Tribal PREP grantees, with a one year project period.

Additional information about the availability of funding is provided in the funding opportunity announcements. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Periodic draw downs are based upon need and project progress.

Reports:

Each award recipient will submit semi-annual performance progress, fiscal and performance measure data reports. Grantees must submit all required reports in a timely manner and in the recommended format provided. The grantees shall submit an annual Financial Status Report (FSR). An FSR is due no later than 90 days after the end of the applicable 12 month period and failure to submit these in a timely manner could affect future funding. The report is an accounting of expenditures for each budget year of the project. There is a requirement for performance measurement data collection and performance progress reporting (e.g., monitoring requirements) for the State PREP, PREIS, Tribal PREP and Competitive PREP grantees. Tribal consults were conducted prior to the finalization of the Tribal PREP funding opportunity announcement, to include discussion on the reporting requirements. The recipient shall submit an annual Financial Status Report (SF-425) due no later than 90 days after the end of the applicable 12 month period. The report is an accounting of expenditures for each year of the project. More specific information on this reporting requirement was included in the Notice of Grant Award. No performance monitoring is required.

RELATED PROGRAMS:

93.060 Competitive Abstinence Education (CAE); 93.235 Abstinence Education Program

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

Not Applicable.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Funded State programs must replicate evidence-based, effective programs or strategies that substantially incorporate elements of effective programs that have been proven on the basis of rigorous scientific research to change behavior, which means delaying sexual activity, increasing condom or contraceptive use for sexually active youth, or reducing pregnancy among youth. The programs must include activities to educate youth who are sexually active regarding responsible sexual behavior with respect to both abstinence and the use of contraception. Such activities should teach adulthood preparation subjects including healthy relationships, adolescent development, financial literacy, parent-child communication, educational and career success, and healthy life skills. The programs must: be medically-accurate and complete; include activities to educate youth who are sexually active regarding responsible sexual behavior with respect to both abstinence and the use of contraception; place substantial emphasis on both abstinence and contraception for the prevention of pregnancy among youth and sexually transmitted infections; and must provide age-appropriate information and activities. The information and activities carried out under the program must be provided in the cultural context that is most appropriate for individuals in the particular population group to which they are directed.

REQUIREMENTS OF INNOVATIVE STRATEGIES PROJECTS: Proposals were funded based on how effectively they can develop, replicate, refine, and test innovative strategies for preventing teenage pregnancy. Programs must be medically accurate, age appropriate, and target services to identified vulnerable and at-risk populations. Funded projects are expected to generate lessons learned so others can benefit from these strategies and innovative approaches and increase the capacity of communities to develop, implement, and evaluate interventions for dissemination and replication by others. Funded projects must show that the proposed intervention is: (a) based on some preliminary evidence of effectiveness; (b) a significant adaptation of an evidence-based program; or (c) is a new and innovative approach to teenage pregnancy prevention with a sound basis in research.

REQUIREMENTS OF TRIBAL PROJECTS: Criteria for Tribal projects were developed by the Secretary, in consultation with Indian Tribes and Tribal Organizations that were deemed appropriate. Tribal PREP funding is directed toward the development of culturally appropriate comprehensive teen pregnancy prevention programs that incorporate medically accurate approaches replicating effective programs or elements of programs that have been demonstrated to change behavior. Tribal PREP focuses on the same fundamental requirements as the State PREP projects-the education of youth on both abstinence and contraception and on other adulthood preparation subjects with the goal of preventing teen pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections (STIs) including HIV/AIDS. Funds support PREP efforts that are dedicated to the development of comprehensive, high quality interventions and services that rely on the best available research evidence to inform and guide practice. Since there are few studies of teen pregnancy prevention programs targeting youth in Tribal communities, adaptation and innovation are important. Further, programs that currently serve Native youth have not been rigorously evaluated and may not offer strong models for replication. Tribes and tribal organizations are encouraged, therefore, to adapt evidence-based (EB) models (or elements of EB models) that address the unique cultural needs of their communities. Adaptation must retain core elements of proven effective programs.

REQUIREMENTS OF COMPETITIVE PREP PROJECTS: Competitive PREP funds support projects that educate youth between the ages of 10 and 19, and pregnant and parenting youth, under age 21, on abstinence and contraception for teen prevention of pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections (STIs), including HIV/AIDS. Applicants must also provide programming on at least three of six adulthood preparation subjects that are discussed in the published funding opportunity announcement. Further PREP funding is directed toward the development of comprehensive, teen pregnancy prevention programs that incorporate medically accurate approaches, while replicating evidence-based programs or elements of programs that have been demonstrated to change behavior. FYSB Competitive PREP funding supports efforts that are dedicated to the development of comprehensive, culturally appropriate interventions and services that rely on the best available research to inform and guide practice.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The HPOG program uses the project period system of funding. Projects are programmatically approved for support in their entirety, but are funded in annual increments called budget periods. Through a competitive process HPOG projects were approved for five year project periods. Each new budget period begins September 30. In general, funding for each budget period must be obligated within the budget period. Recipients are required to submit a non-competing continuation application and semi-annual performance progress reports as a prerequisite to approval and funding of each subsequent budget period within the approved project period. Funding for each budget period is contingent on satisfactory progress, the availability of funds, and the continued best interests of the Federal government. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Funds are drawn down by grantees on a periodic basis, typically each month.

Reports:

Grantees must submit semi-annual performance progress reports. Each semi-annual progress report is due no later than 30 days after the end of the reporting period. Grantees must submit an annual Financial Status Report (FSR). An FSR is due no later than 90 days after the end of the applicable 12 month period and failure to submit these timely could affect future funding. The SF 425 FFR will be used to report Financial Status and Cash Transactions. The report is an accounting of expenditures under the project that year. Grantees must submit semi-annual performance progress reports. Each semi-annual progress report is due no later than 30 days after the end of the reporting period. The grantees shall submit an annual Financial Status Report (FSR). An FSR is due no later than 90 days after the end of the applicable 12 month period and failure to submit these timely could affect future funding. 93.099 COLLABORATION WITH THE WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION AND ITS REGIONAL OFFICES FOR GLOBAL HEALTH SECURITY AND THE INTERNATIONAL HEALTH REGULATIONS (IHR 2005)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, Section 307 as amended [42 U.S.C. 241 and 2421].

OBJECTIVES:

On September 19, 2011, the Government of the United States of America and the World Health Organization (WHO) signed a memorandum of understanding (MOU) to help WHO Member States strengthen their capabilities to support the International Health Regulations (IHR), an international agreement that requires Member States to prevent and respond to acute public health risks that have the potential to cross borders. The MOU includes specific statements that authorize WHO and its regional offices to pursue activities that improve the ability of all nations to detect, report, and respond to infectious diseases quickly and accurately. The purpose is to assist WHO in implementing the MOU regarding the International Health Regulations, including the development and implementation of coordinated plans and networks that enable national governments and regional authorities globally to better address infectious diseases, particularly emerging infections. Specific activities will focus on improving infectious disease surveillance and response; enhancing knowledge generation, innovation, and tools for improved management that build public health infrastructure and strengthen regional health leadership and collaboration; sharing knowledge, tools and other resources in support of applied epidemiology; and developing improved infectious disease surveillance, prevention and control strategies.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Support implementation of the IHR by analyzing regional, national, and local resources devoted to infectious diseases and identifying areas for implementation of infectious disease activities consistent with the purpose of this cooperative agreement. Develop, implement, and conduct projects to enhance infectious disease surveillance, response, prevention, and control. Strengthen regional and national public health networks and inter-sectorial co-operation and collaborate with other health organizations, academic institutions, and community groups as appropriate to accomplish program activities. Strengthen regional and national public health leadership and collaboration. Monitor and evaluate overall program performance and the progress of individual projects or activities. Publish and disseminate findings, program evaluations, and lessons learned. Recipients may not use funds for research.

Recipients may not use funds for clinical care.

Recipients may only expend funds for reasonable program purposes, including personnel, travel, supplies, and services, such as contractual.

Awardees may not generally use HHS/CDC/ATSDR funding for the purchase of furniture or equipment. Any such proposed spending must be identified in the budget.

The direct and primary recipient in a cooperative agreement program must perform a substantial role in carrying out project objectives and not merely serve as a conduit for an award to another party or provider who is ineligible.

Reimbursement of pre-award costs is not allowed.

Applicant Eligibility:

Only the World Health Organization and its regional offices are eligible to apply. For purposes of this document, the term WHO includes its regional offices (e.g., PAHO, EMRO, AFRO, SEARO, etc). WHO is the only international and intergovernmental agency qualified to conduct activities under this cooperative agreement because:

WHO is an international public health agency that works to improve health and living standards globally. WHO is part of the United Nations system. As such, WHO has a unique position among the worlds health agencies as the lead technical agency for health globally. For additional information, please see <http://www.who.org>

WHO and its Regional Offices are at the apex of global public health organizations and thus have an exclusive status as the United States governments key partners for global public health.

On September 19, 2011, the Government of the United States of America and the World Health Organization signed a memorandum of understanding

(MOU) to help developing nations strengthen their capabilities to support the International Health Regulations (IHR). The IHR (2005) is an international agreement that requires WHO Member States to prevent and respond to acute public health risks that have the potential to cross borders and threaten people worldwide. The U.S. Government and WHO share a commitment to strengthen cooperation in the area of global health security to ensure that the international community effectively manages public health risks. Improving the ability of all nations to detect, report, and respond to infectious diseases quickly and accurately lies at the heart of the global communitys ability to address all infectious disease threats, as reflected in the IHR. The MOU establishes a framework for collaboration in line with the provisions set forth in the IHR, which provides a construct for coordinating the management of actions in the event of a public health emergency of international concern. The MOU was signed by Secretary Kathleen Sebelius, Department of Health and Human Services, and Director-General Margaret Chan, World Health Organization, and subsequently by Ambassador Betty E. King, United States Permanent Representative to the United Nations in Geneva. The full text of the MOU can be accessed at:

<http://www.globalhealth.gov/global-health-topics/health-diplomacy/agreements-and-regulations/20110922-mem.html>.

The MOU includes the following specific statements that support sole-source consideration of WHO and its regional offices (including PAHO) for funding activities that fall under the scope of the MOU: Section 8.a.: The United States Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) continues to serve as the primary substantive interface with WHO on global health and health security. DHHS plans to ensure coordination with other U.S. Government departments, agencies, and entities that collaborate on health matters within the scope of this Memorandum to enhance the effectiveness of such activities. The U.S. Government agencies intend to develop programs and provide funds through mechanisms that may be determined jointly by the U.S. Government agency and WHO. Section 8.b.: Specific funding mechanisms are intended to be developed and U.S. Government agencies intend to collaborate with WHO to define specific work to be undertaken by the Participants and the division of responsibilities..

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The World Health Organization and its regional offices work will benefit individuals worldwide, including in the U.S., through collaboration with National Ministries of Health and other organizations/institutions.

The purpose is to support WHO to reduce the global disease burden through improved international capacity to detect and respond to emerging infectious diseases and other threats.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Health Resources and Services Administration, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title V, Section 502(a)(1) and (b)(1), as amended; 42 U.S.C. 702.; Section 399BB of the Public Health Service Act; Section 1109, 1111 and 1112 of the Public Health Service Act and Section 399T of the Public Health Service Act.

OBJECTIVES:

To carry out special maternal and child health (MCH) projects of regional and national significance; to conduct training and research; to conduct genetic disease testing, counseling, and information development and dissemination programs; for grants relating to hemophilia without regard to age; and for the screening of newborns for sickle cell anemia, and other genetic disorders. and to support comprehensive hemophilia diagnostic and treatment centers. These grants are funded with a set-aside from the MCH Block grant program. SPRANS grants are funded with 15 percent of the Block Grant appropriation of up to $600 million. When the appropriation exceeds $600 million, 12.75 percent of the amount over $600 million is set aside for the Community Integrated Service Systems grants. 15 percent of the balance remaining over $600 million is also for SPRANS. The CISS program is to develop and expand the following: (1) Home visitation; (2) increased participation of obstetricians and pediatricians; (3) integrated service delivery systems; (4) maternal and child health centers for women and infants, under the direction of a not-for-profit hospital; (5) services for rural populations; and (6) integrated state and community service systems for children and youth with special health care needs. In FY 2008 Congress first funded the Combating Autism Act program, which is for early detection, education and intervention activities on autism and other developmental disorders.

First funded in 2004, the Heritable Disorders Program is established to improve the ability of States to provide newborn and child screening for heritable disorders and affect the lives of all of the nations infants and children.

Newborn and child screening occur at intervals across the life span of every child. Newborn screening universally provides early identification and follow-up for treatment of infants affected by certain genetic, metabolic, hormonal and/or functional conditions. It is expected that newborn and child screening will expand as the capacity to screen for genetic and congenital conditions expands.

First funded in 2009, the Congenital Conditions program is established to provide information and support services to women and their families that have received a diagnosis for Down Syndrome, Spina Bifida, Dwarfism and other prenatally or postnatally diagnosed conditions.

93.113 ENVIRONMENTAL HEALTH

National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences

FEDERAL AGENCY:

National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, Sections 301, 401, 437, 463 and 487, Public Laws 78-410 and 99-158, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 241, and 42 U.S.C. 288, as amended, SBIR and STTR Reauthorization Act of 2011, Public Law 113-6.

OBJECTIVES:

To foster understanding of human health effects of exposure to environmental agents in the hope that these studies will lead to: the identification of agents that pose a hazard and threat of disease, disorders and defects in humans; the development of effective public health or disease prevention strategies; the overall improvement of human health effects due to environmental agents; the development of products and technologies designed to better study or ameliorate the effects of environmental agents; and the successful training of research scientists in all areas of environmental health research. Supported grant programs focus on the following areas: (1) Understanding biological responses to environmental agents by determining how chemical and physical agents cause pathological changes in molecules, cells, tissues, and organs, and become manifested as respiratory disease, neurological, behavioral and developmental abnormalities, cancer, and other disorders; (2) Determining the mechanisms of toxicity of ubiquitous agents like metals, natural and synthetic chemicals, pesticides, and materials such as nanoparticles, and natural toxic substances, and their effects of on various human organ systems, on metabolism, on the endocrine and immune systems, and on other biological functions; (3) Developing and integrating scientific knowledge about potentially toxic and hazardous chemicals by concentrating on toxicological research, testing, test development, validation and risk estimation; (4) Identifying interactions between environmental stressors and genetic susceptibility and understanding biologic mechanisms underlying these interactions, including the study of environmental influences on epigenomics and transcriptional regulation; (5) Conducting environmental public health research, including in areas of environmental justice and health disparities, that requires communities as active participants in all stages of research, dissemination, and evaluation to advance both the science and the development of practical materials for use in communities, with a focus on translating research findings into tools, materials, and resources that can be used to prevent, reduce, or eliminate adverse health outcomes caused by environmental exposures; (6) Expanding and improving the SBIR program; to increase private sector commercialization of innovations derived from Federal research and development; to increase small business participation in Federal research and development; and to foster and encourage participation of socially and economically disadvantaged small business concerns and women-owned small business concerns in technological innovation; (7) Expanding and improving the STTR program to stimulate and foster scientific and technological innovation through cooperative research and development carried out between small business concerns and research institutions; to foster technology transfer between small business concerns and research institutions; to increase private sector commercialization of innovations derived from Federal research and development; and to foster and encourage participation of socially and economically disadvantaged small business concerns and women-owned small business concerns in technological innovation; (8) Providing support for broadly based multi-disciplinary research and training programs in environmental health. These programs include the Environmental Health Sciences Core Centers, which serve as national focal points and resources for research and manpower development. The Centers for Neurodegenerative Science addresses the need for integrated research efforts involving basic and clinical scientists in a quest to discover the causes of and possible treatments for neurodegenerative diseases. The Breast Cancer and the Environment Research Program (co-funded with NCI) studies the impact of prenatal-to-adult environmental exposures that may predispose a woman to breast cancer. A special emphasis is on the impact of environmental factors on a girls pubertal development, a known risk factor for breast cancer. Through these programs, NIEHS expects to achieve the long range goal of developing new clinical and public health applications to improve disease prevention, diagnosis, and therapy. Additional Centers programs developed in recent years, include the Centers for Oceans and Human Health (co-funded with NSF), Children's Environmental Health Centers (co-funded with US EPA) and the Autism Centers of Excellence (co-funded with other NIH Institutes) and the ; (9) Supporting research training programs which serve to increase the pool of trained research manpower with needed expertise in the Environmental Health Sciences through support of Individual and Institutional National Research Service Awards (NRSAs); (10) The Outstanding New Environmental Scientist Program which provides first time research grant funding to outstanding junior scientists in the formative stages of their career who are proposing to make a long term commitment to environmental health sciences research and to address the adverse effects on environmental exposures on human biology, human pathophysiology and human disease.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Research Grants and Cooperative Agreements are intended to support the direct costs of a project, in accordance with an approved budget, plus an appropriate amount for indirect costs. SBIR Phase I grants (of approximately 6-months' duration) are to establish the technical merit and feasibility of a proposed research effort that may lead to a commercial product or process. Phase II grants are for the continuation of the research initiated in Phase I and that are likely to result in commercial products or processes. Only Phase I awardees are eligible to receive Phase II support. STTR Phase I grants (normally of 1-year duration) are to determine the scientific, technical, and commercial merit and feasibility of the proposed cooperative effort that has potential for commercial application. Phase II funding is based on results of research initiated in Phase I, scientific and technical merit, and commercial potential of the Phase II application. A number of Career Development awards are supported. The Independent Scientist Award provides up to five years of salary support for newly independent scientists who have recently obtained independent research funding, generally an R01 research grant from NIEHS. The award is intended to allow the candidate protected time to focus on the further development of the independent research career and does not include additional research support. The Mentored Clinical Research Career Development Award provides three to five years of salary support for investigators with clinical degrees (e.g., M.D., D.V.M.). The Transition to Independent Environmental Health Research (TIEHR) Career Development Award provides three years of support for candidates who are within three years of their first independent faculty appointment and who have not yet obtained significant research grant funding (an R01 or equivalent). The award includes salary support and pilot funding. The Mentored Patient-Oriented Research Career Development Award provides up to five years of support for clinically trained investigators who make a commitment to focus on patient-oriented research. The MidCareer Investigator Award in Patient-Oriented Research provides up to five years of support to outstanding clinical scientists who are actively engaged in patient-oriented research and who are within 15 years of their specialty training. The Mentored Quantitative Research Development Award provides up to five years of support for junior faculty with quantitative scientific and engineering backgrounds outside of biology or medicine that are transitioning to behavioral or biomedical research. The NIH Pathway to Independence Award is divided into two phases. The initial award (K99) provides up to two years of mentored, postdoctoral support. The second phase (R00) provides up to three years of independent research support, when the awardee accepts a full-time tenure track, or equivalent, faculty position. All of these Career Development awards provide salary consistent with the level of effort devoted to the research career development activities, plus fringe benefits, an allowance for career development activities and 8 percent fiscal and administrative costs. All Career Development Awards, with the exception of the NIH Pathway to Independence Award, have a US citizenship requirement. Details of specific restrictions for the Career Development Awards can be found at <http://www.niehs.nih.gov/careers/research/trainingfrom/career/index.cfm>. NIEHS Core Center grants (P30) are primarily intended to provide infrastructure support and the support of core research facilities. In addition, an appropriate facilities and administrative cost is provided as determined by negotiated agreement with the grantee's cognizant government organization. National Research Service Awards (NRSAs): Individual predoctoral and postdoctoral training awards are made for the support of fellows who engage in research training in environmental toxicology, environmental pathology, environmental mutagenesis, or environmental epidemiology/biostatistics. In addition to individual training awards, institutional training grants (T32) are made to institutions to enable institutions to make awards to individuals selected by them, for both predoctoral and postdoctoral research training in the aforementioned areas. Each individual who receives a postdoctoral NRSA, either through an institutional or individual training award mechanism, is obligated upon termination of the award to comply with certain service and payback provisions.

Applicant Eligibility:

Research Grants, Cooperative Agreements, Science Education Grants, SBIR Grants, Independent Scientist Awards, Mentored Research Scientist Development Award, Mentored Clinical Scientist Development Award, and the Academic Career Awards: A university, college, hospital, State, local or tribal governments, nonprofit research institution, or for-profit organization may submit an application and receive a grant for support of research by a named principal investigator. Candidates for Academic Career Awards and Midcareer Investigator Awards in Patient Oriented Research must have a doctoral degree and peer-reviewed, independent, research support at the time the award is made. Candidates for Mentored Clinical Scientist Development Awards and Mentored Patient Oriented Research Career Development Awards must have a clinical degree or its equivalent and must have initiated post graduate clinical training. Candidates holding a Ph.D. degree are ineligible. Candidates who have served as principal investigators on PHS-supported research projects are ineligible. A candidate for Academic Career Awards must have a clinical or research doctorate degree. Those eligible for the Development Award must be able to devote at least 75 percent effort. SBIR grants can be awarded only to domestic small businesses (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed, and have no more than 500 employees). Primary employment (more than one-half time) of the principal investigator must be with the small business at the time of award and during the conduct of the proposed project. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. STTR grants can be awarded only to domestic small business concerns (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed and have no more than 500 employees) which "partner" with a research institution in cooperative research and development. At least 40 percent of the project is to be performed by the small business concern and at least 30 percent by the research institution. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application must be approved for scientific merit and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council. Centers: A university-based, nonprofit research institution, or for-profit organization proposing an integrated research program established to accomplish a stated mission, covering activities ranging from very basic research to the actual application of research results in the prevention and control of environmental health problems, may submit an application under the direction of a named Center Director. 93.121 ORAL DISEASES AND DISORDERS RESEARCH

Dental and Craniofacial Research.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, Title IV, Section 301.

OBJECTIVES:

To improve oral, dental and craniofacial health through research, research training, and the dissemination of health information. The research portfolio supports basic, clinical and translational research from basic biology to patient-oriented and community-based clinical investigations. The Developmental Biology and Genetics Program supports research on etiology, pathogenesis, epidemiology, prevention, diagnosis, and treatment of inherited craniofacial-oral-dental diseases and disorders (e.g., ectodermal dysplasia, cleft lip and palate, amelogenesis imperfecta, dentinogenesis imperfecta, osteogenesis imperfecta, and other inherited diseases that have craniofacial-oral-dental manifestations) as well as on normal craniofacial-oral-dental development, and genome-wide association studies. 2. The Translational Genetics and Genomics program supports genetic/genomic research using epidemiologic and family-based methods, gene discovery using high throughput technologies, and gene-environment interactions. 3. The Microbiology Program supports basic and translational research on the role of oral microbes in health and disease including the etiology, pathogenesis, diagnosis, treatment, and prevention of oral infectious diseases. Areas of interest include biofilms and microbial ecology, microbial genomics and metagenomics, microbial virulence and disease pathogenesis, prevention and treatment. 4. The AIDS and Immunosuppression Program supports basic, translational and clinical research on HIV infection and AIDS to advance understanding of the underlying molecular, cellular, and genetic mechanisms that enable or prevent HIV infection and development of oral complications associated with AIDS and AIDS malignancies. 5. The Immunology and Immunotherapy Program supports basic and translational research on the immune aspects of oral diseases such as caries and periodontal diseases, including host responses to microbes, immunology of biofilms, oral inflammation, systemic diseases, immunotherapy, immunopathologies, and host susceptibility to infection. 6. The Epithelial Cell Regulation and Transformation Program supports basic and translational research on the molecular mechanisms of oral epithelial cell regulation as they relate to the development and progression of diseases of the oral mucosa, including head and neck cancer. The program also supports and encourages the application of genomic, proteomic, and imaging technologies through research on the early diagnosis, prevention, and treatment of head and neck cancers. 7. The Mineralized Tissue and Salivary Gland Physiology Program supports basic and translational research on craniofacial skeletal biology and pathobiology including the physiology of tooth, bone and cartilage, and associated disorders and diseases, saliva and salivary glands, and pharmacogenetics. The goal of the program is to promote interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches to advance the understanding of normal and abnormal processes underlying oral, dental and craniofacial diseases and disorders. 8. The Molecular and Cellular Neuroscience Program supports basic and translational research on orofacial pain and neuropathies, temporomandibular joint and muscle disorders, development of biomarkers for diagnostics and prognostics and development of therapeutics. 9. The Tissue Engineering and Dental and Craniofacial Regenerative Medicine Program supports basic and translational research on the reconstruction, remodeling and repair of the oral and craniofacial tissues damaged as a result of disease or injury. The goal is to promote interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches to engineering of biocompatible oral and craniofacial tissue constructs and their functional integration into the host tissue microenvironment. The program also supports efforts that employ bioengineering approaches for restoration, remodeling and regeneration of diseased and injured native host tissues. 10. The Dental and Biomaterials Program supports basic and translational extramural research on dental materials and devices, dental implants, biocompatibility of dental restorative materials, and biomaterials for craniofacial reconstruction. 11. The Behavioral and Social Sciences Research Program supports basic and applied research to promote oral health, to prevent oral diseases and related disabilities, and to improve management of craniofacial conditions, disorders and injury. 12. The Center for Clinical Research supports clinical trials, dental practice based research networks, epidemiology research, and health disparities research. The Research Training and Career Development Program insures the future of dental and craniofacial research by developing an outstanding and diverse scientific work force through training and fellowship programs designed primarily for graduate, and post-doctoral stages of education, including dual degree (DDS, PhD) programs, as well as for continued career development of scientists and retraining of mid-career scientists. Diversity fellowships serve to expand the diversity of the scientific work force by supporting the training of predoctoral students from underrepresented groups. The Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) program seeks to increase private sector commercialization of innovations derived from Federal research and development; to increase small business participation in Federal research and development; and to foster and encourage participation of socially and economically disadvantaged small business concerns and women-owned small business concerns in technological innovation. The Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) program seeks to stimulate and foster scientific and technological innovation and foster technology transfer through cooperative research and development carried out between small business concerns and research institutions; to increase private sector commercialization of innovations derived from Federal research and development; and to foster and encourage participation of socially and economically disadvantaged small business concerns and women-owned small business concerns in technological innovation.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements; Project Grants; Project Grants (Contracts); Project Grants (Fellowships); Project Grants (Special)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Research Grants: Research Grants and cooperative agreements provide funds for salaries, equipment, supplies, travel, and other expenses associated with scientific investigation in the oral and craniofacial health sciences. They are awarded to universities, colleges, medical and dental schools, hospitals, and other nonprofit and for-profit institutions. Awards include investigator-initiated project grants, exploratory and developmental grants, small grants, center grants, conference grants, and career development awards. Individual and institutional dual degree (DDS or DMD/PhD) awards provide support for research career development in both clinical and basic science. National Research Service Awards (NRSAs) provide support for research training in specified biomedical areas, and can be made to institutions to enable them to accept individuals for research training. Individuals who receive NRSAs may be obligated upon termination of the award to comply with service and payback provisions. SBIR Phase I grants (duration of approximately 6 months) provide support to establish the technical merit and feasibility of a proposed research effort that may lead to a commercial product or process. Phase II grants support the continuation of the research initiated in Phase I to further develop the commercial products or process initiated in Phase I. Only Phase I awardees are eligible to receive Phase II support. STTR Phase I grants (duration of typically 1 year) support cooperative efforts between small businesses and research institutes to determine the scientific and technical merit, and commercial feasibility of a product or process with potential for commercial application. Phase II funding is based on the results of the research initiated in Phase I and the scientific and technical merit, and commercial potential of the Phase II application.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2013: The Regents of the University of Michigan in collaboration with the American Society of Transplant Surgeons continue to operate the Program through the National Living Donor Assistance Center (NLDAC). Through the end of May 2014, the NLDAC has received 4,137 applications for reimbursement and has facilitated 2,334 living donor transplants. The median household income for recipients whose transplant was facilitated by NLDAC is $26,089. The average reimbursement to donors and companions is $2,247. The NLDAC, since its inception, has paid out $7.83 million to applicants including actual donors.

Clinical Interventions to Increase Organ Procurement Grant Program: The Regents of the University of California, San Francisco were awarded grant funds to investigate the effect of therapeutic hypothermia on deceased donor renal graft outcomes. The goals of the study are to show that (1) therapeutic hypothermia (34 degrees Centigrade) as an active medical intervention initiated prior to organ recovery and (2) compliance with Donor Management Goals, can improve the function and survival of donor kidneys for transplantation procured from deceased organ donors. The grantee reported on May 7, 2014 that the research project is ahead of target for goals and objectives for Year 2.

Grant R38OT26376: Remote Ischemic Preconditioning in Deceased Organ Donors

Rutgers, the State University of New Jersey (previously UMDNJ-New Jersey Medical School (UMDNJ-NJMS) was awarded grant funds to investigate the impact of remote ischemic preconditioning (RIPC) on deceased donor organs. The goals of the study are to show that (1) RIPC in limb skeletal muscles of deceased organ donors induced soon after neurological determination of death (NDD) can increase the number of organs recovered and transplanted from each donor (by production of anti-inflammatory and anti-oxidant factors), (2) RIPC improves circulatory stability, organ function, and perfusion parameters in machine preserved kidneys, and (3) RIPC can improve early clinical outcomes in transplant recipients of organs from NDD donors. The grantee reported on October 3, 2013 that the research project is ahead of target for goals and objectives for Year 2.

Donation and Transplantation Community of Practice (DTCP) Initiatives to Increase Organ Donation: The Organ Donation and Transplantation Alliance (the Alliance) facilitated action in the community to increase and improve organ donation and transplantation. This was achieved through focused learning provided via webcasts on pediatric organ donation, performance improvement, multicultural issues, donor management, and leadership. The DTCP also conducted three task forces to address issues in donor management, quality improvement, and transplant center engagement and facilitated a consensus building process to address issues in donor intervention research. The DTCP strategic planning process was strengthened by engaging key organizations with a goal of establishing these efforts within the community for continued effort after the completion of the cooperative agreement. Due in part to these efforts the Collaborative conversion rate at the end of the fiscal year was 76.5%, continuing to show incremental improvement and remaining above the targeted level of 75%. The proportion of Donation after Circulatory Death donors at the end of the fiscal year was 14.6%, continuing to show incremental improvement and remaining above the targeted level of 10%.

Social and Behavioral Interventions to Increase Organ Donation Grant Program: Since launching this program in FY 1999, HRSA/DoT has supported 96 research projects totaling $77 million to test strategies for increasing organ and tissue donation or to replicate successful donation interventions. A broad spectrum of interventions to increase donation have been implemented at the national, State, and local levels by a variety of public and private organizations, ranging from large-scale national media and public education programs and statewide donor registries to community-based activities to raise awareness among various population groups. These projects have contributed to the knowledge base about important factors associated with the donation decision-making process and methods for motivating people to make the commitment to become organ donors.

Public Education Efforts to Increase Organ Donation: Since FY 2007, 21 projects totaling $12 million have been supported under this grant program. Grantees have implemented projects to increase organ donation registration and knowledge about living donation. These projects also have contributed to the knowledge base about important factors associated with the donation decision-making process and methods for motivating people to make the commitment to become organ donors. Fiscal Year 2014: No Current Data Available. Fiscal Year 2015: State Donor Registry Enhancement Program: FY 2015 will be first year of funding.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

Fiscal Year 2013: Reimbursement of Travel and Subsistence Expenses toward Living Organ Donation Program (FY 2010 through FY 2013): HRSA awards a cooperative agreement to the Regents of the University of Michigan to continue the operations of the National Living Donor Assistance Center to provide reimbursement of travel and subsistence expenses to living organ donors who meet the program eligibility guidelines. Transplant centers screen prospective donors for program eligibility requirements and submit applications and supporting documents to the program on behalf of their prospective donors.

Donation and Transplantation Community of Practice Initiatives to Increase Organ Donation FY2011 through FY 2013): This program engages one recipient, the Organ Donation and Transplantation Alliance, in the strategic development and implementation of a comprehensive group of programs and professional experiences to increase organ donation and transplantation in the United States. In the first six months of the project, the Alliance conducted meetings and webinars to improve organ donor management; quality improvement; action team processes; transplant program effectiveness; and support and advocacy for donors, donor families, and staff involved in these cases, Clinical Interventions to Increase Organ Procurement Grant Program: HRSA funded two 3-year projects in FY 2011 to support the implementation of highly promising research into improvements in clinical management of deceased organ donors.

Social and Behavioral Interventions to Increase Solid Organ Donation grants: In FY 2013 four Social and Behavioral Interventions to Increase Solid Organ Donation grants were awarded. Two of the grants support organ procurement organization staff by testing new training on communication strategies to improve consent rates. One grant project seeks to educate hospital staff on the donation process to create an environment more positively disposed to donation and thus increase consent rates. The fourth grant builds upon previous grants educating dialysis patients about transplantation, including living donor transplants.

Public Education Efforts to Increase Solid Organ Donation program: In FY 2013 no grants were funded under the Public Education Efforts to Increase Solid Organ Donation program. Fiscal Year 2014: No Current Data Available Fiscal Year 2015: State Donor Registry Enhancement Program: FY 2015 will be first year of funding.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

Fiscal Year 2013: In Fiscal Year 2013, NIEHS Superfund Research Program renewed three multi-project center grants (<http://tools.niehs.nih.gov/srp/programs/index267.cfm>). One grant provides $ 13 million over a period of five years to identify the major sources of arsenic and mercury exposure and to use this information to reduce exposures to these metals. For example, the researchers will be working to identify which types of rice are less likely to accumulate arsenic and to understand how mercury moves through the environment and accumulates in fish. The grant will also focus on how maternal exposures to mercury and arsenic can lead to adverse health effects such as metabolic syndrome in the newborn. Additionally, the researchers will be working toward understanding how and how much exposure to arsenic leads to cardiovascular, lung and heart disease and cancer. They will also be studying the exacerbated health consequences of being exposed to arsenic during a bacterial infection.

Another previously funded multi-project grant was awarded $ 12 million to focus on how some nutrition components, such as antioxidants, can counteract the negative health effects in people related to exposure to harmful chlorinated organics, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs). A focus of the grant is to gain a better understanding of how these antioxidants can decrease the PCB-induced inflammatory effects in blood vessels (or atherosclerosis). The link between PCB exposures and the development of obesity and cardiovascular disease will also be explored. Additionally, the investigators will be working towards reducing exposures to these chlorinated organics by developing technologies that degrade harmful PCBs in groundwater and will refine the development and testing of specialized platforms capable of not only detecting and monitoring, but capturing and removing the hazardous substance from contaminated sites.

In the third grant renewal, $ 13 million to investigate the relationship of preterm birth and exposure to the hazardous substances, phthalates (found in plastics), and chlorinated solvents such as trichloroethylene, a degreaser used in industry. To more fully understand this relationship, the biological mechanisms that in occur in response to exposure of these hazardous substances will be examined and characterized using epidemiological and cell-based approaches. Using these approaches, the researchers will also seek to identify which hazardous substance(s) are responsible for the onset of premature birth. The researchers will also work toward reducing these exposures by investigating and developing models to demonstrate how these hazardous substances might move through the environment from Superfund sites, into aquifers to contaminate the water supply. The investigators are also working toward creating safe and sustainable technologies that can be used in a cost-effective manner to reduce exposure to phthalates and TCE.

Also in Fiscal Year 2013, the NIEHS Superfund Research Program funded two new Small Business Innovative Research grants (<http://tools.niehs.nih.gov/srp/programs/index269.cfm>) for a total of $ 300,000. The grants will focus on improving technologies to reduce the amount of hazardous wastes in the environment and developing cost-effective devices to monitor hazardous wastes in air and water. Two Small Business Innovative Research grants were extended into the second phase, where technologies to reduce hazardous substances will be further refined and tested at a hazardous waste sites. Fiscal Year 2014: No current data are available for Fiscal Year 2014. Fiscal Year 2015: No current data are available for Fiscal Year 2015.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Major factors considered in the evaluation of responsive applications include: (1) Scientific merit of each proposed project, including the novelty, originality, and feasibility of the approach and the adequacy of the experimental design; (2) technical merit and justification of each core unit; (3) competence of the investigators to accomplish the proposed research goals, their commitments, and the amount of time they will devote to the program; (4) scope of the overall effort in relation to the objective of the program to create unique interdisciplinary programs to eventually include, not only biomedical components, but also engineering, ecological and/or hydrogenological components; (5) adequacy of the facilities to perform the proposed research; (6) integration of the various projects and core units into an effective program and plans for interactions among investigators; (7) adequacy and commitment of institutional resources to administer an integrated, collaborative program; (8) appropriateness of the budget for the proposed program; (9) relevance of proposed research to problems associated with hazardous waste substances; and (10) progress of program to date for completing renewal applications.

PROGRAM ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Fiscal Year 2013: In Academic Year 2012-2013, the Geriatric Training for Physicians, Dentists and Behavioral/Mental Health Providers (GTPD) program funded 22 fellows in Geriatric Medicine; 18 fellows in Dentistry; 12 fellows in Geriatric Psychiatry; 5 fellows in Internal Medicine; 4 fellows in Family Medicine; 2 fellows in General Psychiatry; and 1 fellow in Clinical Psychology for a total of 64 fellows. The majority of fellows were either non-Hispanic White (52%) or Non-Hispanic Asian (27%) and approximately 15% of fellows reported coming from a financially and/or educationally disadvantaged background. Results showed that fellows received clinical training in over 200 different healthcare delivery sites across the country. The most common types of sites where fellows trained included Veteran's Affairs hospitals and clinics, private hospitals, and academic centers. It is estimated that nearly half of the sites (49%) where GTPD fellows received clinical training were located in a medically underserved community.

The GTPD program is multi-purposed in that the program not only supports the training of fellows in specific types of geriatric settings, but also requires that each fellow dedicate at least 25% of their time for teaching health professions students about geriatric-related topics. Results obtained from the implementation of new performance measures showed that GTPD fellows delivered over 275 courses, workshops and other training activities focused on topics including oral health, chronic disease management and geriatric medicine, among others. It is estimated that over 5,600 trainees were trained as a result of these activities the most common of which included medical school students, dental school students, residents in geriatrics and residents in geriatric psychiatry. Preapplication Coordination:

If an institution wants to request funding that exceeds $600,000, it must obtain a letter from NHGRI stating that it will accept the application. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-102. OMB Circular No. A-110 applies to this program. Application forms and information concerning the area of science being supported may be obtained via a funding opportunity announcement. The NIDCD supports: (1) Research into the evaluation of techniques and devices used in diagnosis, treatment, rehabilitation, and prevention of disorders of hearing and other communication processes; (2) research into prevention and early detection and diagnosis of hearing loss and speech, voice, and language disorders and research into preventing the effects of such disorders by means of appropriate referral and rehabilitation; (3) research into the detection, treatment, and prevention of disorders of hearing and other communication processes in the elderly population and its rehabilitation to ensure continued effective communication skills; and (4) research to expand knowledge of the effects of environmental agents that influence hearing or other communication processes. Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) program: To increase private sector commercialization of innovations derived from Federal research and development; to encourage small business participation in Federal research and development; and to foster participation of socially and economically disadvantaged small business concerns and women-owned small business concerns in technological innovation. Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) program: To stimulate and foster scientific and technological innovation through cooperative research and development carried out between small business concerns and research institutions; to foster technology transfer between small business concerns and research institutions; to increase private sector commercialization of innovations derived from Federal research and development; and to foster and encourage participation of socially and economically disadvantaged small business concerns and women-owned small business concerns in technological innovation.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Project Grants and Centers Grants may be used to provide salaries, equipment, supplies, travel, and other expenses for research. The grantee institution is obliged to expend grant funds prudently for the purposes as stated in the application and award document. Some National Research Service Awards (NRSAs) are issued on behalf of an individual for research training in specified biomedical and behavioral research areas. Other training grants are made to institutions to enable them to make NRSAs to individuals selected by them. Each postdoctoral individual who receives an NRSA may be obligated, upon termination of the award, to comply with certain service and payback provisions. Mentored and unmentored career development awards are made to enhance the independent research capability of highly promising individuals during the formative stages of their careers. Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) Program: Phase I grants, typically 6 months in duration, are to establish the technical merit and feasibility of a proposed research effort that may lead to a commercial product or process. SBIR Phase II grants are for the continuation of the research efforts initiated in Phase I and that are likely to result in commercial products or processes. STTR Phase I grant, normally of 1-year duration, are to determine the scientific, technical, and feasibility of the proposed cooperative effort. Phase II funding is based on scientific and technical merit and commercial potential of the application. Grant funds may be expended only for the purpose stated in the application and award document.

Applicant Eligibility:

Project Grants and Centers Grants: Any public, private, nonprofit, or for-profit institution is eligible to apply. For-profit institutions are not eligible for institutional National Research Service Awards. All proposals are reviewed for scientific merit, for evaluation of the qualifications of the investigators, for adequacy of the research and/or research training environment and for significance of the problem. Approved proposals compete for available funds. Awardees of almost all Research Career Development Programs must be citizens or have been admitted to the United States for permanent residence. Candidates must be nominated for the program by a nonfederal public or private nonprofit institution located in the United States, its possessions or Territories. To be eligible, postdoctoral NRSA trainees and fellows must have a professional or scientific doctoral degree (PhD, MD, DO, DC, DDS, DVM, OD, DPM, ScD, EngD, Dr PHPhD, MD, DO, DC, DDS, DVM, OD, DPM, ScD, EngD, Dr PH, DNSc, ND {Doctor of Naturopathy}, PharmD, DSW, PsyD, AUD or equivalent doctoral degree from an accredited domestic or foreign institution). SBIR grants can be awarded only to domestic small businesses (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, and have no more than 500 employees). Primary employment (more than one-half time) of the principal investigator must be with the small business at the time of award and during the conduct of the proposed project. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the United States or its possessions. To be eligible for funding, an SBIR grant application must be approved for scientific merit and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council. STTR grants can be awarded only to domestic small business concerns which "partner" with a research institution in cooperative research and development. At least 40 percent of the project is to be performed by the small business concern and at least 30 percent by the research institution. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application must be approved for scientific merit and program relevance by a scientific review group and a national advisory council.

Beneficiary Eligibility:
