32nd ANNUAL FORT MEADE RETIREE APPRECIATION DAY

NOTES FROM THE RSO STEVE ASHLEY

I hope this finds everyone doing well.

This years Retiree Appreciation Day is once again at the Kimbrough Ambulatory Care Center. This means they will be able to give better medical screenings plus (hopefully) flu shots. It will be a one-day event, 26 October 2007 and will be from 8:00 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. Lunch will be at the Freedom Inn Dining Facility and will cost $3.55. I think you will discover that this is not your or your old familiar mess hall. The afternoon events (guest speaker, SME panel, museum tours will be in the afternoon 1:30 – 4:00 p.m. More on the day's events later in the newsletter.

What a spring. The Human Resources Center, here at Fort Meade, was renamed the Max J. Beilke HRC. Max was a prominent fixture at Fort Meade, especially as a retiree, and was the Deputy Chief, Army Retirement Services when he was killed in the Pentagon attack on September 11, 2001. As guest speaker we had the Army G1, LTG Rochelle. Many of Max's relatives were on hand.

I hope those of you who have computers have been reading my webpage. It is located at www.ftmeade.army.mil. Click on Retirement Services Office. In there you will find all kinds of information, Fort Meade Retiree Council minutes, upcoming events, etc.

A big thank you to my staff, Tracey Davis (who has since left our office) and Cynthia Johnson. Their dedication, support, and hard work have made this office one of the best. I would also like to thank the Retiree Council for their dedication to the area retirees.

INSTALLATION COMMANDER'S MESSAGE COLONEL KENNETH O. McCREEDY

This marks the fourth opportunity I've had to communicate with the retiree community through this publication. As we approach another summer season, there are several important issues I wish to discuss with our readers.

First, I want to express my sincere and pride and heartfelt appreciation for the support and assistance provided in dedicating the Max Beilke Human Resources Center in March. Max Beilke was the epitome of selfless service to the U.S. Army and the nation. He represented the best of the NCO Corps. His life and career were all about taking care of others. We at Fort Meade are fortunate to have an activity named in his honor.

Moving on, by now you may have already heard (hopefully) the good news that this installation took second place in the Army's Community of Excellence competition. With that recognition comes $1 million award money. As I told the community in a Soundoff! column at the time of the announcement, this is a great testament to the dedication, professionalism and hard work of a customer based workforce that believes in itself and its ability to continuously improve.

As to how we can and should spend the million dollar prize money, the Army's guidance is that the funds are to be used for benefit of the entire community and installation; and used for projects that produce enduring value for the quality of life of residents and stakeholders. We've set up an interactive web site to solicit ideas and suggestions. Go to:

<http://150.177.102.75/> and click on the link – <http://MEADc21978dm030/isp/ideasView.aspx>

. We'll review and harvest your recommendations and establish a committee this fall to develop proposals for spending $1 million. Remember, think big! It doesn't hurt to dream. Together we can help make Fort Meade an even better place to live, work and enjoy.

Another big development is BRAC. The 2005 Base Realignment and Closure decision will result in major growth in and around Fort Meade during the next several years. Part of that expansion involves the widening and improvement of Maryland Route 175, which runs adjacent to the installation. During a public meeting in March, the Maryland State Highway Administration unveiled six proposals. It's critical to get this road built. This post isn't an island and it impacts on multiple communities in the area. Fort Meade can work with various alternatives.

The SHA will provide a draft environmental document and conduct another open meeting next year. The planning process is scheduled to end in 2009 when the SHA obtains locations and design approval. Stay tuned for more details. I'll keep you posted through this publication and the Soundoff!

On a related matter, the Enhanced Use Lease or EUL initiative will increase the value of underutilized land to support mission-related needs on the installation. We are presently negotiating now a 50-year lease with the Trammel Crow Co. for them to build two million square feet of office space during the next decade or so to accommodate the additional activities and organizations scheduled to relocate here. As a result of the in-kind services, Fort Meade expects to be able to maintain its infrastructure better while saving the taxpayer's money. EUL is a tremendously powerful tool in helping Fort Meade realize the full value of its land and leverage that value to improve our installation in many ways. More to follow on this.

In the area of transportation, growth such as what will occur in and around Fort Meade during the next decade will put strains on existing roads, as previously mentioned. We're conducting a traffic study of the road network on post to ensure we are prepared to meet greater traffic demands. We are also working with the community to develop multi-modal transit options for people coming to work here. We can make existing transit systems (especially MARC) more effective. For example, Fort Meade is offering to provide land for a transit operations facility in order to stimulate affordable shuttle connections linking the post to the local MARC stations.

In March we opened a new Musculoskeletal Center at Kimbrough. This facility provides outpatient services in orthopedics, chiropractics, podiatry and physical therapy specialties. It is part of a long-term improvement project to renovate and upgrade Kimbrough health care services.

Also in March we upgraded our DEERS and RAPIDS computer systems. This was a DoD-wide initiative to deter possible fraud and abuse of the ID card system. It required us to close the ID card processing section for two days and I apologize for any inconvenience experienced by our retirees and/or their families.

By now you've probably noticed the changes in the commissary. It's part of an effort to give the store a new look and a more customer-friendly product flow. As the store manager has said, the intent is to make the shopping experience faster and easier – making the commissary the place to go, not just on pay day, but every day.

Operating hours have been changed to accommodate weekend shoppers as well. Early bird shopping is now available from 7 a.m. until regular store hours. Check it out.

Finally, I want to recognize the efforts of our many retirees who give freely to support Fort Meade programs.

In April I had the distinct honor of presenting an appreciation award to Ms. Louise Outlaw, who has served this community for 45 years as a volunteer. Still going strong at a youthful 90, Louise has served with the Main Post Chapel religious activities program since 1962. She's also worked with the local Boy and Girl Scout troops, as well as the Red Cross and USO. As an ACS volunteer, Ms. Outlaw has given her time and talents to military families, helping spouses learn English as a second language and providing child care so they can keep their medical appointments. Louise Outlaw symbolizes the true spirit of our retiree community – still serving, wherever she can.

There's lots happening here and you need to read our award winning weekly newspaper, Soundoff!, to stay informed. This year marks the 90th anniversary of Fort Meade and we have scheduled events and activities you may want to attend. And don't forget to attend our Retiree Appreciation Day event on 26 Oct. There's always good information available.

Thanks to your continued support and participation, this truly is a people's post and a Community of Excellence.

CHAIRMAN'S COMMENTS Colonel Bert L. Rice, USA (Ret)

Greetings Fellow Retirees and Families!

So much has happened since the last newsletter was sent out in 2006 that it is hard to know where to begin. So, first, I hope that you and yours are doing well health-wise and are planning a safe, enjoyable summer. Do be safe!

Recent stirring Memorial Day services and events remind us that "Freedom is not Free!" At Fort Meade a Memorial Day Ceremony was held on Thursday, 24 May at the newly established Centennial Park, which is located along English Avenue across from the gazebo on McGlachlin Parade Field. Also, a groundbreaking ceremony occurred which confirms that Centennial Park will be developed at this very location. We hope that the timeline for development will result in completion of the park by 2017 just in time for the 100th Anniversary of Fort Meade – we can have a real Centennial Celebration!

Centennial Park will be a wonderful place for quiet contemplation and reflection. A beautiful entrance gate, walking paths, park benches, plaques and memorialized stone markers will provide an ambience of restful tranquility. You can play a role in the development of the Park. All you need do is visit the Fort Meade Museum where information regarding the Fort Meade Museum Historical Foundation is available. The Foundation is working to develop Centennial Park and it is through the Foundation that you can learn how you may become involved.

I thought it important to provide you information about Centennial Park because it is a way for you and your loved ones to become and remain connected not only to Fort Meade but with fellow comrades and heroes who gave so much for our great Country. But, we must move on, so I want to advise you about a number of events coming up so that you can attend and participate. This being the 90th Anniversary of Fort Meade, you should be watchful for events that will occur throughout the remainder of the year. An excellent source of information is the Fort Meade newspaper – SOUNDOFF! You can attend or participate in nearly all the events.

On Saturday, 18 August 2007, we will hold an event that we do every two years entitled the "Surviving Spouse Symposium." The symposium will be held at Club Meade this year where there is room for more attendees and where parking is more accommodating. An excellent selection of speakers has agreed to support the symposium and lunch will be served at a cost we feel is affordable to everyone. So, please complete the enclosed form and return it to (furnish appropriate address) by not later than 10 August 2007. We need a week to confirm final attendance with Club Meade and to assure that space is available for all attendees and the guest speakers. So, please do not delay but send in your registration with payment for the meal as soon as possible. Respective speakers will address medical, legal, social security and veteran affairs related issues which are especially important to surviving spouses just as they are to military retirees.

On Friday, 26 October 2007, we will conduct the annual Retiree Appreciation Day (RAD) activities. The venue will be similar to that in 2006 when Kimbrough Ambulatory Care Center assisted in making arrangements and then hosting many activities during the morning hours. We intend to make arrangements to allow retirees and their spouses to eat lunch in the Freedom Inn Dining Facility, if desired. Following lunch, we will then assemble in the Post Theater to hear a panel of experts who will address a number of issues prior to opening the floor to your questions. A drawing for several nice door prizes will be held. This always adds fun to the event!

As you can see, we have a number of activities that you can participate in one way or another. And, we want to add a few more new members to the Fort Meade Retiree Council. If interested, please contact the Retirement Services Officer, Mr. Stephen Ashley, at (301) 677-9603 and let him know of your interest. You can also contact any member of the Retiree Council who will assist you in making contact with Mr. Ashley or his staff.

In the past, I have suggested and encouraged you to read Army Echoes. Please continue to read this very informative newsletter. The May-August issue highlighted comments by General George W. Casey the newly appointed Army Chief of Staff upon his assumption of the top uniformed Army position. He reaffirmed his support for strong families, courageous soldiers, invaluable civilian employees, retirees and the great citizens of America. He concluded with, "We are Army Strong!"

The same Army Echoes provided a good summary of 42 issues that were reviewed and addressed when the Chief of Staff, Army Retiree Council convened from 23 to 27 April 2007. About a third of the issues dealt with health care. The Council took a strong position on continued support of these issues. Some other matters that generated strong support from the Council included full concurrent receipt of military retired pay and VA disability compensation, elimination of the DIC offset to SBP, transformation of the Reserve Component retirement system, and continued support of the Retirement Services Offices. Details are available in Army Echoes on these and a host of other matters. It even encouraged retirees to get involved with their local retiree council – I think I said that a little earlier! By the way, Army retirees should have received the new Army retired pin by now. It looks great and generates a lot of questions when I wear mine!

Near the end of Army Echoes an article entitled, "VA calls Aid and Attendance under-used benefit" which states that this benefit may be available to many elderly who qualify. Please review the article to see if you or someone you know may be eligible for this under-used benefit. It is never too late to find out about this type of information and best of all you may qualify for a benefit!

Both the Commissary and AAFES are trying to improve services and so please be patient as these facilities go through transformation of sorts. The recent resetting of the Commissary generated some misgivings by some customers. However, by now I think it was worth the effort because I know that the most needed and like items are co-located. However, if you should have questions about these type issues or other customer related matters on Fort Meade let someone know of your concern. Since I currently work at Fort Meade, I answer many questions and our intent is improving service to the customers.

Did you hear that Fort Meade won 2nd place in the Army Communities of Excellent 2007 Award competition? It is important to do well in this competition because cash awards are given to the top three competitors. Fort Meade will receive $1,000,000 for winning second place. The first place winner receives $2,000,000, so that is Fort Meade's goal for 2008! The winning installations must have outstanding employees who are focused on providing quality service to the customers. That is why it is important that you let someone know if you think services can be improved. Thanks for helping the installation do even better in the future!

Fort Meade is immersed in Base Realignment and Closure (BRAC) activities. Construction for arriving BRAC agencies could reach nearly 1,250,000 square feet of office and administrative space to accommodate 5,700 new jobs. In addition, an enhanced use lease (EUL) project is underway which could include up to 2,000,000 square feet of office and administrative space to accommodate up to 10,000 jobs. As you can imagine, the Fort Meade commander and his staff are working hard to meet the requirements of all this activity. It is truly an exciting time to be involved at Fort Meade!

During this construction period, please be patient as roads will become more congested as construction gets underway.

In closing, I would like to support Mr. Stephen Ashley and his staff at the Fort Meade Retirement Services Office for the support provided to all of us. Also, I cannot say enough good things about Installation Commander Colonel Kenneth O. McCreedy and his entire staff for their assistance and support to retirees. They strive to include us in all aspects of the Fort Meade family. I feel connected and I hope you feel the same way!

I look forward to seeing many of you on 18 August during the Surviving Spouse Symposium and then again on 26 October for all the Retiree Appreciation Day activities! In the meantime have a safe, enjoyable summer and enjoy happiness throughout the coming year! God Bless you and God Bless America!

NOTES FROM THE COUNCIL CO-CHAIRMAN SGM KENNETH L. MCCALL, SR., USA RET

It is an extreme pleasure to once again address you through this media and I wish we could do this more frequently, but, budget constraints prevail. Our major concerns continue to be health care which is being addressed not only at the local level, but at the Army Chief of Staff Retiree Council as well. The Kimbrough Ambulatory Care Center recently announced that they have space to accept the enrollment of military retirees and their qualified family members (all must be under the age of 65), into TRICARE Prime (call 1-877/874-2273, or visit their TRICARE Service Center to enroll). Those military retirees and family members over the age of 65 and currently enrolled in Kimbrough's TRICARE Plus program will continue to receive the same level of care that they have been receiving. If you are 65 or older and not enrolled in TRICARE Plus, and need assistance in finding a healthcare provider, call Kimbrough's Beneficiary Counseling and Assistance Coordinators at (301)677-8982.

Senator Barbara A. Mikulski, (MD) continues her mission to "Keep Our Promises to America's Veterans". She along with Senator Benjamin Cardin (MD), recently announced that the Department of Veterans Affairs will open two new community-based clinics in Maryland – one at Andrews Air Force Base (PG County) and the other at Fort Detrick (Frederick County). They are scheduled to be operational in 2007 and 2008 respectively. Senator Mikulski has led a national effort in establishing out-patient clinics for veterans. Additionally, she has introduced a bill to improve veterans burial benefits (Veterans Burial Benefits Improvement Act), and when approved, will see increases for veterans who die of service-connected disabilities and who are entitled to receive pension or compensation at time of death, or who die in a Department of Veterans Affairs veterans' facility or a nursing home under contract to them, a state veterans' nursing home and for veterans not buried in a cemetery under US jurisdiction (there are several conditions associated with this part). Let them know that you appreciate their efforts and work.

Locally, Anne Arundel County John R. Leopold, recently brought to fruition, a law establishing the Anne Arundel County (AAC) Veterans Affairs Commission and I was honored to be appointed its chairman. The commission is charged with establishing a forum for all AAC veterans of military service by maintaining coordinated communication with county and local governments, businesses and veterans of the county. It also provides assistance, guidance, and information to the business and academic communities of the county and various levels of government to ensure adequate consideration of veterans in employment, education, training and public programs. The commission, composed of 13 residents of the county who are either a veteran or military retiree (All volunteers from the various branches) have an enormous task ahead of it and all are willing to do that which is necessary to get the job done. We will expand our ranks by appointing committees from the veteran community to assist us in our mission. Mr. Leopold recently signed an Executive Order to become effective on 1 July 2007, that will allow all military (both active and retired) and their family members, to use Anne Arundel County parks free of charge. The parks are Down Memorial (Pasadena), Fort Smallwood (Pasadena), Kinder Farm (Millersville), and Quiet Waters (Annapolis). Proper military identification must be shown. Mr. Leopold, a longtime advocate for Veterans' rights and concerns, stated: "I view this new initiative as one more way to honor military personnel and their families for their contributions to Anne Arundel County, the State of Maryland and the United States of America. Their close proximity to the Naval Academy, Fort Meade and Washington, DC, makes our parks ideal places for them to visit and enjoy".

I was recently appointed an Ambassador in the Freedom Team Salute program which was established by the Department of the Army to recognize and honor all "Army Veterans" of the Army, Army Air Force, Army Air Corps, Women's Army Corps, Army Nurse Corps, parents, spouses and employers. If you are interested in receiving a commendation certificate packet, please e-mail me at c179infregt@yahoo.com. You can also snail mail me at: Ken McCall, PO Box 177, Fort Meade, MD 20755. Please have the following information available: your full name, rank and period of service, your home address, and your e-mail address (optional). If you would like to nominate your spouse or parent for a Freedom Team Salute commendation, please let me know. Again, this program is for Army veterans only. (COL Erwin Burtnick, USA Ret, a council member, is also an FTS ambassador.)

Please mark your calendars to attend our Surviving Spouse Symposium on Saturday, 18 August 2007, at Club Meade and the Fort Meade Retiree Appreciation Day on Friday, 26 October 2007. (More on these events are found within the newsletter.) And until the next time, "May God hold you in the hollow of his hand". Thanks Max.
