Regardless of past accomplishments, one fact remains: funding and other constraints have forced NICHD to cut back on activities and postpone important new research, impeding NICHDs ability to capitalize fully and quickly on critical scientific opportunities that could improve the health of women, children, and families worldwide. Fiscal Year 2015: FY 2015: Program Directions and Changes -- Over the past two years, NICHD has begun to transform its Scientific Vision: The Next Decade into a living document and guide. However, to continue funding the investigator-initiated research that is central to its mission, NICHD will be able to expand work in only a few of the many promising areas that the document highlights. With very limited funds for new initiatives, NICHD will focus on funding a few additional grants in three areas: 1) creating new ways to study the workings arguably the most understudied human organ -- the placenta -- and its impact on fetal, maternal, and lifelong health; 2) the science needed to improve contraceptive options for both men and women; and 3) the long-term implications of assisted reproductive technologies. These topics represent significant research gaps unique to NICHDs mission and ones unlikely to be funded through other public or private research investments.

This past year, NICHD worked with two Blue Ribbon Panels. One reviewed the science and organization of NICHDs Division of Intramural Research (DIR); the other reviewed the science and organization of medical rehabilitation research across the NIH, particularly the National Center for Medical Rehabilitation Research (NCMRR) at NICHD. The final report of the DIR Blue Ribbon Panel focused on how to maintain essential intramural research in the face of significant resource cuts. The NCMRR report offered ways to reshape and reinvigorate rehabilitation research. NICHD will begin implementing the most important recommendations of each report by reorganizing its intramural programs and by strengthening collaboration in rehabilitation research across NIH.

For the past few years, NICHD has continued to make decisions that represent difficult tradeoffs. By maintaining and extending support for research training and career development grants and for the Small Business Innovation Research program, NICHD has continued to protect the next generation of researchers and the program that helps small business commercialize research innovations. To accomplish this, however, NICHD had to cut other grant mechanisms and significantly restrict the number of other new grants funded. Similarly, NICHD acted to preserve and help rebuild some of the research infrastructure lost in Hurricane Sandy, honoring all relevant requests, but at reduced levels.

Despite such tradeoffs, the nation continues to enjoy strong returns from NICHDs research investments, which ultimately improve clinical care and save lives. For example, NICHD research showed that the biology underlying early developmental growth holds promise for addressing cancer and other conditions. Researchers have long known that some of the genes that promote rapid growth in prenatal and early postnatal life are reactivated in cancer cells. NICHD researchers identified a molecular on-off switch that controls some of these genes. This finding may help scientists understand the complex genetic choreography responsible for normal growth and identify some of the earliest origins of disease to help prevent certain cancers.

Recently, NICHD-supported researchers discovered possible new biomarkers for stillbirth and preeclampsia. This precision testing represents a first step to help scientists identify earlier, and eventually prevent, these life-threatening conditions. NICHD-supported researchers also helped to develop a wireless, implanted sensor to broaden the range of precision-oriented brain research. The sensor permits more natural studies of brain activity in moving subjects, a major step toward cord-free control of advanced prosthetics, powered by human thought, which could change the lives of those with physical disabilities.

Today's far-reaching technological and computational capabilities also offer unprecedented opportunities to connect researchers with each other, industry partners, and the public. NICHD established the first national Down syndrome registry, a Web-based registry that serves as a national resource for people with Down syndrome and their families, researchers, and health care providers. Although nationally based data resources can accelerate scientific progress, they must be used with great care. Recently, NICHD announced that it will co-fund new studies to understand how genomics, newborn screening technologies, and the collection and use of related data influence parental decision-making and physician behavior.

Advances that improve clinical practice and public health rely on basic research that provides new insights into long-standing health challenges. NICHD-supported researchers discovered that cells of the placenta secrete tiny, balloon-like structures called vesicles. Absorbed by other cells, the vesicles program the recipient cells to ward off viral infections. One day, researchers hope to transfer this innate virus-fighting ability to other organs and tissues. This exciting finding also illustrates the potential of conducting research on the placenta. Data increasingly suggest that the placenta, which changes over time, has a huge impact on the lifelong health of both baby and mother. Yet the mechanisms that underlie these protective or harmful outcomes remain a mystery. The great challenge lies in finding non-invasive and safe ways to study the human placenta in real time, to give researchers and clinicians their first window into the forces that shape health over time. Being able to move forward in this and other exciting areas of developmental science, without jeopardizing the success of programs that NICHD has spent more than a half century building, is at the core of the difficult tradeoffs that we have made and continue to face. NICHD will persist in making difficult choices, focusing on areas that few others can or will pursue and that hold the most promise to improve the health of children, women, those with disabilities, families, and communities.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Research grants are intended to support the direct costs of a project in accordance with an approved budget, plus an appropriate amount for facilities and administrative costs. Grantees must agree to administer the grant in accordance with the regulations and policies governing the research grants program of the Public Health Service. National Research Service Awards (NRSA) (Individual) are made directly to approved applicants for research training in specified biomedical shortage areas. In addition, National Research Service Awards (Institutional) may be made to institutions to enable them to make NRSA to individuals selected by them. Each individual who receives a postdoctoral NRSA is obligated, upon termination of the award, to comply with certain service and payback provisions. Regulations are published in the Code of Federal Regulations and 42 CFR, Part 66. SBIR Phase I grants (of approximately 6 months' duration) are to establish the technical merit and feasibility of a proposed research effort that may lead to a commercial product or process. SBIR Phase II grants are for the continuation of the research initiated in Phase I and that are likely to result in commercial products or processes. Only Phase I awardees are eligible to apply for Phase II support. STTR Phase I grants (normally of 1- year duration) are to determine the scientific, technical, and commercial merit and feasibility of the proposed cooperative effort that has potential for commercial application. Phase II funding is based on results of research initiated in Phase I and scientific and technical merit and commercial potential on Phase II application.

Applicant Eligibility:

Grants: Universities, colleges, medical, dental and nursing schools, schools of public health, laboratories, hospitals, State and local health departments, other public or private institutions (both for-profit and nonprofit), and individuals. National Research Service Award: Individual NRSA may be made for postdoctoral training to applicants who hold a professional or scientific degree (M.D., Ph.D., D.D.S., D.O., D.V.M., Sc.D., D.Eng., or equivalent domestic or foreign degree) or for predoctoral training to applicants registered for doctoral research training. Institutional NRSA may be made for both predoctoral and postdoctoral research training. Predoctoral awardees must have a baccalaureate degree. Primary employment (more than one-half time) of the principal investigator must be with the small business at the time of award and during the conduct of the proposed project. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. or its possessions. STTR grants can be awarded only to domestic small business concerns (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed and have no more than 500 employees) which "partner" with a research institution in cooperative research and development. At least 40 percent of the project is to be performed by the small business concern and at least 30 percent by the research institution. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. To be eligible for funding, a grant application other than a fellowship must be assessed for scientific merit by a scientific review group and receive approval from a national advisory council. Individual funding opportunity announcements published in the NIH Guide provide more detail on eligibility.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133. Records must be available for review or audit by appropriate officials of the Federal agency, pass-through entity, and Government Accountability Office (GAO). In accordance with 45 Code of Federal Regulations, Part 74.26, for-profit (commercial) organizations are subject to audit requirements for a non-Federal audit if, during its fiscal year, it expended $500,000 or more under HHS awards and at least one award is a HHS grant or subgrant. The regulation incorporates the thresholds and deadlines of OMB Circular No. A-133, but provides for profit organizations with two options for the type of audit that will satisfy the audit requirement: 1. a financial related audit of the HHS awards in accordance with Government Auditing Standards, or 2. an audit that meets the requirements of OMB Circular No. A-133. In accordance with NIH grants policy, Foreign grantees are subject to the same audit requirements as for-profit (commercial) organizations.

Records:

Grantees generally must retain financial and programmatic records, supporting documents, statistical records, and all other records that are required by the terms of a grant, or may reasonably be considered pertinent to a grant, for a period of 3 years from the date the annual FSR is submitted. For awards under SNAP (other than those to foreign organizations and Federal institutions), the 3-year retention period will be calculated from the date the FSR for the entire competitive segment is submitted. Those grantees must retain the records pertinent to the entire competitive segment for 3 years from the date the FSR is submitted to NIH. Foreign organizations and Federal institutions must retain records for 3 years from the date of submission of the annual FSR to NIH. See 45 CFR 74.53 and 92.42 for exceptions and qualifications to the 3-year retention requirement (e.g., if any litigation, claim, financial management review, or audit is started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records must be retained until all litigation, claims, or audit findings involving the records have been resolved and final action taken). Those sections also specify the retention period for other types of grant-related records, including F&A cost proposals and property records. See 45 CFR 74.48 and 92.36 for record retention and access requirements for contracts under grants. In accordance with 45 Code of Federal Regulations, Part 74.53(e), the HHS Inspector General, the U.S. Comptroller General, or any of their duly authorized representatives have the right of timely and unrestricted access to any books, documents, papers, or other records of recipients that are pertinent to awards in order to make audits, examinations, excerpts, transcripts, and copies of such documents.

This right also includes timely and reasonable access to a recipients personnel for the purpose of interview and discussion related to such documents. The rights of access are not limited to the required retention period, but shall last as long as records are retained.

EXAMPLES OF FUNDED PROJECTS:

Fiscal Year 2013: No Current Data Available Fiscal Year 2014: Alzheimers disease is one of the most serious and economically important diseases for which there is no disease modifying therapy. The problem for therapeutic development in AD is that there is no commonly understood mechanism for AD pathogenesis. Human genetics implicates the APP and its proteolytic processing and the production of the amyloid Apeptide as a mediator of pathogenesis, but human clinical trials targeting the secretion of Aor the removal of plaques have demonstrated little or no effectiveness or have actually accelerated cognitive decline. Recent trials of gamma secretase inhibitors that prevent the secretion of Areported that treated patients were cognitively worse than controls, suggesting that our understanding of the disease mechanisms is flawed or incomplete. The goal of this proposal is to identify and characterize the proteins and protein fragments that accumulate in and around the nuclei that are reactive to the fibril specific monoclonal antibody M78. We will test the hypothesis that APP and its amyloidogenic fragments misfold and aggregate into insoluble species prior to their proteolytic conversion to Aand accumulate intracellularly due to the intrinsic resistance of the aggregated Aomain to proteolysis. In preliminary studies we have discovered a novel amyloid fibril immunoreactivity in and around nuclei using a fibril specific monoclonal antibody, M78, which recognizes a discontinuous Aepitope in Afibrils. Our studies suggest that M78 immunoreactivity colocalizes with both intracellular perinuclear APP and early extracellular plaque stages of AD prior to significant cognitive dysfunction and at intermediate times of pathogenesis in 3xTg-Ad mice. Some of the nuclear M78 immunoreactivity colocalizes with APP and Aas visualized with APP and Aspecific antibodies suggesting that M78 immunoreactivity may represent misfolded, aggregated APP or APP fragments accumulating as intracellular amyloid. In 3xTg-AD mice, M78 positive plaques accumulate at later times that are not stained with 6E10 or 4G8, suggesting that a unique type of plaque is also identified by this monoclonal antibody. We also observed that the same spatial distribution of M78 and APP immunoreactivity in neuritic plaques is colocalized with DNA visualized with the fluorescent dye DAPI located in the central core of the neuritic plaque surrounded by a halo of APP immunoreactivity in dystrophic neurites. Together, our observations suggest a previously unidentified nuclear related intracellular pathway for amyloid pathogenesis and plaque biogenesis in AD. If this novel pathogenesis is a key event in AD, it will dramatically change our way of thinking about this disease, refocus the resources for therapeutic development and enable early clinical trials to alter the course of the disease.

The Small Business Innovation grants: SBIRs can be awarded only to domestic small businesses (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed, and have not more than 500 employees). Primary employment (more than one-half time) of the Principal Investigator must be with the small business at the time of the award and during the conduct of the proposed project. The research during both Phase I and Phase II must be performed in the U.S. or its possessions. STTR grants can be awarded only to domestic small business concerns (entities that are independently owned and operated for profit, are not dominant in the field in which research is proposed and have no more than 500 employees) which "partner" with a research institution in cooperative research and development. At least 40 percent of the project is to be performed by the small business concern and at least 30 percent by the research institution. In both Phase I and Phase II, the research must be performed in the U.S. and its possessions. Individuals applying for the NIH Loan Repayment Programs must be engaged in patient oriented research and be trained in a medical subspecialty as defined under Section 206 of Public Law 106-505. FEDERAL AGENCY:

National Institutes of Health, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, Title III, Part A, Section 301; Public Health Service Act, Title IV, Part D, Subpart 2, Section 472-476.

OBJECTIVES:

To meet a growing need for investigators trained in biomedical informatics research and data science by training qualified pre- and post-doctoral candidates; to conduct research in biomedical informatics, bioinformatics and related computer and information sciences; to facilitate management of electronic health records and clinical research data; to prepare scholarly works in biomedicine and health; to advance biocomputing and bioinformatics through participation in Federal initiatives relating to biomedical informatics, bioinformatics and biomedical computing; to stimulate and foster scientific and technological innovation through cooperative research development carried out between small business concerns and research institutions, through Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) grants.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

RESEARCH GRANT PROGRAMS: Research Grants are available for fundamental and applied research in biomedical informatics and bioinformatics. Areas of research interest include: representation, organization and retrieval of biomedical and biological knowledge, data and images; enhancement of human intellectual capacities through virtual reality, dynamic modeling, artificial intelligence, and machine learning; medical decision-making; linguistic analyses for natural language processing and understanding; informatics topics relevant to public health, consumer information and disaster information management. Research Project Grants (R01) are available for rigorous scientific research studies and experiments. From time to time, NLM issues Requests for Applications for innovative informatics research in special priority areas. Exploratory/Developmental Grants (R21) support early, conceptual work and feasibility tests. Other research grants include Informatics Conference Grants (R13) and a number of NIH-wide grant programs on high priority topics such as health literacy, behavioral research, health disparity, climate change, and detection of gene environment interactions for complex human diseases. Further information on research grants is available at <http://www.nlm.nih.gov/ep/Grants.html#research>.

TRAINING GRANT PROGRAMS: NLM's University-based Biomedical Informatics Research Training Programs (T15) promote the training of talented individuals who seek research careers in biomedical informatics, translational bioinformatics, clinical research informatics, and public health informatics. A competition for these institution-based training grants is announced every five years. The most recent competition was held in 2011. University-based training support may be at the pre- or post-doctoral level. Training sites recruit and choose their trainees, and are expected to have well-established computer facilities, strong informatics research and education programs, experienced faculty and staff committed to research in the field of biomedical computing and/or biomedical informatics, and available courses or experience in computer science, information science, and cognitive sciences. Institutional training grants provide trainee stipends, tuition and fees, travel, and certain institutional support costs. Further information on training grants is available at <http://www.nlm.nih.gov/ep/Grants.html#training>.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT GRANT PROGRAMS: NLM offers a Career Development award (K01) to help promising junior investigators launch their research careers in biomedical informatics research. NIH Pathway to Independence awards (K99/R00) are reserved for investigators who are making the transition to their first research positions. These grants can last up to five years. They include a mentored period, followed by an unmentored period, and provide both salary and a research support. Research supplement awards are also offered to promote diversity in health-related informatics research, and to promote re-entry into informatics careers. Diversity and re-entry awards are issued as supplements to existing research grants funded by NLM. Further information on career development grants is available at <http://www.nlm.nih.gov/ep/Grants.html#career>.

RESOURCE GRANT PROGRAMS: NLM Information Resource Grants to Reduce Health Disparities (G08) support implementation projects that bring useful, usable health information to health disparity populations and their health care providers. NLM offers Grants for Scholarly Works (G13) to support preparation of books in the history and philosophy of biomedicine, bioethics, and public policy areas of importance to health professionals and biomedical scientists. Typically, these programs issue one funding opportunity announcement (FOA) per year. The purpose, restrictions, funding periods and award limits vary for these grant programs and are described in the FOAs.

Further information on resource grants is available at <http://www.nlm.nih.gov/ep/Grants.html#resource>.

SMALL BUSINESS RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT GRANT PROGRAMS: Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and Small Business Technology Transfer Research (STTR) grants are made to U.S. small businesses that seek to undertake informatics research and development leading to commercialization. The STTR program requires a small business applicant organization to formally collaborate with a research institution in Phase I and Phase II. SBIR Phase I grants (of approximately 6-months' duration) are to establish the technical merit and feasibility of a proposed research effort that may lead to a commercial product or process. Phase II grants are for the continuation of the research initiated in Phase I and that are likely to result in commercial products or processes. Only Phase I awardees are eligible to receive Phase II support. STTR Phase I grants (normally of 1-year duration) are to determine the scientific, technical, and commercial merit and feasibility of the proposed cooperative effort that has potential for commercial application. Phase II funding is based on results of research initiated in Phase I and scientific and technical merit and commercial potential in Phase II application. Further information on SBIR/STTR grants is available at <http://www.nlm.nih.gov/ep/Grants.html#small>.

Applicant Eligibility:

Any individual(s) with the skills, knowledge, and resources necessary to carry out the proposed research as the project director/principal investigator (PD/PI) is invited to work with his/her organization to develop an application for support. Individuals from underrepresented racial and ethnic groups as well as individuals with disabilities are always encouraged to apply for NIH support.

See Beneficiary Eligibility below for further details.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

The standard NIH review criteria, significance, investigator, innovation, approach, environment are used as the basis of merit review. Considerations for final award decisions include level of innovation, program priority, portfolio balance, and availability of funds. For NLM resource grants, review criteria include considerations as to relevance to program objectives; impact on the management and transmission of biomedical knowledge; institutional readiness and resources available to project; expertise of project director and key personnel; scientific or technical merit of project; sustainability of what is deployed, and appropriateness of budget. For Career awards, review criteria include issues pertaining to the suitability of the candidates and their career development plan, research plan, mentors/consultants/collaborators, as well as the environment and institutional commitment to the candidates. For Training awards, review criteria include evidence of soundness in the areas of: Training Program and Environment, Training Program Principal Investigator(s), Preceptors and Mentors, Trainees, and Training Record. Comparative priorities on the above criteria are based on collective judgment of peer reviewers. The following criteria are used in considering the scientific and technical merit of SBIR/STTR Phase I grant applications: (1) The soundness and technical merit of the proposed approach; (2) the qualifications of the proposed principal investigator, supporting staff, and consultants; (3) the scientific, technical, or technological innovation of the proposed research; (4) the potential of the proposed research for commercial application; (5) the appropriateness of the budget requested; (6) the adequacy and suitability of the facilities and research environment; and (7) where applicable, the adequacy of assurances detailing the proposed means for (a) safeguarding human or animal subjects, and/or (b) protecting against or minimizing any adverse effect on the environment. Phase II grant applications are reviewed based upon similar criteria, and on the degree to which the Phase I objectives were met and feasibility demonstrated.

Comprehensive HIV/AIDS care beyond these core services may include supportive services that meet the criteria of enabling individuals and families living with HIV/AIDS to access and remain in primary medical care to improve their medical outcomes.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

The regulation incorporates the thresholds and deadlines of OMB Circular No. A-133, but provides for profit organizations with two options for the type of audit that will satisfy the audit requirement: 1. a financial related audit of the HHS awards in accordance with Government Auditing Standards, or 2. an audit that meets the requirements of OMB Circular No. A-133. Records:

The NIH will maintain applicant records for 3 years after rejection and participant records for 6 years after completion of final service obligation. Grantees generally must retain financial and programmatic records, supporting documents, statistical records, and all other records that are required by the terms of a grant, or may reasonably be considered pertinent to a grant, for a period of 3 years from the date the annual FSR is submitted. For awards under SNAP (other than those to foreign organizations and Federal institutions), the 3-year retention period will be calculated from the date the FSR for the entire competitive segment is submitted. Those grantees must retain the records pertinent to the entire competitive segment for 3 years from the date the FSR is submitted to NIH. Foreign organizations and Federal institutions must retain records for 3 years from the date of submission of the annual FSR to NIH. See 45 CFR 74.53 and 92.42 for exceptions and qualifications to the 3-year retention requirement (e.g., if any litigation, claim, financial management review, or audit is started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records must be retained until all litigation, claims, or audit findings involving the records have been resolved and final action taken). Those sections also specify the retention period for other types of grant-related records, including F&A cost proposals and property records. See 45 CFR 74.48 and 92.36 for record retention and access requirements for contracts under grants. In accordance with 45 Code of Federal Regulations, Part 74.53(e), the HHS Inspector General, the U.S. Comptroller General, or any of their duly authorized representatives have the right of timely and unrestricted access to any books, documents, papers, or other records of recipients that are pertinent to awards in order to make audits, examinations, excerpts, transcripts, and copies of such documents. This right also includes timely and reasonable access to a recipients personnel for the purpose of interview and discussion related to such documents. 93.938 COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS TO SUPPORT COMPREHENSIVE SCHOOL HEALTH PROGRAMS TO PREVENT THE SPREAD OF HIV AND OTHER IMPORTANT HEALTH PROBLEMS

(SHEPSA)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act, 42 U.S.C 241(a) & 243(b).

OBJECTIVES:

To improve the health and well-being of youth and prepare them to be healthy adults.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Cooperative Agreement funds may be used to support personnel, purchase equipment, supplies, services, and travel directly related to the program activities and consistent with the scope of this program. Cooperative agreement funds are used to help schools prevent sexual risk behaviors that result in HIV infection, especially among youth who are at highest risk. For example, cooperative agreement recipients implement and integrate effective policies and educational strategies to reduce risk behaviors that lead to HIV infection among youth; implement strategies to reduce disparities among sub-populations of youth disproportionately affected by HIV infection and other health problems related to sexual risk behaviors; evaluate the implementation and effectiveness of strategies to reduce risks for HIV infection among youth in schools for the purposes of programmatic improvement and long-range planning. CDC believes that the specific scope and content of HIV education programs in schools should be locally determined and should be consistent with parental and community values. CDC supports local decision-making by providing sound scientific information to grantees who work directly with schools, communities, and parents. Funds may be expended for written materials, pictorials, audiovisuals, questionnaires or survey instruments, and educational group sessions related to HIV education for youth, school, and college populations if approved in accordance with the document "Content of AIDS-Related Written Materials, Pictorials, Audiovisuals, Questionnaires, Survey Instruments, and Educational Sessions in Centers for Disease Control Assistance Programs." Cooperative agreement funds are also used to build state education and state health agency partnership and capacity to implement and coordinate school health programs across agencies and within schools. The expected outcome of this effort is to help schools reduce chronic disease risk factors, including tobacco use, poor nutrition, and physical inactivity. For example, cooperative agreement recipients implement and integrate effective policies, environmental changes, and educational strategies to reduce unhealthy behaviors; leverage resources to avoid duplication at the state and local levels; evaluate school health capacity-building efforts while implementing effective strategies to reduce priority health risks. Funds may not be used to conduct research projects, provide direct delivery of patient care or treatment services, and purchase or disseminate condoms. Although public health may have an assurance role in clinical testing and screening, funds are not to be used to provide clinical testing or screening services. Funds may not be used for purchasing computer equipment, office equipment or furnishing, renting or leasing office space, or to support construction or renovation unless specifically approved.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act., Title 42, Section 301(a) and 317.

OBJECTIVES:

To work with State health agencies and other public and private nonprofit organizations in planning, developing, integrating, coordinating, or evaluating programs to prevent and control chronic diseases; assist in monitoring the major behavioral risks associated with the 10 leading causes of premature death and disability in the United States including cardiovascular diseases; and, establish new chronic disease prevention programs like Racial and Ethnic Approaches to Community Health (REACH), State Nutrition, Physical Activity and Obesity Programs (NPAO)

DP08-819/DP13-1317: Purpose - The purpose of the program is to 1) support community use of traditional foods and sustainable ecological approaches for diabetes prevention and health promotion in American Indian and Alaska Native communities; and 2) engage communities in identifying and sharing the stories of healthy traditional ways of eating, being active, and communicating health information and support for diabetes prevention and wellness.

CDC-RFA-DP13-1305, State Public Health Actions to Prevent and Control Diabetes, Heart Disease, Obesity and Associated Risk Factors and Promote School Health, supports statewide implementation of cross-cutting approaches to promote health and prevent and control chronic diseases and their risk factors. Four chronic disease prevention programs (Diabetes; Heart Disease and Stroke Prevention; Nutrition, Physical Activity, and Obesity; and School Health) are included in this FOA. State Health Departments are funded under this FOA to address the following goals:

Short/Intermediate Term Goals:

Improve state, community, worksite, school, and early childhood environments to promote and reinforce healthful behaviors across the lifespan related to diabetes, cardiovascular health, physical activity, healthful foods and beverages, obesity, and breastfeeding;

Improve effective delivery and use of quality clinical and other preventive services aimed at preventing and managing diabetes and hypertension; and

Increase community-clinical linkages to support prevention, self-management, and control of diabetes, hypertension, and obesity.

Long Term Goals:

Improved prevention and control of hypertension

Improved prevention and control of diabetes

Improved prevention and control of overweight and obesity

The FOA has two components: 1) A basic non-competitive component to support health promotion, epidemiology, and surveillance activities and targeted strategies that will result in measurable impacts to address school health, nutrition and physical activity risk factors, obesity, diabetes, and heart disease and stroke prevention in all 50 states and the District of Columbia. These efforts will be supported by core public health activities such as partnership engagement, workforce development, guidance and support for programmatic efforts, strategic communication, surveillance and epidemiology, and evaluation; and 2) A competitive enhanced component to build on and extend the activities supported with basic funding to achieve even greater reach and impact. Thirty-two states were funded under the enhanced Component to implement evidence and practice-based interventions to improve physical activity and nutrition, reduce obesity, and prevent and control diabetes, heart disease, and stroke with a focus on high blood pressure. The enhanced component includes implementation of evidence-based strategies that are more extensive and wider-reaching than those implemented in the basic component. States funded for this enhanced component must implement interventions at scale in order to reach large segments of the population in the state (e.g., through school districts, early care and education (ECEs), worksites, and state and local governmental agencies) and in partnership with organizations that may or may not have worked with state departments of health in the past (e.g., large employers, public housing, the education sector, health insurers, and large health systems).

93.946 COOPERATIVE AGREEMENTS TO SUPPORT STATE-BASED SAFE MOTHERHOOD AND INFANT HEALTH INITIATIVE PROGRAMS

Safe Motherhood and Infant Health (Reproductive Health)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Service Act; Safe Motherhood, Section 317K; Prenatal and Postnatal Health, Section 317L, 42 U.S.C 247b-12 and 13.

OBJECTIVES:

To promote optimal and equitable health in women and infants through public health surveillance, research, leadership, and partnership to move science to practice. In carrying out this mission, the Division of Reproductive Health: 1) Enhances the ability of others to identify and address male and female reproductive issues and infant health issues by providing technical assistance, consultation, and training worldwide; 2) supports national and state-based surveillance systems to monitor trends and investigate health issues; 3) conducts epidemiologic, behavioral, demographic and health services research; and 4) works with partners to translate research findings into health care practice, public health policy, and health promotion strategies.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:PRAMS:

The Pregnancy Risk Assessment Monitoring System, is a surveillance project of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and state health departments. PRAMS collects state-specific, population-based data on maternal attitudes and experiences before, during, and shortly after pregnancy.

PRAMS provides data for state health officials to use to improve the health of mothers and infants; allows CDC and the states to monitor changes in maternal and child health indicators (e.g., unintended pregnancy, prenatal care, breastfeeding, smoking, drinking, infant health); and enhances information from birth certificates used to plan and review state maternal and infant health programs. The PRAMS sample is chosen from all women who had a live birth recently, so findings can be applied to the state's entire population of women who have recently delivered a live-born infant. PRAMS not only provides state-specific data but also allows comparisons among participating states because the same data collection methods are used in all states.

SID/SUID (Sudden infant Death/Sudden Unexplained Infant Death):

The SUID Case Registry aims to generate public health surveillance information about SUID at the national, state, and local levels that is more detailed than what is currently available. Instead of creating an entirely new system, the SUID Case Registry enhances the National Center for Child Death Review program and their Case Reporting System.

The SUID Case Registry generates public health surveillance information that can comprehensively describe the circumstances and events surrounding SUID cases. This will allow researchers, medicolegal investigators, and program prevention planners to better understand characteristics associated with SUID, evaluate case investigation practices, and ultimately prevent infant deaths.

Validation of Prenatal Substance Use Screening Tools:

The purpose of this research is to validate and compare the performance of the most promising substance abuse screening tools that are already available in the literature (for example, the 4Ps-plus, the 5Ps, the Substance Use Risk Profile Pregnancy Scale (SURP-P), the CRAFFT, the NIDA Quick Screen) and can be used among pregnant women seeking medical services (e.g. antenatal or delivery care) in clinical settings in the United States.

Medicaid Expansion and Reproductive Health Care for Women: The intent of this FOA is to study the use of medical services and health outcomes among low-income women of reproductive age (15-44 years), before and after expansion of Medicaid eligibility. This research will require linkage of state Medicaid data with other key maternal and child health datasets including, but not limited to, birth certificates, death certificates, and hospital discharge data.

Perinatal Quality Collaboratives:

This FOA will support states to enhance the capabilities of state-based perinatal quality collaboratives to improve the quality of perinatal care in their states, including but not limited to: reducing early elective deliveries, increasing use and documentation of use of antenatal steroids, increasing breastfeeding rates, and reducing central line-associated blood stream infections in neonates.

Module B will continue to support the work of the 3 states that have successfully expanded their Perinatal Quality Collaborative through an existing FOA, CDC-RFA- DP11-1110, that ends September 29, 2014, and will support expansion of PQC projects and formal mentoring and capacity building for Module A awardees.

Maternal and Child Health Capacity Building:

The program promotes and improves the health and well-being of women, children, and families by building capacity at state, local, and tribal levels and to use and apply sound epidemiologic research and scientific information to maternal and child health programs and policies through collaborations with partners.

Special Interest Project (SIP)/Progestin contraception and HIV risk: Clinical and laboratory follow-up of a cohort of HIV-infected and uninfected women: The purpose of this SIP is to establish a cohort of HIV-infected and HIV-uninfected women on different types of progestin-containing contraception to assess differences in women continuation with a given method and the effects of long-term progestin use on markers of HIV risk and efficacy of ART. Also the project will support laboratory studies to analyze the effects of progestin on HIV shedding, inflammatory/immune markers in the genital tract, and the interaction of progestin with antiretroviral therapy on contraceptive and ART efficacy. Objectives in the topic area of Family Planning and HIV Prevention intend to increase the proportion of pregnancies that are intended; increase the proportion of sexually experienced persons who received reproductive health services; reduce pregnancy rates among adolescent females; and reduce the rate of HIV transmission among adolescents and adults.

Teen Pregnancy Prevention:

The program is supporting public and private entities to fund medically accurate and age appropriate evidence-based or innovative program models to reduce teen pregnancy. The purpose of the program is to reduce teen pregnancy by working directly with publicly funded clinics to increase access to and use of reproductive health services among vulnerable youth. Activities include building the capacity of staff and clinical providers, establishing partnerships with youth-serving systems, and developing communication efforts. The primary target population is 15- to 19-year-olds, the age group among whom the majority of teen births occur; however, since the Society of Adolescent Health and Medicine and the United Nations Family Planning Association define adolescents as 15-24, the target age group may be expanded.

Development and Testing of a Clinic-Based Intervention to Increase Dual Protection against Unintended Pregnancy and STDs among High Risk Female Teens: The purpose of this funding opportunity is to develop and evaluate a clinic-based intervention addressing access to, motivation for, and adherence to dual protection strategies that concurrently protect against unintended pregnancies and sexually transmitted diseases (STDs), including human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) among high risk 15-19 year old females.

Fiscal Year 2013: 2013 was a year focused on planning and implementation of a significant shift in funded activities for both the flagship STD prevention cooperative agreement (CSPS to AAPPs), as well as the National STD partner services and STD clinical training centers. The STD prevention cooperative agreement transitioned from support for direct patient clinical and intervention services to programmatic assurance, assessment, and policy development activities. Some limited direct safety-net clinical services are maintained as state and local STD programs adjust to changes associated with the Patient Portability and Affordable Care Act. The National STD training centers have transitioned from one overarching cooperative agreement focusing on in-person, didactic training of STD clinicians and disease intervention staff to two separate cooperative agreements. Three national DIS training centers have been funded to continue to provide various type of training focused on disease intervention staff. Eight regional and seven national clinical training centers will develop hands-on clinical training as well as focusing on coordination, evaluation, and quality improvement activities, as well as curriculum development, and advancements in the use of current and emerging technologies. Programs tested over 5,000 isolates, disseminated data from GISP in multiple reports and peer reviewed publications. Additionally, the data from GISP directly informed the soon to be released 2014 STD treatment guidelines. Fiscal Year 2014: No Current Data Available Fiscal Year 2015: No Current

VISTA

Volunteers In Service To America

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Corporation for National and Community Service

AUTHORIZATION:

Domestic Volunteer Service Act of 1973, as amended, Public Law 93-113, , Title I, Part A, Public Law 93-113, 87 Stat. 394, 42 U.S.C 4951-49600.

OBJECTIVES:

AmeriCorps VISTA is the national service program of the Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) designed specifically to fight poverty. VISTA supports efforts to alleviate poverty by engaging individuals, 18 years and older, from all walks of life, in a year of full-time service with a sponsoring organization (sponsor) to create or expand programs designed to bring individuals and communities out of poverty.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Provision of Specialized Services

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

See program's Notice of Funding Opportunity. This is not a grant-based program. Restrictions on use of funds are described in programs Notice of Funding Availability/Opportunity. Use of funds must be consistent with awarded application, and are subject to the Corporation for National and Community Services administration laws, regulations and policies. All appropriated funds awarded under this program are discretionary.

Applicant Eligibility:

The proposed project must have a clear anti-poverty focus, include the involvement of the low-income community and the activities must lead towards sustainability of the project. The activities of the VISTA members may not supplant staff or current volunteers. See program's Notice of Funding Opportunity for more information.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

VISTA activities must benefit low-income persons and communities by building the capacity of the sponsoring organization to find permanent solutions to poverty.

VISTAs live and serve in some of our nations poorest areas. They receive a modest living allowance and other benefits during their service. After successfully completing a term of service, VISTAs and Summer Associates may receive a Segal AmeriCorps Education Award, which can be used to pay for college or student loans, or an end-of-service cash stipend. Sponsors may contribute to the cost of a VISTA through "cost share", but are under no obligation to do so.

Credentials/Documentation:

Various records and forms are required for first time applicants, as well as a copy of last audit may be requested. First time applicants must certify financial systems. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." Formula and Matching Requirements:

This program has no statutory formula.

This program has no matching requirements. The VISTA program does not, as a rule, provide assistance through cash grants, and, thus has no matching requirements. In the case of those projects that receive small grants to offset costs, there are no matching requirements. VISTA does operate a voluntary cost share program where sponsoring organizations can pay living allowance costs for one or more VISTA members, allowing the program to maximize its reach. Sponsors also provide equipment, work space and other in-kind support of the VISTA members assigned to ensure overall project success.

This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

VISTA Volunteers are assigned to a project for a given length of time, generally 3-4 years, as designated in a Memorandum of Agreement between Corporation for National and Community Service (CNCS) and the sponsor. Individual volunteers commit themselves to an one year term of service which may be extended with sponsor and CNCS approval. Note that, with certain small exceptions, the VISTA program does not grant financial resources to organizations, but rather provides the resource through the placement of a VISTA member. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

No program reports are required. In the case of VISTA projects that receive cash grants, cash management reports are required. The Corporation for National and Community Service uses the US HHS Payment Management System for payments and cash management reporting. Progress reporting requirements are described in the Memorandum of Agreement and reporting forms. In the case of VISTA projects that receive small cash grants, Federal Financial Reports are required as specified in the grant award provisions. The Corporation for National and Community Service and its VISTA sponsors are required to practice risk-based monitoring and routine field and desk-based oversight of all project/grant awards and expenditures.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133. Audits are required only for those projects receiving cash grants. Corporation for National and Community Service grants are subject to audit by Corporation for National and Community Service employees, the CNCS Inspector General, the Government Accountability Office, and auditors contracted by the CNCS.

Records:

Sponsors are expected to maintain records pertaining to volunteer assignments and training activities for 3 years after the end of the project year. Grant recipients must maintain all grant financial and program records for a period of three years from date of submission of the final Federal Financial Report for the award. This includes but is not limited to all financial records including receipts, disbursements, and vouchers for Federal and nonfederal costs, timecards, copies of all contracts, personnel records, and job descriptions, program execution and performance records, criminal history checks, and similar records to reflect all activities and spending performed under the award. Note that all individuals receiving a salary, living allowance, stipend, National Trust Education Award or similar compensation through a national service program funded by the Corporation for National and Community Service must first clear a National Service Criminal History Check and check records must be maintained within project records.

DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY

97.005 STATE AND LOCAL HOMELAND SECURITY NATIONAL TRAINING PROGRAM

FY 2014 Homeland Security National Training Program National Domestic Preparedness Consortium (NDPC) and Continuing Training Grants (CTG)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 1204 of the Implementing Recommendations of the 9/11 Commission Act of 2007, Public Law 110-53, 6 U.S.C 1102.

OBJECTIVES:

The Homeland Security National Training Program (HSNTP), National Domestic Preparedness Consortium (NDPC) plays an important role in the implementation of the National Preparedness System (NPS) by supporting the building, sustainment, and delivery of core capabilities essential to achieving the National Preparedness Goal (NPG) of a secure and resilient Nation. (<http://www.fema.gov/national-preparedness-goal>)

The objective of the HSNTP is to support nationwide training initiatives and further the mission of FEMA. In order to achieve the intended objective of the HSNTP, all training developed with HSNTP funds must support FEMA's all-hazards mission and reflect the following key priority areas: use of existing training mechanisms; linking training to exercise activities; incorporating the core capabilities identified in the National Preparedness Goal and the National Preparedness System components; and utilizing an adult learning and national delivery approach whereby curriculum is delivered via an integrated, collaborative approach.

Where possible, efforts will be made in the development and delivery of training programs to support the implementation of risk driven, capabilities-based State Homeland Security Strategies to address capability targets set in urban area, state, and regional Threat and Hazard Identification and Risk Assessments (THIRAs). The capability levels assessed in the State Preparedness Report (SPR) should be used to inform planning, organization, equipment, training, and exercise needs to prevent, protect against, mitigate, respond to, and recover from acts of terrorism and other catastrophic events.

The Continuing Training Grant (CTG) program develops and delivers innovative training programs that are national in scope and have an important role in the implementation of the National Preparedness System by supporting the building, sustainment, and delivery of core capabilities essential to achieving the National Preparedness Goal (NPG) of a secure and resilient Nation (<http://www.fema.gov/national-preparedness-goal>). Delivering core capabilities requires the combined effort of the whole community, rather than the exclusive effort of any single organization or level of government. The FY 2014 CTG program supports efforts to build and sustain core capabilities across the Prevention, Protection, Mitigation, Response, and Recovery mission areas.

97.007 HOMELAND SECURITY PREPAREDNESS TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

(HSPTAP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

The Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act, 2014 (Pub. L. No.

113-76). , Public Law 113-76; Homeland Security Act of 2002 (Pub. L. No. 107-296), as amended (6 U.S.C. 313(b)(2)(G))) , Section 503(b)(2)(G) , Public Law 107-296, 6 U.S.C 313(b)(2)(G))).

OBJECTIVES:

The Homeland Security Technical Assistance Program (HSPTAP) is established to build State, local, tribal and territorial (SLTT) capabilities to prevent, protect against, respond to, and recover from major events, including threats or acts of terrorism.

This overarching programmatic goal of building state and local capabilities will be achieved through various means and methods, each one aimed at making achieving the National Preparedness Goal and furthering our collective efforts to remain a safe and secure nation.

Specific program activities anticipated for achieving this goal will include, but will not be limited to:

- production and dissemination of written products relating to emerging homeland security issues and established or model state homeland security efforts;

- providing educational seminars for apprising newly appointed Governors Homeland Security Advisors of federal homeland security doctrine, best-practices and established principles;

- facilitating calls, meetings, or discussions amongst representatives from key stakeholder groups on a regular basis which serve to share information, knowledge, experiences, and practices relating to current and emerging homeland security issues; and,

- convening trainings, workshops, and other meeting opportunities designed to bring together in a common forum nationwide HSAs, state, local and tribal Emergency Management Directors, as well as other professional organizations in the public and private sectors and to inform partners on the impacts of federal homeland security legislation, regulations and policies on the states.

Each recipient will conduct these specific activities to support either State Emergency Management Directors, Homeland Security Advisors to further build State, local, tribal and territorial (SLTT) capabilities.

An additional key purpose for the HSPTAP is that the program also furthers the building of a national system of emergency management capabilities that can effectively and efficiently utilize the full measure of the Nation's resources to respond to catastrophic incidents, including natural disasters, acts of terrorism, and other man-made emergencies or events. HSPTAP recipients will conduct activities that bring together the collective perspectives of state and local elected officials and the private sector to provide a broad-based sounding board on homeland security issues for all national stakeholders. The program will serve to establish, provide, and maintain a forum for organizations to exchange ideas, conduct targeted discussions, as well as to provide technical assistance to governors offices, associations and organizations on all relevant homeland security policy areas.

Finally, HSPTAP will engage the recipient organizations which can work closely with FEMA to develop, transfer, and institutionalize pertinent knowledge at the State and local level for addressing current public policy challenges facing State EM Directors, HSAs and other state and local emergency management officials. HSPTAP recipients, through collaboration with FEMA and other national, regional, state and local entities, will facilitate focused and enhanced communication and coordination among all disciplines and levels of government to address the complex challenges of developing and implementing homeland security policies and practices including: intelligence sharing; State homeland security organization, structure and governance; communications interoperability; critical infrastructure protection; and all hazards disaster prevention, protection, mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery to include areas of emergency management, homeland security, fire, law enforcement, Emergency Management Services (EMS), agriculture, National Guard, emergency communications, and public works.

In sum, in addition to building state and local capabilities, the activities conducted under the HSPTAP are structured to address the full spectrum of mission areas, national priorities, and core capabilities outlined in the National Preparedness System and are critical to achieving the National Preparedness Goal.

97.008 NON-PROFIT SECURITY PROGRAM
NSGP

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 2003 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002, as amended (Pub. L. No. 107-296), (6 U.S.C. 604), Public Law 107-296, 6 U.S.C 604; Implementing Recommendations of the 9/11 Commission Act of 2007, Public Law 110-53, as amended by Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act of 2014, Public Law 113-6.

OBJECTIVES:

The Non-Profit Security Grant Program (NSGP) provides funding support for hardening and other physical security enhancements to non-profit organizations that are at high risk of a terrorist attack and located within one of the specific Urban Area Security Initiative (UASI)-eligible Urban Areas. The program seeks to integrate the preparedness activities of non-profit organizations that are at high risk of a terrorist attack with broader state and local preparedness efforts. The NSGP also serves to promote coordination and collaboration in emergency preparedness activities among public and private community representatives as well as state and local government agencies.

The FY 2014 NSGP plays an important role in the implementation of the National Preparedness System by supporting the development and sustainment of core capabilities. Core capabilities are essential for the execution of each of the five mission areas outlined in the National Preparedness Goal (the Goal). Building and sustaining core capabilities requires the combined effort of the whole community, rather than the exclusive effort of any single organization or level of government. The FY 2014 NSGPs allowable costs support efforts to build and sustain core capabilities across the Prevention, Protection, Mitigation, Response, and Recovery mission areas.

The Non-Profit Homeland Security Grant Program objective is to support efforts that:

- Build and sustain core capabilities
- Strengthen governance integration
- Encourage a whole community approach to security and emergency management.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The FY 2012 NSGP provides funding support for target hardening and other physical security enhancements and activities to nonprofit organizations that are at high risk of terrorist attack and located within one of the specific UASI-eligible Urban Areas. The intent of the FY 2012 NSGP is to competitively award grant funding to assist nonprofit organizations in obtaining the resources required to support the NPG associated mission areas and core capabilities. While funding is provided specifically to high-risk nonprofit organizations, the program seeks to integrate nonprofit preparedness activities with broader State and local preparedness efforts. It is also designed to promote coordination and collaboration in emergency preparedness activities among public and private community representatives, as well as State and local government agencies. NSGP grant recipients and sub-recipients may only use NSGP grant funds for the purpose set forth in the grant, and must be consistent with the statutory authority for the award. Grant funds may not be used for matching funds for other Federal grants/cooperative agreements, lobbying, or intervention in Federal regulatory or adjudicatory proceedings. In addition, Federal funds may not be used to sue the Federal government or any other government entity.

Pre-award costs are allowable only with the written consent of DHS and if they are included in the award agreement. Federal employees are prohibited from serving in any capacity (paid or unpaid) on any proposal submitted under this program. Federal employees may not receive funds under this award. In FY 2012, the total amount of funds distributed under this grant program will be $10,000,000. Each nonprofit organization must apply through their State Administrative Agency (SAA) for up to a $75,000 grant award. The FY 2012 NSGP funds will be allocated to organizations characterized as Section 501(c)(3) organizations under the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (26 U.S.C.) and deemed at high risk by the Secretary of the Department of Homeland Security. Such nonprofit organizations must be located within one of the designated FY 2012 UASI-eligible Urban Areas.

Applicant Eligibility:

The SAA is the only entity eligible to apply for FY 2012 NSGP funds on behalf of eligible nonprofit organizations (as described under section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986) determined to be at high risk of terrorist attack and are located within one of the designated FY 2012 UASI-eligible Urban Areas. Eligible nonprofit organizations must provide their applications to their respective SAA in order to be considered for FY 2012 NSGP funding. SAAs, in coordination with the Urban Area Working Groups (UAWGs), are encouraged to notify and actively inform eligible nonprofit organizations of the availability of the FY 2012 NSGP especially organizations that have not previously applied for or received NSGP funding. It is important to ensure that ALL eligible nonprofit organizations are afforded an opportunity to seek funding. Criteria for determining eligible applicants that are at high risk of terrorist attack include, but are not limited to:

Identification and substantiation (e.g., police reports or insurance claims) of prior threats or attacks against the nonprofit organization or closely related organizations (within or outside the U.S.) by a terrorist organization, network, or cell.

Symbolic value of the site(s) as a highly recognized national or historical institution that renders the site as possible target of terrorism.

Role of the applicant nonprofit organization in responding to or recovering from terrorist attacks.

Findings from previously conducted risk assessments including threat or vulnerability.

Investment Justifications from eligible nonprofits (Office of Management and Budget [OMB] Number 1660-0110/FEMA Form 089-25)

SAA Prioritization of Investment Justifications (in rank order) in FEMA-provided template (OMB Number 1660-0110/FEMA Form 089-24)
The program title listed in the CFDA is Non-profit Security Grant Program. The CFDA number is 97.008.

Dun and Bradstreet Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Number. The applicant must provide a DUNS number with their application. This number is a required field within <http://www.grants.gov> and for CCR. Organizations should verify that they have a DUNS number, or take the steps necessary to obtain one, as soon as possible. Applicants can receive a DUNS number at no cost by calling the dedicated toll-free DUNS Number request line at (866) 705-5711.

Valid CCR. The application process also involves an updated and current registration by the applicant, which must be confirmed at <http://www.ccr.gov>.

Award Procedure:

Applications will be reviewed in two phases to leverage local knowledge and understanding of the applicants risk of a terrorist attack, while also ensuring coordination and alignment with Federal, State, and local preparedness efforts.

State Review: Applications must be submitted by the nonprofit organization to the SAA/UAWG (if they are separate entities), no later than 11:59 p.m. EDT, April 4, 2012 to ensure adequate time for a State review of nonprofit applications. The SAA, in coordination with the UAWG, is encouraged to conduct an initial review of all submitted applications from nonprofit organizations to first determine eligibility based on the established criteria. Once eligibility has been determined, the SAA will review and score compliant IJs using the FY 2012 NSGP Scoring Worksheet (see Appendix D- Investment Justification Scoring Worksheet of the FY 2012 NSGP Full FOA) and FY 2012 Prioritization of Investment Justifications Template (Office of Management and Budget Number 1660-0110/FEMA Form 089-24). The SAA should provide the scores from the State Review along with a prioritized list of NSGP projects. Each application should receive a unique rank. Rankings should be developed based on these two factors:

Need The relative need for the nonprofit organization compared to the other applicants.

Impact The potential impact of the nonprofit organization in achieving maximum prevention and/or protection results at minimal cost. The SAA should ensure that information noted in the Prioritization of Investment Justifications accurately reflects the data noted in each organizations IJ. While completing the Prioritization of Investment Justifications, the SAA should verify the Dun and Bradstreet Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) Number, Central Contractor Registration (CRR), 501(c)(3) Number, and legal organization name. Tracker information submitted by the SAA pertaining to a nonprofit(s) Organization Type and Total Project Cost will be considered during FEMA's review and scoring process.

Federal Review: The highest-scoring IJs from each submitting Urban Area will be reviewed by a panel of Federal evaluators. In order to determine the number of applications that will advance to the Federal Review, FEMA will multiply the available FY 2012 NSGP funding by 1.5 (150%). Applicants will then be selected from each submitting Urban Area, based on their State scores, using a top-down approach until the cumulative funding amount requested has reached 150 percent (150%).

Final Score: To calculate the final score, the sum of each applicants Federal and State scores will be multiplied by a factor of three (3) for non-profit groups that are at a high risk of terrorist attacks due to their ideology, beliefs and mission, by a factor of two (2) for medical and educational institutions, and by a factor of one (1) for all others. All final application scores will then be sorted in descending order and awardees will be selected for funding from highest to lowest until the available FY 2012 NSGP funding has been exhausted. In the event of a tie during the funding determination process, priority will be given to nonprofit organizations that have not received prior year funding and those ranked highest by their SAA. FEMA will use the final results to make funding recommendations to the Secretary of Homeland Security.

NOTE: Upon award, recipients may only fund Investments that were included within the FY 2012 IJs that were submitted to FEMA and evaluated through the Federal review process.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Projected Award Start Date(s): 09/30/2012
Projected Award End Date(s): 09/30/2014
Period of Performance: 24 months

The periods of performance outlined above support the effort to expedite the outlay of grant funding and provide economic stimulus. Agencies should request waivers sparingly, and they will be granted only due to compelling legal, policy, or operational challenges. For example, SAAs may request waivers from the deadlines outlined above for discretionary grant funds where adjusting the timeline for spending will constitute a verifiable legal breach of contract by the grantee with vendors or sub-recipients, or where a specific statute or regulation mandates an environmental review that cannot be completed within this timeframe or where other exceptional circumstances warrant a discrete waiver. For more information, refer to the FY 2012 NSGP FOA. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Based on program need. Grantees must accept their grant awards no later than 90 days from the award date. The grantee shall notify the awarding agency of its intent to accept and proceed with work under the award, or provide a written notice of intent to decline. Funds will remain on hold until the grantee accepts the award through official correspondence, e.g., written, electronic signature, signed letter or fax to GPD, and all other conditions of award have been satisfied, or the award is otherwise rescinded. Failure to accept the grant award within the 90 day timeframe may result in a loss of funds.

Reports:

All successful applicants for all DHS grant and cooperative agreements are required to comply with DHS Standard Administrative Terms and Conditions available within Section 6.1.1 of <http://www.dhs.gov/xlibrary/assets/cfo-financial-management-policy-manual.pdf>.

Upon approval of an application, the award will be made in the form of a grant. The date the approval of award is entered in the system is the award date. Notification of award approval is made through the ND Grants system through an automatic e-mail to the grantee point of contact listed in the initial application. Once an award has been approved and recorded in the system, a notice is sent to the authorized grant official. Follow the directions in the notification to accept your award documents. The authorized grant official should carefully read the award package for instructions on administering the grant and to learn more about the terms and conditions associated with responsibilities under Federal awards.

State Preparedness Report (SPR) Submittal. Section 652(c) of the Post-Katrina Emergency Management Reform Act of 2006 (Public Law 109-295), 6 U.S.C. 752(c), requires any State that receives Federal preparedness assistance to submit an SPR to FEMA. States submitted the most recent SPR in December 2011 thus satisfying this requirement in order to receive funding under the FY 2012 NSGP.

Biannual Strategy Implementation Reports (BSIR). Grantees are responsible for completing and submitting the BSIR reports, as a complement to the programmatic performance report/SF-PPR. The BSIR is due within 30 days after the end of the reporting period (July 30 for the reporting period of January 1 through June 30; and January 30 for the reporting period of July 1 through December 31). Updated obligations and expenditure information must be provided within the BSIR to show progress made toward meeting strategic goals and objectives. The first BSIR is not due until at least six months after the award notice has been received by the grantee.

For more information, refer to the FY 2012 NSGP FOA. Federal Financial Report (FFR) required quarterly. Obligations and expenditures must be reported on a quarterly basis through the FFR (SF-425). A report must be submitted for every quarter of the period of performance, including partial calendar quarters, as well as for periods where no grant activity occurs. Future awards and fund draw downs may be withheld if these reports are delinquent. The final FFR is due 90 days after the end date of the performance period. FFRs must be filed electronically through PARS.

Grant Close-Out Process. Within 90 days after the end of the period of performance, grantees must submit a final FFR and final progress report detailing all accomplishments throughout the period of performance. After these reports have been reviewed and approved by FEMA, a close-out notice will be completed to close out the grant. The notice will indicate the period of performance as closed, list any remaining funds that will be deobligated, and address the requirement of maintaining the grant records for three years from the date of the final FFR. The grantee is responsible for returning any funds that have been drawn down but remain as unliquidated on grantee financial records.

For more information, refer to the FY 2012 NSGP FOA. Performance Progress Report (SF-PPR). Awardees are responsible for providing updated performance reports using the SF-PPR (OMB Approval Number 0970-0334) on a semi-annual basis. The SF-PPR is due within 30 days after the end of the reporting period (July 30 for the reporting period of January 1 through June 30; and January 30 for the reporting period of July 1 through December 31). Grantees should submit the SF-PPR as an attachment to the ND Grants system. The SF-PPR can be accessed online at http://www.na.fs.fed.us/fap/SF-PPR_Cover%20Sheet.pdf.

For more information, refer to the FY 2012 NSGP FOA. Grantees are obligated to submit various financial and programmatic reports as a condition of their award acceptance. Please see below for a summary of financial and/or programmatic reports as required. Future awards and funds drawdown may be withheld if these reports are delinquent.

Federal Financial Report (FFR) required quarterly. Obligations and expenditures must be reported on a quarterly basis through the FFR (SF-425). A report must be submitted for every quarter of the period of performance, including partial calendar quarters, as well as for periods where no grant activity occurs. Future awards and fund drawdowns may be withheld if these reports are delinquent. The final FFR is due 90 days after the end date of the performance period. FFRs must be filed electronically through PARS. Grant Close-Out Process. Within 90 days after the end of the period of performance, or after a Grant Adjustment Notice (GAN) has been issued to close out a grant, whichever comes first, grantees must submit a final FFR and final progress report detailing all accomplishments throughout the period of performance. After these reports have been reviewed and approved by FEMA, a close-out notice will be completed to close out the grant. The notice will indicate the period of performance as closed, list any remaining funds that will be deobligated, and address the requirement of maintaining the grant records for three years from the date of the final FFR. The grantee is responsible for returning any funds that have been drawn down but remain as unliquidated on grantee financial records. Monitoring. Grant recipients will be monitored periodically by FEMA staff, both programmatically and financially, to ensure that the project goals, objectives, performance requirements, timelines, milestone completion, budgets, and other related program criteria are being met. Monitoring may be accomplished through either a desk-based review or on-site monitoring visits, or both. Monitoring will involve the review and analysis of the financial, programmatic, performance, compliance and administrative processes, policies, activities, and other attributes of each Federal assistance award and will identify areas where technical assistance, corrective actions and other support may be needed.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133.

Records:

Grant records shall be retained for a period of 3 years from the day the recipient submits its final expenditure report. If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit, or other action involving the records has been started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records must be retained until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or until the end of the regular 3-year period, whichever is later. Grant records include financial and program/progress reports, support documents, statistical records, and other documents that support the activity and/or expenditure of the recipient or sub-recipient under the award.

97.022 FLOOD INSURANCE

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

The National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, 42 U.S.C. 4001 et seq. authorized the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP), Title 13, Public Law 90-448, 44CFR U.S.C Subchapter B.

OBJECTIVES:

To enable personal and business property owners and renters to purchase flood insurance coverage for buildings and/or contents in low-to-moderate flood risk areas, as well as in high-risk flood zones to reduce taxpayer provided federal disaster assistance and to promote wise floodplain management practices in the Nation's high-risk flood zones.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

INSURANCE

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The maximum limits of flood insurance coverage for a building and/or personal property, eligible building types, and more detailed additional flood insurance information is contained in the Flood Insurance Manual available online at <http://www.fema.gov/business/nfip/manual.shtm>. In a Regular Program Community the residential building limit is $250,000 and non-residential building limit is $500,000. The residential contents limit is $100,000 and the non-residential contents limit is $500,000. Lower limits apply to a limited number of Emergency Program buildings and buildings in Alaska, Guam, Hawaii and U.S, Virgin Islands and are listed in the Flood Insurance Manual.

The Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973, as amended by the Flood Insurance Reform Act of 1994, requires flood insurance purchased as a condition of any form of Federal or federally-related financial assistance, including Federal grants, disaster assistance, SBA low-interest disaster assistance loans, and mortgage loans from federally regulated lending institutions and FHA, Farm Credit Administration, VA or guaranteed mortgages secured by buildings in high-risk flood zones, which are called the Special Flood Hazard Areas (SFHAs). Communities having one or more identified SFHAs must enter into the NFIP within 1 year of the official identification of the SFHAs or be denied Federal financial assistance for acquisition or construction purposes within those areas. Federally regulated conventional sources (i.e., banks, savings and loan associations, or similar lending institutions) are permitted to make conventional loans secured by improved real estate or Manufactured Housing located or to be located in SFHAs of a nonparticipating community which has been formally identified as flood-prone for more than 1 year, but Federal disaster assistance for acquisition or construction purposes will not be available in the event of flood or flood-related property damage. The conventional lender is statutorily required to notify the borrower, before making a loan in such an area, that Federal flood insurance and disaster assistance will not be available to the property. The Coastal Barrier Improvement Act of 1990 amended the Coastal Barrier Resources Act of 1982 by greatly enlarging the acreage included in the designated coastal barrier resources system unit. The 1990 Act also added "otherwise protected areas." "Otherwise protected areas" are defined as an undeveloped coastal barrier within the boundaries of an area established under Federal, State, or local law, or held by a qualified organization, primarily for wildlife refuge, sanctuary, recreational or natural resource conservation purposes. The 1982 Act prohibits the sale of new flood insurance on or after October 1, 1983 for new construction or substantial improvements of structures located on any coastal barrier with the Coastal Barrier Resources System designated by this Act. The 1990 Act prohibits the sale of new flood insurance on or after November 16, 1990 for new construction or substantial improvements of structures located on any new coastal barrier within the Coastal Barrier Resources System designated or modified by this Act. It also prohibits the sale of new flood insurance on or after November 16, 1991 for new construction or substantial improvements of structures located in an otherwise protected area that are not used in a manner consistent with the purpose of the otherwise protected area. Subsequent pieces of legislation have added or deleted areas. Also, the Secretary of the Interior is authorized to make technical revisions and modifications to the boundaries of such units as may be necessary.

Applicant Eligibility:

Federal flood insurance can be made available in any community (a State or political subdivision thereof with authority to adopt and enforce floodplain management measures for the areas within its jurisdiction) that adopts and enforces floodplain management measures consistent with the National Flood Insurance Program regulations.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Residential and business property owners, renters and state owned property.

Credentials/Documentation:

Same as Applicant Eligibility. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-87.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-102. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-110. Community officials must submit an NFIP eligibility application form, which is available from the FEMA, together with: copies of adopted floodplain management measures meeting the minimum standards of 44 CFR Section 60.3(a), 60.3(b), 60.3(c), 60.3(d), and/or 60.3(e), as appropriate for the type of flood hazards identified; a list of any incorporated communities within the applicant's boundaries; and estimates of population and, by kind, of buildings situated in the known flood-prone areas of the community. Such Applications should be submitted to the Mitigation Directorate, FEMA, Washington, DC 20472.

Award Procedure:

FEMA reviews the application and if complete, designates the community as participating. The community is informed of its admission, and notice is published in the Federal Register. Residents and property owners may then purchase flood insurance through any property insurance agent or broker.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

For complete applications, a maximum of 10 working days is allowed for review and notification.

Communities with one or more identified special flood hazard areas must enter the program within 1 year after the identification of those areas or else prohibitions against Federally related financial assistance for acquisition or construction purposes in identified special flood hazard areas take force. Once the community does qualify, after the prescribed date, these prohibitions are removed. Adequate floodplain management measures must be in effect within 6 months of the date that the special flood hazard area is identified and within 6 months of the date flood water surface elevations are provided.

Appeals:

Communities are allowed to appeal flood-prone identification and are also given an opportunity to appeal proposed flood elevation determinations for new construction and substantial improvement of existing structures in the special flood hazard areas. Notice of the proposed elevations is published in the Federal Register and is sent directly to the local governments. Following notification to the local government, the notice of proposed flood elevation determinations is published twice during a 10-day period in a prominent newspaper. The local community and its individual residents then have 90 days following the second newspaper notice to submit any scientific or technical data that tend to negate or contradict FEMA's findings. If a conflict in data exists and cannot be resolved at the community level, the community consolidates all individual appeals for review by FEMA. FEMA shall resolve the appeals by consultation with officials of the local government, or by submission of conflicting data to an independent scientific body, or by administrative hearings.

97.023 COMMUNITY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM STATE SUPPORT SERVICES ELEMENT (CAP-SSSE)

(CAP-SSSE)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended, and the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973, as amended, Public Law 90-448, 42 U.S.C 4001 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide, through a State grant mechanism, a means to ensure that communities participating in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) are achieving flood loss reduction goals of the NFIP. CAP-SSSE funds are to be used by States to provide technical assistance to NFIP communities, to evaluate community implementation/performance of NFIP floodplain management activities, and to build State and community floodplain management expertise and capacity.

The CAP-SSSE program supports the Mitigation Mission Area Capabilities and Targets described in the National Preparedness Goal (NPG) under Planning and Risk and Disaster Resilience Assessment.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

CAP-SSSE funds are used for activities that support the NFIP. Such activities include the fostering of effective floodplain management programs in participating communities and assisting non-participating communities in enrolling in the NFIP. CAP-SSSE funds cannot be used for conducting floodplain studies developing floodplain maps or supporting web-based digital mapping platforms. Further, if a State does not have the necessary expertise and capability to conduct CAP-SSSE activities, the Region and State must develop a remedial plan. If the necessary expertise and capability does not develop in accordance with the remedial plan, the following year's CAP-SSSE funding may be reduced or withheld. For complete information on Uses and Restrictions, refer to program guidance. Applicants must be a qualified State that intends to provide technical assistance to NFIP communities. Refer to program guidance for complete information on applicant eligibility.

Applicant Eligibility:

FEMA's ten Regional Offices will provide each State Governor's Office with the grant application package. The Cooperative Agreement is only available to that state or territorial agency so designated by the Governor, as the state or territorial National Flood Insurance Program State Coordinating Agency. The CAP-SSSE is administered through the Mitigation Division of each FEMA Regional Office. FEMA's Regional Offices will contact eligible States to negotiate a mutually acceptable grant agreement. Funding is made available when the grant agreement is negotiated and agreed upon. Continued participation in the CAP-SSSE is dependent upon completing activities described in the grant agreement. The SSSE is designed to utilize the floodplain management capabilities of individual States in a cost effective cooperative agreement with FEMA. A State's participation in the SSSE is voluntary and is contingent upon need and skill level capability.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The direct beneficiary of the CAP-SSSE is the individual State receiving financial assistance. In addition, participating NFIP communities and local governments which receive flood plain management and flood loss reduction assistance provided by the State are also (indirect) beneficiaries as a consequence of the services they receive.

Credentials/Documentation:

A State's participation in the CAP-SSSE is voluntary and is contingent upon need and skill level capability as determined by FEMA. In addition, applicant states are required to provide any relevant documentation contained in the grant agreement package provided by FEMA. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

AUTHORIZATION:

Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act of 1987, as amended, Title 3, Section 301, Public Law 100-77, 42 U.S.C 11331-11346.

OBJECTIVES:

Program funds support the National Preparedness Goal (NPG) by complementing actions undertaken to achieve an all-of-Nation preparedness approach that optimizes the use of available resources. When a disaster strikes, it is often the poor or those with economic vulnerabilities who suffer the most. By providing emergency economic assistance that keeps people off the streets, from being evicted from their homes, or with groceries to prevent hunger, the EFSP prepares a population that could otherwise be even more adversely impacted by a disaster situation and mitigates potential burdens imposed on recovery efforts to assist such people.

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Food and related expenses (such as transporting food/food preparation and serving equipment); mass shelter; other shelter (such as hotels and motels); and rent/mortgage and/or utility assistance limited to one month. For a complete listing on eligible and ineligible costs under this program, refer to the current

Phase (fiscal year): Responsibilities and Requirements document, issued by the Emergency Food and Shelter Program National Board. Emergency Food and Shelter National Board Program (EFSP) funds cannot be used for: security deposits of any kind, cash payments of any kind, lobbying efforts, salaries (except as administrative allowance and limited to that total allowance of 2 percent of total award where provided by Local Boards), purchases or improvements of an individual's private property, telephone costs, repairs to government-owned or profit-making facilities and any payments for services not incurred. For a complete listing on eligible and ineligible costs under this program, refer to the Responsibilities and Requirements Manual of the current Phase (fiscal year) issued by the Emergency Food and Shelter Program National Board.

Applicant Eligibility:

Since funds are initially distributed to jurisdictions based on either a National Board formula or recommendations from State Set-Aside Committees, there is no application process for jurisdictions. All jurisdictions are considered within the National Board formula and all jurisdictions in an individual State may be considered by the State Set-Aside Committee for either initial or additional (if the jurisdiction had previously been selected by the National Board) funding.

At the local level, following award notification by the National Board to the jurisdiction, a Local Board is formed. The Local Board then advertises the availability of the funds to local nonprofit agencies and governments. The Local Board must conduct a local application process for agencies to apply for funding. The Local Board selects which local nonprofit and governmental organizations are to receive funding and submits their selections via a Local Board Plan to the National Board.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The law directs that the Local Boards, which manage the program at the local level, shall "determine which private nonprofit organizations or public organizations of the local government in the individual locality shall receive grants to act as service providers." The range of participant groups on the Local Boards include the affiliates of the National Board membership which consists of American Red Cross, Catholic Charities USA, The Jewish Federations of North America, National Council of Churches of Christ in the USA, The Salvation Army, and United Way Worldwide, with a local government representative replacing FEMA. Also participating are thousands of independent nonprofits (such as Community Action Agencies and Food Banks and food pantries) which provide food and/or shelter services. Due to the broad category of people in need of such emergency services, the providers can include specialized groups such as domestic violence shelters, Native American organizations, and organizations providing food or shelter to: AIDS patients, handicapped individuals, the elderly, homeless veterans, non-wards of the State teenage runaways, and many other groups with emergency food and shelter needs. As noted earlier, the decisions on selections are made through the consensus of the Local Board as they have assessed their community's most urgent needs. It is important that such agencies use these funds to supplement, not replace, their current efforts. This program is intended to supplement ongoing programs and allow them to extend and expand upon their existing services.

Credentials/Documentation:

The program employs a Local Recipient Organization Certification Form. This form certifies an applicant's status (i.e., that it is a nonprofit or government agency capable of delivering eligible services) and that it will abide by the program guidelines (both on eligible spending and reporting requests), and comply with other fiscal and program rules so stipulated. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-87.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-102. OMB Circular No. A-110 applies to this program. There is no application process for local jurisdictions since the award notification to local jurisdictions is based on either a National Board formula or recommendations from State

Set-Aside Committees. The local jurisdiction (i.e., Local Board) must conduct a local application process for local agencies to apply for funding.

Award Procedure:

At the local level, following award notification by the National Board, a Local Board is formed. The Local Board then advertises the availability of the funds to local nonprofit agencies and governments. The Local Board must conduct a local application process for agencies to apply for funding. The Local Board selects which agencies are to receive funding and submits their selections via a Local Board Plan to the National Board. The National Board confirms all pertinent information has been submitted and disburses funds directly to the awarded local agencies.

The Federal Fire Prevention and Control Act of 1974, Public Law 112-239, 15 U.S.C 2229 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

The objective of the FY 2013 AFG Program is to award grants directly to fire departments, nonaffiliated EMS organizations, and state fire training academies for critically needed resources to protect the public, to train emergency personnel, and to foster interoperability and support community resilience.

The purpose of the AFG Program is to enhance through direct financial assistance, the health and safety of the public and firefighting personnel and to provide a continuum of support for emergency responders regarding fire, medical, and all hazard events.

Eligible activities requested that have an immediate impact on the safety of emergency responders, other personnel or the public may receive additional consideration during the application review process.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

AFG grants are both competitive and discretionary and are direct financial assistance awards to support firefighting and EMS operations and safety, vehicle acquisition and regional projects. Grants also are awarded for the Fire Prevention and Safety program are awarded to support activities to protect the public from fire and fire-related hazards. Specific activities funded include general public education and awareness; code enforcement and awareness; fire and arson investigation; national, state, and regional programs and studies; and firefighter safety and research and development. Grants for the Staffing for Adequate Fire and Emergency Response (SAFER) grant program are awarded to help fire departments and volunteer firefighter interest organizations to increase the number of frontline firefighters in their community and to enhance the capabilities of local fire departments to comply with staffing, response, and operational standards established by the NFPA and OSHA (NFPA 1710 and/or NFPA 1720 and OSHA 1910.134). Yes. Grantees must adhere to the restrictions stated in the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) and application kit for the program and fiscal year in which they receive the award. Furthermore, as a condition of receiving an award, grantees also must agree to adhere to the award articles of agreement that require grantees to use the funds for the purpose stated in the awarded grant applications, and to meet the special conditions specified in the articles of agreement.

Applicant Eligibility:

Eligible applicants for AFG are limited to fire departments, nonaffiliated EMS organizations, and State Fire Training Academies. These organizations operating in any of the 50 States plus the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and Puerto Rico are eligible for funding. A "fire department" is defined as an agency or organization that has a formally recognized arrangement with a State, territory, local, or tribal authority (city, county, parish, fire district, township, town, or other governing body) to provide fire suppression to a population within a fixed geographical area on a first-due basis. A "nonaffiliated EMS organization" is defined as a public or private nonprofit emergency medical services organization that provides direct emergency medical services, including medical transport, to a specific geographic area on a first-due basis but is not affiliated with a hospital and does not serve a geographic area where emergency medical services are adequately provided by a fire department. A State Fire Training Academy is defined as the primary state fire training academy, agency, or institution, for each state; which provides entity-wide delivery of fire training (and EMS training if applicable) as specified by legislative authorization, by general statutory authorization or charter, or is ad-hoc in nature with the general acceptance of the fire service. A listing of eligible State Fire Training Academy organizations and institutions can be found at: <http://www.usfa.fema.gov/fireservice/>.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The ultimate beneficiaries of this program are the local or tribal communities serviced by the applicants, including, but not limited to, local businesses, homeowners and property owners. Additionally, children under 16 years of age, senior citizens, and firefighters would be the beneficiaries since these groups are the targeted "risk groups" for the fire prevention program.

Credentials/Documentation:

Each applicant must certify: 1) that they are an eligible applicant, as defined above; 2) as to the characteristics of their community, i.e., urban, suburban, or rural; 3) to the population size of the community served; and, 4) to their department type, i.e., volunteer, combination, or career (where applicable). Eligible applicants for the AFG program are limited to fire departments, nonaffiliated EMS organizations, and State fire training academies operating in any of the 50 States plus the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa, and Puerto Rico. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Refer to the program guidance and application kit document.

Appeals:

Applicants whose grant requests are not recommended for funding after the peer review panel evaluation may request a reconsideration of that decision. Such a request may be successful if it is determined that the rating criteria were not appropriately applied, or there was a flaw in the competitive process that unfairly disadvantaged the applicant, or there was human error in the processing of the grant application. Requests for reconsideration must be submitted in writing within 30 days of the date of the notification of denial.

Renewals:

The AFG award period of performance is 1 year. Grantees may request an extension if they are unable to fulfill their grant obligations before the end of the 1-year period. Such requests will be considered and approved based on the written justification.

97.045 COOPERATING TECHNICAL PARTNERS

(CTP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973; National Flood Insurance Reform Act of 1994; Flood Insurance Act of 1968

, 42 U.S.C 4101.

OBJECTIVES:

The Cooperating Technical Partners Program was developed to supplement and expand the on-going efforts of participating National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) communities, Tribes, and States (and the agencies and organizations who support them) who perform certain functions in the flood risk analysis, flood hazard identification, flood risk communication and mitigation processes to reduce flood losses and protect life and property from the risk of future flood damage. The Cooperating Technical Partners Program seeks to: increase local involvement in, and ownership of, the development and maintenance of Flood Insurance Rate Maps (FIRMS) and risk related products produced for the NFIP; build and maintain partner capabilities; continue to increase local ownership of data and processes; and establish sound performance criteria for current Cooperating Technical Partners.

In FY 2009, FEMA transitioned from its Map Modernization (Map Mod) program to Risk MAP (Mapping, Assessment, and Planning). The vision for Risk MAP is to deliver quality data that increases public awareness of flood hazard risk and leads to action that reduces flood risk to life and property. Risk MAP builds on flood hazard data and maps produced during the Map Mod program. FEMA collaborates with a variety of stakeholders to achieve the following goals under Risk MAP:

1. Flood Hazard Data. Address gaps in flood hazard data to form a solid foundation for risk assessment, floodplain management, and actuarial soundness of the NFIP.
2. Public Awareness/Outreach. Ensure that a measurable increase of the public awareness and understanding of risk results in a measurable reduction of current and future vulnerability.
3. Hazard Mitigation Planning. Lead and support States, local, and Tribal communities to effectively engage in risk-based mitigation planning resulting in sustainable actions that reduce or eliminate risks to life and property from natural hazards.
4. Enhanced Digital Platform. Provide an enhanced digital platform that improves management of Risk MAP, stewards information produced by Risk MAP, and improves communication and sharing of risk data and related products to all levels of government and the public.
5. Alignment and Synergies. Align Risk Analysis programs and develop synergies to enhance decision-making capabilities through effective risk communication and management.

Information about Risk MAP (including goals, strategies, progress and success stories), can be found on FEMA's website at <http://www.fema.gov/risk-mapping-assessment-planning>.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Assistance may be used for costs associated with Program Management, Technical Risk Analysis and Mapping, Letter of Map Revision (LOMR) Delegation and Special Project activities as delineated in the FY 2013 Funding Opportunity Announcement. Allowable costs are determined by reference to OMB Circulars A-122, A-21, and A-87. Use of funds must be consistent with the statutory authority for the award. Restrictions: The recipient must have in-house staff capabilities in the appropriate technical area for the activity approved in the award. If the work for any portion of a mapping activity is contracted, the recipient of the award must have in-house staff with the technical capability to monitor the contractor(s) and approve the product(s) developed by the contractor(s). Applicants must meet the eligibility criteria outlined in the FY 2013 Funding Opportunity Announcement. This criteria includes (but is not limited to) the requirement that potential partners have existing processes and/or systems in place to support mapping or data collection activities that contribute to flood hazard identification and that potential partners have the demonstrated capability and capacity to implement, or contract, the activities for which funding is being sought. Yes, all funds are discretionary.

Applicant Eligibility:

Only qualified CTPs are eligible for federal assistance awards through this program. Eligible recipients generally include entities who already perform certain functions in flood risk analysis, flood hazard identification, flood risk communication and mitigation processes in States and local communities to reduce flood losses and protect life and property from the risk of future flood damage. Specifically, eligible CTPs include three main groups: (1) NFIP-participating communities, as defined in 44 CFR 59 (typically this includes State, Tribal and local governments), who are in good standing with the NFIP (i.e., not on probation or suspended); (2) State, local and regional governmental agencies, such as water management districts, river authorities, municipal utility districts, State Universities, etc., whose activities support floodplain management and flood mitigation actions within the NFIP communities they serve; and (3) non-profit organizations whose primary mission is to support the ability of NFIP communities to more effectively understand and manage their flood risk. In accordance with Section 1361 of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (42 U.S.C. 4102), these entities and organizations must have existing facilities and services to carry out studies and investigations with respect to land management and use, flood control, flood zoning and flood damage prevention in flood-prone areas, floodways, building codes and permits, and associated laws, regulations and ordinances. For additional information, see the Eligibility Criteria in the Funding Opportunity Announcement.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Potential partners/applicants must meet the criteria outlined in the FY2014 Funding Opportunity Announcement, including (but not limited to): evidence that they have sufficient technical capability (including credentials or certifications) and capacity necessary to perform program activities, a signed Partnership Agreement with the appropriate FEMA office (Region or HQ), and meet the eligibility requirements. Applicants must be NFIP participating communities in good standing. Documentation: Allowable costs are determined by reference to OMB Circulars A-122, A-21, and A-87. For complete information on credentials and documentation, please refer to program guidance. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

97.046 FIRE MANAGEMENT ASSISTANCE GRANT

(FMAG)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Act, Section 420, Public Law 93-288, 42 U.S.C 5187.

OBJECTIVES:

The Fire Management Assistance Grant Program is authorized by the Stafford Act and amended by the Disaster Mitigation Act of 2000. Grants are provided to States, Indian tribal and local governments for the mitigation, management and control of any fire burning on publicly (non-federal) or privately owned forest or grassland that threatens such destruction as would constitute a major disaster. The funds are primarily used for fire suppression services (response) but also for essential assistance (emergency protective measures) as described in Section 403 (42 U.S.C 5170b) of the Stafford Act. This includes, but is not limited to evacuation and sheltering, police barricading, equipment and supplies, and other costs related to fire suppression operations and administration in support of these operations. Of the 31 core capabilities, this program fits into several including the Public Information and Warning, Infrastructure Systems, Environmental Response/Health and Safety, and Natural and Cultural Resources categories.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS; PROVISION OF SPECIALIZED SERVICES

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Fire Management Assistance Grants are made in the form of cost-sharing grants for the mitigation, management, and control of any fire on publicly (nonfederal) or privately owned forestland or grassland that threatens such destruction as would constitute a major disaster. The Fire Management Assistance Grant Program, authorized by the Stafford Act and amended by the Disaster Mitigation Act of 2000, provides for the mitigation, management and control of fires that threaten such destruction as would constitute a major disaster.

Applicant Eligibility:

State governments and Indian tribal governments are eligible for fire management assistance grants. The State or Indian tribal government may be the Grantee. The Grantee is the government to which a grant is awarded, and is accountable for the use of funds provided.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The State Government and/or Indian tribal government, acting as the Grantee, is the government to which the grant is awarded and which is accountable for the use of the funds provided. Other State entities, Indian tribal governments and local governments are eligible to apply for subgrants.

Credentials/Documentation:

Costs will be determined in accordance with FEMA Regulations, 44 CFR Part 204. Federal funds will be awarded to subgrantees in accordance with State law and procedure and in compliance with 44 CFR Part 13 and 204. Grant awards will be determined in accordance with OMB Circulars No. A-87 and No. A-102 for State and local governments. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

A FEMA-State Agreement and/or Indian tribal Agreement for the Fire Management Assistance Grant Program (the agreement) is signed by the Governor/Indian tribal government and the Regional Administrator at the beginning of the calendar year or after a State's first fire management assistance grant declaration in a calendar year. The agreement is amended for subsequent approvals of assistance for the remainder of the year. This agreement outlines the level of fire management assistance to be provided for all fires declared during the calendar year, and contains the necessary terms and conditions for requesting and receiving assistance. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

OMB Circular No. A-102 applies to this program. OMB Circular No. A-110 applies to this program. A State Governor, or Governor's Authorized Representative, may request a fire management assistance declaration from the FEMA Regional Administrator. To expedite the request, the State may submit a telephone request to the Regional Administrator, promptly followed by a confirming message or letter. The FEMA Regional Administrator will render a decision on the State's request and notify the State and FEMA Headquarters of this decision. This decision may be relayed by telephone, to be followed by a written determination.

Award Procedure:

Requests for fire management assistance declarations must be submitted while a fire is burning uncontrolled and threatens such destruction as would constitute a major disaster. The State should submit its grant application within nine (9) months of the declaration. Upon receipt of a written request from the State, the Regional Administrator may grant an extension for up to three (3) months.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 1 hour to 72 hours.

Appeals:

States have the recourse to two types of appeals under the Fire Management Assistance Grant Program. Under the first type of appeal, a Governor, Governor's Authorized Representative, may appeal a denial of its request for a fire management assistance declaration. The State should submit this one-time request for reconsideration in writing, with additional information, to the Deputy Associate Administrator of the Response and Recovery Directorate through the Regional Administrator. The appeal must be submitted within 30 days of the date of the letter denying the State's request. The Deputy Associate Administrator will render the final determination on this type of appeal within 90 days of receipt of the appeal or receipt of the additional information requested. The Deputy Associate Administrator may extend the 30-day period provided that the Governor, or the Governor's Authorized Representative, submits a written request for a time extension within the 30-day period. The Deputy Associate Administrator will evaluate the need for an extension based on the reasons cited in the request and either approve or deny the request for an extension. Under the second type of appeal, an applicant or subgrantee may appeal any determination FEMA makes under an approved fire management assistance declaration through a two level appeal process. Appellants must file appeals within 60 days after receipt of a notice of the action that is being appealed. The Grantee will review and forward appeals from an applicant or subgrantee, with a written recommendation, to the Regional Administrator within 60 days of receipt. The Regional Administrator will render a determination on first appeals for fire management assistance grant-related decisions within 90 days following receipt of the appeal or requested additional information. In the event the Regional Administrator denies the appeal, the applicant may submit a second-level appeal to the Deputy Associate Administrator of the Office of Response and Recovery (formerly the Assistant Administrator for the Recovery Directorate) at FEMA Headquarter Office (for second appeals). Within 90 days following receipt of a second appeal, the Deputy Associate Administrator, will notify the grantee in writing of the disposition of the appeal or of the need for additional information. If the decision is to grant the appeal, the Regional Administrator will take appropriate implementing action. The decision of the Deputy Associate Administrator at the second appeal level is the final administrative decision of FEMA.

Renewals:

None.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory formulas are not applicable to this program.

Matching Requirements: Fire Management Assistance Grants may be available to States on a 75 percent Federal/25 percent nonfederal cost-sharing basis when the State's application demonstrates either of the following: total eligible costs for the declared fire meet or exceed the individual fire cost threshold or total costs of all declared and non-declared fires in a given calendar year meet the cumulative fire cost threshold. The individual fire cost threshold for a State for FY 2013 is the greater of $100,000 or five percent x $1.37 x state population. The cumulative fire cost threshold for a State FY 2013 is the greater of $500,000 or three times the five percent x $1.37 x State population. Both formulas are adjusted annually for inflation using the Consumer Price Index for All Urban Consumers published annually by the Department of Labor. MOE requirements are not applicable to this program.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The time interval during which a declared fire occurs is the incident period. Generally costs must be incurred during the incident period to be considered eligible. Pre-positioning of resources may be approved for Federal funding up to a maximum of 21 days before a declared fire. Mobilization and demobilization also occur outside the incident period and are eligible for Federal funding. Temporary repair work must be completed within 30 days of the close of the incident period for the declared fire. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Payment based on Project need.

Reports:

Within 90 days of the Performance Period expiration date, the State must submit a Financial Status Report (FEMA Form 425) which reports all costs incurred within the incident period and all administrative costs incurred within the performance period. The performance period, defined on the SF-424, may be 9 months from the close of the incident period and may be extended for an additional 3 months by the Regional Administrator. During the performance period the Grantee will submit the subgrants, which document eligible costs; FEMA will review the eligibility of costs, and process, obligate, and close-out the grant. Refer to program guidance. Refer to program guidance. Refer to program guidance. Refer to program guidance.

Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133. These audits are due to the cognizant Federal agency, submitted through the Federal Audit Clearinghouse, not later than 9 months after the end of the grantees fiscal year.

Records:

97.056 PORT SECURITY GRANT PROGRAM

PSGP

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

Maritime Transportation Security Act of 2002, Section 102, Public Law 107-295, 46 U.S.C 70107.

OBJECTIVES:

The FY 2013 PSGP plays an important role in the implementation of the National Preparedness System (NPS) by supporting the building, sustainment, and delivery of core capabilities essential to achieving the National Preparedness Goal (NPG) of a secure and resilient Nation. Delivering core capabilities requires the combined effort of the whole community, rather than the exclusive effort of any single organization or level of government. The FY 2013 PSGPs allowable costs support efforts to build and sustain core capabilities across Prevention, Protection, Mitigation, Response, and Recovery mission areas.

Grantees under the FY 2013 PSGP are encouraged to build and sustain core capabilities through activities such as:

Strengthening governance integration;

Enhancing Maritime Domain Awareness (MDA)

Enhancing IED and Chemical, Biological, Radiological, Nuclear, Explosive (CBRNE) prevention, protection, response and supporting recovery capabilities within the maritime domain

Enhancing cybersecurity capabilities

Maritime Security Risk Mitigation Projects that support Port Resilience and Recovery Capabilities

Training and exercises

Transportation Worker Identification Credential (TWIC) implementation.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The FY 2013 PSGP is one of the Departments FY 2013 grant programs that directly support maritime transportation infrastructure security activities. PSGP is one tool in the comprehensive set of measures authorized by Congress and implemented by the Administration to strengthen the Nations critical infrastructure against risks associated with potential terrorist attacks.

The vast majority of U.S. maritime critical infrastructure is owned and/or operated by State, local, and private sector maritime industry partners. PSGP funds available to these entities are intended to improve port-wide maritime security risk management; enhance maritime domain awareness; support maritime security training and exercises; and to maintain or reestablish maritime security mitigation protocols that support port recovery and resiliency capabilities. PSGP investments must address U.S. Coast Guard identified vulnerabilities in port security and support the prevention, detection, response, and/or recovery from attacks involving improvised explosive devices (IED) and other non-conventional weapons. PSGP grant recipients and sub-recipients may only use PSGP grant funds for the purpose set forth in the grant, and must be consistent with the statutory authority for the award. Grant funds may not be used for matching funds for other Federal grants/cooperative agreements, lobbying, or intervention in Federal regulatory or adjudicatory proceedings. In addition, Federal funds may not be used to sue the Federal government or any other government entity.

Pre-award costs are allowable only with the written consent of DHS and if they are included in the award agreement.

Federal employees are prohibited from serving in any capacity (paid or unpaid) on any proposal submitted under this program. Federal employees may not receive funds under this award. In FY 2013, the total amount of funds distributed under this grant program will be $93,207,313. The FY 2013 PSGP funds will be allocated based on the funding priorities outlined in FY 2013 PSGP Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA).

Applicant Eligibility:

Pursuant to the Maritime Transportation Security Act of 2002, as amended (MTSA), DHS established a risk based grant program to support maritime security risk management. Eligible applicants under the FY 2013 PSGP are listed in Appendix A FY 2013 PSGP Allocations. Funding is directed towards the implementation of Area Maritime Security Plans (AMSP) and Facility Security Plans (FSP) among port authorities, facility operators, and State and local government agencies that are required to provide port security services. In administering the grant program, national, economic, energy, and strategic defense concerns based upon the most current risk assessments available shall be taken into account.

Certain ferry systems are eligible to apply for FY 2013 PSGP funds. However, any ferry system receiving funds under the FY 2013 PSGP will not be eligible to participate under the FY 2013 Transit Security Grant Program (TSGP) and will not be considered for funding under the FY 2013 TSGP. Likewise, any ferry system that participates in the TSGP will not be eligible for funding under the PSGP.

By law, DHS must direct these funds to the Nations highest risk ports. DHS has identified 145 critical ports. Based upon United States Coast Guard (USCG) recommendations, these ports are aggregated into 90 port funding areas. Eligible entities within other Port Areas covered by an AMSP may also apply for PSGP funds.

Within the PSGP, the following entities are encouraged to apply:

Owners or operators of Federally regulated terminals, facilities, U.S. inspected passenger vessels or ferries as defined in the MTSA and 33 CFR Parts 101, 104, 105, and 106

Members of an Area Maritime Security Committee, per 33 CFR Part 103, who are recognized as such by the Captain of the Port (COTP) and are required to provide port security services. Specifically, eligible applicants include port authorities, port police, local law enforcement agencies, port and local fire departments, and facility fire brigades that have jurisdictional authority to respond to incidents in the port

As a condition of eligibility, all PSGP applicants are required to be fully compliant with relevant Maritime Security Regulations (33 CFR Parts 101-106). Any applicant with an open or outstanding Notice of Violation (NOV), as of the grant application submission deadline date, which has been issued to an applicant, and the applicant has (1) failed to pay within 45 days of receipt; (2) failed to decline the NOV within 45 days of receipt (in which case a finding of default will be entered by the Coast Guard in accordance with 33 CFR 1.07-11[f][2]); or (3) the applicant has appealed the NOV as provided for in 33 CFR 1.07-70 and is in receipt of a final appeal decision from Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard, as described in 33 CFR 1.07-75, and has failed to come into compliance with the final adjudication within the timelines noted therein, will not be allowed to make application for a Port Security Grant. COTP will verify security compliance eligibility during the field review process.

For a listing of eligible Port Areas, please refer to Appendix A FY 2013 PSGP Allocations. Eligibility does not guarantee grant funding.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Critical national seaports and terminals.

Credentials/Documentation:

No Credentials or documentation are required. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

For more information, refer to the FY2013 PSGP FOA. An environmental impact statement is required for this program. An environmental impact assessment is required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

1. Application via Grants.gov. All applicants must file their applications using the Administrations common electronic storefront <http://www.grants.gov>. Eligible grantees must apply for funding through this portal, accessible on the Internet at <http://www.grants.gov>.

The application must be started and submitted using Grants.gov after registration in the System for Award Management (SAM) is confirmed. The on-line application includes the following required form:

Standard Form 424, Application for Federal Assistance

Applying for FY 2013 PSGP funds requires a two-step process. Step One: initial submission to determine eligibility and Step Two: full application. Applicants are encouraged to initiate Step One as soon after the FOA is published but no later than June 24, 2013. This involves submitting a complete Standard Form 424 to <http://www.grants.gov>. The Standard Form 424 will be retrieved by ND Grants and the system will automatically populate the relevant data fields in the application. Successful completion of this step is necessary for FEMA to determine eligibility of the applicant. Late submissions to Grants.gov to complete Step One could result in applicants missing the application deadline in Step Two. Once FEMA has determined an applicant to be eligible, applicants can proceed to Step Two which involves submitting the full application package via the ND Grants system. The submission deadline for the full application package is July 1, 2013.

The application must be completed and final submission made through the ND Grants system located at <https://portal.fema.gov>. If you need assistance registering for the ND Grants system, please contact ndgrants@fema.gov or (800) 865-4076. Applicants are encouraged to begin their ND Grants registration at the time of solicitation to ensure they have adequate time to start and complete their application submission. Unless otherwise referenced, the ND Grants system includes the following required forms and submissions:

Applicants can receive a DUNS number at no cost by calling the dedicated toll-free DUNS Number request line at (866) 705-5711.

3. System for Award Management (SAM). The application process also involves an updated and current SAM registration by the applicant at <http://www.sam.gov>. Please ensure that your organizations name, address, DUNS number and EIN are up to date in SAM and that the DUNS number used in SAM is the same one used to apply for all FEMA awards. Future payments will be contingent on the information provided in SAM; therefore it is imperative that the information is correct.

Applicants will obtain FOA Overviews and Full Announcement information from the Grants.gov website where the full FOA is posted.

In addition, the following Telephone Device for the Deaf (TDD) and/or Federal Information Relay Service (FIRS) number available for this Announcement is: (800) 462-7585.

Applications will be processed through the Grants.gov portal and the ND Grants system.

Hard copies of the application will not be accepted.

Award Procedure:

Initial Screening. FEMA will conduct an initial review of all FY 2013 PSGP applications to ensure each application is complete. All complete applications will be provided to the applicable COTP for further review.

Field Review. Field-level reviews will be managed by the applicable COTP in coordination with the Gateway Directors of the U.S. Department of Transportation (DOTs) Maritime Administration (MARAD) and appropriate personnel from the AMSC, to include owner/operators of MTSA regulated facilities and vessels, as well as Federal, State, and local agencies, as identified by the COTP. To support coordination of and regionalization of maritime security grant application projects with State and Urban Area homeland security strategies, as well as other State and local security plans, AMSC members representing State and local agencies should coordinate the results with the applicable State administrative agency or agencies and State homeland security advisor(s).

Field reviews for all Groups occur immediately following the initial screening. Each specific project is scored for compliance with criteria enumerated in the previous section and the COTP/MARAD provides a prioritized list of eligible maritime security risk mitigation projects for funding within each port area. The COTP will use the COTP Field Review Form to review all projects.

After completing field reviews, COTPs will submit the field review project scores, any associated comments, and prioritized lists to FEMA who will begin coordination of the national review process.

Deadlines:

May 21, 2013 to Jul 01, 2013 Applying for FY 2013 PSGP funds requires a two-step process. Step One: initial submission to determine eligibility and Step Two: full application. Applicants are encouraged to initiate Step One immediately after the FOA is published but no later than June 24, 2013. This involves submitting a complete Standard Form 424 to Grants.gov. Successful completion of this step is necessary for FEMA to determine eligibility of the applicant. Late submissions of Step One to Grants.gov could result in applicants missing the application deadline in Step Two. Once FEMA has determined an applicant to be eligible, applicants can proceed to Step Two which involves submitting the full application package via the Non Disaster (ND) Grants system. The submission deadline for the full application package is July 1, 2013. For additional details see Section X of the full FOA.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Following the field review, a National Review Panel (NRP), comprised of subject matter experts drawn from DHS and DOT, will convene and conduct a national level review. The purpose of the National Review is to identify a final, prioritized list of eligible projects for funding. The NRP will conduct an initial review of the prioritized project listings for each port area submitted by the USCGs COTP to ensure that the proposed projects will accomplish intended risk mitigation goals. The NRP will validate and normalize the COTP Field Review Project Priority List and provide a master list of prioritized projects by port area.

The NRP will have the ability to recommend partial funding for individual projects and eliminate others that are determined to be duplicative or require a sustained Federal commitment to fully realize the intended risk mitigation. The NRP will also validate proposed project costs. Decisions to reduce requested funding amounts or eliminate requested items deemed inappropriate under the scope of the FY 2013 PSGP will take into consideration the ability of the revised project to address the intended national port security priorities and achieve the intended risk mitigation goal. Historically, PSGP has placed a high priority on providing full project funding rather than partial funding.

A risk-based analysis will then be applied to the NRPs prioritized list for each port area in all groups. This analysis considers the following factors to produce a comprehensive national priority ranking of port security proposals:

- Relationship of the project to one or more of the national port security priorities
- Relationship of the project to the local port security priorities
- COTP ranking (based on each COTPs prioritized list of projects)
- Risk level of the port area in which the project would be located (based on a comprehensive risk analysis performed by DHS)
- Effectiveness and feasibility of project to be completed in support of above priorities during the period of performance

The NRP will be asked to evaluate and validate the consolidated and ranked project list and submit their recommendations to FEMA. The NRP may request additional information or clarification from applicants. The Secretary of Homeland Security will have the final approval authority on all projects.

FEMA may place minimum project effectiveness limit on all projects submitted. Projects failing to meet the minimum level of effectiveness may not be considered for funding.

Funds will not be made available for obligation, expenditure, or drawdown until the applicants detailed budget and budget narrative have been approved by FEMA.

The applicant must provide a detailed budget for the funds requested. The detailed budget must be submitted with the grant application as a file attachment within ND Grants. The budget must be complete, reasonable, and cost-effective in relation to the proposed project. The budget must provide the basis of computation of all project-related costs, any appropriate narrative, and a detailed justification of M&A costs.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

This program has no statutory formula.

Matching Requirements: The following match requirements apply for the FY 2013 PSGP (including ferry systems):

Public Sector. Public sector applicants must provide a non-Federal match (cash or in-kind) supporting at least 25 percent (25%) of the total project cost for each proposed project.

Private Sector. Private sector applicants must provide a non-Federal match (cash or in-kind) supporting at least 50 percent (50%) of the total project cost for each proposed project.

Other Matching Requirements Information:

Exceptions. The following exceptions to the cost-match requirement may apply:

There is no matching requirement for grant awards where the total award is $25,000 or less (with the exception of national and/or regional corporations submitting 11 or more projects throughout their system[s]).

There is no matching requirement for grants to train law enforcement agency personnel in the enforcement of security zones as defined by 46 U.S.C. 70132, 70107(c)(2)(C) or in assisting in the enforcement of such security zones.

If the Secretary of Homeland Security determines that a proposed project merits support and cannot be undertaken without a higher rate of Federal support, the Secretary may approve grants with a matching requirement other than that specified above in accordance with Title 46, Section 70107 of the United States Code of Federal Regulations (46 U.S.C. 70107(c)(2)(B)). Cost match waivers under 46 U.S.C. 70107(c)(2)(B) may be granted only if the Secretary of DHS determines that (1) a proposed project merits support in light of the overall grant purpose and mission goals; and (2) the Secretary of DHS determines that the meritorious project cannot be undertaken without a higher rate of Federal support. See FEMA Grant Programs Directorate (GPD) Information Bulletin (IB) 376, dated January 4, 2012 for further information on the PSGP cost match waiver process (<http://www.fema.gov/pdf/government/grant/bulletins/info376.pdf>).

Cash and in-kind matches must consist of eligible costs (i.e., purchase price of allowable contracts, equipment). A cash match includes cash spent for project-related costs while an in-kind match includes the valuation of in-kind services. The cost-match requirement for the PSGP award may not be met by costs borne by another Federal grant or assistance program. Likewise, in-kind matches used to meet the matching requirement for the PSGP award may not be used to meet matching requirements for any other Federal grant program (e.g., FY 2013 funds are used to purchase a mobile command center from a vendor, the vendor contributes or donates communications equipment associated with the mobile command center, the value of the donated equipment may be considered as an in-kind match for the PSGP award only). Please see Title 44, Part 13, Section 24 of the Code of Federal Regulations (44 CFR 13.24) for further guidance regarding in-kind matches. (<http://ecfr.gpoaccess.gov/cgi/t/text/text-idx?type=simple;c=ecfr;cc=ecfr;sid=183d717ad04a78067db6a831421874ea;idno=44;region=DIV1;q1=13;rgn=div5;view=text;node=44%3A1.0.1.1.14>).

The cost match requirement must be included in the applicant's detailed budget.

The applicant must demonstrate that sufficient funds are available for the recipients share of the project at the time of the application (46 U.S.C. 70107(e)(4)(B)). Projects without a detailed budget demonstrating the required cost match will not be considered for funding.

The non-Federal share can be cash or in-kind, with the exception of construction activities, which must be a cash-match (hard). This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The period of performance is 24 months. For more information, refer to the FY2013 PSGP FOA. Awards are subject to the Cash Management Improvement Act for payment and/or reimbursement of expenditures. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Grantees must accept their grant awards no later than 90 days from the award date. The grantee shall notify the awarding agency of its intent to accept and proceed with work under the award, or provide a written notice of intent to decline. Funds will remain on hold until the grantee accepts the award through official correspondence (e.g., written, electronic signature, signed letter or fax to GPD) and all other conditions of award have been satisfied, or the award is otherwise rescinded. Failure to accept the grant award within the 90 day timeframe may result in a loss of funds.

Reports:

Exercise Evaluation and Improvement. Exercises implemented with grant funds should evaluate performance of the capabilities required to respond to the exercise scenario. Guidance related to exercise evaluation and the implementation of improvements is defined in the Homeland Security Exercise and Evaluation Program located at <https://hseep.dhs.gov>. Federal Financial Report (FFR) required quarterly. Obligations and expenditures must be reported on a quarterly basis through the FFR (SF-425). A report must be submitted for every quarter of the period of performance, including partial calendar quarters, as well as for periods where no grant activity occurs. After these reports have been reviewed and approved by FEMA, a close-out notice will be completed to close out the grant. The notice will indicate the period of performance as closed, list any remaining funds that will be deobligated, and address the requirement of maintaining the grant records for three years from the date of the final FFR. The grantee is responsible for returning any funds that have been drawn down but remain as unliquidated on grantee financial records. Performance Progress Report (SF-PPR). Awardees are responsible for providing updated performance reports using the SF-PPR (OMB Approval Number 0970-0334) on a semi-annual basis. The SF-PPR is due within 30 days after the end of the reporting period (July 30 for the reporting period of January 1 through June 30; and January 30 for the reporting period of July 1 through December 31). The SF-PPR can be accessed online at http://www.na.fs.fed.us/fap/SF-PPR_Cover%20Sheet.pdf. Federal Financial Report (FFR) required quarterly. Monitoring may be accomplished through either a desk-based review or on-site monitoring visits, or both. Monitoring will involve the review and analysis of the financial, programmatic, performance, compliance and administrative processes, policies, activities, and other attributes of each Federal assistance award and will identify areas where technical assistance, corrective actions and other support may be needed.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. The purpose of the National Review is to identify a final, prioritized list of eligible projects for funding. The NRP will conduct an initial review of the prioritized project listings for each port area submitted by the USCGs COTP to ensure that the proposed projects will accomplish intended risk mitigation goals. The NRP will validate and normalize the COTP Field Review Project Priority List and provide a master list of prioritized projects by port area.

The NRP will have the ability to recommend partial funding for individual projects and eliminate others that are determined to be duplicative or require a sustained Federal commitment to fully realize the intended risk mitigation. The NRP will also validate proposed project costs. Decisions to reduce requested funding amounts or eliminate requested items deemed inappropriate under the scope of the FY 2013 PSGP will take into consideration the ability of the revised project to address the intended national port security priorities and achieve the intended risk mitigation goal. Historically, PSGP has placed a high priority on providing full project funding rather than partial funding.

A risk-based analysis will then be applied to the NRPs prioritized list for each port area in all groups. This analysis considers the following factors to produce a comprehensive national priority ranking of port security proposals:

- Relationship of the project to one or more of the national port security priorities
- Relationship of the project to the local port security priorities
- COTP ranking (based on each COTPs prioritized list of projects)
- Risk level of the port area in which the project would be located (based on a comprehensive risk analysis performed by DHS)
- Effectiveness and feasibility of project to be completed in support of above priorities during the period of performance

The NRP will be asked to evaluate and validate the consolidated and ranked project list and submit their recommendations to FEMA. The NRP may request additional information or clarification from applicants. The Secretary of Homeland Security will have the final approval authority on all projects.

FEMA may place minimum project effectiveness limit on all projects submitted. Projects failing to meet the minimum level of effectiveness may not be considered for funding.

Funds will not be made available for obligation, expenditure, or drawdown until the applicants detailed budget and budget narrative have been approved by FEMA.

The applicant must provide a detailed budget for the funds requested. The detailed budget must be submitted with the grant application as a file attachment within ND Grants. The budget must be complete, reasonable, and cost-effective in relation to the proposed project. The budget must provide the basis of computation of all project-related costs, any appropriate narrative, and a detailed justification of M&A costs.

97.067 HOMELAND SECURITY GRANT PROGRAM (HSGP and THSGP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

The Homeland Security Act of 2002, Public Law 107-296; Implementing Recommendations of 9/11 Commission Act of 2007, Public Law 110-53; Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act of 2013, Public Law 113-6.

OBJECTIVES:

FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP provide grant funding to assist state and local governments in obtaining the resources required to support the National Preparedness Goals (NPGs) associated mission areas and core capabilities. FY 2012 THSGP provides funding directly to eligible tribes to help strengthen the nation against risks associated with potential terrorist attacks. The FY 2012 HSGP is comprised of three interconnected grant programs:

State Homeland Security Program (SHSP): SHSP supports the implementation of State Homeland Security Strategies to address the identified planning, organization, equipment, training, and exercise needs to prevent, protect against, mitigate, respond to, and recover from acts of terrorism and other catastrophic events.

Urban Areas Security Initiative (UASI): The UASI program addresses the unique planning, organization, equipment, training, and exercise needs of high-threat, high-density Urban Areas, and assists them in building an enhanced and sustainable capacity to prevent, protect against, mitigate, respond to, and recover from acts of terrorism.

Operation Stonegarden (OPSG): OPSG supports enhanced cooperation and coordination among local, tribal, territorial, State, and Federal law enforcement agencies in a joint mission to secure the United States borders along routes of ingress from international borders to include travel corridors in States bordering Mexico and Canada, as well as States and territories with international water borders.

All three programs are founded on risk-driven, capabilities-based strategic plans. These strategic plans outline capability requirements and inform how available funding may be applied to manage risk. For these plans to be effective, government officials and elected leaders, working with the whole community, must consider how to sustain current capability levels and address potential shortfalls to prevent, protect, mitigate, respond to, and recover from disasters.

The FY 2013 HSGP plays an important role in the implementation of the National Preparedness System (NPS) by supporting the building, sustainment, and delivery of core capabilities essential to achieving the National Preparedness Goal (NPG) of a secure and resilient Nation. Delivering core capabilities requires the combined effort of the whole community, rather than the exclusive effort of any single organization or level of government. The FY 2013 HSGPs allowable costs support efforts to build and sustain core capabilities across the Prevention, Protection, Mitigation, Response, and Recovery mission areas by setting the following priorities and objectives:

Priority One: Implementation of the NPS and a Whole Community Approach to Homeland Security and Emergency Management

Objective One: Completion of the THIRA process in alignment with National Preparedness System guidance to identify the resources required to deliver core capabilities.

Objective Two: Conduct risk driven, capabilities-based planning through whole community councils and working groups.

Objective Three: Organization Typing of equipment, and credentialing and training of personnel.

Objective Four: Sustaining Capabilities.

Priority Two: Building and Sustaining Law Enforcement Terrorism Prevention Capabilities

Objective One: Nationwide Suspicious Activity Reporting Initiative (NSI)

Priority Three: Maturation and Enhancement of State and Major Urban Area Fusion Centers

Objective One: Baseline Capabilities.

Objective Two: Analytic Capabilities.

The Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act, 2013 (Public Law 113-6) authorized additional funding allocated at the discretion of the Secretary of the Department Homeland Security, to support appropriated programs in FY 2013. DHS has augmented the SHSP and UASI grant programs in FY 2013 by allocating an additional $163.4 million to support the following priority areas:

Priority Four: Innovation and Sustained Support for the National Campaign for Preparedness

Objective One: Foster individual and community preparedness and resilience by identifying needs; mobilizing partners; and creating innovative and effective solutions that can be grown, sustained, and replicated.

Priority Five: Improve Immediate Emergency Victim Care at Mass Casualty Events

Objective One: Improve emergency care to victims of mass casualty events, including mass shootings.

Objective Two: Improve community first aid training.

Minimum funding amounts are not prescribed by the Department for these priorities; however grantees are expected to support state, local, and regional efforts in achieving the desired outcomes of one or more of these priorities.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

DHS grant funds may only be used for the purpose set forth in the grant, and must be consistent with the statutory authority for the award. Grant funds may not be used for matching funds for other Federal grants/cooperative agreements, lobbying, or intervention in Federal regulatory or adjudicatory proceedings. In addition, Federal funds may not be used to sue the Federal government or any other government entity. Pre-award costs are allowable only with the written consent of DHS and if they are included in the award agreement. Although no longer funded as discrete grant programs, all activities and costs allowed under the FY 2010 Buffer Zone Protection Program (BZPP), FY 2010 Interoperable Emergency Communications Grant Program (IECGP), FY 2011 Citizen Corps Program (CCP), FY 2011 Drivers License Security Grant Program (DLSGP), and FY 2011 Metropolitan Medical Response System (MMRS) grant program are allowable and encouraged activities and costs under the FY 2012 HSGP. For additional information on allowable activities under the aforementioned grant programs, please refer to <http://www.fema.gov/government/grant/nondisaster.shtm>.

Federal employees are prohibited from serving in any capacity (paid or unpaid) on any proposal submitted under this program. Federal employees may not receive funds under this award. There may be limitations on the use of HSGP and THSGP funds for the following categories of costs:

- Management and Administration
- Planning
- Organization
- Equipment
- Training
- Exercises
- Maintenance and Sustainment
- Critical Emergency Supplies
- Construction and Renovation

For additional details on restrictions on the use of funds, please refer to the FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP Funding Opportunity Announcement.

THSGP grantees may only fund investments that were included in the FY 2012 Investment Justifications (IJs) that were submitted to FEMA and evaluated through the peer review process. SHSP and UASI Pass-Through Requirements: Awards made to the SAA for HSGP carry additional pass-through requirements. Pass-through is defined as an obligation on the part of the States to make funds available to local units of government, combinations of local units, or other specific groups or organizations. The States pass-through requirement must be met within 45 days of the award date for the HSGP. Four requirements must be met to pass-through grant funds:

There must be some action to establish a firm commitment on the part of the awarding entity.

The action must be unconditional on the part of the awarding entity (i.e., no contingencies for availability of SAA funds).

There must be documentary evidence of the commitment.

The award terms must be communicated to the official grantee.

The SAA must obligate at least 80 percent (80%) of the funds awarded under SHSP and UASI to local units of government within 45 days of receipt of the funds. For Puerto Rico, the SAA must also obligate at least 80 percent (80%) of the funds to local units of government within 45 days of receipt of the funds. No pass-through requirements will be applied to the District of Columbia, Guam, American Samoa, the U.S. Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands. Any UASI funds retained by the SAA must be used to directly support the designated Urban Areas in the State. Under SHSP, the State may retain more than 20 percent (20%) of SHSP funding for expenditure made by the State on behalf of the local unit of government. This may occur only with the written consent of the local unit of government, with the written consent specifying the amount of funds to be retained and the intended use of funds. If a written consent agreement is already in place from previous fiscal years, FEMA will continue to recognize it for FY 2012. If any modifications to the existing agreement are necessary to reflect new initiatives, States should contact their assigned FEMA Program Analyst. If UASI funds are used by the SAA in support of the Urban Area, the SAA must, as part of the up to 10 Investments, propose an Investment describing how UASI funds will be used by the SAA to directly support the Urban Area. OPSG Funds: The recipient is prohibited from obligating or expending funds provided through this award until each unique and specific county level or equivalent Operational Order/Fragmentary Operations Order with an embedded estimated operational budget has been reviewed and approved through an official e-mail notice issued by FEMA removing this special programmatic condition. Funds Transfer Restriction: The recipient is prohibited from transferring funds between programs (SHSP, UASI, and OPSG). Grantees are allowed to submit an Investment/project where funds come from multiple funding sources (i.e., SHSP/UASI); however, grantees are not allowed to divert funding from one program to another due to the risk-based funding allocations, which were made at the discretion of DHS. FY 2012 OPSG funds will be allocated based on risk-based prioritization using a U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Sector-specific border risk methodology to include, but not limited to: threat, vulnerability, miles of border, and other border-specific law enforcement intelligence, as well as feasibility of FY 2012 Operation Orders to designated localities within the United States border States and territories. Eligible sub-recipients under the FY 2012 OPSG are local units of government at the county level and federally-recognized tribal governments in the States bordering Canada (including Alaska), States bordering Mexico, and States and territories with international water borders. The SAA is the only entity eligible to apply to FEMA for FY 2012 OPSG funds on behalf of the county or similar level of government and federally-recognized tribal governments. Eligible States and territories without a county or similar level of government structure are authorized to accept applications on behalf of the alternative unit of local government. SAAs in this situation must advise FEMA in writing as to their intent. Note: Not all applicants are guaranteed to receive funding under the FY 2012 OPSG. FY 2012 THSGP funds will be allocated based on two factors: Eligibility, as defined in 9/11 Act and self-certified by applicant, and Effectiveness: the score of the applicants THSGP Investment Justification (as determined through a peer review process). With respect to the effectiveness criteria, THSGP IJs will be evaluated through a peer review process for completeness, adherence to programmatic guidelines and the anticipated effectiveness of the proposed Investment(s). Only the information included in the IJ will be scored in the review process. As part of the FY 2012 THSGP scoring process, applicants who have not received funding in prior years will receive five (5) points in addition to the peer reviewers average score for each Investment submitted as part of their IJ.

Applicant Eligibility:

All 56 States and territories are eligible to apply for SHSP funds. For those States and territories that are eligible for UASI and/or OPSG funds, the SAA is the only entity eligible to submit applications to FEMA on behalf of UASI and OPSG applicants. National Incident Management System (NIMS)

Implementation

In accordance with Homeland Security Presidential Directive (HSPD)-5, Management of Domestic Incidents, the adoption of NIMS is a requirement to receive Federal preparedness assistance, through grants, contracts, and other activities. Prior to allocation of any Federal preparedness awards in FY 2012, grantee must ensure compliance and/or alignment with FY 2011 NIMS implementation plan. The list of objectives against which progress and achievement are assessed and reported can be found at <http://www.fema.gov/emergency/nims/ImplementationGuidanceStakeholders.htm#item2>. The primary grantee/administrator of FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP award funds is responsible for determining if sub-awardees have demonstrated sufficient progress in NIMS implementation to disburse awards.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

THSGP: Native American Tribal Government (Federally recognized)

HSGP: State and local governments

THSGP: In order to be eligible to receive THSGP funding, grantees must be considered directly eligible Tribes. Per the 9/11 Act, the term directly eligible Tribe means

(A) any Indian Tribe

(i) that is located in the continental United States;

(ii) that operates a law enforcement or emergency response agency with the capacity to respond to calls for law enforcement or emergency services;

(iii) a. that is located on or near (50 miles) an international border or a coastline bordering an ocean (including the Gulf of Mexico) or international waters (excluding shoreline border around the Great Lakes);

b. that is located within 10 miles of a system or asset included on the prioritized critical infrastructure list established under section 210E(a)(2) [please refer to section 1001 of the 9/11 Act] or has such a system or asset within its territory;

c. that is located within or contiguous to one of the 50 most populous metropolitan statistical areas in the United States; or

d. the jurisdiction of which includes not less than 1,000 square miles of Indian country, as that term is defined in section 1151 of title 18, United States Code; and

(iv) that certifies to the Secretary that a State has not provided funds under section 2003 [UASI] or 2004 [SHSP] to the Indian Tribe or consortium of Indian Tribes for the purpose for which direct funding is sought; and

(B) a consortium of Indian Tribes, if each Tribe satisfies the requirements of subparagraph (A).

In summary, eligible Tribes must meet the requirements set forth in (A) (i), and (A) (ii), and (A) (iv). Tribes must also meet one of the requirements set forth in (A) (iii); either (A) (iii) (a), or (A) (iii) (b), or (A) (iii) (c), or (A) (iii) (d).

Finally, (B) may also be satisfied, if each Tribe satisfies the requirements of subparagraph (A).

In FY 2012, applicants must self-certify as to whether they meet the eligibility requirements. Self-certification will be provided on the THSGP Eligibility Certification Form as part of Application Investment Justification. Any questions regarding an applicants proximity to a Critical Infrastructure and Key Structures (CI/KR) site, as described in the eligibility criteria, may be directed to the State Administrative Agency (SAA). Any additional questions regarding the overall self-certification of eligibility process may be directed to the Centralized Scheduling and Information Desk (CSID). CSID can be reached by phone at (800) 368-6498 or by e-mail at askcsid@dhs.gov, Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. 5:30 p.m. EST.

Credentials/Documentation:

Investment Justification (SHSP and UASI). As part of the FY 2012 HSGP application process for SHSP and UASI funds, applicants must develop a formal IJ that addresses each Investment being proposed for funding. The IJ must demonstrate how proposed projects address gaps and deficiencies in delivering one or more core capabilities outlined in the NPG and must also describe engagement with and/or impacts on the general population, to include children and individuals with disabilities such as those with access and functional needs. The IJ must demonstrate the ability to provide enhancements consistent with the purpose of the program and guidance provided by FEMA. Instructions for SHSP:

Applicants may propose up to 10 Investments within their IJ to describe the activities they would like to implement with SHSP funds.

Of the up to 10 Investments, applicants are required to propose at least one Investment to provide funding support to the States primary fusion center, as designated by the Governor. Grantees must coordinate with the fusion center when developing a fusion center Investment prior to submission.

Instructions for UASI:

Urban Areas may propose up to 10 Investments within their IJ to describe the activities they would like to implement with UASI funds.

If applicable, of the up to 10 Investments, Urban Areas are required to propose at least one Investment in support of a DHS-recognized fusion center within the Urban Area. Grantees must coordinate with the fusion center when developing a fusion center Investment prior to submission.

If UASI funds are used by the SAA in support of the Urban Area, the SAA must, as part of the up to 10 Investments, propose an Investment describing how UASI funds will be used by the SAA to directly support the Urban Area. For specific instructions on completing and submitting Investments, please refer to the FY 2012 HSGP Funding Opportunity Announcement. Operations Order and Detailed Budget Summary (OPSG). As part of the FY 2012 OPSG application process, each eligible local unit of government at the county level or federally-recognized tribal government must develop their Operations Order in coordination with State and Federal law enforcement agencies, to include, but not limited to CBP/BP. Operations Orders that are developed at the county level should be inclusive of city, county, tribal, and other local law enforcement agencies that are eligible to participate in OPSG operational activities, and the Operations Order should address this in the Executive Summary. The details should include the names of the agencies, the points of contact, and the individual funding requests. All applications must be coordinated through the CBP sector office and that BP will forward application to the SAA for review. OMB Circular No. A-87 applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is eligible for coverage under E.O. 12372, "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs." An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance, if the State has selected the program for review.

Application Procedures:

OMB Circular No. A-102 applies to this program. OMB Circular No. A-110 applies to this program. Application deadline and other information are contained in the FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP FOA. Applying for FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP funds require a two-step process. Step One: initial submission to determine eligibility and Step Two: full application. Applicants are encouraged to initiate Step One immediately after the FOA is published but no later than April 27, 2012. This involves submitting a complete Standard Form 424 to Grants.gov. Successful completion of this step is necessary for FEMA to determine eligibility of the applicant. Late submissions of Step One to Grants.gov could result in applicants missing the application deadline in Step Two. Once FEMA has determined an applicant to be eligible, applicants can proceed to Step Two which involves submitting the full application package via the Non Disaster (ND) Grants system. The submission deadline for the full application package is May 4, 2012. For additional information and program-specific application requirements, refer to the FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP Funding Opportunity Announcement.

Award Procedure:

In FY 2012, the total amount of funds distributed under this grant program will be $830,976,000. The specific information regarding funding allocations for the three HSGP programs are detailed below:

SHSP Allocations: FY 2012 SHSP funds will be allocated based on three factors: minimum amounts as legislatively mandated, DHS risk methodology, and anticipated effectiveness based on the strength of the Investment Justification (IJ). Each State and territory will receive a minimum allocation under SHSP using the thresholds established in the 9/11 Act. All 50 States, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico will receive 0.35 percent of the total funds allocated for grants under Section 2003 and Section 2004 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002, as amended by the 9/11 Act, for SHSP. Four territories (American Samoa, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, and the U.S. Virgin Islands) will receive a minimum allocation of 0.08 percent of the total funds allocated for grants under Section 2003 and 2004 of the Homeland Security Act of 2002, as amended by the 9/11 Act, for SHSP. UASI Allocations: FY 2012 UASI funds will be allocated based on DHS risk methodology and anticipated effectiveness based on the strength of the IJ. Eligible candidates for the FY 2012 UASI program have been determined through an analysis of relative risk of terrorism faced by the 100 most populous metropolitan statistical areas in the United States, in accordance with the 9/11

Act. LETPA Allocations: Per the Homeland Security Act of 2002 (Public Law 107296), title XX, 2006, as amended by the 9/11 Act, title I, 101, August 3, 2007, 121 Stat. 280, 6 U.S.C. 607, States are required to ensure that at least 25 percent (25%) of the combined HSGP funds allocated under SHSP and UASI are dedicated towards law enforcement terrorism prevention activities linked to one or more core capabilities within the NPG. The LETPA allocation can be from SHSP, UASI or both. OPSG Allocations: FY 2012 OPSG funds will be allocated based on risk-based prioritization using a U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) Sector-specific border risk methodology to include, but not limited to: threat, vulnerability, miles of border, and other border-specific law enforcement intelligence, as well as feasibility of FY 2012 Operation Orders to designated localities within the United States border States and territories. Eligible sub-recipients under the FY 2012 OPSG are local units of government at the county level and federally-recognized tribal governments in the States bordering Canada (including Alaska), States bordering Mexico, and States and territories with international water borders. The SAA is the only entity eligible to apply to FEMA for FY 2012 OPSG funds on behalf of the county or similar level of government and federally-recognized tribal governments. Eligible States and territories without a county or similar level of government structure are authorized to accept applications on behalf of the alternative unit of local government. SAAs in this situation must advise FEMA in writing as to their intent. Note: Not all applicants are guaranteed to receive funding under the FY 2012 OPSG.

FY 2012 THSGP funds will be allocated based on two factors: Eligibility, as defined in 9/11 Act and self-certified by applicant, and Effectiveness: the score of the applicants THSGP Investment Justification (as determined through a peer review process). With respect to the effectiveness criteria, THSGP IJs will be evaluated through a peer review process for completeness, adherence to programmatic guidelines and the anticipated effectiveness of the proposed Investment(s). Only the information included in the IJ will be scored in the review process. As part of the FY 2012 THSGP scoring process, applicants who have not received funding in prior years will receive five (5) points in addition to the peer reviewers average score for each Investment submitted as part of their IJ.

The following process will be used to make awards under the THSGP:

Applicants will self-certify as to Tribal eligibility per the 9/11 Act;

FEMA will verify compliance with all administrative and eligibility criteria identified in the application kit, to include the required submission of an IJ by the established due dates;

Eligible applications will be reviewed and scored through a peer review process to analyze the anticipated effectiveness of proposed Investments; and

FEMA will use the results of the peer review effectiveness scores to make recommendations for funding to the Secretary of Homeland Security.

Deadlines:

Feb 17, 2012 to May 04, 2012 Application Start Date: 02/17/2012

Application Submission Deadline Date: 05/04/2012 at 11:59:59 PM EDT

Anticipated Funding Selection Date: 06/29/2012

Anticipated Award Date: 09/30/2012.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Refer to FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP Funding Opportunity Announcement.

Anticipated Funding Selection Date is 06/29/2012. FY 2012 SHSP and UASI are non-competitive programs. Funds for FY 2012 OPSG will be allocated competitively. This includes the use of risk-based prioritization using CBP Sector-specific border risk to include, but not limited to: threat, vulnerability, miles of border, and other border-specific law enforcement intelligence. Each applicants final funding allocation will be determined by using a combination of the results of the risk analysis and feasibility of the Operations Orders. The following process will be used to make awards under FY 2012 THSGP:

Applicants will self-certify as to tribal eligibility per the 9/11 Act;

FEMA will verify compliance with all administrative and eligibility criteria identified in the application kit, to include the required submission of an IJ by the established due dates;

Eligible applications will be reviewed and scored through a peer review process to analyze the anticipated effectiveness of proposed Investments; and

FEMA will use the results of the peer review effectiveness scores to make recommendations for funding to the Secretary of Homeland Security.

This program has no matching requirements. None.

This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The Period of Performance is 24 months. For more information, refer to the FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP Funding Opportunity Announcement. Awards are subject to the Cash Management Act for payment and/or reimbursement of expenditures.

The period of performance outlined above support the effort to expedite the outlay of grant funding and provide economic stimulus. Agencies should request waivers sparingly, and they will be granted only due to compelling legal, policy, or operational challenges. For example, tribal grantees may request waivers from the deadlines outlined above for discretionary grant funds where adjusting the timeline for spending will constitute a verifiable legal breach of contract by the grantee with vendors or sub-recipients, or where a specific statute or regulation mandates an environmental review that cannot be completed within this timeframe or where other exceptional circumstances warrant a discrete waiver. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Based on project need.

Reports:

All successful applicants for all DHS grant and cooperative agreements are required to comply with DHS Standard Administrative Terms and Conditions available within Section 6.1.1 of <http://www.dhs.gov/xlibrary/assets/cfo-financial-management-policy-manual.pdf>. Federal Financial Report (FFR) required quarterly. Obligations and expenditures must be reported on a quarterly basis through the FFR (SF-425). A report must be submitted for every quarter of the period of performance, including partial calendar quarters, as well as for periods where no grant activity occurs. Future awards and fund draw downs may be withheld if these reports are delinquent. The final FFR is due 90 days after the end date of the performance period. FFRs must be filed electronically through PARS. Initial Strategy Implementation Plan (ISIP). Following the award of grant funds, awardees will be responsible for reporting planned expenditures of the newly awarded grant funds to meet the pass-through requirement. The applicable SAAs are responsible for completing and submitting the ISIP online. The ISIP is due within 45 days of the award date.

Grant Close-Out Process. Within 90 days after the end of the period of performance, or after a Grant Adjustment Notice (GAN) has been issued to close out a grant, whichever comes first, grantees must submit a final FFR and final progress report detailing all accomplishments throughout the period of performance. After these reports have been reviewed and approved by FEMA, a close-out notice will be completed to close out the grant. The notice will indicate the period of performance as closed, list any remaining funds that will be deobligated, and address the requirement of maintaining the grant records for three years from the date of the final FFR. The grantee is responsible for returning any funds that have been drawn down but remain as unliquidated on grantee financial records. Performance Progress Report (SF-PPR). Awardees are responsible for providing updated performance reports using the SF-PPR (OMB Approval Number 0970-0334) on a semi-annual basis. The SF-PPR is due within 30 days after the end of the reporting period (July 30 for the reporting period of January 1 through June 30; and January 30 for the reporting period of July 1 through December 31). Grantees should submit the SF-PPR as an attachment to the Non Disaster (ND) Grants system. The SF-PPR can be accessed online at http://www.na.fs.fed.us/fap/SF-PPR_Cover%20Sheet.pdf. Grantees will be required to report on progress towards implementing plans described in their application. Additionally, for HSGP, as part of the SF-PPR, grantees will be required to report on progress towards implementing the following performance measures:

All grantees, as part of programmatic monitoring, will be required to describe how expenditures first support maintenance and sustainment of current NPG core capabilities. For additional information on maintenance and sustainment, please see Appendix B FY 2012 HSGP Program Specific Priorities

For SHSP and UASI, grantees that maintain an emergency operations plan (EOP) are required to submit a Plan Analysis Tool annually and are required to include bi-annual updates on percentage of completion of CPG 101 v.2 compliance (for additional information, see <http://www.fema.gov/prepared/plan.shtm>)

For SHSP and UASI, grantees will report the number of people trained in a given capability to support a reported number of defined resource typed teams (e.g., 63 responders were trained in structural collapse to support 23 Type 2 USAR Teams).

For SHSP and UASI, grantees will report the total number of a defined type of resource and capabilities built utilizing the resources of this grant.

For SHSP and UASI, grantees will report what equipment was purchased and what typed capability it supports.

For SHSP and UASI, fusion centers will report on the achievement of capabilities and compliance with measurement requirements within the Maturation and Enhancement of State and Major Urban Area Fusion Centers priority through the annual Fusion Center Assessment Program managed by DHS Office of Intelligence and Analysis (I&A) and reported to FEMA.

For SHSP and UASI, grantees will submit a certification indicating the number of personnel involved in the Nationwide Suspicious Activity Reporting (SAR) Initiative (NSI) as well as the number of personnel who have completed the required training.

For SHSP and UASI, grantees should establish a planning body and demonstrate that the membership and activities reflect the whole community. State Preparedness Report (SPR) Submittal. Section 652(c) of the Post-Katrina Emergency Management Reform Act of 2006 (Public Law 109-295), 6 U.S.C. 752(c), requires any State that receives Federal preparedness assistance to submit an SPR to FEMA. States submitted the most recent State Preparedness Report in December 2011, which meets this requirement in order to receive funding under the FY 2012 HSGP. Biannual Strategy Implementation Reports (BSIR). Grantees are responsible for completing and submitting the BSIR reports as a complement to the SF-PPR. The BSIR is due within 30 days after the end of the reporting period (July 30 for the reporting period of January 1 through June 30; and January 30 for the reporting period of July 1 through December 31). Updated obligations and expenditure information must be provided within the BSIR to show progress made toward meeting strategic goals and objectives. The first BSIR is not due until at least six months after the award notice has been received by the grantee. Federal Financial Report (FFR) required quarterly. Obligations and expenditures must be reported on a quarterly basis through the FFR (SF-425). A report must be submitted for every quarter of the period of performance, including partial calendar quarters, as well as for periods where no grant activity occurs. Future awards and fund draw downs may be withheld if these reports are delinquent. The final FFR is due 90 days after the end date of the performance period. FFRs must be filed electronically through PARS.

Initial Strategy Implementation Plan (ISIP). Following the award of HSGP grant funds, awardees will be responsible for reporting planned expenditures of the newly awarded grant funds to meet the pass-through requirement. The applicable SAAs are responsible for completing and submitting the ISIP online. The ISIP is due within 45 days of the award date.

Grant Close-Out Process. Within 90 days after the end of the period of performance, or after a Grant Adjustment Notice (GAN) has been issued to close out a grant, whichever comes first, grantees must submit a final FFR and final progress report detailing all accomplishments throughout the period of performance. After these reports have been reviewed and approved by FEMA, a close-out notice will be completed to close out the grant. The notice will indicate the period of performance as closed, list any remaining funds that will be deobligated, and address the requirement of maintaining the grant records for three years from the date of the final FFR. The grantee is responsible for returning any funds that have been drawn down but remain as unliquidated on grantee financial records.

For more information, please see the FY 2012 HSGP and THSGP Funding Opportunity Announcement. Grant recipients will be monitored periodically by FEMA staff, both programmatically and financially, to ensure that the project goals, objectives, performance requirements, timelines, milestone completion, budgets, and other related program criteria are being met. Monitoring may be accomplished through either a desk-based review or on-site monitoring visits, or both. Monitoring will involve the review and analysis of the financial, programmatic, performance, compliance and administrative processes, policies, activities, and other attributes of each Federal assistance award and will identify areas where technical assistance, corrective actions and other support may be needed. Exercise Evaluation and Improvement. Exercises implemented with grant funds should evaluate performance of the capabilities required to respond to the exercise scenario. Guidance related to exercise evaluation and the implementation of improvements is defined in the Homeland Security Exercise and Evaluation Program located at <https://hseep.dhs.gov>.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133. These audits are due to the cognizant Federal agency, submitted through the Federal Audit Clearinghouse, not later than 9 months after the end of the grantees fiscal year.

Records:

Grant records shall be retained for a period of 3 years from the day the recipient submits its final expenditure report. If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit, or other action involving the records has been started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records must be retained until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or until the end of the regular 3-year period, whichever is later. Grant records include financial and program/progress reports, support documents, statistical records, and other documents that support the activity and/or expenditure of the recipient or sub-recipient under the award.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

FY 2012 SHSP and UASI are non-competitive programs. For additional information on FY 2012 SHSP and UASI allocations, refer to the FY 2012 HSGP Funding Opportunity Announcement. Funds for FY 2012 OPSG will be allocated competitively. This includes the use of risk-based prioritization using CBP Sector-specific border risk to include, but not limited to: threat, vulnerability, miles of border, and other border-specific law enforcement intelligence. Each applicants final funding allocation will be determined by using a combination of the results of the risk analysis and feasibility of the Operations Orders. In order to be eligible to receive THSGP funding, grantees must be considered directly eligible Tribes. Per the 9/11 Act, the term directly eligible Tribe means

(A) any Indian Tribe

(i) that is located in the continental United States;

(ii) that operates a law enforcement or emergency response agency with the capacity to respond to calls for law enforcement or emergency services;

(iii)

a. that is located on or near (50 miles) an international border or a coastline bordering an ocean (including the Gulf of Mexico) or international waters (excluding shoreline border around the Great Lakes);

b. that is located within 10 miles of a system or asset included on the prioritized critical infrastructure list established under section 210E(a)(2) [please refer to section 1001 of the 9/11 Act] or has such a system or asset within its territory;

c. that is located within or contiguous to one of the 50 most populous metropolitan statistical areas in the United States; or

d. the jurisdiction of which includes not less than 1,000 square miles of Indian country, as that term is defined in section 1151 of title 18, United States Code; and

(iv) that certifies to the Secretary that a State has not provided funds under section 2003 [UASI] or 2004 [SHSP] to the Indian Tribe or consortium of Indian Tribes for the purpose for which direct funding is sought; and

(B) a consortium of Indian Tribes, if each Tribe satisfies the requirements of subparagraph (A).

In summary, eligible Tribes must meet the requirements set forth in (A) (i), and (A) (ii), and (A) (iv). Tribes must also meet one of the requirements set forth in (A) (iii); either (A) (iii) (a), or (A) (iii) (b), or (A) (iii) (c), or (A) (iii) (d).

Finally, (B) may also be satisfied, if each Tribe satisfies the requirements of subparagraph (A).

In FY 2012, applicants must self-certify as to whether they meet the eligibility requirements. Self-certification will be provided on the THSGP Eligibility Certification Form as part of Application Investment Justification. Any questions regarding an applicants proximity to a Critical Infrastructure and Key Structures (CI/KR) site, as described in the eligibility criteria, may be directed to the State Administrative Agency (SAA). Any additional questions regarding the overall self-certification of eligibility process may be directed to the CSID.

97.075 RAIL AND TRANSIT SECURITY GRANT PROGRAM

TSGP/IPR

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

Implementing Recommendations of the 9/11 Commission Act of 2007, Section 1406, Public Law 110-53.

OBJECTIVES:

The FY 2014 TSGP and IPR Program play an important role in the implementation of Presidential Policy Directive 8 (PPD-8) by supporting the development and sustainment of core capabilities. Core capabilities are essential for the execution of each of the five mission areas outlined in the National Preparedness Goal (NPG). The development and sustainment of these core capabilities are not exclusive to any single level of government or organization, but rather require the combined effort of the whole community. The FY 2014 TSGP and IPR Program support all core capabilities in the Prevention, Protection, Mitigation, Response, and Recovery mission areas based on allowable costs. Examples of tangible outcomes from the TSGP and IPR Program include building and sustaining emergency management capabilities through operational activities, operational packages (OPacks), Top Transit Asset List (TTAL) remediation; protection of high risk/high consequence underwater and underground rail assets; planning; use of visible, unpredictable deterrence; emergency preparedness drills and exercises; public awareness and preparedness campaigns; and protection of other high risk, high consequence areas or systems that have been identified through system wide risk assessments.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The TSGP and IPR Program are two of the Department of Homeland Security's FY 2014 grant programs which directly support transportation infrastructure security activities. These grant programs are part of a comprehensive set of measures authorized by Congress and implemented by the Department of Homeland Security to strengthen the Nations critical infrastructure against risks associated with potential terrorist attacks. TSGP provides funds to the Nations High-Threat Urban Areas for enhancement of security measures at critical transit infrastructure including bus, ferry, and rail systems. The intent of the FY 2014 TSGP is to competitively award grant funding to assist transit systems in obtaining the resources required to support the NPGs associated mission areas and core capabilities. IPR Program provides funds to Amtrak to develop security enhancements for eligible intercity passenger rail operations. The intent of the FY 2014 IPR is to grant funding to assist the Amtrak rail system in obtaining the resources required to support the NPGs associated mission areas and core capabilities. DHS grant funds may only be used for the purpose set forth in the grant, and must be consistent with the statutory authority for the award. Grant funds may not be used for matching funds for other Federal grants/cooperative agreements, lobbying, or intervention in Federal regulatory or adjudicatory proceedings. In addition, Federal funds may not be used to sue the Federal government or any other government entity. Pre-award costs are allowable only with the written consent of DHS and if they are included in the award agreement. Federal employees are prohibited from serving in any capacity (paid or unpaid) on any proposal submitted under this program. Federal employees may not receive funds under this award. In accordance with Homeland Security Presidential Directive (HSPD)-5, Management of Domestic Incidents, the adoption of NIMS is a requirement to receive Federal preparedness assistance, through grants, contracts, and other activities. Federal FY 2011 NIMS implementation must be considered prior to allocation of any Federal preparedness awards in FY 2014. The list of objectives against which progress and achievement are assessed and reported can be found at <http://www.fema.gov/emergency/nims/ImplementationGuidanceStakeholders.shtm#item2>. The primary grantee/administrator of FY 2014 TSGP award funds is responsible for determining if sub-awardees have demonstrated sufficient progress in NIMS implementation to disburse awards. Yes, in TSGP. Refer to the FY2014 TSGP FOA for more information.

Applicant Eligibility:

Agencies eligible for FY 2014 TSGP are determined based upon daily unlinked passenger trips (ridership) and transit systems that serve historically eligible Urban Area Security Initiative (UASI) jurisdictions. Certain ferry systems are eligible to participate in the FY 2013 TSGP and receive funds. However, any ferry system electing to participate and receive funds under the FY 2014 TSGP will not be eligible to participate under the FY 2014 Port Security Grant Program (PSGP) and will not be considered for funding under the FY 2014 PSGP. Likewise, any ferry system that participates in the PSGP will not be eligible for funding under the TSGP. The 9/11 Act requires that high risk public transportation agencies, including those that receive grant funding, must develop a security plan based on a security assessment. Additionally, the legislation directs that grant funds be used to address items in the security assessment or the security plan. In order to be eligible for the FY 2014 TSGP, transit agencies must have developed and/or updated their security plan, which must be based on a security assessment such as the Baseline Assessment and Security Enhancement (BASE) performed by Transportation Security Inspectors-Surface from the Transportation Security Administration (TSA), within the last three years. A copy of the Security Plan and security assessment must be available for DHS review upon request. Entities providing transit security (e.g., city/county police department, transit agency's own police department) for a transit agency must approve the security plan. The signature of a responsible official from the agency's transit security provider serves as this approval. If there is more than one provider in the core service area, all transit security providers must review and concur with the plan. Associated documentation of this approval must be provided to DHS upon request. In addition, the agency's transit security provider is encouraged to review the Investment Justifications (IJ) prior to submission. Each Regional Transit Security Working Group (RTSWG) is required to develop and update at least every three years a Regional Transit Security Strategy (RTSS). As the owners and/or operators of infrastructure that is vital to the well being of the States and Urban Areas they serve, it is imperative that transit systems be incorporated into regional preparedness planning efforts. A copy of the Security Plan or security assessment must be available for DHS review upon request. The National Passenger Railroad Corporation (Amtrak) is the only entity eligible to apply for funding under FY 2014 IPR Program. For more information, refer to the FY2014 TSGP and IPR Program FOAs., National Incident Management System (NIMS) Implementation. In accordance with Homeland Security Presidential Directive (HSPD)-5, Management of Domestic Incidents, the adoption of NIMS is a requirement to receive Federal preparedness assistance, through grants, contracts, and other activities. Prior to allocation of any Federal preparedness awards in FY 2014, grantee must ensure compliance and/or alignment with FY 2011 NIMS implementation plan. The list of objectives against which progress and achievement are assessed and reported can be found at <http://www.fema.gov/emergency/nims/ImplementationGuidanceStakeholders.shtm#item2>. Applying for FY 2013 TSGP and IPR Program funds require a two-step process. Step 1: initial submission to determine eligibility and Step 2: full application. Applicants are encouraged to initiate Step 1 as soon after the FOA is published but no later than June 17, 2013. This involves submitting a complete Standard Form 424 to www.grants.gov. The Standard Form 424 will be retrieved by ND Grants and the system will automatically populate the relevant data fields in the application. Successful completion of this step is necessary for FEMA to determine eligibility of the applicant. Once FEMA has determined an applicant to be eligible, applicants can proceed to Step 2 which involves submitting the full application package via the ND Grants system. The submission deadline for the full application package is May 25, 2014.

The application must be completed and final submission made through the ND Grants system located at <https://portal.fema.gov>. If you need assistance registering for the ND Grants system, please contact ndgrants@fema.gov or (800) 865-4076. This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

The period of performance for TSGP is 24 months. The period of performance for the IPR Program is 24 months. Refer to FY2014 TSGP or IPR Program FOA for more information. Awards are subject to the Cash Management Improvement Act for payment and/or reimbursement of expenditures.

Projected Award Start Date(s): 09/01/2014
Projected Award End Date(s): 08/31/2016
Period of Performance: 24 months

The periods of performance outlined above support the effort to expedite the outlay of grant funding and provide economic stimulus. The grantee should request waivers sparingly, and they will be granted only due to compelling legal, policy, or operational challenges. For example, the grantee may request waivers from the deadlines outlined above for discretionary grant funds where adjusting the timeline for spending will constitute a verifiable legal breach of contract by the grantee with vendors or sub-recipients, or where a specific statute or regulation mandates an environmental review that cannot be completed within this timeframe or where other exceptional circumstances warrant a discrete waiver. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Grantees must accept their grant awards no later than 90 days from the award date. The grantee shall notify the awarding agency of its intent to accept and proceed with work under the award, or provide a written notice of intent to decline. Funds will remain on hold until the grantee accepts the award through official correspondence, e.g., written, electronic signature, signed letter or fax to GPD, and all other conditions of award have been satisfied, or the award is otherwise rescinded. Failure to accept the grant award within the 90 day timeframe may result in a loss of funds.

Reports:

Performance Progress Report (SF-PPR). Awardees are responsible for providing updated performance reports using the SF-PPR (OMB Approval Number 0970-0334) on a semi-annual basis. The SF-PPR is due within 30 days after the end of the reporting period (July 30 for the reporting period of January 1 through June 30; and January 30 for the reporting period of July 1 through December 31). Grantees should submit the SF-PPR as an attachment to the Non Disaster (ND) Grants system. The SF-PPR can be accessed online at http://www.na.fs.fed.us/fap/SF-PPR_Cover%20Sheet.pdf.

Exercise Evaluation and Improvement. Exercises implemented with grant funds should evaluate performance of the capabilities required to respond to the exercise scenario. Guidance related to exercise evaluation and the implementation of improvements is defined in the Homeland Security Exercise and Evaluation Program located at <https://hseep.dhs.gov>.

Monitoring. Grant recipients will be monitored periodically by FEMA staff, both programmatically and financially, to ensure that the project goals, objectives, performance requirements, timelines, milestone completion, budgets, and other related program criteria are being met.

Monitoring may be accomplished through either a desk-based review or on-site monitoring visits, or both. Monitoring will involve the review and analysis of the financial, programmatic, performance, compliance and administrative processes, policies, activities, and other attributes of each Federal assistance award and will identify areas where technical assistance, corrective actions and other support may be needed. Federal Financial Report (FFR) required quarterly. Obligations and expenditures must be reported on a quarterly basis through the FFR (SF-425). A report must be submitted for every quarter of the period of performance, including partial calendar quarters, as well as for periods where no grant activity occurs. Future awards and fund draw downs may be withheld if these reports are delinquent. The final FFR is due 90 days after the end date of the performance period. FFRs must be filed electronically through PARS.

Grant Close-Out Process. Within 90 days after the end of the period of performance, or after a Grant Adjustment Notice (GAN) has been issued to close out a grant, whichever comes first, grantees must submit a final FFR and final progress report detailing all accomplishments throughout the period of performance. After these reports have been reviewed and approved by FEMA, a close-out notice will be completed to close out the grant. The notice will indicate the period of performance as closed, list any remaining funds that will be deobligated, and address the requirement of maintaining the grant records for three years from the date of the final FFR. The grantee is responsible for returning any funds that have been drawn down but remain as unliquidated on grantee financial records. TSGP and IPR Program awardees are responsible for providing updated performance reports using the SF-PPR (OMB Approval Number 0970-0334) on a semi-annual basis. The SF-PPR is due within 30 days after the end of the reporting period (July 30 for the reporting period of January 1 through June 30; and January 30 for the reporting period of July 1 through December 31). The SF-PPR can be accessed online at http://www.na.fs.fed.us/fap/SF-PPR_Cover%20Sheet.pdf. Federal Financial Report (FFR) required quarterly. submitted for every quarter of the period of performance, including partial calendar quarters, as well as for periods where no grant activity occurs. Future awards and fund draw downs may be withheld if these reports are delinquent. The final FFR is due 90 days after the end date of the performance period. FFRs must be filed electronically through PARS.

Grant Close-Out Process. Within 90 days after the end of the period of performance, or after a Grant Adjustment Notice (GAN) has been issued to close out a grant, whichever comes first, grantees must submit a final FFR and final progress report detailing all accomplishments throughout the period of performance. After these reports have been reviewed and approved by FEMA, a close-out notice will be completed to close out the grant. The notice will indicate the period of performance as closed, list any remaining funds that will be deobligated, and address the requirement of maintaining the grant records for three years from the date of the final FFR. The grantee is responsible for returning any funds that have been drawn down but remain as unliquidated on grantee financial records. Grant recipients will be monitored periodically by FEMA staff, both programmatically and financially, to ensure that the project goals, objectives, performance requirements, timelines, milestone completion, budgets, and other related program criteria are being met. Monitoring may be accomplished through either a desk-based review or on-site monitoring visits, or both. Monitoring will involve the review and analysis of the financial, programmatic, performance, compliance and administrative processes, policies, activities, and other attributes of each Federal assistance award and will identify areas where technical assistance, corrective actions and other support may be needed.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133.

Records:

Grant records shall be retained for a period of 3 years from the day the recipient submits its final expenditure report. If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit, or other action involving the records has been started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records must be retained until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or until the end of the regular 3-year period, whichever is later. Grant records include financial and program/progress reports, support documents, statistical records, and other documents that support the activity and/or expenditure of the recipient or sub-recipient under the award.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

TSGP grantees must comply with all administrative requirements described herein including the submission of IJs, budgets, and other application materials as required. Having met all administrative requirements, the application will be scored based on a methodology that will ensure consistent and accurate evaluations of projects and proposals.

The following process will be used to make awards for the program:

DHS will verify compliance with each of the administrative and eligibility criteria identified in the application kit.

The Department will calculate a total score to aid with funding selections.

The total score will consist of four individual parts: an agency-based risk score, a score associated with an applications alignment to the funding priority areas, a score based on project risk mitigation, and the degree of regional collaboration.

Eligible applications will be reviewed by a panel to determine the risk mitigation and regional collaboration scores. This panel will consist of Federal officials from multiple government agencies that will review each application and score it based on the following criteria: cost effectiveness, feasibility, timelines, and sustainability without additional Federal funds.

FEMA and TSA will make recommendations for funding to the Secretary of Homeland Security based on the funding priorities and scoring methodology.

For IPR Program, based on previously cited statutory authorities, DHS has elected to enter into a cooperative agreement with Amtrak. The nature of the Federal involvement in the execution of this program may include joint participation in a project. Other examples of prospective substantial Federal involvement include the following:

Collaboration, participation, and/or intervention in any activity covered by the cooperative agreement

Approval from DHS prior to the selection of a new project or commencement of the next phase of an approved project

Authority for DHS to halt an activity if detailed performance specifications are not met

Authority for DHS to direct or redirect the scope of work of a project based on new circumstances

Authority for DHS to create a working group of key Federal and private sector stakeholders to provide guidance and coordination for transit security activities

Funds for both programs will not be made available for obligation, expenditure, or drawdown until the applicants budget and budget narrative have been approved by FEMA. The applicant must provide a detailed budget for the funds requested. The detailed budget must be submitted with the grant application as a file attachment within <http://www.grants.gov>. The budget must be complete, reasonable, and cost-effective in relation to the proposed project. The budget should provide the basis of computation of all project-related costs, any appropriate narrative, and a detailed justification of Management and Administration (M&A) costs.

Maximize the coverage of the U.S. population that has a localized, risk-informed mitigation plan developed through partnerships across the entire community. Long-term Vulnerability Reduction - Build and sustain resilient systems, communities, and critical infrastructure and key resources lifelines so as to reduce their vulnerability to natural, technological, and human-caused incidents by lessening the likelihood, severity, and duration of the adverse consequences related to these incidents. 1. Achieve a measurable decrease in the long-term vulnerability of the Nation against current baselines amid a growing population base and expanding infrastructure base. Risk and Disaster Resilience Assessment - Assess risk and disaster resilience so that decision makers, responders, and community members can take informed action to reduce their entity's risk and increase their resilience. 1. Ensure that states, territories, and the top 100 Metropolitan Statistical Areas (MSAs) complete a risk assessment that defines localized vulnerabilities and consequences associated with potential natural, technological, and human-caused threats and hazards to their natural, human, physical, cyber, and socioeconomic interests. Threats and Hazard Identification - Identify the threats and hazards that occur in the geographic area; determine the frequency and magnitude; and incorporate this into analysis and planning processes so as to clearly understand the needs of a community or entity. 1. Identify the threats and hazards within and across the states, territories, and the top 100 MSAs, in collaboration with the whole community, against a national standard based on sound science. 97.114 EMERGENCY FOOD AND SHELTER NATIONAL BOARD PROGRAM (ARRA)

ARRA Emergency Food and Shelter National Board Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Act of 1987, as amended, Title III, Sections 301-316, Public Law 100-77, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 11331-11346; Public Law 111-5 American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

OBJECTIVES:

To supplement and expand ongoing efforts to provide shelter, food, and supportive services for needy families and individuals. To strengthen efforts to create more effective and innovative local programs by providing supplemental funding for them. To conduct minimum rehabilitation of existing mass shelter or mass feeding facilities, but only to the extent necessary to make facilities safe, sanitary and bring them into compliance with local building codes.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Food and related expenses (such as transporting food/food preparation and serving equipment); mass shelter; other shelter (such as hotels and motels); and rent/mortgage and/or utility assistance limited to one (1) month; and limited repairs to feeding and sheltering facilities. Emergency Food and Shelter National Board Program funds cannot be used for: rental security, deposits of any kind, cash payments of any kind, lobbying efforts, salaries (except as administrative allowance and limited to that total allowance of 2 percent of total award), purchases or improvements of an individual's private property, telephone costs, repairs to government-owned or profit-making facilities and any payments for services not incurred. For a complete listing on eligible and ineligible costs under this program, refer to the current Phase (fiscal year) manual: Responsibilities and Requirements, issued by the Emergency Food and Shelter Program National Board.

Applicant Eligibility:

Refer to program guidance.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The law directs that the Local Boards, which manage the program at the local level, shall "determine which private nonprofit organizations or public organizations of the local government in the individual locality shall receive grants to act as service providers." The range of participant groups on the Local Boards include the affiliates of the National Board membership which consists of American Red Cross, Catholic Charities USA, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., The Jewish Federations of North America, The Salvation Army, and United Way Worldwide, with a local government representative replacing FEMA. Also participating are independent nonprofits (such as Community Action Agencies and Food Banks and food pantries) which provide food and/or shelter services. Due to the broad category of people in need of such emergency services, the providers can include specialized groups such as domestic violence shelters, Native American organizations, and organizations providing food or shelter to: AIDS patients, handicapped individuals, the elderly, homeless veterans, non-wards of the State teenage runaways, and many other groups with emergency food and shelter needs. As noted earlier, the decisions on selections are made through the consensus of the Local Board as they have assessed their community's most urgent needs. It is important that such agencies use these funds to supplement, not replace, their current efforts. This program is intended to supplement ongoing programs and allow them to extend and expand upon their existing services.

Credentials/Documentation:

The program employs a Local Recipient Organization Certification Form. This form certifies an applicant's status (i.e., that it is a nonprofit or government agency capable of delivering eligible services) that it will abide by the program guidelines (both on eligible spending and reporting requests), and comply with other fiscal and program rules so stipulated. This program is excluded from coverage under OMB Circular No. A-87.

See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Payment based on Project need. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: No information provided.

Reports:

Local Boards are expected to monitor the expenditure of funds in their respective jurisdictions. It is for that reason that requests for second checks (all awards are divided into two payments) must be authorized by the Local Boards. Along with the request for the second payment, the National Board receives an interim report on eligible spending during that phase. A Final Report also must be filed by each LRO with its Local Board. The Local Board then compiles all the Final Reports within its jurisdiction and submits them (along with any requested documentation) to the National Board. Failure of an LRO to file a Final Report will result in its award being held in escrow the succeeding year. Recovery funding reports will be submitted in the prescribed format within 10 days after the end of each calendar quarter, beginning July 10, 2009. These reports will include the following data elements, as prescribed by the Public Law 111-5, Section 1512 and OMB Memorandum M-09-10: (1) The total amount of recovery funds received from that agency; (2) The amount of recovery funds received that were obligated and expended to projects or activities. This reporting will also include unobligated Allotment balances to facilitate reconciliations. (3) A detailed list of all projects or activities for which recovery funds were obligated and expended, including--(A) The name of the project or activity; (B) A description of the project or activity; (C) An evaluation of the completion status of the project or activity; (D) An estimate of the number of jobs created and the number of jobs retained by the project or activity (Not Applicable to Emergency Food and Shelter); and (E) For infrastructure investments made by State and local governments, the purpose, total cost, and rationale of the agency for funding the infrastructure investment with funds made available under this Act, and name of the person to contact at the agency if there are concerns with the infrastructure investment (Not Applicable to Emergency Food and Shelter). (4) Detailed information on any subcontracts or subgrants awarded by the recipient to include the data elements required to comply with the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act of 2006 (Public Law 109-282), allowing aggregate reporting on awards below $25,000 or to individuals, as prescribed by the Director of OMB. Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133.

Records:

Local Boards are required to remain in operation until all program and audit requirements of the National Board have been satisfied. Grant records shall be retained for a period of 3 years from the day the recipient submits its final expenditure report. If any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit, or other action involving the records has been started before the expiration of the 3-year period, the records must be retained until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or until the end of the regular 3-year period, whichever is later. 97.130 NATIONAL NUCLEAR FORENSICS EXPERTISE DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

(NNFEDP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

Nuclear Forensics and Attribution Act (Public Law 111-140; Sec. 4(a)(12), Public Law 111-140, U.S.C 4(a)(12).

OBJECTIVES:

The objectives of this program are: (1) to provide a stable foundation from which to develop and maintain the nuclear forensics workforce; (2) to provide a academic pathway from undergraduate to post-doctorate study in disciplines directly relevant to nuclear forensics, including radiochemistry, geochemistry, nuclear physics, nuclear engineering, materials science, and analytical chemistry; and (3) to increase a diverse and highly talented cadre of new and emerging forensics experts who will fill specific expertise gaps in the area of nuclear forensics, an important homeland security mission.

These objectives are aligned with Presidential Policy Directive (PPD)-8, National Preparedness, in that the NNFEDP aims to supply the technical expertise critical to enabling the nuclear forensics mission. This mission involves strengthening the security and resilience of the United States through systematic preparation for the threat of nuclear terrorism. Terrorism is cited among a short list of major threats in PPD-8 as posing the greatest risk to the security of the Nation.

These objectives are also aligned with the DHS Quadrennial Homeland Security Review (QHSR) Mission 1: Preventing Terrorism and Enhancing Security. The NNFEDP supports the following Goals and Objectives:

Goal 1.1: Prevent Terrorist Attacks

Goal 1.2: Prevent the Unauthorized Acquisition or Use of Chemical, Biological, Radiological, and Nuclear (CBRN) Materials and Capabilities

Objective 1.2.1: Anticipate Emerging Threats

Objective 1.2.2: Control Access to CBRN

Objective 1.2.4: Protection against Hostile Use of CBRN

In order to accomplish this mandate, the following goals must be met:

Implement a Nuclear Forensics Undergraduate Scholarship Program to provide outreach to the academic community, facilitate experiential learning in nuclear forensics-related research areas, and feed students into the Nuclear Forensics Graduate Fellowship Program.

Implement a Nuclear Forensics Graduate Fellowship Program to encourage students to pursue advanced degrees in radiochemistry and other nuclear forensics-related disciplines, encourage universities to invest in these types of programs, facilitate experiential learning in nuclear forensics-related research areas, and feed students into post-doctoral/permanent staff positions in nuclear forensics at the national laboratories or federal agencies.

Implement a Nuclear Forensics Education Award Program to support universities interested in developing and maintaining academic programs in nuclear forensics-related disciplines.

Implement a Nuclear Forensics Junior Faculty Award Program to provide universities with an incentive to recruit, promote, and retain highly qualified personnel to teach within nuclear forensics-related degree programs and contribute to associated research projects at universities.

Implement a Nuclear Forensics Minority Serving Institution (MSI) Collaboration Award Program to support the enhancement of undergraduate and/or graduate Chemistry, Math, Physics, and Engineering programs located at MSIs and to establish formal linkages among the universities currently participating in the Nuclear Forensics Graduate Fellowship Program, the nations MSIs, and the national laboratories.

97.131 EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT BASELINE ASSESSMENTS GRANT (EMBAG)

EMBAG

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Department of Homeland Security

AUTHORIZATION:

The Department of Homeland Security Appropriations Act, 2014, (Public Law 113-76), Public Law 113-76, as amended by Section 503(b)(2)(G) of the Homeland Security Act of 2002, as amended, 6 U.S.C. 313(b)(2)(G); 6 U.S.C. 313(b)(2)(B); 314(a)(10); and 314(a)(11).

OBJECTIVES:

The FY 2014 Emergency Management Baseline Assessment Grant (EMBAG) program will support the development of a set of American National Standards Institute (ANSI)-certified standards for emergency preparedness and response as well as a related assessment methodology for the evaluation of State, local and territorial emergency management organizations. This assessment methodology should incorporate a peer review process that results in accreditation of the emergency management organization, regardless of size.

The assessment and accreditation of emergency management organizations against consensus-based and ANSI-certified national standards enables standardized benchmarking of critical functions necessary for an emergency management organization to meet the 31 core capabilities identified in the National Preparedness Goal (Goal). The Goal defines success as a secure and resilient Nation with the capabilities required across the whole community to prevent, protect against, mitigate, respond to, and recover from the threats and hazards that pose the greatest risk. Achieving the Goal occurs through an integrated, layered, and inclusive approach to preparedness. Using the core capabilities, National Preparedness Goal is achieved by:

Preventing, avoiding, or stopping a threatened or an actual act of terrorism; Protecting our citizens, residents, visitors, and assets against the greatest threats and hazards in a manner that allows our interests, aspirations, and way of life to thrive;

Mitigating the loss of life and property by lessening the impact of future disasters;

Responding quickly to save lives, protect property and the environment, and meet basic human needs in the aftermath of a catastrophic incident; and Recovering through a focus on the timely restoration, strengthening, and revitalization of infrastructure, housing, and a sustainable economy, as well as the health, social, cultural, historic, and environmental fabric of communities affected by a catastrophic incident.

Accredited emergency management organizations are essential to achieving the Goal by validating the ability of jurisdictions to employ their core capabilities. Accreditation based on a national standard ensures critical emergency management functions such as planning, coordination, and communications include benchmarks for comparative evaluation. The assessment and accreditation process empowers a jurisdiction to understand its emergency management organizations capacity and shortfalls as well as develop a path for improvement. Jurisdictions can then use the results of the assessment and accreditation process to build, sustain, and improve preparedness activities. Tracking improvements to preparedness guides development of State Preparedness Reports that serve as an essential source of information in the National Preparedness Report.

The assessment and accreditation process supported by EMAP will include review of the following areas within an emergency management organization:

- Emergency Management Program Administration, to include authorities, oversight, and strategic planning

Appendix I: Programs Requiring Executive Order 12372 Review

This appendix lists programs requiring Executive Order 12372 review. Executive Order 12372 "Intergovernmental Review of Federal Programs," structures the Federal government's system of consultation with State and local governments on its decisions involving grants, other forms of financial assistance, and direct development. Under E.O. 12372, States, in consultation with their local governments, design their own review processes and select those Federal financial assistance and direct development activities they wish to review.

Since October 1, 1983 most States have acted to establish a review and comment system in response to E.O. 12372. In such cases, applicants for grants will need to meet the requirements of the intergovernmental consultation process established by a particular State and its local governments before Federal agencies take action on an application.

For more information on the process a particular State requires to be followed, an applicant should contact the office or official designated as the single point of contact in his or her State. Consult the individual program description in the Catalog to determine whether the programs under which he/she plans to apply is subject to E.O. 12372. Consult the Federal agency's application package for instructions on State notification.

4. OTHER EXTENSION ACTIVITIES:

(a) Renewable Resources Extension Act

The Renewable Resources Extension Act of 1978 (P.L. 95-306, 92 Stat. 349, 16 U.S.C. 1671 et seq.) provides for an expanded and comprehensive extension program for forest and rangeland renewable resources. The majority of the appropriated funds are distributed to eligible institutions based on a formula that considers the geographic extent, ecosystem productivity, economic contribution, and population for each state.

Since FY 2002, a small amount of these funds have been used to fund National Focus Fund Projects which have served to expand comprehensive extension programs for forest and rangeland renewable resources on a national, regional, or multi-institutional scale through better program coordination, innovative technologies, and extension models that can be easily duplicated.

(b) Rural Health and Safety

The authority for this program is under Section 502 (i) of Title V of the Rural Development Act of 1972, as amended (7 U.S.C. 2662). The Omnibus Appropriations Act, 2009 (Pub. L. 111-8) appropriates funds under Division A, Title I. The Rural Health and Safety Education Competitive Program addresses the Individual and Family Health Education component of the authorization.

(c) Extension Services at the 1994 Institutions

This program is authorized under Section 534(b) of the Equity in Educational Land-Grant Status Act of 1994 (7 U.S.C. 201 note), as amended by the Agricultural Research, Extension, and Education Reform Act of 1998 (AREERA) (7 U.S.C. 7601). This section amends Section 3 of the Act of May 8, 1914 (Smith-Lever Act) (7 U.S.C. 341 et seq.), as amended. Under this authority, appropriated funds are to be awarded to the 1994 Land-Grant Institutions (hereinafter referred to as 1994 institutions) for Extension work and funds are to be distributed on the basis of a competitive application process.

(d) Grants to Youth Serving Institutions

Title IV of the Agricultural Research, Extension, and Education Reform Act of 1998 (7 U.S.C. 7630) authorized the Secretary of Agriculture to make grants to the Girl Scouts of the United States of America (GSUSA), the Boy Scouts of America (BSA), the National 4-H Council (4-H Council), and the National FFA Organization (FFA). Section 7309 of the Food, Conservation, and Energy Act (FCEA) of 2008 reauthorized 7 U.S.C. 7630, which was also amended to provide additional flexibility in content delivery to each organization receiving funds and to allow recipients to redistribute all or part of the funds to individual councils or local chapters without further need of approval from the Secretary. In FY 2009, Terms and Conditions of these awards should facilitate the redistribution without further need of approval. The Omnibus Appropriations Act, 2009 (Pub. L. 111-8) appropriates funds under Division A, Title I for grants to youth organizations pursuant to 7 U.S.C. 7630.

(e) Food Animal Residue Avoidance Database Program (FARAD)

Title VI Section 604 of the Agricultural Research, Extension, and Education Reform Act of 1998 (7 U.S.C. 7642) states that -The Secretary of Agriculture shall continue operation of the Food Animal Residue Avoidance Database program (referred to in this section as the FARAD program) through contracts, grants, or cooperative agreements with appropriate colleges or universities.

Appendix III: Budget Functional Code Appendix

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Account Identification - This 11-digit budget code identifies the account from which a program is funded as expressed in the Appendix to the Federal Budget. For identification code 75-0350-0-1-551, the first two digits represent the Federal agency code, and the third through sixth digits identify the appropriation (or fund) basic account symbol assigned by the Treasury Department. Where two or more accounts with different Treasury basic account symbols are included in a consolidated program, 99 will be the third and fourth digits, the fifth digit will be the fund type and the sixth digit will reflect the sequence of consolidated programs for that fund type within the agency. The seventh digit identifies the timing of transmittal of budget estimates:

- 0: Regular budget schedules
- 1: Supplemental appropriation
- 2: Legislative proposal, not subject to PAYGO
- 3: Appropriations language to be transmitted later
- 4: Legislative proposal, subject to PAYGO
- 5: Recission proposal
- 6: Adjustments to 1996 continuing resolution levels

The eighth digit identifies the type of government fund involved:

1: General fund - General Fund Appropriation Accounts - Accounts established to record amounts appropriated by law to be expended for the general support of the Government.

General Fund Receipt Accounts - Accounts credited with all receipts that are not earmarked by law for a specific purpose.

The last three digits represent the functional classification (code) used in the latest Federal Budget document, unless noted otherwise by the Office of Management and Budget. In cases where a program is split between two or more subfunctions: (a) if all subfunctions are in the same major function, the code is the same as for the major function; or (b) if two or more major functions are involved the digits '999' are used. (Example: 75-1361-0-1-550)

Listed below are major functions and subfunctions as used in the budget document to show allocations of budget authority and outlays according to end purposes without regard to agency jurisdiction. The central nature of each major function is identified and defined. Catalog programs are listed following each applicable subfunction (or major function). Note that some subfunctions are not applicable to Catalog programs.

(450) COMMUNITY AND REGIONAL DEVELOPMENT

This function consists of broad-based community, regional, urban and rural renewal and development programs. It includes grants and loans for water supply and sewer systems (except those specifically funded as environmental protection programs), urban community and economic development programs, regional economic development programs, broad-based public facility construction programs, and relief and rehabilitation of private and public facilities in the event of natural disasters. Aids to businesses such as loans, loan guarantees, and subsidies are not normally included in this function unless such aids are a means of economic development to aid restricted (generally depressed) areas and are not designed to promote particular lines of business for their own sake. Transportation facilities developed as an integral part of a community development (rather than transportation) program are also included in this function. As a normal rule, human development and services programs are excluded from this function (and included in the education, training, employment, and social services function). This function is confined to development of physical facilities or financial infrastructures designed to promote viable community economies.

(451) Community Development

This subfunction includes grants and related programs designed to aid community (largely urban) development. It includes community development block grants and predecessor activities such as the urban renewal and model cities programs. Community development programs are generally carried out by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

(550) HEALTH

This function includes those programs that have as their basic purpose the promotion of the physical and mental health of the nation's population, including the prevention of illness and accidents. It includes planning, financing, and provision of medical care; research into the causes and cure of disease; the financing of specialized programs for training of health workers and researchers; and promotion of consumer and occupational health and safety. Excluded from the health function are Federal health care costs that are an integral part of another function, such as Medicare and medical care for military personnel and for veterans. General scientific research that has medical applications (such as that conducted by the National Science Foundation) and health programs financed through foreign assistance programs are also excluded from the health function.

As a normal rule, the outlays in this function are similar to those in the broader general purpose functions (such as income security or health) but are restricted to veterans, their dependents, and their survivors. Earned rights of career military personnel that are a cost of the defense budget (such as military retired pay or medical care) are excluded from this function. The subfunctions of this function are so structured that they are readily additive to analogous major functions for the general population.
