C-02 Federal Protective Service

The Federal Protective Service is a law enforcement and security division of DHS. DHS is a federal agency codified, by statute, with the authority of the Secretary for Homeland Security to protect all buildings, grounds, and property that is owned, occupied, secured by the federal government, or a mixed ownership corporation thereof, and the persons on the property. The statute designates FPS employees as Officers and Agents for Duty in connection with the protection of such property, to include areas outside the property to the extent necessary to protect the property and persons on the property. Federal Protective Service has the responsibility of protecting the federal workplace and ensuring the safety of all employees and visitors. Federal Protective Service provides law enforcement, physical security and investigative services to most civilian Federal agencies. Federal Protective Service accomplishes this through the utilization of staff law enforcement, investigative and security personnel; along with contract security guards, electronic surveillance, and entry control and crime prevention programs. Federal Protective Service Law Enforcement Security Officers, Federal Police Officers, Inspectors, Criminal Investigators and Physical Security Specialists (with law enforcement authority) are authorized to enforce laws and make arrests on property under Delegation of Authority to the Director for the Federal Protective Service, signed June 6, 2003, regarding authorities of Homeland Security Action, Pub. L. 107-296, November 25, 2002, 116 Stat. (2135, SS 403(3), 1706 (2002); the President's Homeland Security Reorganization Plan, November 25, 2002, as modified, January 30, 2003; Department of Homeland Security Delegation Number: 7030 (Delegation of Authority to the Assistant Secretary of the Bureau of Immigration and Customs Enforcement). Shift periods shall be eight and one half (8.5) hours to allow for briefing and debriefing, one half hour unpaid lunch, and two fifteen (15) minute paid breaks.

c. Failure on the part of the contractor to utilize motivated, experienced and well-trained personnel who possess the knowledge, skills and abilities required by the contract may produce unsatisfactory results which may cause the Government to take deductions from the contractor's monthly invoices for unsatisfactory work and/or work not accomplished. Performance appraisals will be made of the contractor's performance in accordance with Federal Acquisition Regulation requirements.

d. Non-supervisory and Supervisory hours can only be provided within the scheduled shift period. Missed non-supervisory and supervisory time can not be shifted to a later shift period or charged to/charged from any preceding or subsequent work period/work day. All shifts from normally scheduled work within shift periods must be submitted in writing to the Mega Center Manager or his designated COTR for approval.

C-07.3 Supervisory Labor Hour Requirements

The contractor shall provide the amount of on-site supervisory staffing outlined in Exhibit J-1 to assure effective performance of all services required and described in this solicitation. The contractor's supervisory representative shall be present at the Mega Center to direct the work accomplished each day. The schedule of supervisory hours may vary in accordance with FPS needs in providing supervision each day. Proposed supervisors schedule shall be furnished to the COTR for approval prior to being performed. Hours of supervision not provided one day cannot be made up on a subsequent day.

C-07.4 Additions and Deletions to Basic Scheduled Services: Supervisory and Non-Supervisory Labor Hours

a. The labor hours stated in Exhibit J-1 are those hours, which have been identified as the basic level of service essential to the performance of this contract.

b. The Government has the unilateral right to order services in excess of the labor hours stated in Exhibit J-1, as long as the increase is within the scope of work. The contractor shall be obligated to provide services at the specified rate(s) in accordance with their completed Bid Schedule that shall be incorporated into and made part of, the contract.

C-07.5 Reserve/On-Call Supervisory and Non-Supervisory Personnel

a. During the course of this contract there shall be a need for short-term (5 - 120 days) additional dispatch operations (Telecommunicators and dispatch supervisory) staffing requirements. The Contractor shall maintain a reserve force of sufficient size to cover an increase estimated at twenty-five percent (25%) over and above the basic (scheduled) service labor hours required for the operation of the Mega Center. All reserve force individuals must meet the minimum qualification standards for their assigned position as required in this contract before working any post under the contract.

b. The Contractor shall ascertain how this reserve force shall be acquired and maintained. The computation of the reserve force shall be based on all persons working five (5) eight and one half (8.5) hours shift in a normal forty (40) hour work week to cover all the basic (scheduled) service labor hours and the reserve staff personnel providing forty (40) hours of service weekly. The contractor shall maintain the reserve at this level and shall inform the Contracting Officer's Technical Representative monthly, in writing, by providing an updated employee roster showing seniority and training completion status for all training requirements, noting all staffing additions and deletions during the life of this contract. Some full-time employees who are off scheduled duty may serve as reserve capacity personnel, provided all other contract requirements are met, however, it is not the Federal Protective Service's intent to have the contractor employ these reserve personnel as full-time employees, but rather to have them available on an as-needed, on-call basis.

c. The Contractor should factor the costs for maintaining this reserve Operator/Telecommunicator and dispatch Supervisor force into the proposed prices, as the Government will not otherwise pay for them after award of the contract.

d. The following 'reserve force calculation' is provided for informational purposes only and shall not be construed as the optimal method to compute estimated reserve workforce.

Example Reserve calculation:

- 1) Compute the number of required hours of work for full time positions in Operators or Supervisors identified on the task lists for every previous month;
- 2) Divide the required hours (assume 9,812 for operators) by 160 [4 forty hour work weeks] = 61.325; and round to closest whole number = 61 operators;
- 3) Multiple that number by 1.25 = 76.25; and round that number to the closest whole number = 76 operators; and is the required number of staff operator or supervisors required. Calculate required supervisors using the same method.

Example of Operators calculation: 9812 required in previous month; $9812/160 = 61.325$; round off to closest whole number = 61 * 1.25 = 76.25; rounded off to closest whole number = 76 operators must be on staff, cleared, trained, and ready to perform duty on the contract.

Example of Supervisors calculation: $720 + 352 = 1072$ required in previous month; $1072/160 = 6.7$; round off to closest whole number = 7; $7 * 1.25 = 8.75$; rounded off = 9 supervisors are required. One supervisor has to be qualified and trained to act as the Alternate Project Manager.

Short, unscheduled periods of relief may be authorized if first coordinated with the on-site Federal Protective Service, shift supervisor, and/or COTR.

c. Limitation on Labor hours to be Provided by Individual Employees.

1. The Record of Time of Arrival and Departure, GSA Form 139, Operations Log, or another FPS approved electronic system or sign-in/sign-out form, will be utilized as specified by the COTR. Contract employee sign-in and sign-out locations will be as designated by the cognizant COTR. The Government shall pay only for services actually rendered by the Contractor. The report shall be certified by the Contractor as to its accuracy.
