COMMANDER, MARINE FORCES RESERVE

I had the distinct privilege last year to take command of this incredible force of Marines and Sailors. I look forward to the year ahead seeing the Reserve Force mark its first centennial anniversary on August 29. Over the last 100 years, we have been the shock absorber on which the Total Force could rely. Moving ahead we will continue that legacy, always ready to go at a moment's notice. As we move into 2016, I want us focused on three key areas: supporting the current fight, training for the next fight and ensuring our ranks comprise the highest quality men and women.

The current fight consists of supporting high-priority combatant commander requirements. In 2016, we will continue providing security cooperation teams in the MARCENT, MARFORSOUTH and MARFORNORTH areas of responsibility. We will also provide some 300 Marines and Sailors to support the Special Purpose Marine Air Ground Task Force in Central and South America. We will always flex the operational readiness of Marine Forces Reserve to augment, reinforce and support the Total Force.

Just as we support the current fight, we must constantly strive to enhance our readiness by training for whatever comes next. The steady cycle between conducting current operations and preparing for future operations is what Reserve Marines have done for 100 years. This will provide plenty of opportunities for our Marines and Sailors to train with their active duty counterparts and with sister services.

We will serve as the command element during the African Lion exercise in Morocco.

We will continue to participate in similar bilateral and multilateral exercises like Ssang Yong in Korea and Maple Flag in Canada. Our units will have yet another opportunity to train as a Marine Air Ground Task Force during the next iteration of the Integrated Training Exercise in Twentynine Palms, California. On top of these large-scale exercises, we will also take advantage of the limited amount of time we have to train during drill weekends. In January, we will be conducting cold-weather training with the Vermont National Guard at the Nordic Frost exercise. We will continue executing cost-effective training opportunities and get as much bang for our buck as possible. This is how we ensure our people are well trained and ready for the next fight.

Our people are our most precious asset as a force. It is my priority to recruit and retain high-quality personnel because they are the foundation of our Corps and have a direct impact on our ability to meet requirements and accomplish our mission. As reservists, we deal with added challenges and responsibilities. We must continue to meet and exceed the same standards as the Active Component in a fraction of the time. We must do this while maintaining a careful balance between our duties to our families, to our civilian careers and to our Corps. Having spent the majority of my career as a reservist, I have been there, and I know these challenges first hand. These challenges shape us. Successful members of the Reserve Component are those who know how to prioritize tasks and manage time. They are always ready, willing and able to meet difficult challenges head-on. On top of these intangible characteristics, they bring a wealth of experience from the civilian world. They are police officers, fire fighters, doctors, lawyers, educators, students and pilots. These skills can add tremendous value to the modern-day battlefield. We must continue to find ways to leverage that experience and continue being a true force multiplier for the Active Component.

The men and women of Marine Forces Reserve are truly our center of gravity. On July 16 of last year, we took a hit when a lone gunman took the lives of four of our Marines and one Sailor at the reserve training center in Chattanooga, Tennessee. The way our Marines responded after that attack, however, is how any of our Marines would have responded. We grieved for our fallen brothers. We did our best to honor our Marines and we continue to do our best to support the families they leave behind. Our Marines in Chattanooga returned to the fight and expressed nothing but eagerness to get back to the mission at hand. They were not victims. The greatest way we honor our fallen is by doing what they would have wanted us to do. We must do what Marines have been doing for 240 years and what the men and women of our Reserve Force have been doing for 100 years: standing shoulder-to-shoulder to fight and win our nation's battles.

We live in an uncertain world. That is why we need a force that is ready to go at any time. The Marine Corps is that force, and Marine Forces Reserve plays a critical role in augmenting, reinforcing and supporting the Active Component. We must remind our adversaries that there is no better friend and no worse enemy than a United States Marine.

Sgt. Maj. Anthony A. Spadaro

SERGEANT MAJOR, MARINE FORCES RESERVE

Welcome to 2016 – a year where I ask you all to remain focused on mission objectives by always being fit, disciplined and focused on success. The year 2015 was filled with new highs for Marine Forces Reserve and some unfortunate lows. First and foremost, the last year brought us a profound loss and another mission to contend with – enemies on our home soil. We all suffered through the tragic events that occurred in Chattanooga when we lost four Marines by the actions of a committed enemy who caught us by surprise. The actions in Chattanooga demonstrated that now we have to be hyper vigilant in our actions on the homeland. I need you all to continually practice your force protection measures. However, your force protection measures should carry on in all you do, from your actions at home training centers to your conduct online and on social media.

You should celebrate your accomplishments from last year, as Marine Forces Reserve accomplished many objectives. You did this by teamwork and dedication. From deployments in far-off northern lands to sunny tropic scenes (and even some desert locales), Marine Forces Reserve demonstrated the ability to rapidly plan, deploy and retrograde to home sites successfully and safely. During 2015, we also bid farewell to Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Mills and hailed the arrival of Lt. Gen. and Mrs. McMillian. For the first time, we had our Reserve Career Planner of the Year recognized at the Commandant of the Marine Corps' Annual Awards program. Be proud of your successes in 2015 – however, do not rest on your laurels.

As our 37th Commandant is fond of saying – Let's go do this. That attitude and approach will be our beacon as we begin the year 2016. Our Commander wants you not just deployable, but employable – meaning every one of you is fully prepared in mind, body, spirit and financially to mobilize and deploy in support of whatever mission you are assigned to accomplish. You must be ready to fight tonight.

Our Commandant and Sergeant Major of the Marine Corps want every one of you to "Protect What You Have Earned." I want you to remember what it was like from the time you stood on those yellow footprints to the time you first earned that sacred eagle, globe and anchor. You have earned this title through blood, sweat and tears. The honor of this title, however, carries incredible responsibility. You must always do the right thing, at the right time, for the right reasons. You are Marines 24 hours a day, seven days a week and 365 days a year.

Lastly, I want you to remember that you – the Marines and Sailors of Marine Forces Reserve – are the Force's greatest asset. It is imperative that we continue to find the finest men and women our country has to offer to line our ranks. So, go find you! You are our best recruiter. Your recent actions and deeds in the communities you serve in demonstrate to the American public that you are their hometown Marines. Whether it is conducting funeral honors for our fallen, participating in color guards, Toys for Tots events or just your daily interactions, you are the best ambassador we have to demonstrate the purity and selfless nature of our Corps. Seek out those individuals that you think could serve in our Corps. Get their name and their contact information and pass it on to the local recruiter. This is your way of "paying it forward" and ensuring we recruit our future generations from your hometowns.

This year is truly special for Marine Forces Reserve. The Centennial of the Marine Corps Reserve is upon us which gives us an opportunity to look back on the last 100 years of warfighting excellence and service that our Reserve Forces have established. The Centennial will be your chance to show America what Marine Forces Reserve is all about.

As we start 2016, Lt. Gen. McMillian and I want you all to know that we are extremely proud to stand alongside you. We are intimately aware of your indomitable spirit and loyalty to Marine Forces Reserve. We are going to ask you to cinch the straps of your haversack tighter, take a thirty inch step forward and climb to the next level of that mountain we call "objective success" (and oh by the way, "we do windows too"). The demands for your talents, energies, ingenuity and dedication will not cease. In fact, we are going to ask you to do more in order to ensure we remain ready. Continue to remain "always faithful" to our Nation, our Corps, our communities, our families and most importantly, to each other. Together, we can do this!

JANUARY

Cpl. Joseph Dutton, from Brookline, Vermont, pries nails loose in the wooden flooring of an old military housing facility, Jan. 9, during exercise Lava Viper 15-1.2 at Kawaihae Harbor, Hawaii. The housing facility is used by various military branches as a safe house while waiting for ships to arrive with vehicles and supplies.

Logistics Marines from 4th Combat Engineer Battalion; 2nd Battalion, 24th Marine Regiment; Marine Aircraft Group 49, and 14th Marine Regiment, worked together during an exercise to examine the logistical requirements for various mobilizations, exercises and operations throughout MARFORRES in New Orleans, Louisiana, Jan. 28.

FEBRUARY

Sgt. John Duwe (center), a data network specialist with Combat Logistics Regiment 4, 4th Marine Logistics Group, reviews basic hand and arm signals before he takes his platoon on a patrol during an exercise with 1st Marine Expeditionary Force in Kansas City, Missouri, Feb. 22.

Duwe was the acting platoon leader in a guard force during the exercise with I MEF. The exercise enabled Marines to improve interoperability between the Active and Reserve component, while preparing them with a realistic training environment at the force level.

MARCH

Marines with Marine Forces Reserve "build a house" during a corporal's course physical training session at Marine Corps Support Facility New Orleans, March 12. The Marines trained together to build their leadership abilities, increase their team-building skills and improve physical fitness.

Marines with Charlie Company, 1st Battalion, 24th Marine Regiment, 4th Marine Division, position themselves to clear a building of suspected enemy insurgents at exercise Arctic Eagle at Camp Grayling, Michigan, April 25.

The Marines, along with an attachment of soldiers from the Danish Home Guard, simulated retaking a city from enemy insurgents at Camp Grayling's Combined Arms Collective Training Facility.

APRIL

MAY

Pfc. Adam Kennedy, an infantryman with Alpha Company, 1st Battalion, 25th Marine Regiment, practices a prone firing stance with an AK-47 assault rifle while his Moroccan shooting partner practices with the M16 A2 rifle during the first day of African Lion, May 15.

African Lion 15 is an annual joint-force exercise in Morocco that aims to reinforce joint coalition crisis-response capabilities, creating a foundation for future military-to-military cooperation.

JUNE

Marines with Company A, 1st Battalion, 23rd Marine Regiment, 4th Marine Division, provide security during a mechanized operations course during Integrated Training Exercise 4-15 aboard Marine Corps Air-Ground Combat Center Twentynine Palms, California, June 15. . . . . Additionally, Marines participated in Heavy Metal 15, an annual two-week infantry training exercise led by 4th Marine Division. The exercise focuses on MAGTF combat capabilities sometimes integrating units from other branches of service.

JULY

Four Marines and a Sailor were honored after being killed in an attack by a gunman at the Naval Operational Support Center and Marine Corps Reserve Center in Chattanooga, Tennessee, on July 16. Families, friends and community members poured out to support the Marines and their families. . . . . During the month of July, Marines also participated in exercise Peninsula Express in Pohang, Republic of Korea on July 11. The exercise was part of the Korean-Marine Exchange program which helps to enhance interoperability and strengthen U.S.-Korea relations.

AUGUST

Marines with Company C, 4th Assault Amphibian Battalion, 4th Marine Division, participated in a vehicle recovery exercise at the Galveston Marine Corps Reserve Home Training Center in Galveston, Texas, Aug. 8. . . . . In Chantilly, Virginia, the Boeing CH-46 Sea Knight conducted its final flight to the Smithsonian Institution National National Air and Space Museum's Steven F. Udvar-Hazy Center. The ceremony was conducted by Marines with Marine Medium Helicopter Squadron 774.

SEPT. - OCT.

Marines with 4th Light Armored Reconnaissance Battalion, 4th Marine Division, conceal their Light Armored Vehicle during their final exercise in Trident Juncture 15 in Almería, Spain, Oct. 30. . . . . The simulated exercise taught the Marines each other's strengths and weaknesses, allowing them to seek improvement as well as build interoperability among the warfighters.

NOV. - DEC.

Reserve Marines join Brazilian Marines to conduct a breaching exercise during UNITAS 2015 taking place at Ilha do Governador, Brazil, Nov. 16. . . . . UNITAS is a multi-nation exercise designed to increase interoperability in areas such as military operations in urban terrain among participating countries.

TRICARE

TRICARE is the health care program for almost 9.5 million beneficiaries worldwide – including active duty service members, National Guard and Reserve members, retirees, their families, survivors, certain former spouses and others registered in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System (DEERS). TRICARE offers comprehensive, affordable health coverage with several health plan options, a robust pharmacy benefit, dental options and other special programs.

TRICARE Reserve Select is:

- A premium-based plan
- Available worldwide
- For qualified Selected Reserve members and their families
- Minimum essential coverage under the Affordable Care Act, when purchased

How to Enroll Online Only

- Log in to the DMDC Reserve Component Purchased TRICARE Application
- Follow the instructions to enroll

To log in, you must have one of the following:

- Common Access Card (CAC)
- DFAS (MyPay) account
- DoD Self-Service Logon (DS Logon)
- Premium (Level 2) account

When not activated:

You and your family can enroll in the TRICARE Dental Program.

- You can enroll at any time
- You must enroll for at least 12 months
- You pay monthly premiums based on your military status
- Sponsors and family members enroll separately

Activated:

You'll get active duty dental care when you get called to active duty for more than 30 consecutive days. This means you'll get:

- Most of your dental care from a military dental clinic
- Civilian dental care through the Active Duty Dental Program in the U.S. and U.S. Territories
- Overseas dental care through the TRICARE Overseas contractor, International SOS

Who Can Participate in TRS:

Members who are

- Not on active duty orders
- Not covered under the Transitional Assistance Management Program
- Not eligible for or enrollment in the Federal Employees Health Benefits (FEHB) program or currently covered under FEHB, either under their own eligibility or through a family member

Dental Care Options:

If you're enrolled in the TRICARE Dental Program when called to active duty:

- Your coverage automatically goes on hold
- You won't have to pay while you're on active duty
- Your family's enrollment in the TRICARE Dental Program continues with lower monthly premiums

Back To School

Yellow Ribbon

If your tuition and costs exceed the amount you are receiving from the Post-9/11 GI Bill, you may qualify for the Yellow Ribbon Program.

Degree-granting institutions of higher learning participating in the Post-9/11 GI Bill Yellow Ribbon Program agree to make additional funds available for your education program without an additional charge to your GI Bill entitlement. These institutions voluntarily enter into a Yellow Ribbon Agreement with the Department of Veterans Affairs and choose the amount of tuition and fees that will be contributed. Veterans Affairs matches that amount and issues payments directly to the institution.

Only veterans entitled to the maximum benefit rate, as determined by service requirements, or their designated transferees may receive this funding. Active duty servicemembers and their spouses are not eligible for this program. Child transferees of active duty servicemembers may be eligible if the servicemember is qualified at the 100 percent rate.

Mission

The Post-9/11 GI Bill provides financial support for education and housing to individuals with at least 90 days of aggregate service after Sept. 10, 2001, or individuals discharged with a service-connected disability after 30 days. You must have received an honorable discharge to be eligible for the Post-9/11 GI Bill. This benefit provides up to 36 months of education benefits, and generally benefits are payable for 15 years following your release from active duty. The Post-9/11 GI Bill offers some service members the opportunity to transfer their GI Bill to their dependents.

eBenefits

My Gateway to Benefit Information
<https://www.ebenefits.va.gov>

Mission:

The program gives tools to veterans, service members and their families to research, find, access and manage their benefits and personal information.

Offers:

- A personalized workspace called My Dashboard that provides quick access to eBenefits tools
- You can apply for benefits and download your DD 214
- View your benefits status in addition to other actions as needed
- The workspace is available to you once you have created an eBenefits account
- A catalog of links to other sites that provide information about military and veteran benefits

EMPLOYER SUPPORT OF THE GUARD AND RESERVE

Mission:

ESGR facilitates and promotes a cooperative culture of employer support for Reserve service by developing and advocating mutually beneficial initiatives; recognizing outstanding employer support; increasing awareness of applicable laws and policies; resolving conflicts between employers and service members; and acting as the employers' principal advocate within the Department of Defense.

Contact:

Mr. James Stucker, MARFORRES ESGR Representative

Goals of ESGR

- Gain and maintain support from employers for Reserve service
- Educate customers and stakeholders
- Advocate within DoD for Reserve employers
- Continually refine the ESGR organization for relevance, effectiveness, and efficiency
- Enhance consistent general population brand awareness and visibility of ESGR nationwide
- Enhance awareness and value of the Employment Initiative Program to both the employers and members of the Guard and Reserve

USERRA

- The Uniformed Services Employment and Re-employment Rights Act of 1994 is a federal law that establishes rights and responsibilities for uniformed service members and their civilian employers.
- USERRA ensures persons who have served in the Armed Forces, Reserve, National Guard or other uniformed services: (1) are not disadvantaged in their civilian careers because of their service; (2) are promptly reemployed in their civilian jobs upon their return from duty; and (3) are not discriminated against in employment based on past, present or future military service.

FAMILY MARINE RESOURCES

Mission: The Family Readiness Officer is the face of the Commander's vision for the Unit, Personal and Family Readiness Program. The FRO is the direct link to Marines and their family members. The program is a one-stop-shop for Marines and their family members for official command communication, resources and referral information, readiness and deployment support and volunteer management. The goal is to equip and assist Marines and their families in becoming well-informed, self-sufficient, and improve their quality of life to ensure that family readiness on the homefront does not affect the Marines' mission readiness.

Mission: Promote the well-being of Reserve service members and their families by connecting them with resources throughout the deployment cycle. Through Yellow Ribbon events held across the country, service members and those who support them have access to programs, services, resources, and referrals to minimize stress and maximize resiliency during all phases of deployments.

Events

Events in the program take place at key stages in the deployment cycle:

- Phase 1: Pre-deployment
- Phase 2: During deployment
- Phase 3: Demobilization
- Phase 4: Post-deployment

Psychological Health Outreach

Mission: The U.S. Marine Corps Psychological Health Outreach Program has been established to ensure Reserve Marines and their family members have full access to appropriate psychological health care services to increase resilience and to facilitate recovery, which is essential to maintaining a ready military force. Their goal is to facilitate a culture of support for psychological health. Reserve members and leaders understand that psychological health is essential to overall health care screenings and referrals to the appropriate psychological health care professionals.

Capabilities of PHOP

1. Command consultation
2. Psycho-educational briefings
3. Behavioral health screenings
4. Client Management
5. Resource and referral services
6. Demobilization outreach
7. Partnering, collaborating and coordinating with local and military providers.

Family Care Plan

Taking care of those who depend on you is an important part of readiness. Having a good plan in place when you are absent will keep your mind on the mission and your family safe.

What should it Contain?

Forms: Required by MCO 1740.13C

Name of Designated and Alternate Caregiver: Discuss the responsibilities of caring for your family members with your alternate caregiver.

Financial Matters: Arrangements and forms for allotment to be used for support. Have specific bank account information for the allotment. Obtain access to the commissary, Marine Corps Exchange and medical facilities.

Medical Information: Gather all pertinent medical and dental records. Include names and addresses of physicians, health care providers and a medical power of attorney for healthcare.

Daily Activities: Provide specific details on how your family "works." Include information on mealtimes, bedtimes, homework, special events, religious services, extracurricular activities and more.

Temporary Responsibility for Children: Designate a person to assume temporary responsibility for family members in event of death or incapacity, until a natural parent, adoptive parent or legal guardian assumes custody by court order.

Mission: Military OneSource is a confidential Department of Defense-funded program providing comprehensive information on every aspect of military life at no cost to active duty, Guard and Reserve Component members and their families. Information includes, but is not limited to, deployment, reunion, relationships, grief, spouse employment and education, parenting and childhood, and much more.

Services

- Call center and online support
- Specialty consultations
- Financial services
- Tax services
- Spouse education and career opportunities
- Online tools and social media
- Educational materials

LOOK HERE TO SEE HOW TO OBTAIN A SATISFACTORY YEAR IN THE IRR AND SEE HOW TO EARN YOUR CAREER RETIREMENT CREDIT RECORD POINTS (CRCR)

CRCR

CRCR points are a means of measuring your participation while in the Reserve and can be earned the following ways:

- 15 points are earned from keeping your MOL information up-to-date.
- Participation while in the Reserve equals one CRCR point per day of active duty or one point per drill period.
- One drill equals four hours of SMCR duty, with a maximum of two drills per day.
- Points may be earned through Marine Corps Institute Distance Education Courses (MCIs).

*IN ORDER TO EARN A SATISFACTORY YEAR TOWARDS RETIREMENT AS AN IRR, SMCR OR IMA MEMBER YOU MUST EARN 50 CRCR POINTS IN AN ANNIVERSARY YEAR*

REQUESTING ORDERS

- IRR members may request Reserve counterpart training up to 28 days, contract with a local Reserve unit and submit an EPAR via MOL.
- Members may earn points also by participating in funeral details at a local SMCR as a "courtesy participant."

KNOW (AND UNDERSTAND) your options IN THE RESERVE

There is more to the Reserve Component than drilling once a month and annual training two weeks a year. Marines can serve part time with an active-duty unit, serve full time in a unit and remain close to home, or be activated for periods of time. Although service must always satisfy the Marine Corps' needs, there is much more flexibility in Reserve duty than most people may think.

*CONTACT A PRIOR-SERVICE RECRUITER:
WWW.MARINES.COM
CLICK "CONTACT A RECRUITER"*

ACTIVE RESERVE

The Active Reserve program allows a Marine to serve on a full-time basis in billets that support the Reserve component. This includes Inspector-Instructor billets and billets at the Marine Forces Reserve Headquarters. Marines who leave active duty and decide they miss the Corps, or drilling Reserve Marines who would like to work full-time may be good candidates for the AR program.

Marines involved with the AR program serve side-by-side with Active Component Marines, work full-time, receive active-duty pay and benefits, and can change duty stations. These Marines can deploy and serve in additional billets such as recruiter or drill instructor. They also qualify for the same retirement benefits as active duty Marines.

To be eligible, Active-Component Marines must be within six months of their expiration of active service date, be eligible for re-enlistment and be willing to serve in a billet required by the AR program. Marines in the Individual Ready Reserve and Selected Marine Corps Reserve programs may be eligible as well.

To find out more information, contact your local prior-service recruiter.

INDIVIDUAL READY RESERVE

If a Marine transitions from active duty after four years, he is still obligated to serve four additional years in the Individual Ready Reserve. The IRR is a pool of Reserve Marines who can be called to active duty in a time of crisis.

Marines in the IRR typically report one day a year at a "Mega Muster" to show they meet all requirements for physical appearance and uniforms. Marines who attend the muster also have the opportunity to update their contact information, learn about benefits and talk with prior-service recruiters. Marines in the IRR are eligible for reenlistment, promotion and continued service in the IRR.

ACTIVE DUTY OPERATIONAL SUPPORT

Sometimes the Corps needs Reserve Marines to perform active-duty tours of less than six months. The work can support a variety of activities ranging from military operations, to administrative work, to training. Most of the time, Marines on ADOS orders bridge the gap when a unit's operational tempo is higher than normal.

This is a good option for a Marine in the Individual Ready Reserve who may be taking a break from school or work and is interested in coming back to the Marine Corps. Marines on ADOS orders may even have the opportunity to extend their orders past six months if necessary.

SMCR

The Selected Marine Corps Reserve offers the most traditional form of Reserve duty. A typical unit in the SMCR has a designated drill weekend every month. The unit typically performs its two weeks of annual training as a group; very little is done on an individual basis.

The SMCR is a good way for Reserve Marines to experience camaraderie without being on active duty. The opportunity to deploy is still there, and SMCR units will usually complete their two-week annual training while participating in one of many exercises.

INDIVIDUAL MOBILIZATION AUGMENTEE

In the Individual Mobilization Augmentee program, a Reserve Marine fills a particular need with an active-duty unit by performing Reserve duty with that unit.

The ability of the Marine to fill the need is the deciding factor, and it doesn't matter whether that ability is the result of military training, civilian education or work experience.

This is a good option for Marines who have busy schedules in their civilian lives because flexibility is a hallmark of an IMA duty tour.

Depending on the needs of the sponsoring unit, Reserve Marines in IMA billets commonly perform their drills and annual training on schedules that create minimal friction.

IMA Marines have the option to perform all their drills and annual training consecutively. As long as the sponsoring unit accomplishes its mission and the Reserve Marine is meeting annual drill requirements, it doesn't matter whether the work is done on particular days, weeks or months.
