93.505 AFFORDABLE CARE ACT (ACA) MATERNAL, INFANT, AND EARLY CHILDHOOD HOME VISITING PROGRAM

MIECHV or Federal Home Visiting Program

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Health Resources and Services Administration, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title V, Section 511 (42 U.S.C. 711), as amended by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, 2951 (P.L. 111-148).

OBJECTIVES:

The Maternal, Infant, and Early Childhood Home Visiting Program is designed : (1) to strengthen and improve the programs and activities carried out under Title V; (2) to improve coordination of services for at risk communities; and (3) to identify and provide comprehensive services to improve outcomes for families who reside in at risk communities. Voluntary evidence-based home visiting is the primary strategy to deliver services. A nurse, social worker, parent educator, or other paraprofessional regularly visits an expectant mother or father, new parent, or primary caregiver of a young child from birth to kindergarten entry to support and strengthen the parent-child relationship to improve the health, development and well-being for the child and family.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

1. The statute reserves the majority of funding for the delivery of services through use of one or more evidence-based home visiting service delivery models. In addition, it supports continued innovation by allowing up to 25 percent of total funds awarded for the fiscal year to support service delivery through promising approaches that do not yet qualify as evidence-based models. Assistance can potentially be used for enhancing States infrastructure for improving coordination of services for at-risk communities and identifying and providing comprehensive services to improve outcomes for families who reside in at-risk communities, as well as for implementing State home visiting service programs. To ensure that the required statutory distribution is maintained, all MIECHV programs must demonstrate that they are being delivered in conformity with the approved service delivery models. This fidelity is demonstrated by programs that have the requisite designation and/or approval from a model developer to provide evidence-based home visiting services. MIECHV-funded programs must maintain the requisite designation and/or approval from the model developer while receiving MIECHV funding.

2. Restrictions: No more than 10% of the award amount may be spent on costs associated with administering the award, this restriction does not apply to subrecipients. Funds made available to a grantee for a fiscal year shall remain available for expenditure by the grantee through the end of the second succeeding fiscal year after award. Funds that have not been expended during the period of availability will be deobligated and no longer available for use by the grantee.

Applicant Eligibility:

Eligibility for funding is limited to a single application from each State, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, and American Samoa. The Governor has the responsibility and authority to designate which entity or group of entities will apply for and administer home visiting program funds on behalf of the State or US Territory.

Regardless of the entity or entities designated by the Governor, this application must contain the concurrence and signatures of the:

Director of the States Title V agency;
 Director of the States agency for Title II of the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act (CAPTA);
 The States child welfare agency (Title IV-E and IV-B), if this agency is not also administering Title II of CAPTA;
 Director of the States Single State Agency for Substance Abuse Services;
 The States Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) Administrator; Director of the States Head Start State Collaboration Office, and
 The States Advisory Council on Early Childhood Education and Care authorized by 642B(b)(1)(A)(i) of the Head Start Act.

For those states that have elected not to participate in MIECHV, nonprofit organizations with an established record of providing early childhood home visiting programs or initiatives in a state or several states are eligible to apply to carry out programs in those states.

Renewals:

Formula funds are awarded on an annual basis.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Formula funding is determined as follows:

- i. The number of children under age five in families at or below 100% of the Federal poverty line in each state was obtained by using 2011 U.S. Census Bureau Small Area Income Poverty Estimate (SAIPE) data (available at <http://www.census.gov/did/www/saipe/data/statecounty/data/2011.html>).

ii. The percentage of children under age five in families at or below 100% of the Federal poverty line in the state, as compared to the number of such children nationally, was calculated.

iii. For each state, the percentage of children under age five in families at or below 100% of the Federal poverty line was multiplied by the total amount of funding available, (excluding the funding allocated for Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands, the Northern Mariana Islands, and American Samoa. Because SAIPE data is not available for these jurisdictions, each was allocated a base amount of $1,000,000.

iv. This initial distribution, based on the percentage of children in poverty, was reviewed and proportionally modified to ensure a floor of the allocation provided in federal FY 2012 (excluding the funding provided for the Supporting Evidence Based Home Visiting Program). This program has no matching requirements. This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details. Funds provided to an eligible entity receiving a grant shall supplement, and not supplant, funds from other sources for early childhood home visitation programs or initiatives (per the Social Security Act, Title V, 511(f)). The grantee must agree to maintain non-Federal funding (State General Funds) for grant activities at a level which is not less than expenditures for such activities as of the most recently completed fiscal year.

For purposes of maintenance of effort/non-supplantation, home visiting is defined as an evidence-based program, implemented in response to findings from a needs assessment, that includes home visiting as a primary service delivery strategy (excluding programs with infrequent or supplemental home visiting), and is offered on a voluntary basis to pregnant women or children birth to age five targeting the participant outcomes in the legislation which include improved maternal and child health, prevention of child injuries, child abuse, or maltreatment, and reduction of emergency department visits, improvement in school readiness and achievement, reduction in crime or domestic violence, improvements in family economic self-sufficiency, and improvements in the coordination and referrals for other community resources and supports.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Funds awarded to an eligible entity for a fiscal year remain available for expenditure through the end of the second succeeding fiscal year after award. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Grantee drawdown funds, as necessary, from the Payment Management System (PMS). 93.507 PPHF NATIONAL PUBLIC HEALTH IMPROVEMENT INITIATIVE

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Public Health Act and Prevention and Public Health Fund (PPHF), Section 301 and 317, 42 U.S.C 241 and 247b ; Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act and Prevention and Public Health Fund (PPHF), Title IV, Section 4002, Public Law 111-148.

OBJECTIVES:

The National Public Health Improvement Initiative is part of the Centers for Disease Control and Preventions larger effort to increase the performance management capacity of public health departments in order to ensure that public health goals are effectively and efficiently met. On March 30, 2010, President Obama signed into law the Affordable Care Act (ACA) (PL 111-148).

This legislation established a Prevention and Public Health Fund (Title IV, Section 4002) to provide for expanded and sustained national investment in prevention and public sector health care costs. ACA and the Prevention and Public Health Fund make improving public health a priority with investments to improve public health services, establish meaningful and measurable health indicators, and to achieve long-term improvement in health outcomes. The 5-year Strengthening Public Health Infrastructure for Improved Health Outcomes cooperative agreement program is designed to support innovative changes in key areas that improve the quality, effectiveness and efficiency of the public health infrastructure to better enable the delivery of public health services and programs as specified within ACA. In this continuation announcement, the CDC proposes to award approximately $33.7 million to usfund 74 grantees using a formula. Eligible applicants are limited to current Awardees.

In this continuation funding is available to ALL current awardees to provide support for:

- accelerating public health accreditation readiness activities
- providing additional support for performance management and improvement practices and,
- developing, identifying and disseminating innovative and evidence-based policies and practices.

This program supports the Healthy People 2020 focus area of addressing Public Health Infrastructure (<http://www.healthypeople.gov/hp2020/>).

Cross-jurisdictional (state, local, tribal, territorial, regional, community, and border) collaborations are encouraged to increase the impact of limited resources, improve efficiency, and to leverage other related health reform efforts/projects.

Measurable outcomes of the program align with the following performance goals:

- 1) Increased efficiencies of program operations,
- 2) Increased use of evidence-based policies and practices, and,

For the Tribal HV, grants (cooperative agreements) are generally awarded for a 5-year project period. In the first year of the project, grants will be awarded on a competitive basis. Funds awarded to grantees under this program will be made available for expenditure through the end of the second succeeding fiscal year after award.

For the TRCEC, grants (cooperative agreements) are generally awarded with a project period of up to five years. The initial award will be for the first 12-month budget period. Budget requests for the second through fifth year of funding within the project period should be identified in the current application (on SF-424A), but such requests will be considered in subsequent years on a noncompetitive basis, subject to the applicant's eligibility status, the availability of funds, satisfactory progress of the grantee, and a determination that continued funding would be in the best interest of the Federal Government. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: lump sum.

Reports:

Grantees under this announcement will be required to submit performance progress and financial reports periodically throughout the project period.

The frequency of required reporting is described in each funding opportunity announcement. Final reports may be submitted in hard copy to the Grants Management Office Contact identifiable post-award. Instructions on submission of reports electronically will be provided with award documents.

ACF grantees are required to submit the SF-PPR Cover Page. ACF Programs that utilize reporting forms or formats in addition to, or instead of, the SF-PPR have listed the reporting requirements.

Grant award documents will inform grantees of the appropriate performance progress report form or format to use. Grantees should consult their award documents to determine the appropriate performance progress report format required under their award. Performance progress reports are due 30 days after the end of the reporting period.

Final program performance reports are due 90 days after the close of the project period. The SF-PPR may be found at http://www.acf.hhs.gov/grants/grants_resources.html.

Further instructions will be provided, as necessary, with award terms and conditions that will address specific reporting periods and due dates on an award-by-award basis. Additional information on frequency of reporting is available on the ACF Funding Opportunities web site at http://www.acf.hhs.gov/grants/msg_sf425.html. Federal Financial Report (FFR) - Federal Cash Transaction Report. Progress reports are not applicable. As of February 1, 2011, the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) began the transition from use of the SF-269, Financial Status Report (Short Form or Long Form) to the use of the SF-425 Federal Financial Report for expenditure reporting. SF-269s will no longer be accepted for expenditure reports due after that date. If an SF-269 is submitted, the ACF will return it and require the recipient to complete the SF-425.

The transition strategy is allowing individual HHS Operating Divisions to select--from a limited number of options--the approach that best fits their programs and business process. This transition does not affect completion or submission of the cash reporting to the HHS Division of Payment Management's Payment Management System (PMS). The primary features of this transition for recipients are that OPDIVs that previously required electronic submission of the SF-269 will receive the SF-425 expenditure reports electronically and, until further notice, OPDIVs that have been receiving expenditure reports in hard copy will continue to do so.

All expenditure reports will be due on one of the standard due dates by which cash reporting is required to be submitted to PMS OR at the end of a calendar quarter as determined by the Operating Division. As a result, a recipient that receives awards from more than one OPDIV may be subject to more than one approach, but will not be required to change its current means of submission or be subjected to more than eight standard due dates.

The Prevention and Public Health Fund (Title IV, Section 4002) was established under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act to provide for expanded and sustained national investment in prevention and public health programs to improve health and help restrain the rate of growth in private and public sector health care costs. The Epidemiology and Laboratory Capacity for Infectious Diseases (ELC) and Emerging Infections Program (EIP) cooperative agreements were formed in 1995 as key components of CDC's national strategy to address and reduce emerging infectious disease (EID) threats. This program will assist state, tribal, local and U.S. territorial health departments, and other components of the public health system by making available to them capacity building assistance (including technical consultation, skills building/training, information, and technology transfer assistance) that will result in: systems and organizational efficiencies; a capable and qualified workforce; state-of-the-art information technology systems and integrated and standardized community and population data; improved planning, implementation and evaluation of evidence-based public health policies, laws, programs and services; results driven local and national public and private partnerships; and increased availability and accessibility of public health resources, such as publications, educational materials, syndicated website material, training curricula, assessments and evaluation tools, and other products for improvement of public health agencies and other agencies in the public health system. The overall goal of capacity building assistance is to ensure improvements in the public health infrastructure so that it is prepared for responding to both acute and chronic threats relating to the Nations health such as emerging infections, disparities in health status, and increases in chronic disease and injury rates. Capacity building assistance will focus on the provision of technical consultation, skills building/training, and information and technology transfer assistance to ensure successful planning, implementation, coordination and evaluation of the key areas for public health infrastructure investments. CBA may also be provided for CDC-funded projects which may include limited CBA to international public health agencies where there is a benefit to US public health efforts or to the US public health system. Investing in CBA is expected to help public health agencies and other public health components fulfill their mission of protecting and promoting health in their communities and effectively performing essential public health services. Some of the capacity building needs are in the following areas: Improving the public health workforce (e.g., e-learning, other training, and fellowship programs); vital statistics systems (electronic birth and death registration); food and water borne disease identification and prevention, prevention of hospital acquired infections, electronic health record/IT systems, communications systems and processes (e.g. information syndication and social media capacity), and laboratory and epidemiologic capacity. Developing information systems to support adoption, implementation, enforcement, and/or evaluation of public health legislation, codes, rules, regulations, ordinances, and other policies.

Improving public health system development/redevelopment by building or re-engineering infrastructure to improve networking, coordination, standardization, and centralization of public health services to effectively and efficiently address priority health indicators. Implementing best health care practices and conducting impact evaluation. Improving information and data system capacity through policy/communication for standardized data collection and analysis systems, information management technology, information dissemination, and meaningful data use and translation

Improving organizational capacity to effectively and efficiently use resources such as fiscal agents, and intermediaries, and Improving technical and program guidance and evaluation of preventive services to expand coverage for community and clinical preventive services. This includes technical consultation and promotion on the adoption and utilization of the recommendations from the Guide for Community Preventive Services.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Project funds will be used for costs associated with providing capacity building assistance to strengthen the infrastructure of State, Tribal, Local, and Territorial public health agencies and other components of the public health system. For the purposes of this program, other components of the public health system refers to specific professional constituencies (i.e., epidemiologists, community health nurses, health education and promotion specialists tribal health leaders, chronic disease directors, health information specialists, Medicaid/Medicare Directors, state/local public health financial officials, etc.) or key components of the public health system (i.e., community and neighborhood health centers, public health and primary care delivery systems, community and faith-based organizations, public health and accreditation boards, public health institutes, primary care residency programs, health insurance consortia, family/social services programs, maternal/child health associations, etc.). Recipients may only expend funds for reasonable program purposes, including personnel, travel, supplies (including training materials), and services, such as contractual. Applicants will be required to participate, comply, and cooperate with CDC for any reporting requirements stipulated by, or mandated for, the receipt of funding. PPHF funding is intended to be used only in support of PPHF programs and projects.

Applicant Eligibility:

1. Eligible Applicants: Organizations with nonprofit 501(c)(3) or nonprofit 501(c)(6) IRS status (other than institutions of higher education).
2. Special Eligibility Requirements: The applicant organization must provide evidence of national scope of work and of public health charge or mission.
3. Justification for Less than Maximum Competition:

The program leadership in the Office of State, Tribal, Local and Territorial Support (OSTLTS) determined that in order to achieve its strategic priorities for strengthening the public health infrastructure and advancing the quality of public health decision making, OSTLTS will need to expand its capacity building assistance (CBA) efforts through national, non-profit organizations with experience and expertise providing capacity building assistance to governmental and non-governmental components of the public health system.

Eligible applicants are limited to national, non-profit professional public health mission organizations with experience and expertise providing capacity building assistance (CBA) to governmental and non-governmental components of the public health system.

The CDC is requesting the provision of capacity building assistance (CBA) to public health agencies and other public health entities across the United States and its territories in order to strengthen public health practice to improve health for all populations. These national public health mission organizations are the only entities positioned to effectively and efficiently execute on the expected capacity building outcomes, outputs, and activities outlined in the FOA. The characteristics that position these organizations are: 1) designated mission and experience working nationally, 2) demonstrated infrastructure, experience and expertise providing CBA, and 3) relationship to the public health system workforce across the United States and Territories.

Therefore, eligibility is limited to the above specified types of applicants/organizations that are expected to demonstrate significant experience and expertise providing capacity building assistance (CBA) to the target populations described in the attached OT13-1302 FOA.

This expertise is necessary for the grantee to effectively and efficiently complete the related activities and achieve the program outcomes described in the funding opportunity announcement.

Additionally the following capacities will facilitate the completion of projects in the specified timeframe:

 Infrastructure to organize, conduct work and disseminate key outcomes.

 Communicate key information to organization members, stakeholders and the public health community on a regular basis.

 Leverage a wide array of resources among organization members and the public health community to expeditiously achieve results in a cost-effective manner.

 Interact with other public health organizations; act as a networking hub to build the capacity of governmental and non-governmental components of the public health system.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Beneficiaries include state health departments; tribal health organizations; local health departments; the District of Columbia; U.S. Territories; and other components of the public health system. The general public will also serve as beneficiaries.

Credentials/Documentation:

The applicant organization must include evidence of national scope of work and of public health role or mission. Articles of incorporation, board resolution or by-laws are acceptable forms of evidence. The applicant must also provide evidence of federally assigned 501(c)(3) or 501(c)(6) status designation by submitting a copy of the current, valid Internal Revenue Service (IRS) determination letter. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards. Allowable costs will be determined in accordance with OMB Circular No. A-87 for non-profit non-governmental organizations. Applicants must download application forms from www.grants.gov, and completed applications must be submitted electronically at www.Grants.gov. If an applicant does not have access to the Internet, or if they have difficulty accessing the forms on-line, contact the CDC Procurement and Grants Office Technical Information Management Section (PGO-TIMS) staff. For this, or further assistance, contact PGO-TIMS: Telephone (770) 488-2700, Email: PGOTIM@cdc.gov

Award Procedure:

1. Phase I Review: All eligible applications will be initially reviewed for completeness by CDC's Procurement and Grants Office (PGO) staff. In addition, eligible applications will be jointly reviewed for responsiveness by CDC/OSTLTS and PGO. Incomplete applications and applications that are non-responsive to the eligibility criteria will not advance to Phase II review. Applicants will be notified if the application did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements. 2. Phase II (Initial Base-Funding) Review: An objective review panel will evaluate complete and responsive applications according to the criteria listed in the Criteria section of the FOA. The applications will be compiled and reviewed according to the category for which applicants submitted their applications. Applicants will be notified electronically if the application did not meet eligibility and/or published submission requirements thirty (30) days after the completion of Phase II review. 3. Phase III Review: In addition, the following factors may affect the funding decision during Phase II (Initial Base-Funding Competition) Review: a. Preference to avoid duplication of CBA services to the same target populations. b. Preference may be given to the funding of applicants that propose to provide CBA services to target populations not served by higher ranking applicants. c. Preference will be given to ensure funding of organizations that provide CBA services to target populations not duplicated in other CDC funding mechanisms. CDC will provide justification for any decision to fund outside of ranked order of scores. Final funding determinations will be based on application scores from the objective review panels and consideration for CDC's funding preferences. 4. Phase IV (Secondary CIO-Funding) Review: Applicants that are successful in Phase II (Initial Base-Funding) Review and are awarded funds will be eligible to participate in the Phase IV (Secondary CIO-Funding) Review for CDC-wide public health projects. Eligible awardees will receive an application packet detailing the Phase IV (Secondary CIO-Funding) application submission process upon receipt of the Phase II (Initial-Base Funding) Notice of Award. The awardees must submit stand-alone applications in response to a range of CBA projects that represent public health disciplinary areas and cross-cutting disciplines and/or topics. CIO-funded projects may also include limited CBA to international public health constituents where there is a benefit to U.S. public health efforts or to the U.S. public health system. The applications will be compiled and reviewed according to the Category and CIO project for which applicants submitted proposals. In the event a technical review is more efficient (i.e., there is one proposal submitted for a particular CIO project), the technical review will be held in place of an objective review. Final funding determinations will be based on application scores from the objective review (and technical review) panels.

- Enables the assessment of the overall effectiveness and impact of the FOA.

For organizations that receive PPHF funding, additional reporting is required. These requirements will be communicated to awardees post-award.

As described below, awardees must submit one report per year; ongoing performance measures data, administrative reports, and a final performance and financial report. Below are the specific reporting requirements:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

This program is authorized under Sections 317, 317(k)(2), 318 and 318B of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. Sections 247b, 247b(k)(2) and 247c), as amended; and the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PL 111-148), Title IV, Sections 4002, (Prevention and Public Health Fund) for expanded and sustained national investment in prevention and public health programs, IV U.S.C 4002.

OBJECTIVES:

Ventilator-associated pneumonia (VAP) is one of the most common and deadly healthcare-associated infections (HAIs). Program activities under this funding will facilitate a study to demonstrate the utility and relevance of sVAP and promote acceptance of sVAP within the critical care community. Implementation of a new, reliable, valid, clinically credible and potentially automatable VAP surveillance definition will provide the foundation for national surveillance and prevention efforts and for pay-for-reporting and pay-for-performance programs, leading to improved patient safety and fewer complications for patients needing mechanical ventilation. Specifically, the objectives of this project are to: 1. Implement prospective sVAP surveillance in 9 acute-care hospitals currently conducting VAP surveillance using existing National Healthcare Safety Network (NHSN) definitions; 2. Compare the total sVAP surveillance burden to the total burden associated with use of existing NHSN VAP definitions; and 3. Implement an evidence-based VAP prevention initiative and evaluate sVAP preventability by assessing the association between sVAP rates and prevention measure compliance rates. Nine hospitals currently engaged in NHSN VAP surveillance will be recruited.

93.545 CONSUMER OPERATED AND ORIENTED PLAN [CO-OP] PROGRAM

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Affordable Care Act Section 1322.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide assistance to applicants for activities related to establishing a consumer operated and oriented, nonprofit health insurance issuer. Please refer to the Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) for additional information.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Direct Loans

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Section 1322 The Affordable Care Act (ACA) calls for the establishment of the CO-OP Program, which will foster the creation of qualified nonprofit health insurance issuers to offer competitive health plans in the individual and small group markets. The American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 (ATRA) rescinded, as of the date of enactment, ninety percent of the unobligated balance under Section 1322 of the ACA, and transferred the remaining ten percent of the unobligated balance to the Consumer Operated and Oriented Plan Program Contingency Fund. As of the date of the rescission, CO-OP loan agreements had closed with 24 CO-OP borrowers. The loan agreement with one of those borrowers was terminated in 2013 before the entity had obtained an insurance license. The other 23 borrowers are currently licensed. One of them entered into a state-supervised liquidation proceeding in February of 2015. Although CMS no longer has the authority to make loans to new borrowers, Section 644 of ATRA authorizes CMS to continue to provide assistance and oversight to existing CO-OPs as they work to achieve program milestones and establish viable CO-OPs in each state in which they operate. That assistance may take the form of additional loan funding to existing CO-OP loan recipients to support current operations, or to support plans to expand into new states of operation. Any additional funding will be awarded only as funding is available to existing borrowers and in accordance with the terms of the existing loan agreements. No further funding is available to new borrowers under the original Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) published on December 9, 2011, Number OO-COO-001.

The CO-OP Program awards two types of loans:

Start-up Loans: Start-up Loans are intended to assist applicants with the start-up costs associated with establishing a new health insurance issuer, such as: renting or developing administrative technology systems; renting or developing provider networks; hiring counsel and consultants to assist with State licensure requirements; hiring actuaries and management staff; conducting community and prospective member education; developing strategic plans to build enrollment; developing plans for quality improvement, member and provider services, and grievances and appeals systems with feedback loops to improve operations; establishing and participating in a private purchasing council; and other start-up costs. Start-up Loans cannot be used to fund costs associated with construction of facilities, including clinical facilities, nor can Start-up Loans be used for clinical expenses, such as provider salaries or payments, provider clinical space or administrative staff associated with clinical functions, and clinical equipment. These items are intended to be covered by the premiums and reflected in the reimbursement to providers. Additional information on start-up loans can be found in the original FOA.

Solvency Loans: Solvency Loans are intended to assist eligible entities with meeting the solvency and reserve requirements of States in which the applicant are or seek to become licensed to issue CO-OP qualified health plans. Loan recipients must use the loans awarded under the CO-OP program to fund the activities proposed and approved in the loan recipients application consistent with the terms of the organizations loan agreement with CMS. Loan recipients are prohibited from using the loans awarded under the CO-OP program to conduct marketing or carry on propaganda and other activities attempting to influence legislation. Start-up Loans: Start-up Loans are required to be repaid five years after each drawdown of funds. Solvency Loans: Solvency Loans are required to be repaid 15 years after each drawdown of funds. Please refer to the FOA for this program for more detail on each type of loan and the requirements for each type of loans use and repayment. Additional information on solvency loans can be found in the original FOA. 93.558 TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title IV, Part A, 42 U.S.C 601 et seq.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide grants to States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Federally-recognized Indian Tribes operating their own Tribal TANF programs to assist needy families with children so that children can be cared for in their own homes; to reduce dependency by promoting job preparation, work, and marriage; to reduce and prevent out-of-wedlock pregnancies; and to encourage the formation and maintenance of two-parent families.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Dissemination of Technical Information; Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Federally-recognized Indian Tribes operating their own TANF programs have broad flexibility to use the grant funds in any manner that meets the purposes of the program (including providing low-income households with assistance in meeting home heating and cooling costs) and in ways that States and Territories were authorized to use funds received under the predecessor Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Job Opportunities and Basic Skills Training (JOBS), and Emergency Assistance (EA) programs. States and Territories may also transfer a limited portion of their assistance grant funds to the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) and Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) Programs. Not more than 15 percent of any State grant may be spent on administrative costs, exclusive of certain computerization and information technology expenses. Cash grants, work opportunities, and other services are made directly to needy families with children. For Tribal programs, ACF will negotiate a limitation on administrative costs for the first year of the program's operation not to exceed 35 percent, for the second year of the program's operation not to exceed 30 percent, and then for the third and subsequent years of the program's operation not to exceed 25 percent. For the TANF program, there are certain prohibitions, restrictions, and limitations on the provision of assistance. For example, families may only receive Federally-funded assistance for five years. In addition, Federal funds may not be used to provide medical services, unless they are pre-pregnancy family planning services (Tribes, however, may use Federal funds for medical services if they are job-related).

Applicant Eligibility:

In general, all States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and all Federally-recognized Tribes in the lower 48 States and 13 specified entities in Alaska are eligible. State and local agencies and Tribes that operate TANF programs must do so under plans determined to be complete (or for Tribes approved) by the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS). For Contingency Funds, all States and the District of Columbia are eligible if they are determined to be a "needy State" by satisfying either an unemployment trigger or a food stamp trigger. Territories and Tribes are not eligible for Contingency Funds.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Needy families with children, as determined eligible by the State, Territory, or Tribe in accordance with the State or Tribal plan submitted to HHS.

Credentials/Documentation:

Federal funds go to the State, Territory, or Tribal agency certified by the Chief Executive Officer. Needy families must meet State or Tribal eligibility requirements. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Each State, Territory, and the District of Columbia must develop a State plan and include the certifications signed by the Executive Officer (Governor). Applicants must consult with local governments and private organizations and provide them 45 days to comment on the plan. The State plan and certifications must be submitted to the Secretary of HHS. Tribes may apply to the Secretary to receive funds and to administer the TANF block grant. Tribes would submit a 3-year family assistance plan. The Secretary, in consultation with the Tribe, would set program requirements and time-limits for receipt of welfare-related services, consistent with the purposes of the program and economic conditions/resources of each Tribe. Tribes should contact the OFA Regional TANF Program Manager for further Tribal plan submittal procedures. For Contingency Funds, each State must request these funds monthly for each month they meet either the unemployment or food stamp triggers. For Supplemental Grants, there is no application. Supplemental Grants are awarded annually and issued quarterly to the States (in number 17) with exceptionally high population growth in the early 1990s, historic (1994) welfare grants per poor person lower than 35 percent of the national average, or a combination of above average population growth and below average historic welfare grants per poor person. The last year that funding was provided for these grants was FY 2011.

Award Procedure:

Once a plan is determined complete, or in the case of a Tribe the plan is approved, by HHS, Family Assistance Grants are awarded in quarterly payments. Supplemental Grants are also awarded in quarterly payments. Contingency Fund awards will be made monthly.

Deadlines:

Not Applicable.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribes implement their assistance programs according to their State and Tribal plans. The Secretary does not have authority to approve or disapprove a State plan, only to determine its completeness. Tribal plans are subject to approval by the Secretary. For Contingency Funds, approval/disapproval will be from 30 to 60 days after receipt of the request for funds.

Appeals:

States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribes facing an adverse action by the Secretary may appeal under both administrative and judicial procedures. In addition, States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribes must provide opportunities for recipients who have been adversely affected to be heard in a State or Tribal administrative or appeal process.

Renewals:

States, Territories, and the District of Columbia must periodically (every 2 or 3 years) renew their funding status by submitting their TANF plan. Tribes must renew their funding status every 3 years. For Contingency Funds, requests for additional funding must be made monthly.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title 45 CFR, Chapter 2, Part 260; 286.

This program has no matching requirements.

This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribes are awarded their assistance grants in quarterly payments. They may reserve grant moneys, without fiscal year limitation, to provide any allowable benefits and services that are consistent with the purposes of the TANF program. With certain exceptions, most families are limited to no more than 5 years of assistance under the Federal grant. Tribes have the flexibility to establish time limits on receipt of assistance. For Contingency Funds, grant awards are issued monthly to States meeting the eligibility criteria stipulated under Section 101. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: quarterly.

Reports:

States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribes operating their own Tribal TANF programs are required to collect and report to the Secretary on a quarterly basis case record information on the families receiving assistance. They are also required to report administrative costs and overhead expenditures on programs for needy families, participation by noncustodial parents in work activities, and transitional services provided to former recipients. They may be required to report child poverty information annually in accordance with the methodology the Secretary has established by regulation. No cash reports are required. No progress reports are required. Quarterly financial reports. No performance monitoring is required.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. Audits shall be conducted by the Inspector General under Chapter 75 of Title 31, United States Code. If a State or Territory is found to have used funds from the State Family Assistance Grant in violation of the statute, the Secretary shall reduce the grant payable to them for the immediately succeeding fiscal year by that same amount. For Tribes, the Secretary will have the ability to maintain program funding accountability consistent with generally accepted accounting principles and the requirements of the Single Audit Act of 1984 and 2 CFR 200 (Chapter II Part 200).

Records:

States, Territories, the District of Columbia, and Tribes must maintain records containing information the Secretary may require by regulation.

93.564 CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT RESEARCH

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security, Title IV, Part D, Section 1115, 42 U.S.C 1315.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide federal funds for experimental, pilot, or demonstration projects that are likely to assist in promoting the objectives of Part D of Title IV. Section 1115 provides that 'the project - 1) must be designed to improve the financial well-being of children or otherwise improve the operation of the child support program; 2) may not permit modifications in the child support program which would have the effect of disadvantaging children in need of support; and 3) must not result in increased cost to the federal government under Part A of such title.' The principal purpose is to carry out the public purpose of implementing a demonstration project that is likely to "improve the financial well-being of children or otherwise improve the operation of the child support program" as stated in the statutory authority. Any responsibility to the federal government is a condition for receiving the grant, but not a principal purpose.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

In FY 2015, Section 1115 grants are dedicated to the first year of the OCSE Behavioral Interventions for Child Support Services Demonstration (BICS) Projects, the third year of the OCSE National Child Support Noncustodial Parent Employment Demonstration (CSPED) Projects and to the evaluation of these demonstration projects. All grants must follow the program requirements and restrictions outlined in the funding opportunity announcement (HHS-2012-ACF-OCSE-FD-0297 for CSPED and HHS-2014-ACF-OCSE-0818 for BICS) and follow all of the standard terms and conditions for ACF grant awards, not limited to what is described in the HHS Grants Policy Statement.

The BICS funding provides states with the opportunity to test and evaluate how behavioral economics can be used to improve child support services. To accomplish these goals, grantees are mapping out their current systems to find bottlenecks or areas in which parents become disengaged and design behavioral interventions that use theories from psychology and related fields to improve program outcomes.

The CSPED funding provides states with the opportunity to implement a child support-led model that provides a comprehensive set of services that have previously been associated with successful outcomes as part of a rigorous experimental evaluation in order to learn how to improve child support payments among underemployed or unemployed noncustodial parents. To accomplish these goals, grantees administer a package of child support, employment, and fatherhood services for noncustodial parents, and collect and report data on participants and those assigned to the control group, as agreed upon with OCSE.

Applicant Eligibility:

Section 1115 grants may be made only to State Child Support Enforcement agencies or their umbrella agencies.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

State agencies, local governments, nonprofit organizations, and for-profit organizations.

Credentials/Documentation:

When appropriate, applicants should present written evidence of other agencies' willingness to cooperate when the project involves their cooperation or the utilization of their facilities or service. Costs will be determined in accordance with 2 CFR 225 for State governments. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

clearly indicate whether the application submitted is in response to a priority project identified in a program announcement and must reference the unique project identifier (e.g., HHS-2010 - ACF - OCSE-FD-0113) for which the application is to compete. Applications are initially screened for relevance to program interests of the Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE). Ineligible applications will be returned to the applicant. Eligible applications are reviewed and evaluated by a review panel of not fewer than three knowledgeable people. A limited number of projects may be approved pending available funds and will compete with other nonpriority projects. Written assessment of each application is made.

Award Procedure:

Official notice of approved grant applications is made through issuance of a Notice of Grant Award. This provides the amount of funds awarded, the purpose of the award, the term and conditions of the award, the budget period for which support is given, the total project period for which support is contemplated, and the total grantee participation.

OBJECTIVES:

To make Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP) grants available to States and other jurisdictions to assist eligible households to meet the costs of home energy. Supplemental Leveraging Incentive funds may be awarded to reward States and other jurisdictions that provide additional benefits and services to LIHEAP-eligible households beyond what could be provided with Federal funds. The leveraging incentive funds may be set aside for LIHEAP grantees that provide services through community-based nonprofit organizations to help LIHEAP-eligible households reduce their energy vulnerability under the Residential Energy Assistance Challenge Program (REACH). Training and Technical Assistance funds are authorized to provide training and technical assistance to States and other jurisdictions administering the LIHEAP block grant program.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Energy Assistance Block Grants: Funds are awarded to States, Tribes and Tribal Organizations, and Territories, which then make payments directly to an eligible low-income household or, on behalf of such household, to an energy supplier to assist in meeting the cost of home energy. Up to 10 percent of these funds may be used for State and local planning and administration. Up to 15 percent may be used for low-cost residential weatherization. Grantees may request that HHS grant a waiver for the fiscal year that increases above funds that can be allotted for residential weatherization. Depending upon specific appropriations, HHS may allocate supplemental LIHEAP leveraging incentive funds to grantees that have acquired nonfederal leveraged resources in order to provide additional benefits and services to LIHEAP-eligible households to help them meet their home heating and cooling needs. Leveraging Incentive Funds may be allocated by HHS to LIHEAP grantees that provide services through community-based nonprofit organizations to LIHEAP-eligible households to reduce their energy vulnerability, under the Residential Energy Assistance Challenge Program (REACH). Additional funds may be authorized and distributed as emergency contingency funds to be used to meet needs arising from a natural disaster or other emergency. Such funds will be made available only after submission to Congress of a formal budget request for all or part of the funds by the President that designates the amount of the request as an emergency under the Balanced Budget and Emergency Deficit Control Act of 1985. FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) Act.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide assistance to States and local communities, working through a network of community action agencies and other neighborhood-based organizations, for the reduction of poverty, the revitalization of low-income communities, and the empowerment of low-income families and individuals in rural and urban areas to become fully self-sufficient (particularly families who are attempting to transition off a State program carried out under part A of title IV of the Social Security Act) and (1) To provide services and activities having a measurable and potential major impact on causes of poverty in the community or those areas of the community where poverty is a particularly acute problem; (2) to provide activities designed to assist low-income participants, including the elderly poor, to: (a) secure and retain meaningful employment; (b) attain an adequate education; (c) make better use of available income; (d) obtain and maintain adequate housing and a suitable living environment; (e) obtain emergency assistance through loans or grants to meet immediate and urgent individual and family needs, including health services, nutritious food, housing, and employment-related assistance; (f) remove obstacles and solve problems which block the achievement of self-sufficiency; (g) achieve greater participation in the affairs of the community; and (h) make more effective use of other related programs; (3) to provide on an emergency basis for the provision of such supplies and services, nutritious foodstuffs, and related services, as may be necessary to counteract conditions of starvation and malnutrition among the poor; and (4) to coordinate and establish linkages between governmental and other social services programs to assure the effective delivery of such services to low-income individuals.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

(1) States receive block grants to ameliorate the causes of poverty in communities. The block grant approach gives the States flexibility to tailor their programs to the particular services needs in their communities. (2) States are required to use at least 90 percent of their allocations for grants to "eligible entities" as defined in the Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) Act, as amended; this includes primarily locally-based community action agencies and/or organizations that serve seasonal or migrant farm workers. (2) No more than the greater of $55,000 or 5 percent of each State's allocation may be used for administrative expenses at the State level.

Applicant Eligibility:

The Secretary is authorized to make grants to States. This includes each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands. The Secretary also provides assistance directly to the governing body of an Indian Tribe or Tribal organization upon application by the tribe. Only State-recognized tribes, as evidenced by a statement to that effect by the Governor, or tribes formally recognized by the Secretary of the Interior, under the procedure for such recognition in 25 CFR 54, are eligible to receive direct grants.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

States make grants to qualified locally-based nonprofit community antipoverty agencies and other eligible entities which provide services to low-income individuals and families. The official poverty line, as established by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, is used as a criterion of eligibility in the Community Services Block Grant program. When a State determines that it serves the objectives of the block grant, it may revise the income limit, not to exceed 125 percent of the official poverty line.

Credentials/Documentation:

No Credentials or documentation are required. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is required. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards. Each State desiring to receive an allotment for a fiscal year is required to submit an application to the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS). Each application must contain assurances by the appropriate State designee that the State will comply with Section 676 of the Community Services Block Grant Act and also meet conditions enumerated in Sections 678(B-D). The State is required to hold at least one legislative hearing every three years in conjunction with the development of the State Plan (Section 676(a)(3)). States are also required to conduct public hearings on the proposed use and distribution of funds to be provided under the Act. The latter sets forth the general purpose for which funds will be used, restrictions on administrative expenses, eligible recipients, board requirements for community action agencies and other nonprofit organizations, fiscal control, monitoring, and Federal investigation provisions, coordination between antipoverty programs in each community and certain prohibitions on political activities. The Chief Executive Officer of each State is also required to designate a lead agency to prepare and submit a plan to the Secretary of HHS describing how the State will carry out the assurances in Section 676. This program is excluded from coverage under 45 CFR, Part 1050.

Award Procedure:

HHS determines the amount of funds to be allocated as block grants to each State in accordance with the formula set forth in the Community Services Block Grant Act. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has the authority to apportion to the HHS through the course of a year the Congressional appropriation for block grants. Consistent with OMB's apportionment of funds, HHS will assign allotments to the States through individual awards or a series of awards, normally on a quarterly basis.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable.

Appeals:

Funds may be withheld from any State which does not utilize its allotment substantially in accordance with the provisions of the Community Services Block Grant Act and the assurances provided in its application. This may be done only after adequate notice and an opportunity for a hearing is conducted within the affected State.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title 45, Chapter 96.71, Part 96, Subpart G, Public Law 97-35. Section 674 of the CSBG Act authorizes the Secretary to use one and one-half of one percent of the amount appropriated to be reserved for corrective Such activities may be carried out through grants, contracts, or cooperative agreements with eligible entities or with organizations or associations whose membership is composed of eligible entities or agencies that administer programs for eligible entities. One-half of one percent of the amount appropriated is apportioned on the basis of need among Guam, American Samoa, the Virgin Islands, and the Northern Mariana Islands. Of the remaining amount, each state, (excluding the above, but including the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico) is allotted an amount which bears the same ratio as the amount received by the state for fiscal year 1981 under Section 221 of the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 bore to the total amount received by all states for fiscal year 1981 under Section 221. However, if the appropriation exceeds $345,000,000 after the amount necessary for purposes of discretionary funding under Section 680 and the one-half of one percent set-aside for territories and insular areas under Section 675(A) are determined, no state receives less than one-half of one percent of the amount appropriated. This program has no matching requirements. This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

(CCDBG)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 1990, as amended, 42 U.S.C 9858; Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act of 2015, Public Law 113-59.

OBJECTIVES:

The Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG or Discretionary Funds) is a part of the Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) program, along with the Child Care Mandatory and Matching Funds (see CFDA 93.596). The CCDBG provides grants to States, Territories, Tribes, and tribal organizations serving federally-recognized tribes (public institutions of higher education and hospitals are not eligible applicants) for child care assistance for low-income families. On November 19, 2014, President Obama signed the Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 2014 into law. This reauthorizes the child care program for the first time since 1996 and represents an historic re-envisioning of the CCDF program. The new law makes significant advancements by defining health and safety requirements for child care providers, outlining family-friendly eligibility policies, and ensuring parents and the general public have transparent information about the child care choices available to them.

The new purposes of the CCDF program are to: 1) allow each State maximum flexibility in developing child care programs and policies that best suit the needs of children and parents within that State; (2) promote parental choice to empower working parents to make their own decisions regarding the child care services that best suits their families needs; (3) encourage States to provide consumer education information to help parents make informed choices about child care services and to promote involvement by parents and family members in the development of their children in child care settings; (4) assist States in delivering high-quality, coordinated early childhood care and education services to maximize parents options and support parents trying to achieve independence from public assistance; (5) assist States in improving the overall quality of child care services and programs by implementing the health, safety, licensing, training, and oversight standards established in this subchapter and in State law (including State regulations); (6) improve child care and development of participating children; and (7) increase the number and percentage of low-income children in high-quality child care settings.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

In the Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act of 2015, Congress directs that funds appropriated for the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG or Discretionary Funds) must be used to supplement, not supplant, State general revenue funds for child care assistance for low-income families. Lead Agencies must use Discretionary Funds for child care services on a sliding fee scale basis, activities that improve the quality or availability of such services, and other activities that realize the goals of the CCDBG. Certain amounts of Discretionary Funds must be used for specific purposes: quality expansion; infant and toddler quality improvement; and child care resource and referral, including a national toll-free hotline and website, and school-age child care activities. A portion of the Discretionary Funds is also designated for the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services to carry-out research, demonstration, and evaluation projects. Not more than five percent of the aggregate amount of CCDF Funds expended by the State or Territory (15 percent for Tribes or tribal organizations) may be expended for administrative costs incurred by the State or Territory to carry-out all of its functions and duties. The term "administrative costs" does not include the costs of providing direct services. In FY 2014 and 2015, a State or Territory shall use not less than four percent of the CCDF Funds to improve child care quality and availability including comprehensive consumer education, activities to increase parental choice, and other activities such as resource and referral services, provider grants and loans, monitoring and enforcement of requirements, training and technical assistance, and improved compensation for child care staff. In FY 2016, the amount a State or Territory must spend on quality activities increases to seven percent, in accordance with the new CCDBG law. (The law requires an increase in the minimum quality spending requirement from four to nine percent of a State or Territory's CCDF Funds phased-in over 5 years. In addition, starting in FY 2017, States and Territories are required to spend at least 3% of their CCDF award on activities to improve the quality of infant and toddler care.) Except for approved construction of child care facilities by tribal grantees, no Discretionary Funds may be used for the purchase or improvement of land, or for the purchase, construction, or permanent improvement of any building or facility (other than for minor remodeling and for upgrading facilities to meet State and local child care standards). No Discretionary Funds provided directly to child care providers through grants or contracts may be expended for any sectarian purpose or activity, including sectarian worship or instruction. However, Grantees must give parents the option of receiving vouchers or certificates to allow parents the choice of child care provider, including faith-based or community providers. No Discretionary Funds may be provided for any services provided to students enrolled in grades 1 through 12 during the regular school day; for any services for which such students receive academic credit toward graduation; or for any instructional services which supplant or duplicate the academic program of any public or private school. Lead Agencies shall assure that a substantial portion of the Discretionary Funds will be used to provide assistance to low-income working families who are not receiving assistance under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, attempting through work activities to transition off of temporary assistance programs, nor at risk of becoming dependent on temporary assistance programs.

Applicant Eligibility:

Eligibility: All 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, Guam, American Samoa, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, and Federally recognized Tribal Governments and consortia.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Each Grantee must designate a Lead Agency to which grants are awarded and that is accountable for the use of the Discretionary Funds provided, the duties of which shall include developing a CCDF plan. In conjunction with the development of the CCDF plan, the Lead Agency must hold at least one public hearing no earlier than nine months before the CCDF plan becomes effective and after at least 20 days of statewide public notice, to provide the public an opportunity to comment on the provision of child care services under the plan. In advance of the hearing, the Lead Agency must make the content of the plan available to the public. The Lead Agency must also coordinate the provision of services under the program with other Federal, State, and local child care and early childhood development programs. Also, the Lead Agency must consult with appropriate representatives of local governments. Tribal Lead Agencies submitting applications for construction must submit an environmental impact assessment. Environmental impact information is not required for this program.

Each CCDF plan must contain certifications and assurances by the Lead Agency that it will comply with the requirements of the Child Care and Development Block Grant Act (CCDBG). OBJECTIVES:

To develop alternative projects which promote early employment of refugees, certain Amerasians from Viet Nam, Cuban and Haitian entrants, asylees, certified victims of a severe form of trafficking, and special immigrants from Iraq and Afghanistan. States, voluntary resettlement agencies, and other resettlement organizations may develop innovative approaches for the provision of refugee cash and medical assistance, otherwise available through the State-administered program. The purpose of the Wilson-Fish program is to provide integrated services that include cash assistance, medical assistance and other related services described above in order to increase refugees' prospects for early employment and self-sufficiency, reduce their level of welfare dependence, and promote coordination among voluntary resettlement agencies and services providers. In addition, the WF program allows ORR to ensure that refugee assistance programs exist in every State where refugees are resettled. Projects must serve all eligible refugees in a community. Wilson/Fish projects comprise two types of projects. (1) Nine projects currently establish or maintain a refugee program in a State where the State is not participating in the refugee program or has withdrawn from the refugee program or a portion of the program. (Alabama, Alaska, Idaho, Kentucky, Louisiana, Nevada, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Tennessee). 93.596 CHILD CARE MANDATORY AND MATCHING FUNDS OF THE CHILD CARE AND DEVELOPMENT FUND

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, as amended, Title IV, Section 418, 42 U.S.C 618; Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 1990, as amended (42 USC 9858, et seq).

OBJECTIVES:

The Child Care Mandatory and Matching Funds are a part of the Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF) program, along with the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) or Discretionary Funds (see CFDA 93.575). The Child Care Mandatory and Matching Funds provide grants to States, Tribes, and tribal organizations for child care assistance for low-income families. On November 19, 2014, President Obama signed the Child Care and Development Block Grant Act of 2014 into law. This reauthorizes the child care program for the first time since 1996 and represents an historic re-envisioning of the CCDF program. The new law makes significant advancements by defining health and safety requirements for child care providers, outlining family-friendly eligibility policies, and ensuring parents and the general public have transparent information about the child care choices available to them.

The new purposes of the CCDF program are to: 1) allow each State maximum flexibility in developing child care programs and policies that best suit the needs of children and parents within that State; (2) promote parental choice to empower working parents to make their own decisions regarding the child care services that best suits their families needs; (3) encourage States to provide consumer education information to help parents make informed choices about child care services and to promote involvement by parents and family members in the development of their children in child care settings; (4) assist States in delivering high-quality, coordinated early childhood care and education services to maximize parents options and support parents trying to achieve independence from public assistance; (5) assist States in improving the overall quality of child care services and programs by implementing the health, safety, licensing, training, and oversight standards established in this subchapter and in State law (including State regulations); (6) improve child care and development of participating children; and (7) increase the number and percentage of low-income children in high-quality child care settings.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Title IV of the Social Security Act appropriates funds (Mandatory and Matching Funds) for the purpose of providing child care assistance. Lead Agencies must use Mandatory and Matching Funds for child care services on a sliding fee scale basis, activities that improve the quality or availability of such services, and other activities that realize the goals of the CCDBG Act. Lead Agencies must ensure that not less than 70 percent of the total amount of Mandatory and Matching Funds are used to provide child care assistance to families who are receiving assistance under the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program, families who are attempting through work activities to transition off of temporary assistance programs, and families who are at risk of becoming dependent on temporary assistance programs. Not more than five percent of the aggregate amount of CCDF Funds expended by the State (15 percent for Tribes or tribal organizations) may be expended for administrative costs incurred by the State to carry-out all of its functions and duties. The term "administrative costs" does not include the costs of providing direct services. In FY 2014 and 2015, a State or Territory shall use not less than four percent of the CCDF Funds to improve child care quality and availability including comprehensive consumer education, activities to increase parental choice, and other activities such as resource and referral services, provider grants and loans, monitoring and enforcement of requirements, training and technical assistance, and improved compensation for child care staff. In FY 2016, the amount a State or Territory must spend on quality activities increases to seven percent, in accordance with the new CCDBG law. (The law requires an increase in the minimum quality spending requirement from four to nine percent of a State or Territory's CCDF Funds phased-in over 5 years. In addition, starting in FY 2017, States and Territories are required to spend at least 3% of their CCDF award on activities to improve the quality of infant and toddler care.) Except for approved construction of child care facilities by tribal grantees, no Mandatory or Matching Funds may be used for the purchase or improvement of land, or for the purchase, construction, or permanent improvement of any building or facility (other than for minor remodeling and for upgrading of facilities to meet State and local child care standards.) No Mandatory or Matching Funds provided directly to child care providers through grants or contracts may be expended for any sectarian purpose or activity, including sectarian worship or instruction. However, Grantees must give parents the option of receiving vouchers or certificates to allow parents the choice of child care providers, including faith-based or community providers. No Mandatory or Matching Funds may be provided for any services provided to students enrolled in grades 1 through 12 during the regular school day; for any services for which such students receive academic credit toward graduation; or for any instructional services which supplant or duplicate the academic program of any public or private school.

Applicant Eligibility:

Eligibility: All 50 States, the District of Columbia, and Federally recognized Tribal Governments, including Alaskan Native Corporations.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Children under age 13 (or, at the option of the grantee, up to age 19, if physically or mentally incapable of self-care or under court supervision), who reside with a family whose income does not exceed 85 percent of the State median income for a family of the same size, and who reside with a parent (or parents) who is working or attending job training or educational program, or are in need of, or are receiving protective services.

Credentials/Documentation:

Lead Agencies must operate under a CCDF plan approved by the Administration for Children and Families, and must provide assurances that the grantee will comply with the requirements of the CCDBG Act and all applicable Federal law. This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles.

Preapplication Coordination:

Each Grantee must designate a Lead Agency to which grants are awarded and that is accountable for the use of the Mandatory and Matching Funds provided, the duties of which shall include developing a CCDF plan. In conjunction with the development of the CCDF plan, the Lead Agency must hold at least one public hearing no earlier than nine months before the CCDF plan becomes effective and after at least 20 days of statewide public notice, to provide the public an opportunity to comment on the provision of child care services under the plan. In advance of the hearing, the Lead Agency must make the content of the plan available to the public. The Lead Agency must also coordinate the provision of services under the program with other Federal, State, and local child care and early childhood development programs. Also, the Lead Agency must consult with appropriate representatives of local governments. Tribal Lead Agencies submitting applications for construction must submit an environmental impact assessment. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Sections 2 CFR 200.101 and 45 CFR 75.101 on Applicability indicates that only the following requirements apply to CCDF:

A Lead Agency desiring to receive an allotment for a fiscal year is required to submit a three-year CCDF plan to the Administration for Children and Families, as well as, financial and other information necessary for the grants process. Each plan must contain certifications and assurances by the Lead Agency that it will comply with the requirements of the Child Care and Development Block Grant Act (CCDBG). The plan must also include: the designation of a Lead Agency; the provision of assurances regarding policies and procedures as stated in Section 658E(c)(2) of the amended CCDBG; an outline of the proposed use of block grant funds in compliance with Section 658E(c)(3) of the CCDBG; the provision of certification regarding payment rates as stated in Section 658E(c)(4) of the CCDBG; and the establishment of a sliding fee scale. Additional requirements are specified by 45 CFR Parts 98 and 99.

Award Procedure:

Grants are awarded after the receipt and approval of an application and plan by the Administration for Children and Families.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

The Administration for Children and Families will review the CCDF plans for approval and will act on the plans within 90 days.

Appeals:

Guidelines for appealing disapprovals of CCDF plans are specified in regulations at 45 CFR Part 99.

Renewals:

CCDF plans must be submitted every three years.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title 45 CFR, Part 98.53.

Matching Requirements: Allocations of the Mandatory Funds are based on a State's Federal share of the expenditures for the now-repealed AFDC-linked child care programs (AFDC/JOBS Child Care, Transitional Child Care, and At-Risk Child Care) in 1994 or 1995, or the average of 1992 through 1994, whichever was greater. A State is not required to expend any State funds in order to receive its share of the Mandatory Funds. The remaining funds are Matching Funds and are distributed based on the number of children under age 13 in a State compared with the national total of children under age 13. To access Matching Funds, a State must obligate all of its Mandatory Funds allotted in a fiscal year and maintain 100 percent of the State's share of expenditures for the former programs in fiscal year 1994 or fiscal year 1995, whichever is greater. Matching Funds must be matched at the applicable FMAP rate, which is the Medicaid Program matching rate. Not less than one percent, but not more than two percent of the total Mandatory and Matching Funds are reserved for Tribes and tribal organizations based on the number of children living on or near tribal reservations or other appropriate area served by the tribal grantee. Tribes and tribal organizations are not required to provide matching funds. The District of Columbia is treated as a State for purposes of receiving its share of Mandatory and Matching Funds. Territories are not eligible to receive Mandatory or Matching Funds.

This program has MOE requirements, see funding agency for further details.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Grant awards are made to Lead Agencies with approved CCDF plans. If Matching Funds are requested, Mandatory Funds must be obligated by the end of the first fiscal year. There is no time limit on liquidation of Mandatory Funds and no time limit on obligation of Mandatory Funds if no Matching Funds are requested. Matching Funds must be obligated by the end of the first fiscal year and liquidated by the second fiscal year. State funds expended toward the Maintenance of Effort requirement must be both obligated and expended by the end of the first fiscal year. Mandatory and Matching Funds awarded to Tribes and tribal organizations must be obligated by the end of the second fiscal year and liquidated by the end of the third fiscal year. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: quarterly.

Reports:

As specified in 45 CFR Part 98, States must report to the Administration on Children and Families on an annual basis aggregate data on families, children in care, providers, payment methods, and consumer education. Quarterly case-level reports are required to provide data on families, children, and providers, and payment information. Tribes must also provide an annual count of children and families served through CCDF; average hours of service per child by type of care; average monthly payment and co-payments per child; number of children served by income; and supplemental narratives. No cash reports are required. No progress reports are required. States must also submit quarterly expenditure reports. Territories are required to report estimates and expenditures for the Discretionary Fund only on a quarterly basis. States, DC, and Puerto Rico are required to measure, calculate, and report improper authorizations for payments as well as identify strategies for reducing future improper authorizations for payments. One-third of the 50 States, DC, and Puerto Rico must report annually on a three-year cycle. Tribes report expenditures for the Tribal Mandatory, Discretionary, and Construction/Renovation funds. Monitoring is in accordance with 45 CFR 98.90.

93.610 HEALTH CARE INNOVATION AWARDS (HCIA)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 1115A of the Social Security Act (added by Section 3021 of the Affordable Care Act).

OBJECTIVES:

The first round of the Health Innovation Awards (HCIA), announced on November 14, 2011, was a broad solicitation in which CMS welcomed a wide variety of proposals. In HCIA, Round One, CMS funded 107 Awardees who proposed compelling new models of service delivery/ payment improvements that showed substantial promise of delivering the Three-Part Aim of better health, better health care, and lower costs through improved quality for Medicare, Medicaid, and Childrens Health Insurance Program (CHIP) beneficiaries. Successful models included plans to rapidly develop and/or deploy the requisite workforce to support the proposed model. Awards recognized interventions that showed capability to improve care within the first 6 months of the award, while creating a sustainable pathway to net Medicare/Medicaid/CHIP savings within two to three years. These models of service delivery and payment improvement are now entering Year Two of the three-year period of performance for Round One of the HCIA.

A second round of the Health Care Innovation Awards (HCIA) was announced on May 15, 2013. In HCIA Round Two, the Center for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) will fund applicants who propose new service delivery models and design corresponding new payment models that show promise of providing better health, better health care, and lower costs through improved quality for Medicare, Medicaid, and Childrens Health Insurance Program (CHIP) enrollees.

In Round Two, CMS is specifically seeking new payment and service delivery models in four broad Innovation Categories, as follows:

Models that are designed to rapidly reduce Medicare, Medicaid, and/or CHIP costs in outpatient and/or post-acute settings. Priority areas are diagnostic services, outpatient radiology, high-cost physician-administered drugs, home based services, therapeutic services, and post-acute services. While preference will be given to submissions within these priority areas, CMS will consider submissions in other outpatient and/or post-acute areas within this Category.

Models that improve care for populations with specialized needs. Priority areas are high-cost pediatric populations, children in foster care, children at high risk for dental disease, adolescents in crisis, persons with Alzheimers disease, persons living with HIV/AIDS (in particular, efforts to link and retain patients in care and improve medication adherence that lead to viral suppression), persons requiring long-term support and services, and persons with serious behavioral health needs. While preference will be given to submissions within these areas, CMS will consider submissions that improve care for other populations with specialized needs.

Models that test approaches for specific types of providers to transform their financial and clinical models. Priority areas are models designed for physician specialties and subspecialties (for example, oncology and cardiology), and for pediatric providers who provide services to children with complex medical issues (including but not limited to care for children with multiple medical conditions, behavioral health issues, congenital disease, chronic respiratory disease, and complex social issues); and that include, as appropriate, shared decision-making mechanisms to engage beneficiaries and their families and/or caregivers in treatment choices. While preference will be given to submissions within these areas, CMS will consider submissions in other areas within this Category and from other specific types of non-physician providers.

Models that improve the health of populations defined geographically (health of a community), clinically (health of those with specific diseases), or by socioeconomic class through activities focused on engaging beneficiaries, prevention (for example, a diabetes prevention program or a hypertension prevention program), wellness, and comprehensive care that extend beyond the clinical service delivery setting. These models may include community based organizations or coalitions and may leverage community health improvement efforts. These models must have a direct link to improving the quality and reducing the costs of care for Medicare, Medicaid, and/or CHIP beneficiaries. Priority areas are: models that lead to better prevention and control of cardiovascular disease, hypertension, diabetes, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease, asthma, and HIV/AIDS; models that promote behaviors that reduce risk for chronic disease, including increased physical activity and improved nutrition; models that promote medication adherence and self-management skills; models that prevent falls among older adults; and broader models that link clinical care with community-based interventions. While preference will be given to submissions within these areas, CMS will consider submissions in other areas within this Category.

These categories were identified as gaps in the current Innovation Center portfolio and as areas that could result in potentially usable models for changes in Medicare, Medicaid, and CHIP payment methods. This round of Innovation Awards encourages a strong focus on Medicaid and CHIP populations. In addition, models that primarily focus on acute hospital inpatient care are excluded from this round and will not be reviewed. (Hospitals are eligible to apply for awards if they propose a model within one of the four Innovation Categories described below.)

In Round Two in contrast to the first round CMS specifically seeks new payment models to support the service delivery models funded by this initiative. Awardees will be required to implement the service delivery models at the start of the three-year cooperative agreement period and submit a fully developed new Medicare, Medicaid, or CHIP payment model by the end of the cooperative agreement period. Successful applicants will demonstrate that they can implement a model that improves quality of care and reduces cost within the first six months of the award and delivers net savings to CMS within three years. At its discretion and consistent with the requirements of Section 1115A of the Social Security Act, CMS may further develop one or more of these payment and service delivery models and open them to participation through a subsequent solicitation.

Do not rely on this Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance announcement for complete and precise answers about the Health Care Innovation Awards. The final authority on all matters, including but not limited to application procedures, format of proposals, deadlines, criteria, eligibility, model test requirements, and the nature of the Funding Opportunity, is the appropriate Funding Opportunity Announcement itself, either for Round One or Round Two of the Health Care Innovation Awards.

For specific details about Round Two of the initiative, see the Funding Opportunity Announcement at <https://www.grantsolutions.gov/gs/preaward/previewPublicAnnouncement.do?id=17996>.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The funds shall be used to implement models that support system transformation toward higher quality care at lower costs, and to plan and develop complementary payment models. Award dollars may be used for specific components, devices, equipment, software, analytical tools, or personnel provided that are integrated into the service delivery and payment model. Award dollars cannot be used to make permanent improvements to property not owned by the federal government; minor alterations and renovations are permissible under certain circumstances that will be described in the Financial Plan template (to be provided on or about June 14, 2013 on the Innovation Center website at <http://innovation.cms.gov>). CMS will not fund proposals that duplicate models that CMS is currently testing in other initiatives (see Section I.4) or other proposals being investigated elsewhere in HHS. CMS will not fund the provision of services to non-CMS beneficiaries. CMS will not fund applicants that cannot monitor, self-evaluate, and report on the progress and impact of their model in a timely manner. In Round Two, CMS will not fund models that focus primarily on acute hospital inpatient care.

All equipment, staff, other budgeted resources, and expenses must be used exclusively for the project identified in the awardees original cooperative agreement application or agreed upon subsequently with HHS, and may not be used for any prohibited uses.

Award dollars cannot be used

For specific components, devices, equipment, software, or personnel that are not integrated into the entire service delivery and payment model proposal.

To match any other Federal funds.

To provide services, equipment, or supports that are the legal responsibility of another party under Federal or State law (e.g., vocational rehabilitation or education services) or under any civil rights laws. Such legal responsibilities include, but are not limited to, modifications of a workplace or other reasonable accommodations that are a specific obligation of the employer or other party.

To supplant existing State, local, or private funding of infrastructure or services, such as staff salaries, etc.

To be used by local entities to satisfy state matching requirements.

To pay for the use of specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the entire service delivery and payment model proposal. Award dollars cannot be used for specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the entire service delivery and payment model proposal. CMS will not fund proposals that replicate models that CMS is currently testing in other initiatives. Finally, given the breadth of models that could be submitted, CMS will not fund proposals that cannot monitor, evaluate, and report on the progress and impact of their program in a timely manner.

Funding Restrictions Indirect Costs

Indirect costs will be capped at 20% or the applicants Federally negotiated indirect cost rate or the applicants provisional rate, whichever of these is lowest. Applicants may elect to waive their Federally negotiated indirect cost rate. If requesting indirect costs, a Federally negotiated Indirect Cost Rate Agreement will be required.

Funding Restrictions Direct Services

Cooperative Agreement funds may not be used to provide individuals with services that are already funded through Medicare, Medicaid and/or CHIP. In compliance with the OMB Circulars, which define allowed cost, funding from the Innovation Center may not supplant funding for services that are currently authorized through the Medicaid State Plan. This also applies to funding provided through waivers or other grants, including federal grants. Travel or participation in conferences may require CMS approval.

Funding Restrictions Reimbursement of Pre-Award Costs

No cooperative agreement funds awarded under this solicitation may be used to reimburse pre-award costs.

The following standard requirements apply to applications and awards under this FOA:

Specific administrative requirements, as outlined in 2 CFR Part 225 and 45 CFR Part 92, apply to cooperative agreement awarded under this announcement.

All awardees under this project must comply with all applicable Federal statutes relating to nondiscrimination including, but not limited to:

- o The Age Discrimination Act of 1975,
- o Hill-Burton Community Service nondiscrimination provisions, and
- o Title II Subtitle A of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. The funds shall be used to implement and evaluate models that support system transformation toward higher quality of care at lower costs. Award dollars cannot be used for specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the entire service delivery and payment model proposal. CMS will not fund proposals that replicate models that CMS is currently testing in other initiatives. Finally, given the breadth of models that could be submitted, CMS will not fund proposals that cannot monitor, evaluate, and report on the progress and impact of their program in a timely manner.

used for any prohibited uses.

Prohibited Uses of Cooperative Agreement Funds

To match any other Federal funds.

To provide services, equipment, or supports that are the legal responsibility of another party under Federal or State law (e.g., vocational rehabilitation or education services) or under any civil rights laws. Such legal responsibilities include, but are not limited to, modifications of a workplace or other reasonable accommodations that are a specific obligation of the employer or other party.

To supplant existing State, local, or private funding of infrastructure or services, such as staff salaries, etc.

To be used by local entities to satisfy State matching requirements.

To pay for the use of specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the entire service delivery and payment model proposal.

Applicant Eligibility:

Round One of HCIA sought to attract a wide variety of health care innovators and organizations, including: provider groups, health systems, payers and other private sector organizations, faith-based organizations, local governments, and public-private partnerships. In addition, certain organizations (such as professional associations) were eligible to apply as conveners assembling and coordinating the efforts of a group of participants. Conveners could serve as facilitators or could be direct award recipients. States were not eligible to apply to HCIA Round One.

HCIA Round Two seeks to engage with a wide variety of innovators. Welcome to apply are interested parties that meet the eligibility requirements specified in the Funding Opportunity Announcement, have developed innovations that will drive significant improvement in population health, quality of care, and total cost of care, and can create a clear pathway to an alternate payment model based on their innovation. Examples of the types of organizations expected to apply are: provider groups, health systems, payers and other private sector organizations, faith-based organizations, state and/or local governments, territories or possessions, academic institutions, research organizations, public-private partnerships, and for-profit organizations. By state, we refer to the definition provided under 45 CFR 74.2 as "any of the several States of the U.S., the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, (or) any territory or possession of the U.S." By territory or possession, we mean Guam, the U.S. Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands. In addition, certain organizations may apply as conveners that assemble and coordinate the efforts of a group of participants. Unsuccessful applicants from prior CMS funding competitions are eligible to apply. Technology-based models need to reflect the actual use, not the development, of a product in a broader service delivery or payment model. For specific details on eligibility, see the Funding Opportunity Announcement at <https://www.grantsolutions.gov/gs/preaward/previewPublicAnnouncement.do?id=17996>.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The Health Care Innovation Awards initiative will fund applicants who propose the most compelling new service delivery and payment models that will drive system transformation and deliver better outcomes for Medicare, Medicaid, and CHIP beneficiaries. Proposals should be focused on innovative approaches to improving health and lowering costs for high risk/high opportunity populations, including Medicare, Medicaid, and CHIP beneficiaries. In Round Two, proposals should focus, in particular, on beneficiary care and payment in the four Innovation Categories described under the heading, Objectives (050), above.

Round Two of the Innovation Awards encourages a strong focus on Medicaid and CHIP populations. However, CMS recognizes that in order for providers to have meaningful incentives to change their service delivery models they must engage multiple payers. Therefore, applications must include a feasible approach for securing participation of multiple payers for their proposed models. This could include demonstrable commitments from current payer partners, current contracts, letters of support or commitment from private insurers, state governments, or local governments. Preference will be given to applications that include participation by non-CMS payers at the outset of the models implementation. Funding from CMS can only be used to provide care for beneficiaries of Medicare, Medicaid, and CHIP.

For specific details, see the Funding Opportunity Announcement at

Award Procedure:

There are a number of differences between the criteria and review processes for Round One and Round Two of the HCIA. In Round One, the Innovation Center made 107 awards ranging from approximately $1 million to $26.5 million for a three-year period. Cooperative agreements were awarded with consideration to: (1) available funding; (2) geographic diversity; and (3) the quality of each application and the ability to meet the goals of the project. In the first round, less than 5% percent of applications were funded. Profiles of Awardees are available on the CMS website at <http://innovation.cms.gov/>. The CMS Innovation Center announced cooperative agreements for Round One of HCIA in two batches, with the first batch of awardees for Round One of HCIA announced on May 8, 2012 and the second (final) batch for Round One announced on June 15, 2012. Applications in Round One were scored with a total of 100 points available. The following criteria were used to evaluate Round One applications received in response to this solicitation.

Review Process: A team consisting of HHS staff from outside CMMI and other outside experts will review all eligible applications. The review process will include the following steps:

Prior to submission of the application to the review panel, a preliminary eligibility screen will be conducted by CMS staff or CMS contractors to ensure that the technical requirements of the application are met.

Applications will be screened again to determine eligibility for further review using criteria detailed in this solicitation and in applicable law, including 2 CFR Parts 180 and 376.

The review panel will assess each application to determine the merits of the proposal and the extent to which the proposed model furthers the purposes of Health Care Innovation Awards Round Two. Reviewers will award points in each area to determine scores. CMS reserves the right to request that applicants revise or otherwise modify their proposals and budget based on the recommendations of the panel.

Concurrently, the CMS Office of the Actuary will assist the GMO in review of the reasonableness of the estimated cost to the government, and will review the potential for federal savings. This review will be one of the criteria for the CMS Approving Official to consider during the application review process. The CMS Approving Official may utilize information provided by the CMS Actuaries assessment of applicants potential for savings in determining award recipients.

The results of the objective review of the applications by qualified experts will be used to advise the CMS Approving Official. Final award decisions will be made by the CMS Approving Official, guided by recommendations of the review panel and by programmatic concerns.

CMS intends to fund models in communities with a wide variety of geographic and socio-economic characteristics, including underserved urban and rural areas. CMS reserves the right to approve or deny any or all proposals for funding. Note that section 1115A of the Social Security Act states that there is no administrative or judicial review under sections 1869 or 1878 of the Act for the selection of organizations, sites, or participants to test models under section 1115A of the Act.

Interviews may be conducted with applicants prior to selection in order to clarify Application and Submission Information as needed. CMS reserves the right to request that applicants revise or otherwise modify their proposals and budget based on the recommendations of the panel and the review of the CMS Approving Official. Successful applicants will receive one cooperative agreement award issued under this announcement. Unsuccessful applicants may request reviewers comments.

For specific details about the Review Process for Round Two of the initiative, see the Funding Opportunity Announcement at <https://www.grantsolutions.gov/gs/preaward/previewPublicAnnouncement.do?id=17996>.

successful applicants will receive an electronic Notice of Award (NoA) signed and dated by the CMS Grants Management Officer that will set forth the amount of the award and other pertinent information. The award will also include standard Terms and Conditions, and may also include additional specific cooperative agreement terms and conditions. Potential applicants should be aware that special requirements could apply to cooperative agreement awards based on the particular circumstances of the effort to be supported and/or deficiencies identified in the application by the review panel. The NoA is the legal document issued to notify the awardee that an award has been made and that funds may be requested from the HHS payment system. Any communication between CMS and awardees prior to issuance of the NoA is not an authorization to begin performance of a model.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

For Round One, the anticipated period of performance for the 3-year project period is July 1, 2012 through June 30, 2015.

For Round Two, the anticipated period of performance for the 3-year model period is April 1, 2014 to March 31, 2017. The budget period is 12 months. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Awards will be made through Cooperative Agreements.

Reports:

The reporting requirements for Round Two differ in some respects from Round Ones reporting requirements. Round One applicants were expected to include in their proposals a description of their plans for collecting and producing the data and analysis of the model that would be provided to CMS and its evaluation and monitoring contractors. Careful monitoring and reporting of the effect of the model on the quality of care received as well as health care outcomes and costs are expected. Awardees agreed to cooperate with any Federal evaluation of the program and provide quarterly, semi-annual (every 6 months), annual, and final (at the end of the cooperative agreement period) reports in a form prescribed by CMS, and submitted electronically. These reports outline how cooperative agreement funds are used, describe program progress, and describe any barriers encountered and measurable outcomes. CMS provides the format for program reporting and the technical assistance necessary to complete required report forms. Awardees also agreed to respond to requests for information necessary for the evaluation of national efforts and for data on key elements of their own cooperative agreement activities. For Round Two, the application must include a description of the applicants plan for collecting and producing the data and analysis of the model that will be provided to CMS and its evaluation and monitoring contractors. The application must include detailed information on the self-monitoring plan. Careful monitoring and reporting of the effect of the model on the quality of care received as well as health care outcomes and costs are expected. Awardees also will be required to monitor patient satisfaction with their care experience by using validated tools that measure the patient experience of care. Monitoring reports must be provided to CMS quarterly and they must include information on the use of cooperative agreement funding and an assessment of model implementation, lessons learned, patient experience, quality improvements, clinical outcomes, and estimates of cost savings. Note that awardees will also be required to cooperate fully with the monitoring and evaluation contractors in reporting data that they require for the model evaluations.

CMS plans to conduct rigorous evaluation of each of these models through a separate evaluation contract. This work will entail establishing treatment and control or comparison groups and measuring the model effects on costs and outcomes. Applicants will be expected to facilitate evaluation contractor work in these areas by providing all necessary information and access required for the evaluation. Awardees may be required to report information in standard format and measure and report outcomes in a standardized way, if requested by the evaluation contractor.

Awardees will be measured and monitored on their ability to execute their proposed operational work plan submitted as part of their application. Key components of this monitoring will include, but are not limited to:

- Meeting proposed milestones and deliverables;
- Producing timely and accurate reports with clear progress on quality and cost performance as described above; and
- Building and/or enhancing required infrastructure.

Award recipients will be required to report their actual performance on cost and quality outcomes and operational performance, and CMS will regularly monitor the results. Awardees will be required to provide, or cooperate in providing, as applicable, the necessary data elements to CMS.

In addition to this self-monitoring and self-evaluation, CMS will also collect from awardees a standard minimum set of performance indicators through CMS monitoring and evaluation contractors. CMS will contract with independent entities to assist in monitoring the models and to conduct an independent evaluation.

For specific details on monitoring, reporting, and evaluation requirements for Round Two of the HCIA, see the Funding Opportunity Announcement at <https://www.grantsolutions.gov/gs/preaward/previewPublicAnnouncement.do?id=17996>. No cash reports are required. CMS plans to collect data elements to be part of monitoring for all of the different models, and these monitoring and surveillance elements will feed into the evaluation. All awardees will be required to cooperate in providing the necessary data elements to CMS or a CMS contractor.

Data for monitoring will include process, safety, and performance measures. It will include, but will not be limited to, data on the background characteristics of the target population and target area, data characterizing the activities of the model, and a battery of follow-up data describing relevant characteristics of the target population or target area and metrics at selected intervals after commencement of the model. This will include detailed information on model participant (i.e., beneficiaries participating in the model) characteristics and outcomes reported in a standard format. Data for monitoring will be collected from awardees and/or CMS claims data sources. The monitoring aspect of this initiative will balance the examination of the extent to which awardees demonstrate fidelity to their proposed models of care and the potential need to make mid-course corrections that improve the models of care based on feedback from the monitoring and evaluation findings. Moreover, the evaluation will assess whether there are unintended consequences as a result of the model. Each proposed model in this portfolio is expected to submit a Financial Plan and supplemental narrative and schedules that provide an explanation of how it expects to meaningfully reduce medical cost trend for their identified population. The Financial Plan requires awardees to provide the following:

Uses of Funds: Awardees should enter proposed use of funds in the Financial Plan template. These funds must match Form SF 424A. Applicants should provide yearly line-item projections on how awarded funds will be allocated. The total use of funds will sum to the requested award.

Savings:

o Data under Current Census should describe services currently provided to program participants. Applicants are requested to provide data on the number of participants in applicant programs, the current baseline Per Beneficiary Per Year (PBPY) Total Cost of Care for Participants touched by programs, and the proposed percent cost reduction the award funding will facilitate in those costs.

o Data under Proposed Expansion should describe the impact on the proposed expansion population that award funding will facilitate. Applicants are requested to provide data on the number of participants targeted, the baseline PBPY Total Cost of Care for participants in targeted expansion area, and the proposed percent cost reduction the award funding will facilitate.

Applicants are required to provide supplemental narrative and supporting schedules with detailed information on the specific intervention expected to reduce cost and the estimated reduction in expenditures by funding source resulting from said intervention by service type and by funding source, including estimates for the number of affected individuals. Applicants should provide backup documentation, e.g., research studies, evidence of reduced cost from existing intervention, et cetera, as available. Applicants are encouraged to provide clear, detailed reports to facilitate objective, data-driven reviews. CMS plans to collect data elements to be part of monitoring for all of the different models, and these monitoring and surveillance elements will feed into the evaluation. All awardees will be required to cooperate in providing the necessary data elements to CMS or a CMS contractor. Data for monitoring will include process, safety and performance measures. It will include, but will not be limited to, data on the background characteristics of the target population and target area, data characterizing the activities of the program, and a battery of follow-up data describing relevant characteristics of the target population or target area and metrics at selected intervals after commencement of the program model. Data for monitoring will be collected both from awardees and or CMS claims data sources. The program monitoring aspect of this initiative will balance the examination of the extent to which awardees demonstrate fidelity to their proposed models of care and the potential need to make mid-course corrections that improve the models of care based on feedback from the monitoring and evaluation findings. Moreover, the evaluation will assess whether there is evidence of harm or unintended consequences as a result of the intervention.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503.

Range and Average of Financial Assistance:

In Round Two of the Health Care Innovation Awards, the Innovation Center expects to make up to $900 million in funding available to support a diverse portfolio of new and innovative payment and service delivery models that will reduce the cost of health care and improve its quality in Medicare, Medicaid, and/or CHIP. CMS intends to fund the best qualified applications within the scope of available funds. CMS estimates that there will be approximately 100 awards, with a range of approximately $1 million to $30 million per award; however CMS is not obligated to fund a minimum number of applicants, or to distribute a minimum amount of funds available for the second round of Health Care Innovation Awards.

Cooperative agreements will be awarded with consideration to the criteria listed above under Award Procedure (093). Awardees might not receive the award amount requested and might be asked to adjust the service delivery model, payment model, work plan, budget, or other application deliverable. 93.621 AFFORDABLE CARE ACT INITIATIVE TO REDUCE AVOIDABLE HOSPITALIZATIONS AMONG NURSING FACILITY RESIDENTS

Nursing Facility Initiative

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Affordable Care Act, Public Law 111-148, section 3021.

OBJECTIVES:

Under this Initiative, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) selected eligible organizations to test a series of evidence-based clinical interventions. The goal of these interventions is to improve the health and health care among long-stay nursing facility residents and ultimately reduce avoidable inpatient hospital admissions. Successful applicants are implementing such interventions that will have the following objectives:

- Reduce the frequency of avoidable hospital admissions and readmissions;
- Improve resident health outcomes;
- Improve the process of transitioning between inpatient hospitals and nursing facilities; and
- Reduce overall health care spending without restricting access to care or choice of providers.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Under the Cooperative Agreements, CMS funded enhanced care & coordination providers to implement an intervention that meets the objectives of the Initiative. All interventions must include the following activities:

- Hire staff who shall maintain a physical presence at nursing facilities and who shall partner with nursing facility staff to implement preventive services and improve recognition, assessment, and management of conditions such as pneumonia, congestive heart failure, chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and asthma, urinary tract infections, dehydration, skin ulcers, falls, and other common causes of avoidable hospitalizations;

- Work in cooperation with existing providers, including residents primary care providers, nursing facility staff, and families to implement best practices and improve the overall quality of nursing facility care, focusing on quality improvement activities that most directly relate to avoidable hospitalizations;

- Facilitate residents transitions to and from inpatient hospitals and nursing facilities, including facilitating timely and complete exchange of health information among providers and providing support for residents and nursing facility staff to support successful discharge to the community as appropriate;

- Provide support for improved communication and coordination among hospital staff (including attending physicians), nursing facility staff, residents primary care providers and other specialists, and pharmacies; and

- Coordinate and improve management and monitoring of prescription drugs to reduce risk of polypharmacy and adverse drug events for residents, including inappropriate prescribing of psychotropic drugs.

All interventions must also:

- Demonstrate a strong evidence base;

- Demonstrate strong potential for replication and sustainability in other communities and institutions;

- Supplement (rather than replace) existing care provided by nursing facility staff;

- Coordinate closely with State Medicaid and State survey and certification agencies and State public health and health reform efforts, including other CMS demonstrations and waivers; and

- Allow for participation by nursing facility residents without any need for residents or their families to change providers or enroll in a health plan. (Residents will be able to opt-out from participating, if they choose.)

The enhanced care & coordination providers must collaborate with State Medicaid and State survey and certification agencies and participating nursing facilities, with each enhanced care & coordination provider implementing its intervention in at least 15 Medicare- and Medicaid-certified nursing facilities in the same State. In addition to implementing the interventions and executing other activities outlined in the Initiative funding opportunity announcement, enhanced care & coordination providers must also participate in ongoing learning and diffusion activities and cooperate with operations support and evaluation efforts, including adapting models based on needed mid-course corrections. The following standard requirements apply to applications and awards under the Initiative funding opportunity announcement:

- Specific administrative requirements, as outlined in 2 CFR Part 225 and 45 CFR Part 92 and OMB Circulars A-87, A-102, A-110, and A-133 apply to cooperative agreement awarded under this announcement.

- All awardees under this project must comply with all applicable Federal statutes relating to nondiscrimination including, but not limited to:

- o Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964,
- o Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973,
- o The Age Discrimination Act of 1975,

- o Hill-Burton Community Service nondiscrimination provisions, and
- o Title II Subtitle A of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.

All equipment, staff, other budgeted resources, and expenses must be used exclusively for the project identified in the awardees original cooperative agreement application or agreed upon subsequently with HHS, and may not be used for any prohibited uses.

Prohibited Uses of Cooperative Agreement Funds

- To match any other Federal funds.

- To provide services, equipment, or supports that are the legal responsibility of another party under Federal or State law (e.g., vocational rehabilitation or education services) or under any civil rights laws. Such legal responsibilities include, but are not limited to, modifications of a workplace or other reasonable accommodations that are a specific obligation of the employer or other party.

- To supplant existing State, local, or private funding of infrastructure or services, such as staff salaries, etc.

- To be used by local entities to satisfy State matching requirements.

- To pay for the use of specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the application.

- To pay for construction or alteration and renovation of real property (A&R).

- To pay for information technology (IT) equipment exceeding 10 percent of the total award. Any equipment, which includes IT, over $5,000 must be approved by CMS.

- To pay States for the use of any of their data made available for this Initiative.

Applicant Eligibility:

Applicants eligible to be enhanced care & coordination providers included, but were not limited to:

- Organizations that provide care coordination, case management, or related services;

- Medical care providers, such as physician practices;

- Health plans (although this initiative will not be capitated managed care);

- Public or not-for-profit organizations, such as Aging and Disability Resource Centers, Area Agencies on Aging, Behavioral Health Organizations, Centers for Independent Living, universities, or others;

The organization must have had a governing body capable of entering into a cooperative agreement with CMS on behalf of its members.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The primary target population for the clinical interventions is fee-for-service Medicare-Medicaid enrollees in nursing facilities, but fee-for-service long-stay residents who are not yet Medicare-Medicaid enrollees will also benefit (i.e., Medicare beneficiaries not yet eligible for Medicaid, or Medicaid beneficiaries not yet eligible for Medicare but who represent similar opportunities for inpatient reductions).

Credentials/Documentation:

Seven (7) organizations, which fulfilled these requirements (below), have already been selected for this Initiative. All applications shall attach letter(s) of support from the State Medicaid director and State survey and certification director from each State in which the applicant is proposing to implement the intervention. They shall also describe Medicare- and Medicaid-certified nursing facilities that have agreed to participate in this initiative and attach letters of intent (LOIs) from partnering nursing facilities. All applications must include LOIs from a minimum of 15 Medicare- and Medicaid-certified nursing facilities in the same State with an average census of 100 residents or more per facility. CMS will only review applications that include these letters of support from the State and LOIs from nursing facilities. 93.624 ACA - STATE INNOVATION MODELS: FUNDING FOR MODEL DESIGN AND MODEL TESTING ASSISTANCE

State Innovation Models (SIM)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 1115A of the Social Security Act (Added by Section 3021 of the Affordable Care Act).

OBJECTIVES:

The Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (Innovation Center) announces the second round of funding for the State Innovation Models (SIM) program. SIM is based on the premise that state innovation with broad stakeholder input and engagement, including multi-payer models, will accelerate delivery system transformation to provide better care at lower costs. SIM is focused on public and private sector collaboration to transform the states delivery system. SIM provides financial and technical support to states to test the ability of state governments to use their regulatory and policy levers to accelerate health transformation. In Round 1, CMS partnered with 6 Model Test states to implement state-wide health transformation strategies and 19 Model Design states to develop and refine State Healthcare Innovation Plans to guide future implementation efforts.

Drawing on lessons from the funding opportunity released in Round 1, State Innovation Models: Funding for Model Design and Testing Assistance (CMS-1G1-12-001) (Round 1 FOA), Round 2 of SIM specifies additional parameters that CMS believes correlate with successful state-wide health transformation. These parameters are described in this Funding Announcement in the form of requirements for Round 2 applications. CMS will fund up to 12 Model Test states with approximately $20-100 million grants per state, with funding based in part on the size of the state population and the scope of the transformation proposal. Additionally, CMS will provide up to $3 million per state for up to 15 Model Design cooperative agreements to design new State Health System Innovation Plans or enhance existing plans developed in Round 1. All Round 1 Model Design states must apply for Round 2 of SIM. The Round 1 FOA indicated that states receiving Round 1 Model Design awards must submit a Model Testing proposal for the Round 2 FOA. CMS is amending that requirement to submit a testing proposal in Round 2, so that a Model Design state may either apply for a Model Test award or may apply for a second Model Design award in order to enhance their State Health System Innovation Plan for future testing.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Illustrative List of Allowable Model Test Costs

Allowable costs associated with state Model Test work could include:

Technical resources necessary to implement new models
Model performance data collection, analysis, reporting cost
Data center costs, and system information processing associated with the Model Test Provider costs for data collection
Coordination with Innovation Center rapid cycle evaluation, and costs for collecting and preparing data for Innovation Center evaluator and/or state evaluator
Staff resources associated with model management and project management, including travel to SIM workshops and conferences

Web and internet collaborative learning and communication cost
Project management and reporting cost
Business operation associated with the model

In addition, on a limited, case-by-case, basis CMS may consider funding provider payments for performance-based shared savings.
Other activities necessary to implement the overall State Health System Innovation Plan that will further the testing of payment and service delivery models and improve outcomes for Medicare, Medicaid and CHIP beneficiaries.

Allowable costs associated with state Model Design work could include:

State staff costs to engage in model design

States should consider the most efficient use of funds within the range of award amounts when developing a proposal.

The following are areas that are out of scope and will not be considered under the state Innovation Models initiative:

- a. Medicare eligibility changes;
- b. Coverage or benefits reductions in Medicare or Medicaid or any changes that would have the effect of rationing care;
- c. Increases in premiums or cost sharing;
- d. Increases in net federal spending under the Medicare, Medicaid or CHIP programs;
- e. Medicaid FMAP formula changes;
- f. Changes to the EHR incentive program for eligible professionals and eligible hospitals;
- g. Changes in State Financial Alignment Models;
- h. Reductions in Medicare beneficiary choice of provider or health plan, or Medicaid choice of provider or health plan beyond those allowed today, or changes to maintenance of effort requirements;
- i. Changes to CMS sanctions, penalties, or official denial of participation currently in effect.

CMS will not fund proposals that duplicate models for populations that are already being funded and tested as part of any other CMS and/or HHS initiatives. For example, if the state receives a Strong Start for Mothers and Newborns cooperative agreement, SIM funding will only be used in a coordinated manner to complement and not to duplicate or supplant funding for Strong Start for Mothers and Newborns. SIM funding may not supplant existing federal or state funding. States may propose the use of SIM test funds to support additional costs associated with or created by testing a SIM model. States may not use SIM funds as state match under the Medicaid or CHIP programs nor use funds to substitute for currently funded Medicaid or CHIP services or administrative activities.

Indirect Costs

If requesting indirect costs, an Indirect Cost Rate Agreement will be required. For this Cooperative Agreement funding opportunity indirect costs are limited to 10%.

The provisions of 2 CFR Part 225 (previously OMB Circular A-87) govern reimbursement of indirect costs under this solicitation. A copy of these cost principles is available online at:
http://www.ecfr.gov/cgi-bin/text-idx?c=ecfr&tpl=/ecfrbrowse/Title02/2cfr225_main_02.tpl

Direct Services

Cooperative Agreement funds may not be used to provide individuals with services that are already funded through Medicare, Medicaid, and/or CHIP
 Reimbursement of Pre-Award Costs

No cooperative agreement funds awarded under this solicitation may be used to reimburse pre-award costs.

Prohibited Uses of Cooperative Agreement Funds

To match any other Federal funds.

To provide services, equipment, or support that are the legal responsibility of another party under Federal or state law (e.g., vocational rehabilitation, criminal justice, or foster care) or under any civil rights laws. Such legal responsibilities include, but are not limited to, modifications of a workplace or other reasonable accommodations that are a specific obligation of the employer or other party.

To supplant existing Federal state, local, or private funding of infrastructure or services.

To be used by local entities to satisfy state matching requirements.

To pay for the use of specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the entire service delivery and payment model proposal.

To lobby or advocate for changes in Federal and/or state law. CMS will not fund proposals that duplicate models for populations that are already being funded and tested as part of CMS or HHS initiatives. For example, if the state receives a Strong Start for Mothers and Newborns cooperative agreement, SIM funding will only be used in a coordinated manner and not to supplant funding for Strong Start for Mothers and Newborns. States may propose the use of SIM testing funds to support additional costs associated with or created by testing a SIM model.

Indirect Costs

If requesting indirect costs, an Indirect Cost Rate Agreement will be required.

For this Cooperative Agreement funding opportunity indirect costs are limited to 10%. The provisions of 2 CFR Part 225 (previously OMB Circular A-87) govern reimbursement of indirect costs under this solicitation. A copy of these cost principles is available online at:

To be used by local entities to satisfy state matching requirements.

To pay for the use of specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the entire service delivery and payment model proposal.

To lobby or advocate for changes in Federal and/or state law.

Applicant Eligibility:

CMS invites the 50 state Governors Offices, United States Territories Governors Offices (American Samoa, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands), and the Mayors Office of the District of Columbia to apply.

Only one application from a Governor per state is permitted for either a Model Design or a Model Test award (assuming the state applied and was not selected for funding under the first round of Model Test awards).

A state cannot receive multiple Round 2 Model Design or Model Test awards.

A state cannot receive both a Round 2 Model Design award and a Round 2 Model Test award.

Each application must include a letter from the Governor (or the Mayor, if from the District of Columbia) officially endorsing the application for a Model Design award or for a Model Test award.

States currently engaged in a Model Test award with CMS are NOT eligible to apply for funding under Round 2.

A state may propose that an outside organization focused on quality and state delivery system transformation, such as a non-profit affiliated with the State Department of Health or a public-private partnership supported by the Governors Office, receive and administer funds through a Model Design or Model Test award. The Governors Office must submit such requests in writing to CMS with its Letter of Intent and include a justification for the request and an attestation that the state will actively participate in all activities described in its proposal. Approval of such requests will be at the sole discretion of CMS. Only one such request supported by the Governor will be allowed per state. A state pursuing this approach will still be expected to address all of the required areas described in this FOA.

Eligibility Threshold Criteria:

All applicants must have submitted a required letter of intent to the programmatic point of contact in Section VI. Agency Contacts by June 6, 2014.

If a letter of intent has not been submitted by the required due date, any subsequent application submitted by the entity will be ineligible. See Section IV.2.A, Letter of Intent to Apply, for more information.

Application deadline: Applications not received by the application deadline (TBD) through www.grants.gov will not be reviewed.

Application requirements: Applications will be considered for funding only if the application meets the requirements outlined in Section III, Eligibility Information and Section IV, Application and Submission Information.

Page limits: Model Test applications shall not be more than 55 pages in length. Model Design applications shall not be more than 27 pages in length. Both types of applications must be limited to the page maximums, sequence of sections, and section content specified in Section IV.2 Content and Form of Application Submission, parts C & D.

In addition, applications should include attestations of support from key stakeholders. The letters of support will not be included in the page limits for applications. The letters should attest to stakeholders active engagement in the model and must contain specific information about how the stakeholders will contribute to the SIM process.

The standard forms, project abstract, Governors endorsement, and curriculum vitae are also not included in these page limits.

States are strongly encouraged to review the criteria information provided in Section V of the FOA, Application Review Information, to help ensure that the proposal adequately addresses all the criteria that will be used in evaluating applications and determining appropriate funding levels for each award.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

The emphasis is on targeting Medicare, Medicaid, and CHIP populations.

Proposals will describe the target populations, geographic areas, or communities that will be the focus of service delivery and payment model testing, the current quality and beneficiary experience outcomes including current health population status, and the specific improvement targets expected from the model.

Applicants must successfully register with SAM prior to submitting an application or registering in the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act Subaward Reporting System (FSRS) as a prime awardee user. Organizations must report executive compensation as part of the registration profile at <https://www.sam.gov/portal/public/SAM> by the end of the month following the month in which this award is made, and annually thereafter (based on the reporting requirements of the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act (FFATA) of 2006 (Pub. L. 109-282), as amended by Section 6202 of Public Law 110-252 and implemented by 2 CFR Part 170)). Primary awardees must maintain a current registration with the SAM database, and may make subawards only to entities that have DUNS numbers. See Section VI, Award Administration Information, for more information on FFATA.

The Grants Management Specialist assigned to monitor the subaward and executive compensation reporting requirements is Iris Grady, who can be reached at divisionofgrantsmanagement@cms.hhs.gov. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. This Funding Announcement offers two separate funding opportunities: (1) Model Test awards and (2) Model Design awards.

Model Test: Proposal Requirements

The Innovation Center will award up to 12 Model Test awards to states through this Funding Announcement. Model Test awards will provide financial and technical support to implement fully developed proposals for successful state-wide transformation. Awards will range from $20-100 million per state totaling $700 million over a four-year period, based on the size of the states population and the scope of the proposal. If a Model Test applicant is not selected for a Model Test award, CMS may select the state/entity for a Model Design award if (1) after all possible states/entities which applied for Model Design awards are selected and funding is still available to issue additional Model Design awards (not to exceed overall maximum of 15 Model Design awards); and (2) CMS determines the state/entity is not ready for a Model Test award and would benefit from Model Design funding. States currently engaged in a Model Test award with CMS will not be eligible to apply for funding in Round 2.

The selection criteria for the Round 2 Model Test application will be based on a states ability to successfully apply policy and regulatory levers over the award performance period to address three focus areas: (1) improving population health; (2) transforming health care delivery systems; and (3) decreasing per capita total health care spending. During the selection process, CMS will require additional discussions with applicants regarding their proposals. Selection for a Round 2 Model Test will not constitute nor guarantee approval of a request for a Medicaid State Plan Amendment (SPA) or a Medicaid 1115 Waiver. States seeking a Medicaid SPA or Medicaid 1115 waiver may do so under established processes.

In addition to an expert panel review, selected applicants for Model Test cooperative agreements will be required to present their Round 2 proposals. Selected applicants will be invited and strongly encouraged to present their proposal in person, or conversely can present virtually to a panel comprised of external experts as well as HHS leadership. The states presentation must be led by a cabinet-level health official, such as the Secretary of Health, and include providers and commercial payers who have committed to actively participate in the model. In the case of public-private partnership entities applying for a state innovation model test, senior leaders from the private and public sector, including senior leaders of the applicant entity, shall be present.

All travel expenses incurred by applicants will not be reimbursed by CMS nor can they be reimbursed by any funding awarded under this FOA. In addition, if a state does not participate in the required presentation, it will not be eligible for funding.

Model Test applications must address the following required areas:

A. Model Test Project Narrative. The state must produce a detailed and fully developed proposal capable of creating state-wide health transformation for the preponderance of care within the state. For each individual element and/or program in the test proposal, the state must highlight how the element or program will (1) improve population health; (2) transform the health care delivery system; and/or (3) decrease per capita health care spending, drawing on a supporting evidence base.

B. While Round 2 provides states with significant flexibility to design contextually-specific plans for state-wide health transformation, each proposal must also include the following core elements:

(1) Plan for improving Population Health. The state must develop a state-wide plan to improve population health during the project period. The state will be offered the opportunity to obtain technical support from the Centers for Disease Control in developing the plans. The plans should include integration of population health strategies with public health officials and health care delivery systems for all populations. At a minimum, plans should address the core measures identified in the population health metrics document, namely: tobacco use and the incidence of obesity, and diabetes. (See Appendix 1.) In addition, states should consider integrating state strategies to address child wellness and prevention priorities, as applicable, including such factors as reducing childhood obesity, preventing early childhood dental caries, and addressing maternal depression to foster healthy child development.

(2) Health Care Delivery System Transformation Plan. CMS has identified the following characteristics to be closely associated with transformed health care delivery systems:

- a. Providers across the state and across the care continuum participate in integrated or virtually integrated delivery models;
- b. Over 80% of payments to providers from all payers are in fee-for-service alternatives that link payment to value;
- c. Every resident of the state has a primary care provider who is accountable both for the quality and for the total cost of their health care;
- d. Care is coordinated across all providers and settings;
- e. There is a high-level of patient engagement and quantifiable results on patient experience;
- f. Providers leverage the use of health information technology to improve quality;
- g. There is an adequate health care workforce to meet state residents needs;
- h. Providers perform at the top of their license and board certification;
- i. Performance in quality and cost measures is consistently high;
- j. Population health measures are integrated into the delivery system; and
- k. Data is used to drive health system processes.

The state must describe in detail how it will engage providers in health care delivery system transformation across the state, working towards the goals described above.

CMS recognizes that individual state proposals will vary considerably. However, in reviewing the Health Care Delivery Transformation Plan, and the proposed cost and quality targets, CMS will consider state, regional, and national demographics, proposal parameters, alignment/overlap of existing CMS programs, and other factors that impact health.

One or more specific payment and/or service delivery models that include, but are not limited to, the states Medicaid population, state employee population, and/or commercial payers populations. The payment and/or service delivery models must identify the targeted populations, the number of beneficiaries served, the number of participating providers, and the services to be delivered. CMS encourages applicants to propose payment models that directly align with one or more existing Medicare programs, demonstrations, and/or models, such as accountable care organizations (ACOs), primary care medical homes, and bundled payment programs. Medicare participation is not guaranteed and will be assessed on a case-by-case basis after thorough review of the proposed model.

As SIM aims to reach a preponderance of a states population and Medicaid can serve as an important lever for driving health care delivery system transformation, the state should describe any Medicaid expansion activities and the percentage of the states population that is covered by Medicaid.

The state must commit to using multiple regulatory authorities to influence the structure and performance of the states health care system. Regulatory authorities whose uses are envisioned under SIM include, but are not limited to, the following:

- a. Aligning certificate of need processes and criteria (if applicable) to reinforce accountable care and delivery system transformation or developing alternative approaches to certificate of need programs, such as community-based approaches that could include voluntary participation by all providers and payers;
- b. Developing regulatory approaches to improve the effectiveness, efficiency and appropriate mix of the health care work force, such as through professional licensure/accreditation of providers and/or expanding scope of practice statutes;
- c. Creating opportunities to align state regulations and requirements for health insurers with the broader goals of multi-payer delivery system and payment reform;
- d. Integrating value-based principles into health insurance exchange Qualified Health Plan (QHP) certification processes, state employee plans, or Medicaid managed care plans including through selective contracting with carriers to provide health care coverage plans that provide the most competitive combination of value, quality, and choice; and
- e. Requiring academic medical centers and professional schools to integrate transformation-based teachings into medical education programs.

f. This list is not intended to be exhaustive. States may propose alternative regulatory authorities that support delivery system transformation to satisfy this requirement in consultation with CMS.

CMS recognizes that health information technology and data analytics will be important to achieving optimal efficiency and improved outcomes in state-wide health care delivery. States may propose to use SIM funds for the implementation of specific technology, software, applications, or other analytical tools as part of state infrastructure development to support the Model Test as long as the state provides a clear strategy for how, if applicable, the technological approach will be financed in addition to SIM, how it will not supplant other funding sources, and how it will be sustained after the cooperative agreement period has ended. Proposals must document the current state of health information technology adoption and utilization in the state, including current EHR adoption levels, percentage of providers meeting Meaningful Use requirements in the EHR Incentive Programs, and use of technology to support HIE activities. The Model Test proposals must also provide detailed descriptions for health information technology plans in the following domains:

- a. Governance: Describe how state leadership will direct the planning and oversight of implementation; supply a comprehensive plan to implement infrastructure to support the Model Test that leverages existing assets and aligns with federally-funded programs and state enterprise IT systems; and explain how the governance structure will incorporate and expand existing public/private health information exchanges, including those operated by ACOs.
- b. Policy: Describe policy and regulatory levers that will be used to accelerate standards based health information technology adoption to improve care in the state Model Test; describe methods to improve transparency and encourage innovative uses of data; offer a plan for promotion of patient engagement and shared-decision making; and propose multi-payer strategies to enable and expand the use of health information technology.
- c. Infrastructure: Describe how the state will implement analytical tools and use data driven evidence based approach to coordinate and improve care across the state Model Test; offer plans to utilize telehealth and perform remote patient monitoring to increase access to care and the timeliness of care; articulate plans to use standards based health IT to enable electronic quality reporting; explain how public health IT systems (such as clinical registry systems) will be integrated; and describe how support of electronic data will drive quality improvement at the point of care.

d. Technical Assistance: Define how the state will provide technical assistance to providers; identify targeted provider groups that will receive assistance and what services will be delivered; and identify how the state intends to extend resources to providers ineligible for Meaningful Use incentive payments, if applicable.

This list is not intended to be exhaustive. States may propose alternative approaches to data analytics and health information technology that support delivery system transformation. States will be offered the opportunity to obtain technical support from the Office of the National Coordinator for Health IT in developing the plans.

In addition to explaining the individual components of the test, the State must address its rationale for how the specified elements and/or programs, in combination, will achieve state-wide health transformation.

States may elect to focus on select areas of the state and/or to sequence elements or programs in the test geographically or temporally. The state should identify the tests geographic scope in this section and address any sequencing of individual elements and/or programs in its response to Section I.4.A.iv., Operational Plan, below.

The state must demonstrate how it will use its unique role as a stakeholder convener to accelerate state-wide health transformation. The state must (1) demonstrate that there are a significant number of key stakeholders representative of the entire state population engaged and actively committed to the implementation of the states Model Test proposal and (2) present a clear and pragmatic strategy for maintaining stakeholder commitment throughout implementation of the proposed test. Stakeholders must include health care providers/systems, commercial payers/purchasers, state hospital and medical associations, community-based and long term support providers, consumer advocacy organizations, and, as applicable, tribal communities.

The state must submit attestations of support from each identified stakeholder as part of its application (template provided in Appendix 3). Notwithstanding the above, representatives from stakeholder organizations must be prepared to travel to CMS or participate in a virtual teleconference during the selection process to discuss their commitment to the states proposal.

The state must provide plans to develop a state-wide plan to align quality measures across all payers in the state. If the state and key stakeholders have not yet reached consensus on such a plan at the time of submission, the proposal must describe in detail any progress to date on quality measure alignment, including the successes and challenges faced, and must articulate a path for developing a realizable plan by the conclusion of the up to 12 month pre-implementation period. The plan should also demonstrate the payers commitment to reducing the administrative and/or non-clinical burden to providers in the state.

The state must provide quantifiable measures for regularly monitoring the impact of its proposed model, including the effectiveness of the policy and regulatory levers applied under the Model Test, on the three key outcomes of (1) strengthening population health; (2) transforming the health care delivery system; and (3) decreasing per capita health care spending. Measures should be selected with a focus on the particularized state health demographics and health needs the Model Test proposal aims to address. All quality and cost measures must use the states entire population in the denominator. Examples of measure domains that may apply include:

Population health: percentage of state residents using tobacco
Health care delivery system transformation: percentage of state residents attributed to a primary care doctor

Per capita cost spending: per capita Medicare inpatient costs

Final measures will be refined in conjunction with CMS during the up to 12 month pre-implementation period.

The state also will be responsible for monitoring and reporting to CMS on the progress and impact of its Model Test at regular intervals. In addition, CMS will conduct an independent evaluation of funded proposals in accordance with the requirements set forth in Section 1115A of the Social Security Act (added by Section 3021 of the Affordable Care Act).

The state must identify all existing health care innovation initiatives occurring within the state, including CMS, HHS, federal, and external initiatives (e.g., the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Aligning Forces for Quality program), and demonstrate how the proposal aligns with these health care innovation efforts. The state must describe how the proposal will (1) coordinate with and build upon existing initiatives and (2) ensure that federal funding will not be used for duplicative activities, or to supplant current federal or state funding. For example, if a state is participating in the State Financial Alignment Model, the state should describe how the State Financial Alignment Model complements the states proposed SIM model.

As part of its application, the state must submit a SF-424A and a budget narrative. The budget narrative must be consistent with the SF-424A and Model Test requirements as well as limit overhead and administrative costs to no more than 10% of direct costs. States should indicate other resources that will aid in implementing the Model Test plan. See Section IV. 2. Content and Form of Application Submission for more information.

As part of its application, the state must submit a Financial Analysis. The Financial Analysis must estimate the proposals return on investment for the Model, and specifically for Medicare, Medicaid, and/or CHIP populations, over the performance period of the award as well as on a projected annualized basis after the term of the award is finished. The state must explain how its interventions will reduce total cost of care for the beneficiaries its model serves. The Financial Analysis also must provide financial models explaining the logic driving their forecasted cost of care savings.

The state must obtain and submit an external actuarial certification of their Financial Analysis with their application. A qualified actuary who is a member of the American Academy of Actuaries must complete the external certification. The CMS Office of the Actuary will assist in reviewing the reasonableness of the estimated cost to the government, and will review the potential for federal savings. The external actuarial certification, as well as the review of the CMS Actuary, will be considered in final selection of Model Test awards.

The state must submit a detailed Operational Plan that describes the activities and budgets for each year of the model and provide a detailed timeline for implementation and major milestones for successfully executing the Plan. The Operational Plan must show how the applicant plans to scale implementation activities to ramp up to an operational start within twelve months of receiving funding. The applicant must also establish accountability targets for the project, including specific quarterly milestones and metrics associated with each investment or activity that would be financed in whole or in part by this award. Projected quarterly targets for the test period should indicate the number and/or proportion of health care providers, hospitals, and beneficiaries that will be engaged by each Model Test component. The Operational Plan must also address any assumptions made and risks to the operational timeline, probability and impact of identified risks actually occurring, and projected strategies for mitigating identified risks.

In addition, the application should show that the applicant has the resources and track record needed to operate the model and report on the progress it is making during the operation. Applicants shall include a list of key personnel; and for each person on this list, applicants should describe their relevant background, their roles, and overall responsibility. Applicants should address the Governors existing and future involvement in the models design and implementation, and the state agencies and/or departments that will be actively involved in executing the model.

Applicants may also propose an operational plan that implements their State Health System Innovation Plan through a public-private partnership. Under such an approach, the state must demonstrate active engagement and participation in the public-private partnership.

Model Design: Proposal Requirements

The Innovation Center will award up to 15 Model Design states through this Funding Announcement. Model Design awards will provide financial and technical support to design proposals for successful state-wide transformation. Awards will range from $1-3 million over a one-year project period.

Eligible states include both those that did not participate in Round 1, as well as Round 1 Model Design states that met the terms and condition of the Round 1 project but require additional design work in order to implement the plan (i.e. increased stakeholder engagement, measurable public health value, cost and quality targets). Round 1 Model Design state proposals shall include the extent to which the state will develop a design that enhances the existing state plan for delivery transformation. To the extent feasible, Round 2 Model Design awardees will be required to implement and test the plans they develop.

Model Design applications must address the following required areas:

The state must demonstrate a clear process for designing or refining a plan with the engagement of multiple components of state government. The state should address the elements detailed in Section I.4.A.i, Model Test Project Narrative, and listed by name below, including specifically identifying the levers the state will aim to incorporate into a comprehensive state plan, such as the states Medicaid program, state employee health plans, and stated-owned academic medical centers. In their design plans, states must explain the unique features of their design efforts and their strategies for designing a plan that aligns with existing CMS efforts. Further, state plans must include multiple payers. This narrative must include a modified stakeholder engagement strategy, as outlined in Section I.4.B.i.6 below.

- o Plan for Improving Population Health
- o Health Care Delivery System Transformation Plan
- o Payment and/or Service Delivery Model
- o Leveraging Regulatory Authority
- o Health Information Technology
- o Stakeholder Engagement. The application must identify the proposed stakeholders that will actively participate in the Model Design process and present a clear and pragmatic strategy for engaging and maintaining their commitment to developing a State Health System Innovation Plan. States are expected to work with a broad group of stakeholders representative of the entire state population in their Model Design process, including, but not limited to, a significant number of health care providers/systems, long term service and supports providers, commercial payers, state hospital and medical associations, tribal communities and consumer advocacy organizations. The state must describe the strategy for designing a state health plan that includes multi-payer payment innovation and measure alignment.
- o Quality Measure Alignment
- o Monitoring and Evaluation Plan
- o Alignment with State and Federal Innovation

As part of its application, the state must submit a SF-424A and a budget narrative. The budget narrative must be consistent with the SF-424A and Model Design requirements as well as limit overhead and administrative costs to no more than 10% of direct costs. States should indicate other resources that will aid in designing the State Health System Innovation Plan. See Section IV. 2. Content and Form of Application Submission for more information.

As part of its application, the state must submit a Financial Analysis. The Financial Analysis must, at minimum, describe the populations being addressed and their respective total medical and other services costs as per member per month and population total. If known, the Financial Analysis should also describe (1) anticipated cost savings resulting from specified interventions, including the types of costs that will be affected by the model and the anticipated level of improvement by target population and (2) expected total cost savings and return on investment for the overall state model and basis for expected savings (previous studies, experience, etc.).

The state must submit a detailed Operational Plan that describes the activities and budgets for the performance period of the award and a detailed timeline for the design process with major milestones. The plan should also include roles and responsibilities of key partners and payer participants (if applicable) and major milestones and dates for successfully executing the Operational Plan. Applicants also should include a list of key personnel; for each person on this list, applicants should describe their relevant background, their roles, and overall responsibility. Applicants should address the Governors existing and future involvement in the models design and implementation, and the state agencies and/or departments that will be actively involved in designing the model.

Applicants may also propose an operational plan that seeks to design the State Health System Innovation Plan through a public-private partnership. Under such an approach, the state must demonstrate active engagement and participation in the public-private partnership.

The operational plan must also address any assumptions made and risks to the operational timeline, and projected strategies for mitigating identified risks.

The Funding Opportunity Announcement serves as the application package for this cooperative agreement and contains all the instructions to enable a potential applicant to apply. The application should be written primarily as a narrative with the standard forms required by the Federal government for all cooperative agreements. A separate and complete application must be submitted for each type of submission and for each round of submission.

A non-binding letter of intent to apply must be submitted to the CMS programmatic contact listed in Section VI. Agency Contacts by June 6, 2014. Entities which do not submit a letter of intent by this deadline will be ineligible to apply. As explained in Section III. Eligibility Information, a Governor must submit an official request, along with its letter of intent, if it plans to propose that an outside organization focused on quality and state delivery transformation, such as a non-profit affiliated with the State Department of Health or a public-private partnership supported by the Governors Office, receives and administers funds through a Model Design or Model Test award. A justification must be included with the request as well as an attestation that the state will actively participate in all activities described in the proposal. Approval of such requests will be at the sole discretion of CMS. Only one application supported by the Governor will be allowed per state. Application materials will be available for download at <http://www.grants.gov>. Please note that HHS requires applications for all announcements to be submitted electronically through <http://www.grants.gov>. For assistance with Grants.gov, contact support@grants.gov or call 1-800-518-4726. The Funding Opportunity Announcement can also be viewed on the Innovation Center website at <http://innovations.cms.gov>.

Specific instructions for applications submitted via <http://www.grants.gov>: You can access the electronic application for this project at <http://www.grants.gov>. You must search the downloadable application page by the CFDA number shown on the cover page of this announcement.

At the <http://www.grants.gov> website, you will find information about submitting an application electronically through the site, including the hours of operation. HHS strongly recommends that you do not wait until the application due date to begin the application process through <http://www.grants.gov>, because of the time needed to complete the required registration steps.

All applicants under this announcement must have an Employer Identification Number (EIN) to apply. Please note, the time needed to complete the EIN registration process can be substantial, and applicants should therefore begin the process of obtaining an EIN immediately upon posting of this FOA to ensure the EIN is received in advance of application deadlines.

All applicants, as well as sub-recipients, must have a Dun and Bradstreet (D&B) Data Universal Numbering System (DUNS) number at the time of application in order to be considered for a grant or cooperative agreement. A DUNS number is required for using the Government-wide electronic portal, www.grants.gov. The DUNS number is a nine-digit identification number that uniquely identifies business entities. To obtain a DUNS number, access the following website: www.dunandbradstreet.com or call 1-866-705-5711. This number should be entered in the block with the applicant's name and address on the cover page of the application (Item 8c on the Form SF 424, Application for Federal Assistance). The name and address in the application should be exactly as given for the DUNS number. Applicants should obtain this DUNS number as soon as possible after the announcement is posted to ensure all registration steps are completed in time.

Authorized Organizational Representative: The Authorized Organizational Representative (AOR) who will officially submit an application on behalf of the organization must register with Grants.gov for a username and password.

AORs must complete a profile with Grants.gov using their organizations DUNS Number to obtain their username and password, at http://grants.gov/applicants/get_registered.jsp. AORs must wait one business day after registration in SAM before entering their profiles in Grants.gov. Applicants should complete this process as soon as possible after successful registration in SAM to ensure this step is completed in time to apply before application deadlines.

When an AOR registers with Grants.gov to submit applications on behalf of an organization, that organizations E-Biz point-of-contact will receive an e-mail notification. The e-mail address provided in the profile will be the e-mail used to send the notification from Grants.gov to the E-Biz POC with the AOR copied on the correspondence.

The E-Biz POC must then login to Grants.gov (using the organizations DUNS number for the username and the special password called M-PIN) and approve the AOR, thereby providing permission to submit applications.

Any files uploaded or attached to the Grants.Gov application must be PDF file format and must contain a valid file format extension in the filename. Even though Grants.gov allows applicants to attach any file format as part of their application, CMS restricts this practice and only accepts PDF file formats. Any file submitted as part of the Grants.gov application that is not in a PDF file format, or contains password protection, will not be accepted for processing and will be excluded from the application during the review process. In addition, the use of compressed file formats such as ZIP, RAR, or Adobe Portfolio will not be accepted. The application must be submitted in a file format that can easily be copied and read by reviewers. It is recommended that scanned copies not be submitted through Grants.gov unless the applicant confirms the clarity of the documents. Pages cannot be reduced in size, resulting in multiple pages on a single sheet, to avoid exceeding the page limitation. All documents that do not conform to the above constraints will be excluded from the application materials during the review process.

After you electronically submit your application, you will receive an automatic email from <http://www.grants.gov> that contains a Grants.gov tracking number. Please be aware that this notice does not guarantee that the application will be accepted by Grants.gov. Rather, this email is only an acknowledgement of receipt of the application by Grants.gov. All applications must be validated by Grants.gov before they will be accepted. Please note, applicants may incur a time delay before they receive acknowledgement that the application has been validated and accepted by the Grants.gov system. In some cases, the validation process could take up to 48 hours. If for some reason the application is not accepted, then the applicant will receive a subsequent notice from Grants.gov indicating that the application submission has been rejected. Applicants should not wait until the application deadline to apply because notification by Grants.gov that the application is incomplete may not be received until close to or after the application deadline, eliminating the opportunity to correct errors and resubmit the application. Applications submitted after the deadline because the original submission failed validation and is therefore rejected by Grants.gov, as a result of errors on the part of the applicant, will not be accepted by CMS and/or granted a waiver. For this reason, CMS recommends that applicants apply in advance of the application due date and time.

After HHS retrieves your application package from Grants.gov, a return receipt will be e-mailed to the applicant contact. This will be in addition to the validation number provided by <http://www.grants.gov>.

Each year organizations and entities registered to apply for Federal grants and cooperative agreements through <http://www.grants.gov> will need to renew their registration with the System for Award Management (SAM). You can register with SAM online; registration will take about 30 minutes to complete (<https://www.sam.gov/portal/public/SAM/>). Failure to renew SAM registration prior to application submission will prevent an applicant from successfully applying via Grants.gov. Similarly, failure to maintain an active SAM registration during the application review process can prevent HHS from issuing your agency an award under this program.

Applications cannot be accepted through any email address. Full applications can only be accepted through <http://www.grants.gov>. Full applications cannot be received via paper mail, courier, or delivery service. All applications for the awards must be submitted electronically and be received through <http://www.grants.gov> by the deadlines listed below. All applications will receive an automatic time stamp upon submission and state applicants will receive an e-mail reply acknowledging the applications receipt.

Please be aware of the following:

- 1) Search for the application package in Grants.gov by entering the CFDA number. This number is shown on the cover page of this announcement.
- 2) If you experience technical challenges while submitting your application electronically, please contact Grants.gov Support directly at: www.grants.gov/customersupport or (800) 518-4726. Customer Support is available to address questions 24 hours a day, 7 days a week (except on Federal holidays).
- 3) Upon contacting Grants.gov, obtain a tracking number as proof of contact. The tracking number is helpful if there are technical issues that cannot be resolved.

To be considered timely, applications must be received by the published deadline date. However, a general extension of a published application deadline that affects all state applicants or only those in a defined geographical area may be authorized by circumstances that affect the public at large, such as natural disasters (e.g., floods or hurricanes) or disruptions of electronic (e.g., application receipt services) or other services, such as a prolonged blackout. Grants.gov complies with Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. If an individual uses assistive technology and is unable to access any material on the site, including forms contained with an application package, he or she can e-mail the Grants.gov contact center at support@grants.gov for help, or call 1-800-518-4726.

Each application must include all contents described below, in the order indicated, and in conformance with the following specifications:

Use 8.5 x 11 letter-size pages with 1 margins (top, bottom, and sides).

Other paper sizes will not be accepted. This is particularly important because it is often not possible to reproduce copies in a size other than 8.5 x 11.

All pages of the project narrative must be paginated in a single sequence.

Font size must be 12-point with an average character density no greater than 14 characters per inch.

The budget and project narrative portions of the application must be double-spaced.

The project abstract is restricted to a one-page summary, which can be single-spaced.

Applications and attached proposals must not be more than 55 pages in length for Model Test awards, and no more than 27 pages for Model Design awards. For Model Test applications this total includes the project narrative, budget narrative, financial analysis, and operational plan. For Model Design, this total includes the project narrative, budget narrative, financial analysis, and operational plan. The maximum page limit includes all supporting materials, including documentation related to financial projections, profiles of participating organizations, etc. In addition, states should submit letters of support from other payers and stakeholders. The standard forms, project abstract, Governors letter of endorsement, and attestations of support from other payers and stakeholders are NOT included in the page limits. The state must ensure that its submission meets the technical requirements outlined above. Failure to adhere to these technical requirements may exclude an application from consideration for a cooperative award.

The following standard forms must be completed with an electronic signature and enclosed as part of the proposal. Failure to submit these forms will result in the application not being reviewed:

- a. SF 424: Official Application for Federal Assistance (see note below)
- b. SF 424A: Budget Information Non-Construction
- c. SF 424B: Assurances-Non-Construction Programs
- d. SF LLL: Disclosure of Lobbying Activities All applicants must submit this document. If your agency does not engage in lobbying, please insert Non-Applicable on the document and include the required Authorized Organizational Representative (AOR) name, contact information, and signature
- e. Project Site Location Forms(s)

f. Project Abstract Summary (see description below)

Note: On SF 424 Application for Federal Assistance:

a. On Item 11 Descriptive Title of Applicants Project, state the specific cooperative agreement opportunity for which you are applying: State Innovation Models.

b. For Item 15 please provide a succinct descriptive title of the applicants project. Please do not add attachments in Item 15.

c. Check No to item 16b, as Review by State Executive Order 12372 does not apply to these cooperative agreements.

A letter from the Governor (or Mayor, if from the District of Columbia) endorsing the project and identifying the title of the project, the principal contact person and the major partners, departments, and organizations collaborating on the project. The letter (addressed as below) must be uploaded in the application. The original signed letter must be sent to the following address:

Gabriel Nah
Grants Management Specialist
Office of Acquisition and Grants Management Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services
U.S. Department of Health and Human Services
Mailstop # 7700 Bethesda
5600 Fishers Lane
Rockville, MD 20857

The one-page abstract (single-spaced) must succinctly describe the proposal and should include the goals of the proposal; the total budget; the number of included beneficiaries, providers, and payer participants; the projected total cost of care savings; and a description of how the funds will be used. The abstract is often distributed to provide information to the public and Congress, so it must be written in a manner that it is clear, accurate, concise, and without reference to other parts of the application. Personal identifying information should be excluded from the abstract.

Award Procedure:

Successful applicants will receive a Notice of Award (NoA) signed and dated by the CMS Grants Management Officer. The NoA is the document authorizing the cooperative agreement award and will be sent through electronic mail to the applicant organization as listed on the SF424. Any communication between CMS and applicants prior to issuance of the NoA is not an authorization to begin performance of a project. Unsuccessful applicants are notified within 30 days of the final funding decision for each cooperative agreement and will receive a disapproval letter via the U.S. Postal Service and/or electronic mail.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Initial funding of Model Test and Model Design awards is contingent upon the states acceptance of the awards terms and conditions through the initial drawdown of funds and, in the case of Model Test awards, explicit CMS approval of an operational plan submitted by the state.

States receiving Model Design awards have twelve months from the award start date to complete their State Health System Innovation Plans and Model Designs. The project period and budget period for Model Design will be one year, anticipated to be until December 31, 2015. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: The 48-month project period for Model Test will be divided into four budget periods, with an initial budget period of twelve months for pre-implementation work followed by three budget periods of 12 months each. Following the initial twelve-month budget period, non-competing continuation awards will be granted for each additional year of the cooperative agreement contingent upon availability of funding, state performance, and demonstrated progress towards the goals and objectives of this FOA. The anticipated test completion date for states receiving Model Test awards is December 31, 2018. The specific period of performance for each state model will be included in the cooperative agreement and be executed upon the initial drawdown of funds by the recipient.

Reports:

The Innovation Center will take an active and substantial role in the evaluation and monitoring of SIM Design and Model Test awards. The activities funded under the cooperative agreement and their resulting State responsibilities will be part of performance tracking, measuring, and evaluation responsibilities of CMS and the Innovation Center. In the case of Model Design awards, CMS will examine how the states used the funds. We will examine whether the planning and design support resulted in the multiple payers and providers in the state coming together to develop a plan to transform the delivery system. To the extent that a delivery system reform plan was developed, we will examine the extent to which the plan was implemented, whether health care spending in those states changed over time, and what was the impact on health care quality.

Performance assessment, monitoring, and evaluation for Model Test awards will focus on:

- impact on quality of care, patient experience, and health status

- Impact on health care costs

- Implementation and test performance, including:

 - o Meeting proposed design and planning or implementation and test milestones.

 - o Demonstrating readiness to carry out design and planning work or implementation activities required to test the proposed model.

 - o Producing timely and accurate reports showing clear progress on design and planning activities or providing the required data, and/or reports on health care cost, quality, and population health performance, as delineated in the cooperative agreement.

implementation and testing performance results and outcomes. CMS plans to collect data elements to be part of monitoring for all of the different state models, and these monitoring and surveillance elements will feed into the evaluation. All awardees will be required to cooperate in providing the necessary data elements to CMS or a CMS contractor. The contractor would assist CMS in developing cost, quality, beneficiary experience, and population health monitoring and review model performance to ensure model design requirements are met; tracking performance across awardees and providing for rapid cycle evaluation and early detection of model performance issues; developing a system to collect, store, and analyze data to assess health care cost and utilization, quality performance, beneficiary experience, and population health improvements and assisting with state implementation, including coordination between states and CMS and its other contractors.

Data for monitoring will include process, safety, and performance measures including beneficiary experience. It will include, but will not be limited to, data on the background characteristics of the target population and target area, data characterizing the activities of the Model Test and a battery of follow-up data describing relevant characteristics of the target population or target area and metrics at selected intervals after commencement of the delivery system and/or payment model. This will include detailed information on participant characteristics and outcomes reported in a standard format. Data for monitoring will be collected from awardees and/or CMS claims data, electronic health record, public health or other sources. The model monitoring aspect of this initiative will balance the examination of the extent to which awardees demonstrate fidelity to their proposed delivery system and payment models and the potential need to make mid-course corrections that improve or optimize performance of the delivery system or payment models based on feedback from the monitoring and rapid cycle evaluation findings. The evaluation will also assess whether there is evidence of harm or unintended consequences as a result of the models or testing methods.

The evaluation strategy for this initiative includes three parts: an overall design and data collection phase, rapid cycle evaluation of state models, and an impact evaluation.

Broadly, CMS will evaluate each design and each state model and then compare all models to identify themes related to improved care and health outcomes and reduced costs. While states must play an active role in these evaluations, particularly in regard to Medicaid and CHIP benefits, so that these evaluation efforts continue after the model funding has ended. CMS has ultimate responsibility for the evaluation process and reports. Each state is encouraged to identify a research group, preferably within the state, that will assist in the evaluation and develop in-state evaluation expertise. An Innovation Center contractor will help develop methodological and data standards, conduct monitoring and rapid-cycle evaluation to promote real-time program improvement, and conduct the impact evaluations.

An external evaluation contractor will support the Innovation Center during the Implementation and Test process. This Innovation Center evaluator will work with each state to develop standards for data collection and use and for data reporting, as well as requirements for those data elements that will be collected by the states and reported to CMS. The Innovation Center evaluator will also define the measures to be used and evaluation methods to be employed. Data collection is central to the success of the evaluation. Adhering to the data collection requirements will be a condition of participating in this initiative.

States are expected to cooperate in the evaluation process and provide the necessary data to evaluate state models. This data will be shared with the state evaluator team and with Innovation Center evaluation contractors. The evaluation will rely on multi-pronged data collection in order to understand the context of the model and to capture the nuances occurring at the model sites. Data for the analyses will be collected collaboratively between the Innovation Center evaluation contractor and the states themselves, and will come from sources including, but not limited to: provider surveys; Medicare administrative claims; state Medicaid and CHIP programs; beneficiary experience surveys; site visits with practices; and focus groups with beneficiaries and their families and caregivers, practice staff, direct support workers and others (e.g., payers). Additional data requirements may include states providing Medicaid encounter data (baseline and during the model test period) if relevant to program evaluation. The requirement for data and methods for evaluation will be finalized upon approval of the state model.

The State evaluation contractor will be expected to create State evaluations relevant to all populations and payer involved in the State initiative; data collection, storage, cleaning and creation of analytic datasets; continuous quality improvement and analysis of evaluation metrics on a quarterly basis; and working with the Innovation Center evaluator to supply necessary data. The State evaluation contractor needs to be an independent entity. The States agreement with their evaluation contractor will be reviewed by CMS to ensure the evaluators capabilities.

CMS will use qualitative interviews with state administrators and providers to understand the organizational structures, the approaches to overcoming barriers, and the kinds of facilitators at the state level that are associated with success.

The Innovation Center evaluation contractor will be asked to work closely with CMS to establish key measures to be used across evaluations for all models from participating states. The Innovation Center has developed a core measure set which will be enhanced to include priority metrics of success for delivering better health care, better health, and reduced cost. One particular focus of this effort will be an evaluation of the state model on population health metrics to better understand how state approaches influence broad determinants of health and the metrics of population health.

The precise analytic methods are not yet available but will depend on the state model being tested and will be determined in collaboration with the Innovation Center evaluation contractor and CMS. CMS will identify the best methodology available for the state model being implemented. Where appropriate, CMS will prefer to use an in-state control group for each state. CMS will request that states hold back a certain equivalent population that will not be enrolled in the intervention. This population can serve as a concurrent control group for the within-state evaluation. Some states may not be able to withhold the intervention from anyone within the state. In those cases, our next most preferred methodology will be to identify a control group from another state. Data collection will be an important concern for controls from outside the state. CMS may have to identify a single, large state that we will fund to collect data from Medicaid and CHIP managed care programs to be sure that we have a reliable source to identify control beneficiaries. Other methods may be considered, depending on the model being implemented and the likelihood of alternative evaluation methods yielding testable results.

For each of the measures of interest (quality, access to care, health care cost and utilization patterns, supplemental expenditures, beneficiary experience, population health and others), one of several statistical techniques will be employed to evaluate the effect of the model approach and intervention on outcomes of interest. The plan is to use difference-in-difference models or time trend analyses (segmented linear regression models) to study the experience over time of the states relative to the comparison groups in a way that controls for as many relevant confounding variables as possible.

The Innovation Center evaluation will assess the impact of the models on the quality of care, health outcomes, community health, and net saving in total costs.

The Innovation Center evaluator will conduct rapid-cycle evaluations for all CMS beneficiaries affected by the SIM initiative. These results will inform learning and diffusion collaborations. Each state will be required to select an internal evaluation contractor as part of the application process. This in-state evaluation contractor will provide data to both CMS evaluators and the Innovation Center external evaluation contractor(s). CMS evaluators will work with the Innovation Center external contractor(s) and state evaluators to learn and adopt best practices. The goal is for states to continue these evaluations once the SIM initiative is complete.

Towards the end of the Model Test, the Innovation Center evaluation contractor will conduct impact evaluations of the effectiveness of each state model on key outcomes for target Medicare, Medicaid, and CHIP beneficiaries. Again, either difference-in-difference or time trend models, using concurrent controls, will be used to evaluate the impact of the models.

The Innovation Center will attempt several approaches, as follows, to isolate the effect of each Model Test reform in the context of other interventions occurring in the state, such as ACOs and Bundled Payments:

A conservative approach, dropping all consumers who have been subject to multiple interventions, will allow for direct comparison between intervention and control groups.

Additional regression analyses will be conducted on consumers who are subject to multiple interventions to evaluate the incremental effects of adding one payment reform in the setting of another.

The analyses will be repeated with interaction terms to explore whether certain combinations of reforms have disproportionately greater effects on outcomes of interest.

The Innovation Center evaluation contractor will also conduct comparative analyses and assess differences in performance between states. The goal will be to both compare the results in different states and also to look at the qualitative results in order to link contextual factors with performance. Doing so will allow the Innovation Center evaluator to better understand the relationship between different state-level strategies to coordinate care, different portfolios of interventions, and the outcomes that were measured.

This Innovation Centers impact evaluation should provide key messages about what types of state strategies are associated with success. While CMS will not be able to definitely isolate many of these strategies in Innovation Center evaluation, we will find important relationships about how the context in which the state operates influences outcomes.

States with approved models will be responsible for including the states contracted evaluators and for funding data collection and performance reporting in its implementation and testing budget.

Depending on the mix of awarded models, the Innovation Center evaluation will examine the proposed models independently, but will group similar models and analyze the groups accordingly. Ultimately, the evaluation results from all models will be reconciled in order to identify and characterize the most effective models to inform future policy making around improving beneficiary care, improving beneficiary health, and reducing costs.

The Innovation Center evaluator, with assistance of the awardees, will be expected to identify control/comparison groups who did not participate in one of the interventions to examine the effect of the interventions on outcomes of interest. Difference-in-difference models and segmented linear regression models with concurrent controls will be employed to examine the effects of each intervention group compared to controls. Sensitivity analyses combining similar models will also be conducted to examine broad program effects. Sensitivity analyses examining specific geographic regions will be conducted to attempt to disentangle intervention effects in sites where multiple interventions are implemented.

The Innovation Center evaluation will be sensitive to the continual need for rapid-cycle and close-to-real-time production of findings that can be used by awardees and policy makers to make decisions about programmatic changes throughout the life of the project. The Innovation Center evaluation will gather quantitative and qualitative data and use claims data to both assess real time performance and feed that information back to states for ongoing improvement. Qualitative approaches such as interviews, site visits and focus groups are envisioned in order to compare the planned and actual performance of each states model. Multiple cycles of interviews may be necessary due to the changing nature of the models used by the states in response to rapid-cycle feedback.

The Federal Financial Report (FFR or Standard Form 425) has replaced the SF-269, SF-269A, SF-272, and SF-272A financial reporting forms. All grantees must utilize the FFR to report cash transaction data, expenditures, and any program income generated.

States must report on a quarterly basis cash transaction data via the Payment Management System (PMS) using the FFR in lieu of completing a SF-272/SF272A. The FFR, containing cash transaction data, is due within 30 days after the end of each quarter. The quarterly reporting due dates are as follows: 4/30, 7/30, 10/30, 1/30. A Quick Reference Guide for completing the FFR in PMS is at:

www.dpm.psc.gov/grant_recipient/guides_forms/ffr_quick_reference.aspx.

In addition to submitting the quarterly FFR to PMS, states must also provide, on an annual basis, a FFR to CMS which includes their expenditures and any program income generated in lieu of completing a Financial Status Report (FSR) (SF269/269A). Expenditures and any program income generated should only be included on the annually submitted FFR, as well as the final FFR. Annual FFRs must be submitted within 90 calendar days of the applicable year end date. The final FFR must be submitted within 90 calendar days of the project period end date.

More details will be outlined in the Notice of Award.

New awards issued under this FOA are subject to the reporting requirements of the Federal Funding Accountability and Transparency Act of 2006 (Pub. L. 109282), as amended by section 6202 of Public Law 110252 and implemented by 2 CFR Part 170. Grant and cooperative agreement recipients must report information for each first-tier sub-award of $25,000 or more in Federal funds and executive total compensation for the recipients and sub-recipients five most highly compensated executives as outlined in Appendix A to 2 CFR Part 170 (available online at www.fdrs.gov).

Non-Competing Continuation awardees may be subject to this requirement and will be so notified in the Notice of Award. States must submit a quarterly electronic SF-425 via the Payment Management System. The report identifies cash expenditures against the authorized funds for the cooperative agreement. Failure to submit the report may result in the inability to access funds.

Awardees must agree to cooperate with any federal evaluation of the model and performance results and provide required quarterly, semi-annual (every six months), annual and final (at the end of the cooperative agreement period) reports in a form prescribed by CMS. Reports will be submitted electronically. These reports will include how cooperative agreement funds were used, describe project or model progress, and describe any barriers, delays, and measurable outcomes. CMS will provide the format for project and model reporting and technical assistance necessary to complete required report forms. States must also agree to respond to requests that are necessary for the evaluation of the Model Design, pre-testing assistance, or Model Testing efforts and provide data on key elements of model performance and on results from the cooperative agreement activities. The Federal Financial Report (FFR or Standard Form 425) has replaced the SF-269, SF-269A, SF-272, and SF-272A financial reporting forms. All grantees must utilize the FFR to report cash transaction data, expenditures, and any program income generated. States must report on a quarterly basis cash transaction data via the Payment Management System (PMS) using the FFR in lieu of completing a SF-272/SF272A. The FFR, containing cash transaction data, is due within 30 days after the end of each quarter.

In addition to submitting the quarterly FFR to PMS, states must also provide, on an annual basis, a hard copy FFR to CMS which includes their expenditures and any program income generated in lieu of completing a Financial Status Report (FSR) (SF269/269A). Expenditures and any program income generated should only be included on the annually submitted FFR, as well as the final FFR. Annual hard-copy FFRs should be mailed and received within 30 calendar days of the applicable year end date. The final FFR should be mailed and received within 90 calendar days of the project period end date. More details will be outlined in the Notice of Award. CMS will enlist a third party entity to assist us in monitoring the model implementation and testing performance results and outcomes. CMS plans to collect data elements to be part of monitoring for all of the different state models, and these monitoring and surveillance elements will feed into the evaluation. All awardees will be required to cooperate in providing the necessary data elements to CMS or a CMS contractor. The contractor would assist CMS in developing a cost, quality, beneficiary experience, and population health monitoring and review model performance to ensure model design requirements are met; tracking performance across awardees and providing for rapid cycle evaluation and early detection of model performance issues; developing a system to collect, store, and analyze data to assess health care cost and utilization, quality performance, beneficiary experience, and population health improvements and assisting with state implementation, including coordination between states and CMS and its other contractors.

Data for monitoring will include process, safety, and performance measures including beneficiary experience. It will include, but will not be limited to, data on the background characteristics of the target population and target area, data characterizing the activities of the model testing and a battery of follow-up data describing relevant characteristics of the target population or target area and metrics at selected intervals after commencement of the delivery system and/or payment model. This will include detailed information on participant characteristics and outcomes reported in a standard format. Data for monitoring will be collected from awardees and/or CMS claims data, electronic health record, public health or other sources. The model monitoring aspect of this initiative will balance the examination of the extent to which awardees demonstrate fidelity to their proposed delivery system and payment models and the potential need to make mid-course corrections that improve or optimize performance of the delivery system or payment models based on feedback from the monitoring and rapid cycle evaluation findings. The evaluation will also assess whether there is evidence of harm or unintended consequences as a result of the models or testing methods.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. In accordance with the provisions of OMB Circular No. A-133 (Revised, June 27, 2003), "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations," nonfederal entities that expend financial assistance of $500,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Nonfederal entities that expend less than $500,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in Circular No. A-133.

Records:

States must comply with the audit requirements of Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133. Information on the scope, frequency, and other aspects of the audits can be found on the Internet at www.whitehouse.gov/omb/circulars.

States must submit a quarterly electronic SF-425 via the Payment Management System. The report identifies cash expenditures against the authorized funds for the cooperative agreement. Failure to submit the report may result in the inability to access funds. The SF-425 Certification page should be faxed to the PMS contact at the fax number listed on the SF-425, or it may be submitted to:

Range and Average of Financial Assistance:

Model Test: Up to 12 Model Test cooperative agreements will be awarded under this State Innovation Models initiative. Awards for Model Test states will range from $20-100 million per state, based on the size of the state population and the scope of the proposal. During the selection process, each states budget plan will be reviewed to determine appropriateness of the amount requested based on the models complexity, size of the target population, spectrum of state policy activity, level of multi-payer and other stakeholder engagement, the return on investment, and the strength of the evidence base or logic model in supporting the expected impact of the Plan. The proposals savings estimates will be reviewed for their reasonableness by the CMS Office of the Actuary.

The amount awarded will include any state cost of testing the model and meeting state and federal evaluation requirements as specified in Section V.3 below. While the Innovation Center is responsible for the evaluation of each Model Test, states must also develop their own model evaluation process, under the guidance of the Innovation Center. The state evaluations should include an examination of the models impact on the entire state population. In general, CMS expects that Model Test awards will cover only costs that are not normally part of a states operational cost, data collection cost, or administrative cost.

Model Design: State Model Design awards will be based on the budget submitted by the state to support its work to produce or refine a State Health System Innovation Plan and Model Design proposal. The range for Model Design cooperative agreement awards is $1 million to $3 million. Consideration will be given to the size of the Medicaid, CHIP, and Medicare population in the state as well as the overall scope and sustainability of the proposal.

For both Model Test and Model Design awards, state budget proposals will be reviewed to determine the appropriateness of itemized budget expenditure estimates and the total requested amount. CMS reserves the right to request modifications to the budget and expenditure plan.

Model Design: State Model Design awards will be based on the budget submitted by the state to support its work to produce a Comprehensive Health Care Transformation Plan and Model Design proposal. The range for Model Design cooperative agreement awards is $1 million to $3 million. State budget proposals will be reviewed to determine the appropriateness of itemized budget expenditure estimates and the total requested amount. CMS reserves the right to request modifications to the Model Design budget and expenditure plan. Consideration will be given to the size of the Medicaid, CHIP, and Medicare population in the state as well as the overall efficiency and sustainability of the proposal.

Model Testing: Up to six Model Testing cooperative agreements will be awarded under the State Innovation Model initiative in this first round of awards. Each states budget plan will be reviewed to determine appropriateness of the amount requested based on the models complexity, size of the target population, spectrum of state policy activity, level of multi-payer and other stakeholder engagement, the return on investment, and the strength of the evidence base or logic model in supporting the expected impact of the Plan. CMS expects the total award for a Model Testing will range from $20 to 60 million for the implementation and testing period. This amount would include the cost of testing and evaluating the model. The Innovation Center is responsible for the evaluation for each Model Test. States must also develop their own model evaluation process, under the guidance of the Innovation Center. In general, we expect that Model Testing awards will cover only costs not normally part of a states operational cost, data collection cost, or administrative cost.

States applying for Model Testing awards may receive pre-testing assistance ranging from $1-3 million if they do not qualify for a full Model Testing award, but meet enough of the Testing award requirements to merit further consideration. The eligibility standards, deliverables and other requirements for pre-testing awards are based on the review of the states Model Testing application.

REGULATIONS, GUIDELINES, AND LITERATURE:

Cooperative agreements issued under this FOA are subject to the Health and Human Services Grants Policy Statement (HHS GPS) at <http://www.hhs.gov/asfr/ogapa/aboutog/hhsgps107.pdf>. Standard terms and special terms of award will accompany the Notice of Award. Potential awardees should be aware that special requirements could apply to awards based on the particular circumstances of the effort to be supported and/or deficiencies identified in the application by the HHS review panel. The General Terms and Conditions that are outlined in Section II of the HHS GPS will apply as indicated unless there are statutory, regulatory, or award-specific requirements to the contrary (as specified in the Notice of Award).

The following categories of special terms of award are in addition to, and not in lieu of, otherwise applicable OMB administrative guidelines, OMB cost principles at 2 CFR Part 225 (previously OMB Circular A-87), HHS grant administration regulations at 45 CFR Part 92 (Part 92 is applicable when state and local Governments are eligible to apply), and other HHS and PHS grant administration policies. CMS reserves the right to include any of the terms outlined below in the cooperative agreement with an appropriate level of specific details:

- Reporting (financial, quality, operational and accountability targets progress)
- Learning and Diffusion (training)
- Stakeholders (public notice, tribal consultation)
- Beneficiaries (access, enrollment, change in rights)
- Providers (approval of training)
- Payers (rate setting, marketing)
- Project Monitoring (contract review, audits)
- Data Collection (data integrity, use of data)
- Evaluation (rapid cycle and impact)
- Termination
- Funding
- Financial Arrangements
- Operations (information technology, claims, personal health information)
- Program Integrity

The administrative and funding instrument used for this program will be a cooperative agreement, an assistance mechanism in which substantial CMS programmatic involvement with the State is anticipated during the performance of the activities. Under each cooperative agreement, CMS purpose is to support and stimulate the state's activities by involvement in and otherwise working jointly with the award state in a partnership role. To facilitate appropriate involvement during the period of this cooperative agreement, CMS and the state will be in contact monthly and more frequently when appropriate.

Cooperative Agreement Roles and Responsibilities are as follows:

CMS will have substantial involvement in program awards, as outlined below:

Technical Assistance: CMS will provide technical assistance throughout the period of the cooperative agreement.

Collaboration: To facilitate compliance with the terms of the cooperative agreement and to more effectively support states, CMS will actively coordinate with certain critical stakeholders, such as: state-designated entities and other relevant federal agencies including but not limited to the Centers for Disease Control, the Administration for Community Living, the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration, the Health Resources and Services Administration, the U.S. Office of Personnel Management, the Indian Health Service, the Internal Revenue Service, the Department of Homeland Security, the Administration for Children and Families, the Department of Veterans Affairs, and the Social Security Administration.

Program Evaluation: CMS will work with states to implement lessons learned to enable other states to undertake health transformation plans.

Progress against the Model Test and Model Design Work Plans: CMS will evaluate grant performance and progress against the states operational plan and will allow access to funding in alignment with state progress.

Project Officers and Monitoring: CMS will assign specific Project Officers to each Cooperative Agreement award to support and monitor States throughout the period of performance. HHS Grants Management Officers and Project Officers will monitor, on a regular basis, progress of each State. This monitoring may be by phone, document review, on-site visit, other meeting and by other appropriate means, such as reviewing program progress reports and Federal Financial Reports (SF425). This monitoring will be to determine compliance with programmatic and financial requirements.

Conference and Training Opportunities: CMS will host opportunities for training and/or networking, including conference calls and other vehicles.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

Model Test applications will be reviewed by an expert review panel and scored based on the quality of the proposals. The SIM Round 2 Model Test criteria for selection are as follows:

Model Test Plan (50 points)

a. Model Test applicant must demonstrate the ability to test innovative payment reforms that have the potential to accelerate transformation. The elements of the Model Test plans will be evaluated on the following criteria:

 Well developed, detailed and clear annual cost and quality targets, which the state commits to review and report at least annually;

 Use of policy and regulatory state levers to support successful health care transformation in the state;

 Alignment with existing CMS programs and other state programs;

 Number of residents directly affected by the Model Test;

 Number of providers and payers participating in the Model Test

 Likelihood of accelerating delivery system transformation;

 Development and use of health IT infrastructure (See Appendix 2: Health Information Technology Plan).

b. As this initiative is intended to reach a preponderance of a states population, a states decision to expand Medicaid will be an important factor in assessing the states readiness to implement a state-wide plan for improving population health. Additionally, because Medicaid can serve as an important lever for driving delivery transformation, states should describe Medicaid expansion activities and the percentage of a states population covered by Medicaid.

c. The Model Test must offer and clearly demonstrate a pathway to a high potential for success in producing better health, better care and lower costs through improvement for Medicare, Medicaid/CHIP, and Medicare-Medicaid enrollee populations as well as other health care consumers within the state.

d. The model must describe in detail the target populations, geographic areas, or communities that will be the focus of Model Testing, the current quality and beneficiary experience outcomes including current health population status, and the specific improvement targets expected from the Model.

e. The state must identify specific implementable plans to collaborate with the CDC to develop a state-wide plan for improving population health. The plans will include developing collaborative approaches to improving population health that engage public health officials and provider organizations. (See Appendix 1: Plan for Improving Population Health).

f. The state must demonstrate engagement in HHS initiatives to improve health and health care delivery.

g. Integrated data is used not only to directly support the implementation of health care interventions but also to inform and improve the model throughout the period of the award. The state must include a clear feedback loop and strategies for continuous monitoring and improvement of the model through collection and analysis of data across payers and partners.

h. The state must identify strategies they will employ to leverage State Marketplace Exchanges to further advance value-based payment methodologies.

Provider Engagement Strategy (10 Points)

The state must demonstrate a clear, sustained commitment to participation and implementation of the health transformation model of major stakeholders including but not limited to advocacy groups, local governments, social service providers, and providers of acute health care, behavioral/mental health care, long term care (including home and community services as well as long term care facility services) in the state, including but not limited to state-owned entities, providers of acute health care, behavioral/mental health care, long term care (including home and community services as well as long-term care facility services).

Payer and Other Stakeholder Strategy (10 Points)

The state must also demonstrate participation on the part of commercial payers with respect to both financial and quality measurement alignment. The state should identify a broad group of stakeholders involved in the execution of the Model Test, including but not limited to advocacy groups, local governments and social service providers.

Operational Plan (20 points)

States must demonstrate the organizational and operational capacity, organizational structure, leadership and expertise to successfully implement Model Test processes. The detailed project plan and timeline should be well described and clearly demonstrate how the state will successfully lead health transformation in the state with resources provided. The project leadership must clearly demonstrate the required knowledge, skills, abilities and experience to ensure efficient, smooth and effective implementation. States must also include a sustainability plan for the next 4 years beyond the period of the award that includes changes in personnel or administration as well as a clearly detailed plan for continued financing to support sustained health reform/transformation after CMMI award funding is exhausted.

Model Test Budget Narrative and Financial Analysis (10 points)

The proposed budget is carefully developed, is consistent with the Model Test requirements, and is clearly linked to support of a successful implementation plan. Overhead and administrative costs are limited to 10% of direct costs with funding focused on direct support of the Model Test. States must indicate other specific resources that will aid in implementing the Model Test plan, including descriptions of how these resources directly support health transformation in the state. The proposal must document how the overall Financial Analysis, including population and intervention specific savings, will be developed, how return on investment will be calculated, and how the state will incorporate non-CMMI funding (particularly commitments from the multi-payer collaborators, including but not limited to other state and local government resources) into the overall health transformation plan.

Based on scores from the Expert Panel Review, selected applicants will be invited to present in person (in the Baltimore/Washington Metropolitan area) to an HHS Leadership Panel (see Section I.4.A. Model Test: Proposal Requirements for more information). The HHS Leadership Panel members are individuals who possess knowledge or expertise in innovative health care payment and service delivery models. They will review the applications prior to the presentations, consult during the presentations, and subsequently provide advice to the approving official. The presentations will help to ensure that only those applications that offer the greatest potential for furthering program purposes are selected for funding. The presentations will include the information from the FOA but will also be expected to highlight the following:

State and Stakeholder Commitment

o States must demonstrate a commitment by a broad coalition of stakeholders, including state leadership, during the in-person presentation. The role and contribution of each stakeholder will be considered.

Likelihood of Success

o States must demonstrate that their specific approach, through the joint efforts of stakeholders, will be likely to result in achieve success by reducing costs, improving quality and promoting delivery system transformation.

Novelty of Payment Model

o State should demonstrate how their payment model presents a unique approach to delivery reform that would accelerate delivery transformation in a manner that has not been test on a state-wide scale.

Ability to Align with Medicare Programs

o States should articulate how their proposal would align with existing CMS programs. For example, a multi-payer ACO approach could complement and align with the Medicare Share Savings program. State could also demonstrate how this alignment will further delivery transformation and reduces costs and improve care for all-payers, including Medicare.

Model Design applications will be reviewed and scored based on the quality of the proposals. In-person presentations are not required for the Model Design applicants. The criteria for Round 2 Model Design selection as follows:

Model Design Strategy (30 points)

States must demonstrate a clear process for designing a plan with the engagement of multiple components of state government and with key stakeholders. The design strategy should specifically identify the levers the state would seek to develop and incorporate into a comprehensive state plan, such as the states Medicaid program, state employee health plans, state-owned academic medical centers, etc. States must explain the unique features of their design efforts and their strategy for designing a plan that aligns with existing CMS efforts and can be implemented on a multi-payer basis. States should demonstrate efforts to improve access to care to vulnerable populations. States should also include strategies that leverage State Marketplace Exchanges in expanding value-based payment methodologies. As this initiative is intended to reach a preponderance of a states population, a states decision to expand Medicaid will be an important factor in assessing its potential impact. Continuing Round 1 Model Design states must demonstrate progress in developing their design plans and clearly articulate how proposed strategies will enhance their Round 1 efforts.

Provider Engagement Strategy (15 Points)

States must demonstrate the commitment of major providers of health care in the state, including behavioral/mental health care, long term care providers and state-owned entities, behavioral/mental health care, long-term care, and long-term services and supports, to participate in the design of the State Health System Innovation Plan. Continuing Round 1 Model Design states must demonstrate appreciable progress to date in engaging providers.

Payer and other Stakeholder Engagement Strategy (15 points)

The state must describe its strategy for designing a State Health System Innovation Plan that includes multi-payer payment innovation and measure alignment. The design of these aspects of the plan must include the participation of commercial payers and purchasers as well as various stakeholders, including state health associations and advocacy groups. States are expected to identify a broad group of stakeholders and create a mechanism for their effective participation in planning of the State Health System Innovation Plan and document the development of a multi-payer Model Design with stakeholder input. Round 1 Model Design states must demonstrate results in engaging payers and other stakeholders.

Operational Plan (10 points)

The state must demonstrate the organizational capacity, organizational structure, leadership, and expertise to successfully complete the Model Design process. The project plan and timeline should be detailed and well described. The staff or consultants proposed to lead the planning effort should have the skills and experience needed to ensure smooth and effective implementation.

Model Design Budget Narrative and Financial Analysis (30 points)

The proposed budget is carefully developed and consistent with the Model Design requirements. Overhead and administrative costs are reasonable (limited to 10% of direct costs) with funding focused on supporting the Model Design effort. States should indicate other resources that will aid in designing the State Health System Innovation Plan. The proposal should document how the overall Financial Analysis, including population and intervention specific savings, will be developed.

Part of the review process will include an analysis of the readiness of the state to complete the design process within one year after approval of a cooperative agreement award.

93.626 AFFORDABLE CARE ACT STATE HEALTH INSURANCE ASSISTANCE PROGRAM (SHIP) AND AGING AND DISABILITY RESOURCE CENTER (ADRC) OPTIONS COUNSELING FOR MEDICARE-MEDICAID INDIVIDUALS IN STATES WITH APPROVED FINANCIAL ALIGNMENT MODELS

SHIP and ADRC Options Counseling for Medicare-Medicaid Individuals in States with Approved Financial Alignment Models

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

This solicitation is being issued under section 1115A of the Social Security Act (added by section 3021 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (P.L. 111-148)), which authorizes the Innovation Center to test innovative payment and service delivery models to reduce program expenditures under Medicare, Medicaid, and the Childrens Health Insurance Program while preserving or enhancing the quality of care.

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of this Funding Opportunity is to provide funding over a three year period to states that have signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with CMS to implement a CMS-approved State Financial Alignment Initiative. In April 2011, the Medicare-Medicaid Coordination Office awarded design contracts to 15 states to implement State Demonstrations to Integrate Care for Medicare-Medicaid Individuals. Subsequently, CMS released a letter to State Medicaid Directors which discussed two models for integrating care and aligning financial incentives for Medicare and Medicaid as part of CMS Financial Alignment Initiative, a joint initiative of the Innovation Center and the Medicare Medicaid Coordination Office, under which States and CMS will collaborate to integrate care and financing for Medicare-Medicaid individuals. The Financial Alignment Initiative is a unique Federal-state partnership to test aligning the service delivery and financing of the Medicare and Medicaid programs to better serve Medicare-Medicaid individuals. As part of this effort, there is a need for strong beneficiary support education and outreach in each State that is implementing a Financial Alignment model, including options counseling for beneficiaries.

Awardees will develop and implement a coordinated SHIP/ADRC strategy and action plan to provide beneficiaries who are eligible for both Medicare and Medicaid during both the Phase 1 Activities and Ongoing Activities of the program, as described in the funding opportunity announcement - with objective information and one-on-one counseling on the nature of the states Financial Alignment model. Such activities will include, but are not limited to, providing information and counseling as to how and when the project will be implemented, the options these dual eligible beneficiaries will have for receiving their Medicare and Medicaid services in their state, the appeal rights they will have under the model, and what they need to do to participate in the program. The SHIP/ADRC staff assigned to this project must be able to provide this information and counseling in a way that is easy for beneficiaries to understand and is culturally and linguistically appropriate. These activities must be carried out in a SHIP/ADRC. Also, the SHIP/ADRC should possess a basic understanding of all CMS approved State Financial Alignment Initiatives.

(State Councils on Developmental Disabilities and Protection and Advocacy Systems)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Community Living, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000, Title I, Section 121, Public Law 106-402, 42 U.S.C 15021-15045. , Title I, Section 121, Public Law 106-402, 42 U.S.C 15021-15045.

OBJECTIVES:

Developmental Disabilities Basic Support and Advocacy Grants: To enable individuals with developmental disabilities to become independent, productive, integrated and included into their communities. Funding under these programs is to assist States in the development of a plan for a comprehensive and coordinated system of services and other activities to enhance the lives of individuals with developmental disabilities and their families to their maximum potential, and to support a system which protects the legal and human rights of individuals with developmental disabilities.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Developmental Disabilities Basic Support and Advocacy Grants: (1) Allotments under the basic developmental disabilities formula grant program may be used by States for priority area and other activities, including administrative costs, to build capacity, to refocus existing services, and to advocate to better meet the needs of individuals with developmental disabilities. The designated State agency in each State receives, accounts for and disburses funds, and provides for required assurances and other administrative support services on behalf of the State Developmental Disabilities Council, which carries out the priority area activity and other activities under an approved five year State Plan. This plan and corresponding budget is developed and administered by the State Developmental Disabilities Council. Federal funds may be expended for up to half the cost of the functions of the designated State agency under this program, but may not exceed five percent of a State's allotment or $50,000, whichever is less. (2) Allotments under the protection and advocacy program may be used to assist States in supporting a system which will have authority to pursue legal and other remedies to protect the rights of individuals with developmental disabilities within the State.

Applicant Eligibility:

State grant agencies are the designated State agencies of the respective States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, American Samoa. Under the basic developmental disabilities program, the designated State agency must not provide or pay for services to individuals with developmental disabilities, unless it has held such designation on the date of the enactment of the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act Amendments of 1994, and the Governor of the State (or the legislature, where appropriate and in accordance with State law) determines prior to June 30, 1994, not to change the designation of such agency. The State can only receive funding under the basic developmental disabilities program if it is also participating in the protection and advocacy program. The agency designated to implement the State system under the protection and advocacy program cannot provide or pay for services to individuals with developmental disabilities, and that agency must have authority to obtain access to records of individuals with developmental disabilities.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

To be eligible for a grant, an agency must be designated to administer the program on behalf of the State. The Basic Program benefits individuals with developmental disabilities through systems change. The Protection and Advocacy system benefits individuals with developmental disabilities. Developmental disability is defined here as a severe chronic disability of an individual that is attributable to mental, physical, or a combination of impairments, is manifested before age 22, that is likely to continue indefinitely, that results in substantial functional limitations in three or more of the following major life activities (self-care, receptive and expressive language, learning, mobility, self-direction, capacity for independent living, and economic self-sufficiency), and that reflects an individual's lifelong need for services. Infants and children from birth to age 9, inclusive, are included if they have a developmental delay or condition with a high probability of resulting in developmental disabilities if services are not provided.

93.636 ACA - REINVESTMENT OF CIVIL MONEY PENALTIES TO BENEFIT NURSING HOME RESIDENTSFEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (Public Law 111-148); Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act (Public Law 111-152).

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of this funding opportunity is to solicit applications to participate in a national federal grant program using Civil Money Penalty funds from nursing homes to support and otherwise benefit nursing home residents.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Requested funds must be used entirely for activities that protect or improve the quality of care for nursing home residents. These activities must be approved by CMS and may include, but are not limited to:

1. Support and protection of residents of a facility that closes (voluntarily or involuntarily).
2. Time-limited expenses incurred in the process of relocating residents to home and community-based settings or another facility when a facility is closed (voluntarily or involuntarily) or downsized pursuant to an agreement with the State Medicaid agency.
3. Projects that support resident and family councils and other consumer involvement in assuring quality care in facilities.
4. Facility improvement initiatives approved by CMS, such as joint training of facility staff and surveyors or technical assistance for facilities implementing quality assurance and performance improvement program, when such facilities have been cited by CMS for deficiencies in the applicable requirements.

5. Development and maintenance of temporary management or receivership capability such as but not limited to, recruitment, training, retention or other system infrastructure expenses. However, as specified in 488.415(c), a temporary managers salary must be paid by the facility. Conflict of Interest Prohibitions: CMS will not approve projects for which a conflict of interest exists or the appearance of a conflict of interest exists. Similarly, we will generally not approve uses of CMP funding for very long term projects (greater than 3 years).

Duplication: CMP funds may not be used to pay entities to perform functions which they are already paid by state or federal sources. In addition, CMP funds may not be used to fund state legislative directives for which no or inadequate state funds have been appointed.

Capitol Improvement: CMP funds may not be used to pay for capital improvement to a nursing home, or to build a nursing home, as the value of such capital improvement accrues to a private party (the owner).

Nursing Home Services or Supplies: CMP funds may not be used to pay for nursing home services or supplies that are already the responsibility of the nursing home, such as laundry, linen, food, heat, staffing costs.

Temporary Manager Salaries: CMP funds may not be used to pay the salaries of temporary managers who are actively managing a nursing home.

Supplementary Funding of Federally Required Services: For example, CMP funds may not be used to recruit or provide Long Term Care Ombudsman certification training for staff or volunteers or investigate and work to resolve complaints as these are among the responsibilities of the Long Term Care Ombudsman programs under the federal Old Americans Act, regardless of whether funding is adequate to the purpose.

CMS reserves the option to request that applicants revise or otherwise modify their applications and budget based on the recommendations of the panel.

The results of the objective review of the applications by qualified experts will be used to advise the approving HHS official. Final award decisions will be made by an HHS approving official. In making these decisions, the HHS approving official will take into consideration: recommendations of the review panel; the extent to which the requested resources directly support implementation efforts; any overlap with existing resources that support implementation; the extent to which the state is committing state resources to implementation efforts; the reasonableness of the estimated cost to the government and anticipated results; likelihood that the proposed project will

TCPI

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 1115A of the Social Security Act (the Act), as added by 3021 of the Affordable Care Act, which authorizes the Center for Medicare & Medicaid Innovation (CMMI or the Innovation Center) to test innovative payment and service delivery models to reduce spending under Medicare, Medicaid, or CHIP, while preserving or enhancing the quality of care furnished to beneficiaries under those programs. The TCPI is a service delivery model that tests whether providing technical assistance in a specific complex adaptive manner will enable clinicians and their practices to rapidly transform the way they deliver care to patients, resulting in improved health outcomes and reduced costs.

The authority for the TCPI model is section 1115A of the Social Security Act (the Act). Under section 1115A(d)(1) of the Act, the Secretary of Health and Human Services may waive such requirements of Titles XI and XVIII and of sections 1902(a)(1), 1902(a)(13), and 1903(m)(2)(A)(iii) as may be necessary solely for purposes of carrying out section 1115A with respect to testing models described in section 1115A(b). For this model and consistent with this standard, the Secretary may consider issuing waivers of certain fraud and abuse provisions in sections 1128A, 1128B, and 1877 of the Act. Waivers are not being issued in this document; waivers, if any, would be set forth in separately issued documentation. Thus, notwithstanding any other provision of this Funding Opportunity Announcement, awardees and subawardees must comply with all applicable laws and regulations, except as explicitly provided in any such separately documented waiver issued pursuant to section 1115A(d)(1) specifically for the TCPI model. Any such waiver would apply solely to the TCPI model and could differ in scope or design from waivers granted for other programs or models.

OBJECTIVES:

The Transforming Clinical Practice Initiative (TCPI) model will test whether a three-pronged approach to national technical assistance will enable large scale transformation of thousands of clinician practices to deliver better care and result in better health outcomes at lower costs.

Practice Transformation Networks (PTN) formed by group practices, health care systems, and others that join together to serve as trusted partners to provide clinician practices with quality improvement (QI) expertise, best practices, coaching and help as they prepare and begin clinical and operational practice transformation. These organizations will collaboratively lead clinicians and practices through the TCPI phases of transformation, achieve the TCPI goals, and through adaptive redesign position these clinicians and their practices to be sustainable components of the changing care delivery system.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The funds shall be used to implement, manage toward results, and evaluate models that support system transformation toward higher quality care at lower costs. Award dollars cannot be used for specific components, devices, equipment, or personnel that are not integrated into the entire service delivery model proposal. Funds shall not be used to build or purchase health information technology or other information technology that exceed more than 10% of total costs of the applicants proposed budget. CMS will not fund proposals that replicate models that CMS is currently testing in other initiatives.

Federal Awards.

Award Procedure:

Successful applicants will receive a Notice of Award (NoA) signed and dated by the CMS Grants Management Officer that will set forth the amount of the award and other pertinent information. The award will also include standard Terms and Conditions, and may also include additional specific cooperative agreement terms and conditions. Potential applicants should be aware that special requirements could apply to cooperative agreement awards based on the particular circumstances of the effort to be supported and/or deficiencies identified in the application by the review panel.

The NoA is the legal document issued to notify the awardee that an award has been made and that funds may be requested from the HHS payment system. The NoA will be sent electronically to the awardee organization as listed on its SF 424. Any communication between CMS and awardees prior to issuance of the NoA is not an authorization to begin performance of a project.

Unsuccessful applicants will be notified by letter, sent through electronically to the applicant organization as listed on its SF 424.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

N/A. Method of awarding/releasing assistance: quarterly.

Reports:

CMS plans to continuously monitor PTN awardees for this model test through monthly, quarterly and annual reporting requirements in order to ensure that milestones that they are responsible for achieving are met, and to ensure that technical assistance and recruitment activities are being conducted in a manner that is effective, as well as equitable toward and inclusive of CMS beneficiaries and the medically underserved. This will include quarterly monitoring trends in a PTNs recruited clinicians and their practices characteristics, as well as utilization patterns for populations served by PTN participants. We will be requiring regular aggregate reporting of practice population characteristics, attrition and accretion, and utilization stratified by the payer categories: Medicare, Medicaid, CHIP, commercial, and other, in order to monitor equity in both composition and impact of services. Doing so will also allow us to estimate cost savings by payer category. These data would be reported by the PTN on a monthly basis, and will also be used to assess savings impacts for the model over time. In addition, we will use existing CMS data (Medicare fee for service claims data) and reporting systems (physician quality reporting and meaningful use program data) as part of our monitoring efforts, in order to minimize the reporting burden on practices participating in PTNs. The Federal Financial Report (FFR or Standard Form 425) has replaced the SF-269, SF-269A, SF-272, and SF-272A financial reporting forms. All grantees must utilize the FFR to report cash transaction data, expenditures, and any program income generated.

Grantees must report on a quarterly basis cash transaction data via the Payment Management System (PMS) using the FFR in lieu of completing a SF-272/SF272A. The FFR, containing cash transaction data, is due within 30 days after the end of each quarter. The quarterly reporting due dates are as follows: 4/30, 7/30, 10/30, 1/30. A Quick Reference Guide for completing the FFR in PMS is at:

www.dpm.psc.gov/grant_recipient/guides_forms/ffr_quick_reference.aspx.

In addition to submitting the quarterly FFR to PMS, Grantees must also provide, on an annual basis, a report to be uploaded into GrantSolutions which includes their expenditures and any program income generated in lieu of completing a Financial Status Report (FSR) (SF269/269A). Expenditures and any program income generated should only be included on the annually submitted FFR, as well as the final FFR. Annual hard-copy FFRs should be mailed and received within 30 calendar days of the applicable year end date. The final FFR should be uploaded in GrantSolutions within 90 calendar days of the project period end date. More details will be outlined in the Notice of Award. Awardees must agree to cooperate with any Federal evaluation of the model and performance results and provide required quarterly, semi-annual (every six months), annual and final (at the end of the cooperative agreement period) reports in a form prescribed by CMS. In the implementation of TCPI, applicants will receive qualitative and quantitative data from their recruited practices. Applicants selected as PTNs will submit reports electronically. These reports will include how cooperative agreement funds were used, describe project or model progress, and describe any barriers, delays, and measurable outcomes. CMS will provide the format for project and model reporting and technical assistance necessary to complete required report forms. Awardees must also agree to respond to requests that are necessary for the evaluation of the TCPI model and provide data on key elements of model performance and on results from the cooperative agreement activities. No expenditure reports are required. CMS will enlist a third party entity to assist CMS in monitoring the model implementation and testing performance results and outcomes. CMS plans to collect data elements to be part of monitoring for all of the different networks, and these monitoring and surveillance elements will feed into the evaluation. All awardees will be required to cooperate in providing the necessary data elements to CMS or a CMS contractor. The contractor would assist CMS in developing a cost, quality, and population health monitoring and review network performance to ensure requirements are met; tracking performance across awardees and providing for rapid cycle evaluation and early detection of performance problems; developing a system to collect, store, and analyze data to assess health care cost and utilization, quality performance, and population health improvements and assisting with awardee implementation, including coordination between awardees and CMS and its other contractors.

Audits:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 1115a of the Social Security Act, as added by Section 3021 of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA), authorizes the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI or the Innovation Center) to test innovative payment and service delivery models to reduce spending under Medicare, Medicaid, or CHIP, while preserving or enhancing the quality of care furnished to beneficiaries under those programs.

OBJECTIVES:

The Comprehensive Primary Care (CPC) initiative is a multi-payer initiative fostering collaboration between public and private health insurance companies (payers) to strengthen primary care. Recognizing that the impact of any one payer alone is limited, the payers in CPC have committed to establishing an approach that is coordinated with that of the Innovation Center to transform the way in which primary care is practiced and financially supported.

In May-July 2012, the Innovation Center executed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with each participating payer. One of the stated goals in the MOU is improving the flow of cost and utilization data to CPC primary care practices to support practices in their efforts to improve outcomes through care coordination and quality improvement. The MOU described a collaboration by which each regional group of payers with CMS input would produce a written plan that outlines how participating payers will transition to a common approach for sharing data with participating primary care practices.

The MOU defined this endeavor in the following way:

... If an appropriately structured and protected multi-payer claims data system exists or can be created in [Market] to support a common approach for sharing data with participating primary care practices, the Innovation Center and [payer] will submit its data to the system.

In order to improve care coordination and support practices to provide better patient care, payers have agreed to work together to improve data-sharing to practices. The goal of data aggregation is to combine patient-level cost and utilization data from all payers in a uniform and actionable format so that physicians can better coordinate care across their entire population. This data will help CPC primary care practices deliver better care to their patients by providing information to support their efforts to improve care outcomes through care coordination and quality improvement. CPC practices have been asking for this data to be aggregated for their practice rather than to receive it individually from each payer, which has been cumbersome and less useful for them in managing the health of their patients. Payers in four CPC regions have been delivering data in this format, but Medicare data has not to date been included.

The purpose of this program is to support vendors in four CPC regions to combine Medicare claims data with claims data from other commercial payers in each respective region and create actionable feedback reports for practices to improve care coordination and population health, and decrease costs. The end-users of this aggregated data are the CPC practices; including Medicare data in this demonstration is central to the stated goal of improving care coordination by providing actionable data to primary care practices. We are proposing to add Medicare data in CPC regions with existing multi-payer databases to test a model of data aggregation within the CPC initiative to better understand how Medicare data may be incorporated and used by practices to improve care coordination and quality improvement. The activities funded by these cooperative agreements are projected to run for the duration of the CPC initiative, currently scheduled to end December 31, 2016.

Specifically, these cooperative agreements are intended for vendors in four CPC regions:

Taconic Health Information Network Community (THINC) in the Capital-District Hudson Valley region of New York;

The Health Collaborative in the Cincinnati-Dayton region of southwestern Ohio and northern Kentucky;

MyHealth in the greater Tulsa region of Oklahoma; and Rise Health in Colorado

The CPC payers in each region have selected the vendors listed above as their data aggregation vendors and have asked CMS to provide Medicare data to these vendors to be included in these existing multi-payer databases. Each group of regional payers is structuring their data aggregation system independently (i.e. these efforts are not connected across regions). Each group of regional payers has already entered into contractual relationships with their respective vendors. The data aggregation vendors, the intended awardees for these cooperative agreements, are establishing multi-payer claims databases specific to the payer data for the CPC practices in their geographic region. CMS participation in the data aggregation initiative will pay for Medicare data to be incorporated into the multi-payer databases serving CPC practices in each respective region (New York, Ohio/Kentucky, Oklahoma, and Colorado).

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

All funds awarded should be expended only for carrying out approved projects in accordance with the intent of the cooperative agreement as stipulated in the notice of the award. Specifically, funds should be used toward establishing or expanding an existing data aggregation system that supports the following duties:

Process and manipulate Medicare FFS administrative data, including claims files;

Aggregate Medicare data with data from regional payers;

Prepare reports, charts, and graphs that display healthcare data at the patient-level, with ability to group patients by payer, health care system, practice, care team, and provider. Healthcare data may include but is not limited to utilization, cost, diagnoses, and prescription medications. These reports should be available to all participating practices in the specified region, as well as to CMS and its contractor. These reports should include:

Patient de-identified reports that can be shared with all participants;

Patient-identifiable reports for practices aggregated with that of regional payers, as consistent with HIPAA privacy rules;

Patient-identifiable reports on Medicare beneficiaries for Medicare consumption based on data aggregated with that of regional payers, as consistent with HIPAA privacy rules.

Applicant Eligibility:

This project will ultimately benefit the primary care health professionals who participate in CPC and their patients. The aggregated data will be used by the primary care health professionals to improve care coordination and population health management, and to decrease costs. This project will also benefit payers and healthcare researchers, as well as the general public.

Reports:

Semi-annual reports from each entity awarded a grant, cooperative agreement, or contract, summarizing the activities undertaken and identifying any sub-grants or sub-contracts awarded (including the purpose of the award and the identity of the recipient), to be posted not later than 30 days after the end of each 6-month period. No cash reports are required. Reporting provides continuous program monitoring and identifies successes and challenges that awardees encounter throughout the project period. Also, reporting is a requirement for awardees who want to apply for yearly continuation of funding. Awardees must submit an Annual Performance Report via www.grants.gov 120 days before the end of each budget period. The report must not exceed 45 pages excluding administrative reporting; attachments are not allowed, but Web links are allowed. This report must include the following: performance measures, evaluation results, work plan, successes, challenges, CDC program support needs, and administrative reporting. The annual FFR form (SF-425) is required and must be submitted through eRA Commons within 90 days after each budget period ends. The report must include only those funds authorized and disbursed during the timeframe covered by the report. The final report must indicate the exact balance of unobligated funds, and may not reflect any unliquidated obligations. The final FFR expenditure data and the Payment Management Systems (PMS) cash transaction data must correspond; no discrepancies between the data sets are permitted. Failure to submit the required information by the due date may affect adversely the future funding of the project. If the information cannot be provided by the due date, awardees are required to submit a letter of explanation and include the date by which the information will be provided. Awardees must provide a more detailed evaluation and performance measurement plan within the first six months of the project. This more detailed plan must be developed by awardees as part of first-year project activities, with support from CDC. This more detailed plan must build on the elements stated in the initial plan, and must be no more than 25 pages. Awardees are required to submit performance measures annually as a minimum, and may require reporting more frequently. Performance measure reporting is limited to data collection. When funding is awarded initially, CDC programs will specify required reporting frequency, data fields, and format.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title IV-E, Section 470, et seq.; as amended.

OBJECTIVES:

The Title IV-E Foster Care program helps States, Indian Tribes, Tribal organizations and Tribal consortia (Tribes) to provide safe and stable out-of-home care for children under the jurisdiction of the State or Tribal child welfare agency until the children are returned home safely, placed with adoptive families, or placed in other planned arrangements for permanency. The program provides funds to assist with the costs of foster care maintenance for eligible children; administrative costs to manage the program; and training for public agency staff, foster parents and eligible professional partner agency staff. In addition, $3 million is reserved for technical assistance and plan development/implementation grants to eligible Tribes, beginning in fiscal year 2009.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants; Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Formula grant funds may be used by the State or local (under State supervision) child welfare agency or by the Tribal child welfare agency for Federal Financial Participation (FFP) in foster care maintenance payments on behalf of eligible children; for administrative and training costs; and for costs related to design, implement and operate a statewide data collection system. Funds may not be used for costs of social services such as those that provide counseling or treatment to ameliorate or remedy personal problem, behaviors, or home conditions for a child, the child's family, or the child's foster family. A State or Tribe may receive FFP only if its title IV-E plan has been approved by the HHS Secretary. The HHS Secretary has also approved waivers under section 1130 of the Social Security Act to allow implementation of demonstration projects in a number of States and a Tribe which involve cost neutral use of title IV-E foster care program funds for additional purposes as specified in approved terms and conditions for each project.

Public Law 113-183 amended the program to require that, within one year of enactment (by September 29, 2015, title IV-E agencies develop policies and procedures to identify, document, and determine appropriate services for any child or youth in the placement, care or supervision of the title IV-E agency who is at-risk of becoming a sex trafficking victim or who is a sex trafficking victim.

Plan development/implementation grants to Tribes are one-time grants for projects lasting up to 24 months that are to be used to develop a plan to operate a title IV-E program for foster care, adoption assistance and kinship guardianship as specified under section 479B of title IV-E. The Tribe must submit a plan for the title IV-E program within 24 months of receiving the plan development grant or must repay the grant funds, unless the HHS Secretary waives the requirements under section 471 to carry out a program under section 479B. There is $3 million reserved for technical assistance and plan development/implementation grants to eligible Tribes beginning in FY 2009.

Applicant Eligibility:

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Children meeting eligibility criteria for the former Aid to Families with Dependent Children program whose removal and placement in foster care are in accordance with a voluntary placement agreement or judicial determinations to the effect that continuation in the home would be contrary to the child's welfare and that reasonable efforts were made to prevent the removal (or that such efforts were not necessary), and whose placement and care are the responsibility of the State or Tribal agency administering the title IV-E program. See section 472 of the Social Security Act and the Code of Federal Regulations at 45 CFR Part 1356.71 for additional details on program eligibility requirements.

93.659 ADOPTION ASSISTANCEFEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title IV-E, Section 470 et seq; as amended.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide Federal Financial Participation (FFP) to States, Indian Tribes, Tribal organizations and Tribal consortia (Tribes) in adoption subsidy costs for the adoption of children with special needs who cannot be reunited with their families and who meet certain eligibility tests. This assistance is intended to prevent inappropriately long stays in foster care and to promote the healthy development of children through increased safety, permanency and well-being.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

FORMULA GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

All parents adopting special needs children are eligible for the nonrecurring cost of adoption up to $2,000. Adoption assistance payments may be used only in support of the adoption of children who meet the definition of special needs and satisfy categorical eligibility criteria as specified in the statute. A State or Tribe may receive Federal Financial Participation (FFP) only if its title IV-E plan has been approved by the Secretary. Funding is also available for administrative and training costs necessary to administer the program.

The program was amended through Public Law 113-183 effective October 1, 2014 to require title IV-E agencies to calculate and report annually the savings from the use of revised categorical eligibility requirements. These savings must be calculated and then represent additional non-federal funding to be expended on title IV-B and title IV-E programs as specified in section 473(a)(8) of the Social Security Act (the Act).

Applicant Eligibility:

Funds are available to States (including the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam and American Samoa) and to Tribes with approved title IV-E plans.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Eligible beneficiaries include certain children who are legally freed for adoption where an adoption assistance agreement has been entered into prior to the finalization of an adoption. These children must: (1) have been determined by the State or Tribe to be special needs, e.g., a special factor or condition which makes it reasonable to conclude that they cannot be adopted without adoption assistance; a State or Tribe determination that the child cannot or should not be returned home; and a reasonable effort has been made to place the child without providing financial or medical assistance and (2) meet one of the relevant statutory categorical eligibility criteria. These criteria differ during the phase-in period (federal fiscal years (FFYs) 2010 through 2017) based on the FFY in which the adoption assistance agreement was entered into and the child's circumstances at that time. See section 473 of the Act for additional details on program eligibility requirements. FFP is available from the time of placement for adoption in accordance with State, local or Tribal law or final adoption decree to age 18 (21 if the State/Tribe finds that a disability means aid should continue or where provided for in an adoption assistance agreement that was entered for a child that had attained at least 16 years of age before the agreement became effective) as long as the parent supports the child. No child adopted prior to the approval of the State or Tribal title IV-E plan is eligible for FFP. No means test applies to adopting parents, but the amount of subsidy is agreed to by agency and parents and may be readjusted by joint agreement.

Credentials/Documentation:

The State or Tribe must submit an application for approval by the Secretary of Health and Human Services. Costs will be determined in accordance with 45 CFR Part 75. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

93.710 ARRA - COMMUNITY SERVICES BLOCK GRANT

CSBG, Recovery Act.

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Community Services Block Grant Act (CSBG Act), as amended by the Community Opportunities, Accountability, Training, and Educational Services Act of 1998, Public Law 105-285; American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009, Public Law 111-5.

OBJECTIVES:

This funding will provide economic stimulus to the nation while furthering the ACF mission to promote the economic and social well-being of children, youth, families and communities. Objectives are to provide assistance to States and local communities, working through a network of community action agencies and other neighborhood-based organizations, for the reduction of poverty, revitalization of low-income communities, and empowerment of low-income families and individuals in rural and urban areas to become fully self-sufficient (particularly families who are attempting to transition off a State program carried out under part A of Title IV of the Social Security Act). Additional objectives are (1) to provide services and activities having a measurable and potential major impact on causes of poverty in the community or those areas of the community where poverty is a particularly acute problem; (2) to provide activities designed to assist low-income participants, including the elderly poor, to: (a) secure and retain meaningful employment; (b) attain an adequate education; (c) make better use of available income; (d) obtain and maintain adequate housing and a suitable living environment; (e) obtain emergency assistance through loans or grants to meet immediate and urgent individual and family needs, including health services, nutritious food, housing, and employment-related assistance; (f) remove obstacles and solve problems which block the achievement of self-sufficiency; (g) achieve greater participation in the affairs of the community; and (h) make more effective use of other related programs; (3) to provide on an emergency basis for the provision of such supplies and services, nutritious food, and related services, as may be necessary to counteract conditions of starvation and malnutrition among the poor; and (4) to coordinate and establish linkages between governmental and other social services programs to assure the effective delivery of such services to low-income individuals.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Uses and restrictions for CSBG Recovery Act funds differ from the uses and restrictions that apply to allotments to States from regular CSBG annual appropriations with regard to use and percentage of funds retained by the States. As with regular CSBG grants, States receive CSBG Recovery Act funds to ameliorate the causes of poverty in communities. The block grant approach gives the States flexibility to tailor their programs to the particular services needs in their communities. States are required to pass through 99 percent of their Recovery Act allocations for grants to eligible entities, as defined in the CSBG Act and use the remaining one percent of funds for benefits enrollment coordination activities relating to the identification and enrollment of eligible individuals and families. See Above.

Applicant Eligibility:

The Secretary is authorized to make grants to States. This includes each of the 50 States, the District of Columbia, the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Virgin Island, American Samoa, and the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands. The Secretary also provides assistance directly to the governing body of an Indian Tribe or Tribal organization upon application by the tribe. Only State-recognized tribes, as evidenced by a statement to that effect by the Governor, or tribes formally recognized by the Secretary of the Interior, under the procedure for such recognition in 25 CFR 54, are eligible to receive direct grants.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

States make grants to qualified locally-based nonprofit community anti-poverty agencies and other eligible entities which provide services to low-income individuals and families. The official poverty line, as established by the Secretary of Health and Human Services, is used as a criterion of eligibility in the Community Services Block Grant program. When a State determines that it serves the objectives of the block grant, it may revise the income limit, not to exceed 200 percent of the official poverty line.

Credentials/Documentation:

No Credentials or documentation are required. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards. Under the regularly-funded CSBG Program, each State desiring to receive an allotment for a fiscal year is required to submit an application to the Secretary of HHS. For Recovery Act funds, States will receive a separate allotment of funds based on the statutory formula. Within 30 days of receiving new grant allotments, each State must submit an application amendment outlining the intended use of Recovery Act funds, to include how the State will carry out the assurances in Section 676(b) of the CSBG Act. The application amendment must be a separate document from the original application and must contain assurances by the Chief Executive Officer of the State that the State will comply with the allowable uses of funds under Section 675C of the CSBG Act, with modifications to allowable uses specified in the Recovery Act. The application amendment must set forth the general purposes for which funds will be used, including a description of the State intended use for benefits enrollment coordination activities relating to the identification and enrollment of eligible individuals and families in Federal, State, and local benefit programs. The State also must describe how it will incorporate monitoring of Recovery Act funds into its regular monitoring of CSBG eligible entities. This includes descriptions of how the State will monitor restrictions on administrative expenses, eligible recipients, board requirements for community action agencies and other nonprofit organizations, fiscal control, monitoring, and Federal investigation provisions, coordination between antipoverty programs in each community and certain prohibitions on political activities. States also must include a description of how they plan to track CSBG funds from ARRA separately from CSBG funds provided through the regular FY 2009 and 2010 appropriations process. In addition, States must indicate how they plan to evaluate the effectiveness of ARRA CSBG funds, including tracking the number of jobs created. This program is excluded from coverage under 45 CFR Part 1050.

Award Procedure:

HHS determines the amount of funds to be allocated as block grants to each State in accordance with the formula set forth in the CSBG Act. The Office of Management and Budget (OMB) has the authority to apportion to HHS through the course of a year the Congressional appropriation for block grants. Consistent with OMB's apportionment of funds, HHS will assign allotments to the States through individual awards or a series of awards.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Not Applicable.

Appeals:

Funds may be withheld from any State which does not utilize its allotment substantially in accordance with the provisions of the CSBG Act, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act, and the assurances provided in its application. This may be done only after adequate notice and an opportunity for a hearing conducted within the affected State.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

Statutory Formula: Title 45, Chapter 96.71, Part 96, Subpart G, Public Law 97-35. States are required to pass through 99 percent of their Recovery Act allocations for grants to eligible entities, as defined in the CSBG Act and use the remaining one percent of funds for benefits enrollment coordination activities relating to the identification and enrollment of eligible individuals and families.

This program has no matching requirements.

This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Formula grant awards will be made in FY 2009. Grant funds allotted to the State will be awarded in accordance with apportionment of funds from OMB. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Formula grant awards will be made in FY 2009.

Reports:

Funded grantees must submit quarterly reports required by Section 1512 of the Recovery Act. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Expenditure reports are not applicable. Performance monitoring is not applicable.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. States must conduct financial and compliance audits of block grant funds annually in accordance with Section 678D of the CSBG Act.

Records:

States are required to keep records sufficient to permit preparation of the required reports and to permit tracking of funds to a level of expenditure adequate to ensure that funds have not been spent unlawfully.

93.714 ARRA EMERGENCY CONTINGENCY FUND FOR TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES (TANF) STATE PROGRAM

TANF Emergency Fund, Recovery Act

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

TANF Emergency Fund, Recovery Act, Title IV, Part A, Section 2101, Public Law 111-5, 42 U.S.C 603(c).

OBJECTIVES:

This funding was to provide economic stimulus to the nation while furthering the ACF mission to promote the economic and social well being of children, youth, families, and communities. The objective of the program was to provide up to $5 billion for jurisdictions (States, Territories, and Tribes) in fiscal year (FY) 2009 and FY 2010 that had an increase in assistance caseloads and/or certain types of expenditures. This Emergency Fund was in addition to the TANF Contingency Fund in section 403(b) of the Act that gives money to qualifying States (but not Territories or Tribes) during an economic downturn.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Emergency Fund grants are Federal TANF funds. Jurisdictions must use these funds in accordance with section 404 of the Act. This does not include authority to transfer emergency funds to either the Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) or the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) because that transfer authority is limited to grants made under section 403(a) of the Act. Emergency funds are available until expended.

Jurisdictions may carry over emergency funds for use in a succeeding fiscal year as authorized under section 404(e) of the Act, i.e., the funds are available until expended. Section 403(c)(5) of the Act imposes a cumulative cap on the amount of emergency funding that a jurisdiction can receive for the two-year period. The capped amount consists of the cumulative combined grants from the existing Contingency Fund (section 403(b)) and the Emergency Fund (section 403(c)) and the total of the two cannot exceed 50 percent of the jurisdictions annual Federal TANF family assistance grant.

The same financial and programmatic rules pertaining to the appropriate use of the jurisdictions Federal TANF block grant funds also apply when using the emergency funds. This also means that all TANF requirements, including work participation requirements and time limits, apply to families receiving assistance with emergency funds exactly as they do to families receiving other Federal TANF-funded assistance. See above.

Applicant Eligibility:

None.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

None.

Audits shall be conducted by the Inspector General and the jurisdictions under Chapter 75 of Title 31, United States Code.

Records:

Jurisdictions must maintain records containing information the Secretary may require by regulation. Information submitted in support of a request for Emergency Funds will be tested for reliability and accuracy. Accordingly, jurisdictions are expected, as required by the federal regulations at 45 CFR 75.361, to maintain pertinent documentation related to caseload and expenditure data used to support the request for funds, be able to link the information to the relevant reporting and accounting system, and make such information available in a clear and understandable form that can be validated by an auditor.

93.716 ARRA TEMPORARY ASSISTANCE FOR NEEDY FAMILIES (TANF) SUPPLEMENTAL GRANTS

Supplemental Grants for Population Increases in Certain States, Recovery Act

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Supplemental Grants for Population Increases in Certain States, Recovery Act, Title IV, Part A, Section 2102, Public Law 111-5, 42 U.S.C 603(a)(3).

OBJECTIVES:

These funds will help promote the economic and social well being of children, youth, families, and communities. The objective of the program is to provide supplemental TANF funds for States with exceptionally high population growth in the early 1990s, historic (1994) welfare grants per poor person lower than 35 percent of the national average, or a combination of above average population growth and below average historic welfare grants per poor person.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Formula Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

The Federal TANF Supplemental Grants are in addition to the States annual Federal TANF block fund. Thus, these funds are subject to the same uses and restrictions as the States annual Federal TANF block grant (see CFDA 93.558 Temporary Assistance for Needy Families), and repeated below.

Each State designs and operates its own TANF program, and establishes the specific eligibility criteria that must be met to receive financial assistance payments or other types of benefits and services. Each State has broad flexibility to use the grant funds in any manner that is reasonably calculated to accomplish a purpose of the TANF program (including providing low-income households with assistance in meeting home heating and cooling costs). The purposes of the TANF program are to assist needy families to care for their children in their own homes; reduce dependency of needy parents by promoting job preparation, work and marriage; prevent and reduce the incidence of out-of-wedlock pregnancies; and encourage the formation and maintenance of two-parent families. A State may also use the funds in ways that had been authorized and allowable under its former approved Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC), Job Opportunities and Basic Skills Training (JOBS), and Emergency Assistance (EA) plans. A State may also transfer a limited portion of its Federal TANF funds to the Child Care and Development Block Grant (CCDBG) and Social Services Block Grant (SSBG) Programs. No State may spend more than 15 percent of its Federal TANF funds on administrative costs, exclusive of certain computerization and information technology expenses. See above.

Applicant Eligibility:

None.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

None.

Credentials/Documentation:

Federal funds go to the State (the grantee). States decide the objective eligibility criteria and verification required to determine eligibility and payment of TANF benefits. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

This program is excluded from coverage under 2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards.

Award Procedure:

Supplemental Grants, like the annual Federal TANF block grant, are awarded in quarterly payments.

Deadlines:

Not Applicable.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

Varies by State (usually within 45 days).

Appeals:

States must provide opportunities for recipients who have been adversely affected to be heard in a State administrative or appeal process.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

This program has no statutory formula.

Matching Requirements: Percent: 75%. The TANF program, which includes the standard TANF block grant and the additional Supplemental Grants for 17 States, has an annual cost-sharing requirement known as maintenance-of-effort (MOE). This means that every fiscal year, each State receiving Federal TANF funds must spend an applicable percentage of its own money to help eligible families in ways that are consistent with the purposes of the TANF program. The applicable percentage depends on whether the State meets the minimum work participation rate requirements for that fiscal year. If the State does not meet the work participation rates, then it must spend 80 percent of the amount it spent for fiscal year 1994 on AFDC and AFDC-related programs. If the State meets the work participation rates, then the applicable percentage is 75 percent of the amount it spent for fiscal year 1994 on AFDC and AFDC-related programs. This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

States are awarded Supplemental Grants in quarterly payments. Once awarded, the funds are available to the State until expended. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: No information provided.

Reports:

States receiving the TANF block grant and Supplemental Grants must submit quarterly data reports on families receiving assistance. States must also report expenditures of grant funds on a quarterly basis. Expenditure data related to Supplemental Grants will be reported in a separate category on the quarterly TANF expenditure report for FY 2011. Cash reports are not applicable. Progress reports are not applicable. Expenditure reports are not applicable.

Performance monitoring is not applicable.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503. The TANF program (including the additional TANF supplemental grants) is subject to the Single Audit Act under Chapter 75 of Title 31, United States Code.

Records:

States are subject to the uniform administrative requirements in 45 CFR Part 75. In particular, the regulations require that all grantees have a financial management system that can adequately trace expenditures to ensure that the funds have been used appropriately, and not in violation of any programmatic restrictions and prohibitions; and require that accounting records are supported by source documentation to support all expenditures. Also, the regulations at 45 CFR 75.361 and TANF Program Instruction TANF-ACF-PI-2003-1, dated January 28, 2003 (<http://www.acf.hhs.gov/programs/ofa/policy/pi-ofa/2003/pi2003-1.PDF>), address record retention and access requirements applicable to all financial and programmatic records, supporting documents, statistical records, and other records of grantees or subgrantees.

The Secretary has determined that there are national economic conditions which would render the 50 percent cost share requirement to be detrimental to the program and has provided such notification to Congress. Instead, the Secretary has structured a funding partnership between HHS and recipients, as indicated in the Program Announcement.

This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

PHSA 3012(c)(5), as added by ARRA, specifies that the Secretary may provide financial support to any regional center created under PHSA 3012(c) for a period not to exceed 4 years. 93.719 ADVANCE INTEROPERABLE HEALTH INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY SERVICES TO SUPPORT HEALTH INFORMATION EXCHANGE

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Office of the Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) of 2009, Division A, Title XIII, HITECH Act, Section 3013.

OBJECTIVES:

The Advance Interoperable Health IT Services to Support Health Information Exchange Program will leverage investments and lessons learned from the previous State HIE Program to rapidly build capacity for the interoperable exchange of health information across the entire care continuum both within and across states while moving toward nationwide interoperability. Grantees will seek to improve care coordination and enhance communication among both clinical and non-clinical care providers across the entire care continuum by: 1) Expanding the adoption of health information exchange technology tools, services, and policies that enable interoperable exchange; 2) Facilitating and enabling send, receive, find, and use capabilities to access health information from external sources and incorporate into care provider workflows; 3) Increase integration of health information in interoperable health IT to support care processes and decision making; and 4) Promote the electronic movement and use of health information among organizations using nationally recognized interoperability standards.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements (Discretionary Grants)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

This Funding Opportunity Announcement (FOA) uses funds remaining from the State Health Information Exchange Program (State HIE Program) to increase the adoption and use of interoperable health IT tools and services to support the interoperable exchange of health information and enable send, receive, find, and use capabilities in a manner that is appropriate, secure, timely, and reliable for both senders and receivers. This FOA was a full and open competition with twelve (12) awards being made in the form of cooperative agreements to states and/or state designated entities (SDE) to continue under the same intent as the original State HIE Program of enabling nationwide health information exchange across the care continuum and improving care coordination and transitions of care. This FOA will allow grantees to leverage the existing operational HIE infrastructure to expand the use of interoperable exchange tools and services to improve transitions of care and care coordination, thus furthering federal, state, and/or community health reform efforts. None of the funds appropriated or otherwise made available in ARRA may be used by a state or local government, or any private entity, for any casino or other gambling establishment, aquarium, zoo, golf course, or swimming pool. (ARRA Sec. 1604).

Applicant Eligibility:

Either a State, Territory, or State Designated Entity was eligible to apply.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

None.

Credentials/Documentation:

State governments and Qualified State-Designated Entities were eligible to apply. The program required a letter from the Governor establishing the Qualified State Designated Entity, where applicable. Documentation was to be provided in accordance with the requirements of 2 CFR 200. 2 CFR 200, Subpart E - Cost Principles applies to this program.

Preapplication Coordination:

Preapplication coordination is not applicable. Environmental impact information is not required for this program. This program is excluded from coverage under E.O. 12372.

Application Procedures:

2 CFR 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards applies to this program. Applications were solicited by a program announcement. The availability of this announcement was broadly published, including by posting on www.grants.gov.

Award Procedure:

Following objective review of applications, those applicants whose applications have been selected by the Secretary of HHS (or designee) for funding are to receive a Notice of Award signed by an HHS Grants Management Officer. The Notice of Award, which is sent to the applicants Authorized Organizational Representative, is the only official notification of award. Unsuccessful applicants will be advised by letter.

Deadlines:

Contact the headquarters or regional office, as appropriate, for application deadlines.

Range of Approval/Disapproval Time:

From 60 to 90 days.

Appeals:

Not Applicable.

Renewals:

Not Applicable.

Formula and Matching Requirements:

This program has no statutory formula.

Matching Requirements: The applicants match requirement is $1 for every $3 federal dollars. In other words, for every three dollars received in federal funding, the applicant must contribute at least one dollar in non-federal resources toward the programs total cost. For example, if $100,000 in federal funds is requested for the period of performance, then the minimum match requirement is $100,000/3 or $33,333. In this example the programs total cost would be $133,333.

If the required non-federal share is not met by the grantee, ONC will disallow any unmatched federal dollars. Demonstration of this match will be shown in annual federal financial reports. In preparing the application budget, applicants should consider these cost-sharing requirements and account for a match on their best estimate of expenditures.

This program does not have MOE requirements.

Length and Time Phasing of Assistance:

Awards are expected to be for a two (2) year period. See the following for information on how assistance is awarded/released: Subject to meeting performance requirements.

Reports:

ONC Program Progress Reports (PPR) are due quarterly and must include the reporting elements referenced in 2 CFR 200.328 as applicable. ONC will provide guidance on format and further instructions on reporting before the reports are due. The grantee must include in the PPR how the specific activities tie back to the intrastate and interstate funding streams. Recipients are required to cooperate with the ONC-directed evaluation activities, including, but not limited to reporting standardized performance measures and milestones on a regular basis to ensure that the project is meeting program objectives (milestones vs. projections); and, participating in ONC-led formal assessments, such as site visits and/or teleconferences. Additional information on the specific performance evaluation criteria and milestones will be provided at a later date. Federal Cash Transaction Report is due 30 days after the end of each quarter (January 30, April 30, July 30, and October 30). Recipients of Federal awards from funds authorized under Division A of the ARRA must comply with all requirements specified in Division A of the ARRA (Public Law 111-5), including reporting requirements outlined in Section 1512 of the Act. For purposes of reporting, ARRA recipients must also report on ARRA sub-recipient (sub-grantee and sub-contractor) activities. Reports required by ARRA will be required quarterly. Additional reporting requirements, including the frequency thereof, will be detailed in Funding Opportunity Announcements and included in award notices. Federal Financial Report (FFR 425) is due within 90 days after the end of the applicable 12-month period (January 30). ARRA reporting and programmatic reporting will require awardees to evaluate performance in view of stated objectives.

Audits:

In accordance with the provisions of 2 CFR 200, Subpart F - Audit Requirements, non-Federal entities that expend financial assistance of $750,000 or more in Federal awards will have a single or a program-specific audit conducted for that year. Non-Federal entities that expend less than $750,000 a year in Federal awards are exempt from Federal audit requirements for that year, except as noted in 2 CFR 200.503.

93.725 ARRA - COMMUNITIES PUTTING PREVENTION TO WORK: CHRONIC DISEASE SELF-MANAGEMENT PROGRAM (CDSMP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Community Living, Department of Health and Human

AUTHORIZATION:

The statutory authority for cooperative agreements under this program announcement is contained in Division A, Title VIII of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (Recovery Act) of 2009 (Public Law 111.5). , Title VIII, Public Law 111-5.

OBJECTIVES:

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Recovery Act), signed into law February 17, 2009, is designed to stimulate economic recovery in various ways: to preserve and create jobs; to promote economic recovery; to assist those most impacted by the recession, to stabilize state, territorial and local government budgets to minimize and avoid reductions in essential services and counterproductive state, territorial, and local tax increases; to strengthen the Nations healthcare infrastructure; and to reduce healthcare costs through prevention activities. The Recovery Act includes $650 million for evidence-based clinical and community-based prevention and wellness strategies that deliver specific, measurable health outcomes. The legislation provides an important opportunity for communities, States, territories, cities, rural areas, and tribes to advance public health across the lifespan and to eliminate health disparities. Of the $650 million appropriated for this initiative (Communities Putting Prevention to Work), $32.5 million will support States and territories in promoting wellness by deploying evidence-based chronic disease self-management programs targeted at older adults with chronic conditions. AoA, in collaboration with CDC, is providing Recovery Act funding under this announcement to support state efforts to deploy evidence-based chronic disease self-management (CDSMP) programs that empower older people with chronic diseases to maintain and improve their health status. The community-based collaborative networks setup through these efforts will provide the foundation for an infrastructure and statewide distribution system that States can use for delivering CDSMP and other evidence-based prevention programs to older adults. These statewide distribution systems will include a quality assurance component to ensure the evidence-based prevention programs are being delivered with fidelity and achieving results comparable to those produced in the original research. The ultimate goal is to have States and communities embed these structures into their statewide systems that provide community-based services and supports to older adults to help them maintain their health and independence in the community.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements (Discretionary Grants)

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

In general, the use of these funds is to support state efforts to deploy evidence-based chronic disease self-management (CDSMP) programs that empower older people with chronic diseases to maintain and improve their health status. These funds are not to be used for free standing CDSMP programs that are not part of a states larger systems development effort to delivery community-based evidence-based prevention programs to older adults. In using funds for this award for infrastructure investment, recipients shall give preference to activities that can be started and completed expeditiously, including a goal of using at least 50 percent of the funds for activities that can be initiated not later than 120 days after the date of the enactment of Recovery Act. Recipients shall also use grant funds in a manner that maximizes job creation and economic benefit (Recovery Act Sec. 1602). The following activities are not fundable: construction and/or major rehabilitation of buildings; basic research (e.g. scientific or medical experiments); and, continuation of existing projects without expansion. Furthermore, none of the funds appropriated or otherwise made available in the Recovery Act may be used by any State or local government, or any private entity, for any casino or other gambling establishment, aquarium, zoo, golf course, or swimming pool. (Recovery Act Sec. 1604). These funds are not to be used for free standing CDSMP programs that are not part of a states larger systems development effort to delivery community-based evidence-based prevention programs to older adults. Regardless of which agency applies, both the State unit on aging and State health department must be full partners in the development and implementation of the proposed program. The State Medicaid Agency must also be involved in the development and implementation of the program. Only one application will be permitted for each State or territory.

States are expected to coordinate with tribal entities in their jurisdiction, and give special attention to serving low-income, minority and limited English speaking seniors. States are encouraged to link with other community-based efforts with special attention to leveraging other public and private sector resources, including federally funded (including Recovery Act, Older Americans Act, Public Health Services Act, Medicare, and Medicaid funded) activities, State revenue programs, and private philanthropy. This funding opportunity was an opportunity for State units on aging and State health departments to collaborate on the development of distribution and delivery systems for CDSMP and eventually other evidence-based prevention programs that have the potential to improve the quality of life for millions of seniors and reduce health care costs. A State governments State unit on aging or health department will be the lead agency for this cooperative agreement. 93.728 ARRA - STRATEGIC HEALTH IT ADVANCED RESEARCH PROJECTS (SHARP)

(SHARP)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Office of the Secretary, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (Public Law 111-5)

(Recovery Act), Title XIII, Part A, Section 3011.

OBJECTIVES:

To competitively-awarded cooperative agreements to establish Strategic Health IT Advanced Research Projects (SHARP). The awardees will conduct research focusing on where breakthrough advances are needed to address well-documented problems that have impeded adoption of health IT and to accelerate progress towards achieving nationwide meaningful use of health IT in support of a high-performing, learning health care system.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

ONC expects to award four cooperative agreements to support establishment of Strategic Health IT Advanced Research Projects (SHARP) sites for a project period of four years. Each such research site will have a two-part mission:

- (1) to implement a collaborative, interdisciplinary program of research addressing a specific focus area from the list provided below, addressing short-term as well as long-term challenges; and
- (2) to develop and implement a cooperative program between researchers, patient groups, health care providers, and other health IT sector stakeholders to transition the results of research into practice.

Each site will focus on areas where breakthrough improvements are needed to address well-documented problems that have impeded adoption of health IT and thereby accelerate progress on the pathway towards achieving the goals outlined in the strategic plan for health IT developed by the National Coordinator pursuant to PHSa Section 3001(c)(3) as added by the Recovery Act, specifically including the nationwide achievement of meaningful use of health IT to achieve transformational improvement of the health care system.

Each site will implement a collaborative, inter-disciplinary research program addressing one of the specific focus area(s) listed below. An eligible entity may, apply for funding in separate applications to establish more than one site, and thus it is possible a single eligible entity (institution) may receive more than one award under this program. Regardless of the total number of institutions funded to establish sites under this program, it is expected that the all of the awardees will collaborate with each other, as there will be numerous points of intersection among the sites' agendas.

Within its focus (listed below) area, each site will carry out at least the following set of activities:

Initially define and subsequently update or redefine on a yearly basis, the key issues and research challenges within their respective area(s) of focus. The research areas identified will be those that significantly address barriers and solutions to achieving widespread adoption and meaningful use of health IT. Projects to address the identified issues will be mapped to either a short-term (< 2 years) or long-term (4 years) timeframe. Because this is a cooperative agreement, recipients shall plan and allow for collaboration with ONC and other federal staff with relevant expertise as identified or approved by ONC in establishing and updating the definition of key issues and research challenges in the sites focus area;

Conduct ambitious research addressing these key issues and challenges. This work will draw on the scientific methods and expertise of researchers and practitioners in diverse fields;

Collect specific, uniform data about the research activities and track progress toward milestones;

Facilitate practical and efficient processes that enable translation of research into health care and public health innovations, facilitating the transition of multidisciplinary research outcomes into new healthcare products and services both the short- and long-term;

Partner with industry to rapidly transfer short term results of this research into health IT products;

Publish and otherwise disseminate these research findings, preferably in open source journals that maximize the accessibility of this knowledge to the entire health IT community

Participate in an external evaluation; and Select desired, measurable outcomes specific to the chosen research issue and methods for attaining results.

Research focus areas

In no particular order, the four foci for research identified below will be addressed by this program. The areas have been assigned numbers for ease of reference. Appendix B provides further detail about each of these areas.

1. Security of Health Information Technology This research area addresses the challenges of developing security and risk mitigation policies and the technologies necessary to build and preserve the public trust as health IT systems become ubiquitous.

This research area is responsive to paragraphs (1), (4), (5), and (6) of the PHSa 3011(a), as added by the Recovery Act, through the following activities:

Promoting the development and implementation of health information technology solutions that will support the electronic exchange and use of health information in a secure, private manner;

Promoting the development and implementation of technologies and best practices that enhance the protection of health information by all holders of individually identifiable health information;

Enhancing the capabilities and functionalities of tools to support privacy and security of individually identifiable health information as it is exchanged and used; and,

Supporting and enhancing the assurance of privacy needed providers and patients widespread acceptance of telemedicine and robust participation in clinical data repositories and registries.

2. Patient-Centered Cognitive Support This research area addresses the challenge of harnessing the power of health IT so that it integrates with, enhances and supports clinicians reasoning and decision making, rather than forcing them into a mode of thinking that is natural to machines but not to people.

PHSA 3011(a), as added by the Recovery Act, directs the support of health IT architecture that will support the use of health information in an accurate manner. Additionally, paragraphs (3) and (5) of the same subsection of the statute authorize use of funding appropriated under PHSa Section 3018, as added by the Recovery Act, to disseminate training and information on best practices to integrate health IT into a providers delivery of care, and to promote the use of clinical data repositories and registries. All of these paragraphs ((1), (3), and (5) of PHSa 3011(a) as added by the Recovery Act) point to longstanding challenges that require new and creative research related to the accurate and effective use of electronic health information to enhance the safety, quality, efficacy, and thus the overall value of care.

3. Healthcare Application and Network Platform Architectures This research area focuses on the development of architectures that are necessary to achieve electronic exchange and use of health information in a secure, private and accurate manner.

PHSA 3011(a)(1), as added by the Recovery Act, authorizes support of health IT architecture that will support the nationwide electronic exchange and use of health information in a secure, private, and accurate manner. This research focus specifically supports the development of new and improved architectures and technology infrastructure needed to achieve the goals outlined in the plan for health IT by the National Coordinator in support of PHSa 3001(c)(3), as added by the Recovery Act, and to support measures for determination of meaningful use of health IT by providers over time (required by Social Security Act (SSA) Sections 1848(o) and 1866(n), as added by Title IV in Division B of the Recovery Act).

4. Secondary Use of EHR Data This research area focuses on strategies to enhance the use of health IT in improving the overall quality of health care.

PHSA 3011(a), as added by the Recovery Act, states that the Secretary shall invest in the infrastructure necessary to allow for and promote the electronic exchange and use of health information for each individual in the United States consistent with the goals outlined in the strategic plan developed by the National Coordinator. PHSa 3001(c)(3), as added by the Recovery Act, directs that the National Coordinator shall, in consultation with other appropriate Federal agencies (including the National Institute of Standards and Technology), update the Federal Health IT Strategic Plan (developed as of June 3, 2008) to include specific objectives, milestones, and metrics with respect to a specific set of topic areas. The current Federal Health IT Strategic Plan (developed as of June 3, 2008), as referenced in the statute, advances secondary use as a key mode of information technology use to transform health care. This is consistent with, and will be updated and expanded upon pursuant to the direction of PHSA 3001(c)(3)(i), (vii) and (viii), as added by the Recovery Act, to add to the updated strategic plan such objectives, milestones, and metrics with respect to:

(Reference: PHSA 3001(c)(3)(i)) the electronic exchange and use of health information and the enterprise integration of such information.

(Reference: PHSA 3001(c)(3)(vii)) strategies to enhance the use of health IT in improving the quality of health care, reducing medical errors, reducing health disparities improving public health, increasing prevention and coordination with community resources, and improving the continuity of care among health care settings.

(Reference: PHSA 3001(c)(3)(viii)) the specific plans for ensuring that populations with unique needs, such as children, are appropriately addressed in the technology design, as appropriate.

AUTHORIZATION:

Consolidated Appropriations Act, Fiscal Year 2012, Public Law 112-74, for the Departments of Labor, Health and Human Services, and Education and the Department of Interior and Related Agencies; and the Consolidated and Further Continuing Appropriations Act, Fiscal Year 2012, Public Law 112-55 for the United States Department of Agriculture, and Related Agencies. Title IV Section 4002 Prevention and Public Health Fund.

OBJECTIVES:

As part of the overall effort to reduce the burden of chronic diseases and chronic disease risk factors, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), National Center for Chronic Disease Prevention and Health Promotion (NCCDPHP), Office on Smoking and Health (OSH) announces the opportunity to apply for funds to ensure and support state quitline capacity, in order to respond to upcoming federal initiatives such as the National Tobacco Education Campaign. <http://www.cdc.gov/tobacco>. This program addresses the Healthy People 2020 focus area of tobacco use and the goal of reducing illness, disability, and death related to tobacco use and secondhand smoke exposure. Preventing tobacco use and helping tobacco users quit can improve the health and quality of life for Americans of all ages. People who stop smoking greatly reduce their risk of disease and premature death. Benefits are greater for people who stop at earlier ages, but quitting tobacco use is beneficial at any age. This FOA will be a new, 2-year cooperative agreement for all states and territories that currently have a quitline. Funds will be used for the following:

Address the anticipated increase in calls

Expand capacity and eligibility to ensure all callers receive some form of assistance

Increase efficiencies of quitline operations, such as demonstrating how they will connect to or incorporate an interactive voice recording system (IVR) at the state or federal level

Incorporate technological enhancements to provide additional forms of assistance to callers who want to quit

Expand paid and earned media to promote the quitline and increase quit attempts

Develop and/or implement private/public partnerships or other strategies to sustain quitline capacity.

Reimbursement of pre-award costs is not allowed.

Funds will not be used to supplant existing state funding for quitlines

A maximum of 10% of funds may be spent on Nicotine Replacement Therapy (NRT), and NRT cannot be provided to any individual for greater than two weeks using these funds.

State and territorial health departments are also uniquely qualified to address the anticipated increase in calls to quitlines due to federal media education campaigns, while expanding capacity and eligibility to ensure all callers receive some form of assistance. These agencies are also uniquely qualified to promote the quitline, increase quit attempts, and increase public and private partnerships to ensure quitline sustainability.

National Diabetes Prevention Program Evidence-Based Lifestyle Intervention to Prevent Type 2 Diabetes in Underserved Communities

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

This program is authorized under the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act of 2010, 4201 (P.L. 111-148) and title IV Section 4002 of the Affordable Care Act (PPHF).

OBJECTIVES:

National Diabetes Prevention Program Evidence-Based Lifestyle Intervention to Prevent Type 2 Diabetes in Underserved Communities - The purpose of the program is to expand the National Diabetes Prevention Program, an evidence-based lifestyle change program in populations at high-risk for developing type 2 diabetes (African American; American Indian/Alaska Native; Hispanic/Latino, Low Social Economic Status; Women with a history of Gestational Diabetes). The CDC-led National Diabetes Prevention Program (National DPP) is a public-private partnership of community organizations, private insurers, employers, health care organizations, and government agencies working to deliver the type 2 diabetes prevention lifestyle change program. It is an innovative example of linking the community and clinical sectors to cost-effectively improve health outcomes. The National DPP is focused on aligning incentives since third-party payers reimburse for health outcomes. Economic studies indicate that lifestyle change programs (costing about $400 per person) are cost effective and even cost saving by reducing the cost of treating diabetes and its complications prevented by the program. These favorable costs are the result of employing a lower cost workforce, delivering the program in groups, and consistency in program content. The award recipients will be expected to develop, implement, market, and evaluate a comprehensive plan for scaling the National DPP lifestyle change program in select communities. The awardees will identify and engage organizations and/or employers that have capacity to offer the National DPP lifestyle change program and facilitate the establishment of the National DPP lifestyle change program, in collaboration with these organizations and/or employers. Awardees will also work with insurance companies to reimburse organizations offering the National DPP lifestyle change program through this cooperative agreement and work with employers and insurers to offer the National DPP lifestyle change program using pay for performance model. Also, they may work with employers to offer the National DPP lifestyle change program as a covered benefit for employees. The awardees will be expected to develop, implement and evaluate marketing and communications strategies to promote the National DPP lifestyle change program, educate health care providers about the program and encourage provider referrals to National DPP lifestyle change programs.

Applicants that do not have an operational PDMP by September 30, 2012, will not be considered for an award. Applicants that have already established interoperability with at least one State or have integrated their PDMP into an EHR system must propose expanding interoperability to multiple State PDMPs and improving real-time access to PDMP data by integrating PDMPs into existing technologies. No more than 10% of the grant award may be used for data collection, performance measurement, and performance assessment expenses.

Applicant Eligibility:

Grant funds will enable States to integrate their PDMPs into EHR and other health information technology systems to expand utilization by increasing the production and distribution of unsolicited reports and alerts to prescribers and dispensers of prescription data. Grant funds will also be used by States to allow for modification of their systems to expand interoperability.

Beneficiary Eligibility:

Eligible applicants are the immediate office of the Chief Executive (e.g., Governor) in the 49 States and 1 U.S. territory (i.e., Guam) that have enacted legislation or regulations that permit the following: implementation of a State PDMP; imposition of appropriate penalties for the unauthorized use and disclosure of information maintained in the program; and ability to share PDMP data (de-identified or anonymized) with CDC for research purposes. Eligibility is limited to States/Territory with enacted PDMP legislation because only these States/Territory have the capability to collect the required information and make that information available to prescribers, dispensers, and under controls, other States. PDMPs that are not actively collecting information cannot link their systems to EHRs or share information with other State PDMPs. Due to State laws establishing PDMPs, privacy, confidentiality, security, and other limitations on PDMPs, PDMP EHR Integration and Interoperability grants are limited to State and applicable territorial government entities.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTING PROPOSALS:

1. EVALUATION CRITERIA

The Project Narrative describes what you intend to do with your project and includes the Evaluation Criteria in Sections A-E below. Your application will be reviewed and scored according to the quality of your response to the requirements in Sections A-E.

In developing the Project Narrative section of your application, use these instructions, which have been tailored to this program.

The Project Narrative (Sections A-E) together may be no longer than 25 pages.

You must use the five sections/headings listed below in developing your Project Narrative. You must place the required information in the correct section, or it will not be considered. Your application will be scored according to how well you address the requirements for each section of the Project Narrative.

Reviewers will be looking for evidence of cultural competence in each section of the Project Narrative, and will consider how well you address the cultural competence aspects of the evaluation criteria when scoring your application. SAMHSAs guidelines for cultural competence can be found on the SAMHSA Web site at <http://www.samhsa.gov/grants/apply.aspx> at the bottom of the page under Resources for Grant Writing.

The Supporting Documentation you provide in Sections F-I and Attachments 1 and 2 will be considered by reviewers in assessing your response, along with the material in the Project Narrative.

The number of points after each heading is the maximum number of points a review committee may assign to that section of your Project Narrative.

Although scoring weights are not assigned to individual bullets, each bullet is assessed in deriving the overall Section score.

Section A: Statement of Need (10 points)

Indicate if your State has established interoperability or integration of your PDMP into EHR systems.

If it has not, discuss the need to implement either system to improve your States ability to reduce prescription drug use. Explain why interoperability is needed and how use and effectiveness will be improved by linking to EHR systems.

Describe the service gaps, barriers, and other problems related to the need for enhanced interoperability and EHR integration.

Section B: Proposed Approach (30 points)

Describe the purpose of the proposed project, including a clear statement of its goals and objectives. These must relate to the performance measures you identify in Section E, Performance Assessment and Data.

Describe how achievement of goals will expand interoperability and enable Describe how the use of grant funds will expand interoperability to at least eight other State PDMPs, including two geographically bordering States. Include a description of the manner in which the State PDMP will achieve interoperability with other State PDMPs. If you plan on enhancing your systems to provide real-time access or other system upgrades, please specify in your proposal.

Describe how you will integrate PDMPs into emergency department EHRs, primary care EHRs and pharmacy dispensing systems with appropriate privacy protections.

Title IV section 4002 Prevention and Public Health Fund.

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of this program is to develop a consortium for tobacco use cessation technical assistance. The aim of the cessation consortium is to provide technical assistance to state tobacco control programs and other partners by translating the science of tobacco control cessation into public health action to further increase the rate of cessation among tobacco users in the United States. Tobacco use remains the leading preventable cause of disease and death in the United States. More than half of smokers attempt to quit each year, but only 4-7% succeed. Evidence-based cessation treatments, including individual, group, and telephone counseling and seven FDA-approved cessation medications, exist, but are underutilized. REGULATIONS, GUIDELINES, AND LITERATURE:

Effective tobacco cessation treatments are available, including group, individual, and telephone counseling and FDA-approved cessation medications.

However, less than one third of cigarette smokers use these treatments when trying to quit. Physician cessation interventions increase patient quit rates, but many physicians do not routinely intervene with their patients who use tobacco products. Population-based strategies that increase cessation include, but are not limited to, reducing out-of-pocket costs for evidence-based tobacco cessation treatments (i.e., ensuring that health insurance plans cover these treatments), provider reminder systems in health care settings (including reminders embedded in electronic health records) that prompt health care providers to screen for tobacco use and provide cessation advice, telephone quitlines, and mobile-phone based cessation texting interventions. CDC recommends that state tobacco control programs implement these effective population-based strategies for increasing cessation and put in place a comprehensive plan to address cessation. The Office on Smoking and Health has worked with several national organizations in providing information to state tobacco control programs and national and state partners on OSHs three major cessation priorities: enhancing state quitline capacity and sustainability, promoting comprehensive coverage of evidence-based tobacco cessation treatments in health insurance plans, and promoting health systems changes that improve the rates of tobacco use screening and cessation intervention in health care settings.

CDC recommendations regarding cessation activities to be implemented by state tobacco control programs are described in greater depth in CDCs Best Practices for Comprehensive Tobacco Control Programs 2014 (see http://www.cdc.gov/tobacco/stateandcommunity/best_practices/pdfs/2014/sectionA-III.pdf).

93.762 A COMPREHENSIVE APPROACH TO GOOD HEALTH AND WELLNESS IN INDIAN COUNTY FINANCED SOLELY BY PREVENTION AND PUBLIC HEALTH

Tribal Wellness

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Sections 301(a) and 317 (k) of the Public Health Service Act, {42 U.S.C. section 241(a) and 247 (k) and Title IV Section 4002 Prevention and Public Health Fund. Public Service Act.

OBJECTIVES:

This five-year funding opportunity offers support to prevent heart disease, diabetes and associated risk factors in American Indian and Alaska Native (AI/AN) communities through a holistic approach to population health and wellness. There will be two components to this funding opportunity announcement.

Component One will fund 12 AI/AN tribes, one within each of the 12 Indian Health Service (IHS) areas, who will use a combination of community chosen and culturally adapted policies, systems, and environmental changes to increase access to fresh, healthy traditional foods, and offer alternatives to less healthy packaged and processed foods high in sodium and fat. Component One will also strive to promote programs to increase physical activity, health education, and team based strategies to strengthen community-clinical linkages promoting lifelong health and preventing chronic diseases such as diabetes, heart disease, and stroke. Awardees will customize environmental approaches for their communities to foster sustainability, broaden community and cross-sector partnerships, and demonstrate population change to promote health and reduce risk factors that lead to chronic disease.

Component Two awardees will be Tribal organizations, as set forth in 25 U.S.C., Section 1603, and other Tribal-Serving Organizations. Twelve Tribal Organizations will receive funding (no more than one in each Area) to provide Technical Assistance, Training, and Resources to AI/AN tribes and villages within their IHS areas to promote community chosen and culturally adapted policies, systems, and environmental changes. These changes will lead to sustainable increased access to fresh, healthy traditional foods, decreased access to less healthy packaged and processed foods, increased physical activity, health education, as well as strengthened community-clinical linkages to promote lifelong health and prevent chronic diseases such as diabetes, heart disease, and stroke.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Cooperative Agreements

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Component One awardees can potentially use assistance to apply a combination of community chosen and culturally adapted policies, systems, and environmental changes to increase access to fresh, healthy traditional foods and healthy beverages, such as water, and offer alternatives to less healthy packaged, processed foods high in sodium and fat, and less healthy beverages. Component One will also implement policy, systems, and environmental changes that increase physical activity, health education, and team-based strategies to strengthen community-clinical linkages promoting lifelong health and preventing chronic diseases such as diabetes, heart disease, and stroke. Awardees will customize environmental approaches for their communities to foster sustainability, broaden community and cross-sector partnerships, and demonstrate target/intended population change to promote health and reduce risk factors that lead to chronic disease.

Component Two awardees can potentially use assistance to provide Technical Assistance, Training, and Resources (including funding for contracts with designated area tribes or villages) to AI/AN tribes and villages within their IHS areas to promote community chosen and culturally adapted policies, systems, and environmental changes. These changes will lead to sustainable increased access to fresh, healthy traditional foods and beverages, decreased access to less healthy processed foods and beverages, increased physical activity, reduced commercial tobacco use, health education, as well as strengthened community-clinical linkages to promote lifelong health and prevent chronic diseases such as diabetes, heart disease, and stroke.

Applicants must submit an itemized budget narrative, which may be scored as part of the Organizational Capacity of Awardees to Execute the Approach. Describe dissemination channels and audiences (including public dissemination).

Describe other information requested and as determined by the CDC program.

When developing evaluation and performance measurement plans, applicants are encouraged to use the Introduction to Program Evaluation for Public Health Programs: A Self-Study Guide, available at: <http://www.cdc.gov/eval/guide/index.htm>.

93.763 ALZHEIMERS DISEASE INITIATIVE: SPECIALIZED SUPPORTIVE SERVICES PROJECT (ADI-SSS) THRU PREVENTION AND PUBLIC HEALTH FUNDS (PPHF)

Alzheimers Initiative

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Administration for Community Living, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Funding Authority: PPTA 42USC 300u-11 Prevention and Public Health Fund Grant Authority: Older Americans Act Title IV.

OBJECTIVES:

The purpose of the Alzheimers Disease Initiative: Specialized Supportive Services (ADI-SSS) project is to fill gaps in long term services and supports (LTSS) for persons living with Alzheimers disease and related dementias (ADRD) and their caregivers by expanding the availability of specialized services and supports.

The grants are intended to fill existing service gaps in the following areas:

- 1) Provision of effective supportive services to persons living alone with ADRD in the community. The aging of the Baby Boom generation brings increasing numbers of people with dementia living alone with no family caregivers available.
- 2) Development of dementia capable systems designed to improve the quality and effectiveness of programs and services dedicated to individuals aging with intellectual and developmental disabilities and at high risk of developing ADRD. Increasing numbers of individuals with these disabilities are living long enough to become consumers of aging network services. The system needs to be capable of addressing their unique needs and providing them with effective services.
- 3) Behavioral symptom management training and expert consultation for family caregivers. Family caregivers are broadly defined to include close friends and partners. Behavioral symptoms occur in almost everyone with dementia and symptom management is very difficult for an untrained caregiver, without assistance from experts.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

Project Grants

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Provision of effective supportive services to persons living alone with AD/DRD in the community. The aging of the Baby Boom generation brings increasing numbers of people with dementia living alone with no family caregivers available.

Development of dementia capable systems designed to improve the quality and effectiveness of programs and services dedicated to individuals aging with intellectual and developmental disabilities and at high risk of developing AD/DRD. Increasing numbers of individuals with these disabilities are living long enough to become consumers of aging network services. The system needs to be capable of addressing their unique needs and providing them with effective services.

Behavioral symptom management training and expert consultation for family caregivers. Family caregivers are broadly defined to include close friends and partners. Behavioral symptoms occur in almost everyone with dementia and symptom management is very difficult for an untrained caregiver, without assistance from experts. The grant funds must be used to provide services to the target audiences as noted above. Grantees are required to dedicate a certain percentage of grant funds to direct services. Successful grantees would be required to dedicate 30% of year one funds, 40% of year two fund and 50% of year three funds to the provision of direct services.

OBJECTIVES:

To provide funds to States to enable them to maintain and expand child health assistance to uninsured, low income children, and at a state option, low-income pregnant women and legal immigrants, primarily by three methods: (1) obtain health insurance coverage that meets the requirements in Section 2103 relating to the amount, duration, and scope of benefits; (2) expand eligibility for children under the State's Medicaid program; and (3) reduce the number of children eligible for Medicaid, CHIP and insurance affordability programs under the ACA, who are not enrolled and improve retention of those who are already enrolled..

This solicitation addresses the third objective and seeks applications for the Connecting Kids to Coverage Outreach and Enrollment Grants Focused on Increasing Enrollment of eligible children, as provided under the Section 2113 of the Social Security Act, amended by section 303of the MACRA. A total of $29,800,000 million is available for grants to eligible entities, including states, local governments, schools, health care providers, community-based, non-profit organizations and Indian tribes or tribal consortiums, tribal organizations, urban Indian organizations receiving funds under title V of the Indian Health Care Improvement Act (25 U.S.C. 1651 et seq.), Indian Health Service providers; to the extent that a cooperative agreement awarded to such an entity is consistent with the requirements of Section 1955 of the Public Health Service Act (42 U.S.C. 300x-65) relating to a grant award to nongovernmental entities; and/or elementary or secondary schools. These grants will support outreach strategies aimed at increasing enrollment of eligible children in Medicaid and the Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP), emphasizing activities tailored to communities where eligible children and families reside and enlisting community leaders and programs that serve eligible children and families. They also will fund activities designed to help families understand new application procedures and health coverage opportunities, including Medicaid, CHIP and insurance affordability programs under the ACA. Refer to the funding opportunity announcement (Agency Funding Opportunity Number: CMS-XXX-XX-XXX, Competition ID Number: CMS-XXX-XX-XXX-XXXXXX) for additional information. Indian health care providers and tribal entities are permitted to apply for either or both funding opportunities as long as the work described is different in each proposal.

Eligibility standards must not cover higher-income children without covering lower-income children, and must not deny eligibility based on a child having a pre-existing medical condition. The State must ensure that only targeted low-income children are furnished child health assistance under the plan. Children found through screening to be eligible for Medicaid are to be enrolled in Medicaid. The insurance provided using Federal funds under the State plan does may not substitute for coverage under group health plans. Coordination with other public and private programs providing creditable coverage for low-income children should occur. Child Health Assistance (other than Medicaid), must consist of any of the following: Benchmark coverage; benchmark equivalent coverage (which can be FEHBP-equivalent coverage); State employee coverage or coverage offered through the HMO with the largest insured commercial non-Medicaid enrollment in the State; existing comprehensive State-based coverage; or Secretary-approved coverage. A State child health plan must include a description of the amount (if any) of cost-sharing and must be in accordance with a public schedule. Cost-sharing may be varied in a way that does not favor higher-income children over lower-income children. No cost-sharing is permitted for well-baby and well-child care, including age-appropriate immunizations. Cost-sharing for children at 150 percent of poverty must be consistent with Medicaid; Cost-sharing for children at 150 percent of poverty and above must be based on an income-related sliding scale. The aggregate cost sharing for all children in a family cannot exceed 5 percent of the family's income. The State child health plan may not impose pre-existing condition exclusions for covered benefits. Funds provided to a State under this Title may only be used to carry out the purposes of this Title. Health insurance coverage provided may include coverage of abortion only if necessary to save the life of the mother or if the pregnancy is the result of an act of rape or incest. States may spend up to 10 percent of their total CHIP expenditures (Federal and State) on non-benefit activities, including: outreach conducted to identify and enroll eligible children in CHIP; administration costs; health services initiatives; and other child health assistance. These expenditures are matched at the enhanced CHIP matching rate and counted against both the 10 percent limit and the allotment. Monetary amounts provided by the Federal government or services assisted or subsidized to any extent by the Federal government, may not be included in determining the amount of nonfederal contributions required for State matching purposes.

OBJECTIVES:

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

DIRECT PAYMENTS FOR A SPECIFIED USE

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Hospital insurance benefits are paid to participating hospitals, inpatient rehabilitation facilities, skilled nursing facilities, home health agencies, and hospice agencies. This reduced Part A premium applies to their spouse, surviving spouse or divorced spouse as well.

Federal employees began contributing toward Medicare hospital insurance coverage in 1983. Employees who have worked in the federal government prior to this year are still eligible to receive credit for prior non-contributory quarters of Federal employment. State and local government employees not already in Social Security-covered positions and who were hired on or after April 1, 1986 also contribute toward Medicare hospital insurance coverage. Although states may request agreements to cover individuals employed prior to April 1, 1986, no credit is given toward establishing Medicare entitlement for prior employment. 93.779 CENTERS FOR MEDICARE AND MEDICAID SERVICES
(CMS) RESEARCH, DEMONSTRATIONS AND EVALUATIONS
(CMS Research)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Social Security Act, Title XI, Sections 1110 and 1115; 42 U.S.C. 1310 and 1315(a); Title XVIII, Section 1875; 42 U.S.C. 1395 and 42 U.S.C. 1881 (f);
Section 402, Public Law 90-248, as amended; Section 222, Public Law 92-603.

OBJECTIVES:

The Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) conducts research, demonstrations, and evaluations in support of CMS' key role as a beneficiary-centered purchaser of high-quality health care at a reasonable cost.
These grants are awarded in the form of research grants and cooperative agreements; Hispanic health services grants; historically black colleges and university grants. For fiscal years 2010 and 2011, CMS research, demonstrations and evaluations will focus on expanding agency efforts to improve the efficiency of payment, delivery, access and quality of our health care programs that serve millions of beneficiaries.

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE:

PROJECT GRANTS

USES AND USE RESTRICTIONS:

Under all authorizations, all applications must meet standards of excellence in research or evaluation design. Funds may not be used for construction or renovation of buildings. Funds authorized by Section 1115 of the Social Security Act are limited to State agencies administering the Medicaid program.

The research issues and/or hypotheses identified by a project should be clearly stated and realistic and should reflect the issues of interest to CMS and, where appropriate, HHS, Federal Government, and the broader health services research community.

The research design should clearly identify the measures that will be collected and analyzed to address the issues and/or hypotheses. These proposed measures should reflect concepts and variables that are consistent with the stated issues and hypotheses.

The research design should also address the reliability of measures i.e., a measurement should not change when the concept being measured remains constant in value. A common reliability concern is the level of inter-rater reliability of an instrument, determined by the extent to which two or more persons measuring the same characteristic would assign the same score.

The research design should address the validity of proposed measures i.e., the extent to which differences in scores on variable or the measuring instrument represent true differences in the characteristic we are trying to measure, rather than constant or random errors or the influence of other factors.

organizations, including State agencies that administer the Medicaid program.

93.791 MONEY FOLLOWS THE PERSON REBALANCING DEMONSTRATION

(Money Follows the Person Demonstration)

FEDERAL AGENCY:

Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION:

Section 6071, Deficit Reduction Act of 2005, Public Law 109-171; Section 2403, Affordable Care Act, Public Law 111-148.

OBJECTIVES:

The Money Follows the Person (MFP) Rebalancing Demonstration, authorized by section 6071 of the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 (P.L. 109-171), was designed to assist States to balance their long-term care systems and help Medicaid enrollees transition from institutions to the community. Congress initially authorized up to $1.75 billion in Federal funds through Fiscal Year (FFY) 2011. With the subsequent passage of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (P.L. 111-148) in 2010, Section 2403 extended the program through September 30, 2016. An additional $2.25 billion in Federal funds was appropriated through FFY 2016. Any funds remaining at the end of each fiscal year carry over to the next fiscal year, and can be used to make grant awards to current grantees until FY 2016. Any unused grant funds in 2016 can be used until 2020. No additional funding will be available after the final 2016-2020 awards are made; however, grantees will submit documentation to identify projected costs and justify expenditures on an annual basis. Grantees can request to continue transitioning MFP participants until December 31, 2018 with services being provided and eligible for enhanced match through December 31, 2019. All claiming of services must be finalized by September 30, 2020. The MFP Demonstration supports State efforts to rebalance their long-term support system so that individuals have a choice of where they live and receive services. MFP program goals are (1) increase the use of home and community-based services (HCBS) and reduce the use of institutionally-based services; (2) eliminate barriers in State law, State Medicaid plans, and State budgets that restrict the use of Medicaid funds to let people get long-term care in the settings of their choice (3) strengthen the ability of Medicaid programs to provide HCBS to people who choose to transition out of institutions, and (4) put procedures in place to provide quality assurance and improvement of HCBS. The demonstration provides for enhanced Federal Medical Assistance Percentage (FMAP) for 12 months for qualified home and community-based services for each person transitioned from an institution to the community during the demonstration period. Eligibility for transition is dependent upon residence in a qualified institution for more than 90 consecutive days. However, days that an individual was residing in the institution for the sole purpose of receiving short-term rehabilitation services that are reimbursed under Medicare are excluded and will not be counted toward the 90-day requirement. The State must continue to provide community-based services after the 12-month period for as long as the person needs community services and is Medicaid eligible. Under the demonstration, the State must propose a system of Medicaid home and community-based care that will be sustained after the demonstration period and is deemed qualified by the Secretary. Specifically, the program must be conducted in conjunction with a "qualified HCBS program" which is a program that is in operation (or approved) in the State for such individuals in a manner that assures continuity of Medicaid coverage of services in the qualified HCBS program for eligible individuals. States may also propose to enhance the services they will provide during the demonstration period to achieve greater success with transition. States will be required to participate in a national qualitative and quantitative evaluation conducted by CMS. Data collected on a national level will help evaluate the core objectives of the statute.
