Wed, May 1, 2013

John Jenson, Priscilla Brooks

Key Goal

- Focus our attention on framing out the survey, in efforts to:
 - Produce a detailed survey that we will disseminate across the universe of MPAs in the Center's database in mid-May
 - Gather information, assess gaps, challenges and opportunities and hopefully to issue some guiding principles and specific recommendations

Survey Themes are divided into three parts:

Part I: Descriptive Themes

Part II: Management Themes

Part III: Outreach

Part I: Descriptive Themes

- Trends in current and emerging rec uses (who are the recreations users, how, where, and when do they use MPAs?)
- Perceived social and economic benefits of recreational uses
- Perceived ecological impacts of recreational uses (direct, cumulative and threshold level)

Part II: Management Themes

- Data and types of studies required to responsibly manage or promote recreation and tourism
 - Social and cultural drivers
 - Use conflicts or user conflicts associated with recreation
 - Current management of recreational uses in MPAs
 - Carrying capacity of recreational uses

Part III: Outreach

How does your MPA engage the recreation community?
