CO flight 526 SFO-IAH
January 29, 2006

Australian Shepherd - Female - 4 years old
Name: Rosie

Owner/Guardian

REDACTED

Description of the Incident:

The 70lb. was dog loose in the bin of the aircraft upon arrival into Houston. The Continental Agent noticed a very minimal amount of blood from a small cut on the dog's nose.

Description of the Cause of the Incident:

Rosie was not acclimated to her kennel and she chewed through the plastic crate during the flight. In the process of chewing and pushing through this opening, she incurred a self-inflicted (minor) cut on the nose.

Description of any corrective action taken:

Continental Airlines followed up with the owner regarding the animal's condition, and she was reported to be doing fine and never needed medical attention. No other follow-up or corrective action necessary by the airline.
