

U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service
Mountain-Prairie Region, P.O. Box 25486
Lakewood, Colorado 80228
phone 303/236-7905, fax 303/236-3815
website: www.r6.fws.gov

Bear Safety on the Web

There is a lot of valuable information on the internet about how to live peacefully with bears and be safe in bear country. While we do not officially maintain or endorse any of these websites, we have noted the addresses below for your information on ways of living safely with bears.

Websites with Grizzly Bear Safety Tips:

Interagency Grizzly Bear Committee

<http://www.fs.fed.us/r1/wildlife/igbc/cwi/menu.htm>

Bears of North America

Safety Tips from the Center for Wildlife Information

<http://www.montana.com/rattlesnake/safety.htm>

Information from the Bear Management Office Yellowstone National Park

<http://www.nps.gov/yell/nature/animals/bear/index.htm>

Hiking and Camping in Bear Country Glacier National Park

<http://www.nps.gov/glac/resources/bears.htm>

Safety Tips for Travel in Bear Country North Cascades National Park

<http://www.nps.gov/noca/bear.htm>

Safety Precautions in Bear Country from the Jackson Hole Visitors Network

<http://www.jacksonholewyoming.net/precautions.html>

The websites listed above are only a sampling of available information on the internet. We urge you to further explore and educate yourself about grizzly bears and bear encounters.