

Independent Statistics & Analysis

U.S. Energy Information
Administration

October 22, 2014

Residential propane prices stable

The average retail price for propane is $2.37 per gallon. That's down 4-tenths of a penny from a week ago, based on the U.S. Energy Information Administration's weekly residential heating fuel survey. Propane prices in the Midwest region averaged $1.89 a gallon. Down 2-tenths of a cent from last week.

This is Amerine Woodyard, with EIA, in Washington.

For more information, contact Marcela Rourk at 202-586-4412