

Kathryn Clay

Vice President for Policy Strategy
American Gas Association

As Vice President for Policy Strategy at the American Gas Association, Kathryn Clay drives thought-leadership on natural gas utility demand growth and engages in stakeholder outreach to achieve the industry's policy and growth objectives. Previously, she managed the joint industry Drive Natural Gas Initiative to advance the policy and regulatory environment for natural gas vehicles. She has served as Executive Director of the American Gas Foundation since 2011. Previously, Dr. Clay was the Vice President of Research and Technology Policy for the Alliance of Automobile Manufacturers and a member of the professional staff of the Senate Energy and Natural Resources Committee, where she worked to develop the Energy Independence and Security Act of 2007 and the Energy Policy Act of 2005. She has also served in positions with the staff of the Energy Subcommittee of the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Science, at the Massachusetts Division of Energy Resources, and as a research fellow in the Alternate Fuels Vehicle Division of Ford Motor Company.
