Audition & Scholarships:

Entrance Auditions (Live or Video Link). If you have been admitted to the University of North Texas, you are eligible for acceptance as a music major in the College of Music. In order to be a music major, you must pass an entrance audition. Audition days are scheduled in January, February and March. See the College of Music Percussion website for dates and requirements at www.music.unt.edu/percussion.

Scholarships. Scholarships are performance based and are most frequently awarded to on-campus auditions. Scholarship application forms and information are located on the College of Music website at www.music.unt.edu. Percussion music scholarships begin at $1,000 and the recipients also receive an out-of-state tuition waiver.

Secondary Lesson Auditions. Students who have not passed a music audition and are seeking secondary percussion lessons must pass a placement audition during registration week of the fall semester. Information will be posted on the Percussion Bulletin board. After passing the audition, placement in secondary lessons is based on teacher load availability. Students will be contacted during the first week of classes and given a registration number if space is available.

Large Ensemble and Small Percussion Ensemble Auditions:

Wind Symphony, Concert Band, Symphonic Band, Brass Band & Classical Percussion Ensemble Auditions round one are held in August. Go to the Wind Studies website at www.music.unt.edu/windstudies for audition information and to set up an audition time. To enroll in a classical percussion ensemble MUCM 3617 (undergraduate) and MUEN 5617 (graduate) sections: 500/501/502 you must be a percussion major and participate in the round one wind studies audition only.

Green Brigade Marching Band can be found on the Green Brigade website.

Orchestra Auditions – see information on the Percussion Board.

Jazz Lab Band Auditions – see information on the Percussion Board.

Indoor Drumline Auditions are held at the first class meeting.

MUCM 3617 (undergraduate) and MUEN 5617 (graduate) Percussion Ensembles

Section 500 – The UNT Percussion Players - percussion majors only - audition required see above.

Section 514 - Gamelan - audition required see director.

General Information about UNT Percussion:

1. Mary Law is the Administrative Assistant for the Instrumental Studies Division and assists the percussion area with practice rentals and registration. Her office is MU131, telephone - 940-565-4124.

2. The Percussion department and faculty e-mail (or post) important information on a regular basis. This includes information for enrollment in private lessons, auditions, barrier and jury sign-up, upcoming master classes and recitals, etc. Check the Percussion Bulletin board (located across MU 131) for postings on a regular basis. Most information will also be sent out in e-mails. Be sure your current e-mail address, local address and telephone number are on file with the percussion office. Note: UNT provides free e-mail accounts to all registered students.

3. Percussion Departmental Recitals take place on Fridays at 1:00 p.m. in the Recital Hall (Rm. 301). Their purpose is to provide students with a performance opportunity for pieces prepared with your private lesson instructor. Attendance and performance is required for all students taking private percussion lessons.

4. Requests for semester use of the 5 octave marimba rooms, MU114 or 115 in the Music Building or Bain Hall Excerpt and Recital rooms must be cleared with Professor Ford. Requests to use MU142, MU114 or MU115 for one-time rehearsals, etc. will also be handled by Mark Ford.

5. Requests to use percussion instruments must first be cleared with Professor Ford. Forms are on the percussion website.

6. All students taking private lessons are strongly encouraged to join the UNT Percussion Club. This is a student run organization.

Officers are nominated and voted by Club members for a one-year term. The purpose of this club is to provide guest artists during the semester to give clinics and concerts for club members. Dues are paid each semester when students pay for their practice rooms. Percussion majors must pay the entire dues for the semester; they may not attend and pay for individual events. UNT Percussion Club Events take place during the Friday Departmental Recital time.

General Course Requirements:

1. All freshman and transfer students are required to enroll in MUAG 1117 Percussion Methods, sec. 502 (MWF - 11:00 am in Room 232). This class is offered only during the fall semester.

2. All students are required to be in a lab (large ensemble) each semester they are enrolled even if their large ensemble degree requirements are met.

For Applied (Performance) majors large ensembles can include Orchestra, Chamber Orchestra or a Wind Studies Lab (which includes Wind Symphony, Symphonic Band, Concert Band or Brass Band). Applied majors are required to audition for an Orchestra at least once. This does not mean they are required to perform in an orchestra, but they must complete the audition process at least once while at UNT. Music Education majors are required to be in Marching Band 3 semesters and a Wind Studies Lab at least 5 semesters. Jazz Studies majors are required to be in a Jazz Lab Ensemble (which includes Lab Band, Jazz Singers, Jazz Rep., Jazz Guitar, and Zebras) at least 6 semesters. Auditions are held each semester for placement in these ensembles. The optional large ensemble is Men's or Women's Chorus if you are not placed by audition in one of the ensembles listed above.

3. All students participating as percussionists/drummers in Music Labs must take an applied percussion lesson, carry a minimum 9 hours of course work and attend percussion departmental recitals.

4. All undergraduate students participating in Marching Band should enroll in MULB 1812, sec 501. All students participating in Indoor Drumline should enroll in MUCM 3617, sec 503 (battery) or 504 (pit).

5. All Applied percussion majors are required to take 6 semesters of chamber music (percussion ensemble). Music Education and Jazz Studies students are recommended to take 4 semesters of chamber music. Freshmen should perform in a classical ensemble before taking an ethnic ensemble.

6. All Applied percussion majors in their junior/senior year are required to take MUAG 4370 Instrumental Pedagogy Repertoire (Percussion Literature). This course is also recommended for upper class Music Education majors.

7. Non-Jazz Studies majors cannot attempt the Jazz Studies drum set curriculum until their degree requirements on drum set is completed.

8. Student Recitals. Performance majors are required to perform a senior recital in order to graduate. The semester this recital will occur will be chosen by the percussion faculty once the student completes their percussion barriers (proficiencies). A recital hearing must be scheduled two weeks prior to their recital date in Room 142 with two full-time faculty present. This is not a rehearsal. You must be ready to perform all recital pieces at this time. Failure to pass this hearing will result in recital cancellation.

9. Any Student wanting to change majors to percussion performance or add a second major in performance must qualify by audition before the end of their fourth long semester of enrollment in percussion private lessons at UNT. Students need to contact the Percussion Area Coordinator regarding this change. Auditions occur during jury week.

Private Percussion Lessons:

1. Registering for Lessons.

Undergraduate applied lower division and concentration students:

Each semester student will enroll in two 1/2-hour lessons for one credit each. These lessons will be on two different percussion instruments. (For example, timpani with Professor Deane and drum set with Professor Soph.)

Undergraduate applied upper division:

Each semester students will enroll in two 1/2-hour lessons each week for two credits each. These students are expected to cover more material during their studies.

Graduate Master's and Doctoral candidates:

Each semester students will enroll in one or two 1/2-hour lessons each week for two credits each. (You must select "2" credits when enrolling.) These students are expected to cover more material during their studies.

Graduate Artist Certificate candidates:

Will enroll in a one 1-hour lesson each week for four credits. They can opt to take additional 1/2-hour lesson(s) on other percussion instrument(s) for one credit each with Professor Ford's approval.

Students may indicate their teacher preference when receiving their lesson class numbers from Mark Ford prior to registration. You may not register for private lessons without a lesson class number. Please note that final assignments of private lesson instructors will be based on teaching loads and student needs.

2. Lesson Availability Cards. During registration week students must fill out a lesson availability card (on cabinet outside MU131) and file it in the box. This must be done in order for your instructor to give you a lesson time. Private lessons should take priority over your off-campus schedule. If you cannot provide adequate time during the day for a lesson to be scheduled, you may be asked to drop your lessons.

3. Lesson Teacher Assignments. Private lesson instructor assignments will be posted on the percussion bulletin board after the first Friday Departmental Recital.

4. Lesson Grade Factors. The final semester lesson grade will depend upon the following: lesson attendance, departmental recital attendance, departmental recital performance, weekly lesson grade, concert attendance, jury exam and the barrier performance (if applicable).

Lesson Attendance. Excessive lesson absences will seriously affect your semester grade. Only university or medically excused absences will be made up. Make-up lessons will be at the discretion of the teacher. One absence is allowed before the lesson grade is lowered, while four or more absences will result in failure.

Percussion Departmental Recitals - Attendance. All students enrolled in private lessons are required to attend the weekly Percussion Departmental Recitals, which are held every Friday (except for Percussion Club events). Attendance is taken and three absences will lower your applied lesson grade by one grade, four by two grades, etc.

Weekly Percussion Departmental Recitals - Performance. At least one departmental recital performance is required to attain an "A" in applied lessons for music majors, except for those who are on a deficient level or enrolled in secondary lessons (teacher's discretion). For example, if a student is deficient in their drum set lessons, but is taking level 1 marimba lessons, the student must perform on a departmental recital to receive an "A" for the semester in their marimba lesson.

It is preferred that students perform at departmental on one of the instruments they are studying that semester in private lessons. This is not always feasible. Therefore, with prior approval from the percussion coordinator, a student may receive credit for a performance with an approved ensemble. In certain instances a UNT percussion ensemble that performs for an audience off campus may receive departmental credit as well. The department coordinator will approve these types of performances for departmental performance credit.

Jazz Studies majors may receive credit for performance on other instrumental departmental recitals providing Professor Soph approves the performance in advance and a drumset professor is present for the performance.

Students may not perform barrier material on departmental recitals. Percussion Departmental Recital forms are available on the UNT Percussion website. They are due by 5:00 p.m. on the Tuesday of the week of your requested performance date. Appropriate dress is required. No jeans, t-shirts, hats, sunglasses or tennis shoes.

There are plenty of available dates for everyone to perform, however these dates are first come, first serve and performance time is limited. Waiting to perform on the last departmental date runs the risk of not getting a performance time. This will affect your lesson grade.

5. Percussion Proficiencies (barriers). In order to graduate you must pass UNT percussion proficiencies. These are listed on each instrument's lesson syllabi under Student Resources on the percussion website. If a student has barriers to play in their private lesson area (snare drum, mallets, timpani, drum set), the student must attempt to pass that barrier level at the end of the semester. Failure to do so will result in a failing grade in applied lessons.

Example: John is taking timpani lessons from Professor Deane and he needs to pass off the level 1 timpani barriers. John must sign up and attempt this barrier to receive a passing grade for the semester. If John attempts but does not pass the barriers, his teacher averages his final lesson grade with no penalty. If John does not attempt his barrier material, he will receive an "F" for his lesson grade.

If a student fails a single barrier three times he/she must re-audition to be a music major or change majors. It is important for students to keep on track with their barrier requirements. Music Education majors must have their barrier requirements completed one semester prior to student teaching. Bachelor of Arts Majors must complete six barrier levels to graduate (2 levels of snare drum, 1 level of marimba, 1 level of timpani, 1 level of drum set and 1 optional level decided by the student). Students taking secondary lessons do not play barriers.

6. Jury. Every student enrolled in private lessons must perform a jury piece at the end of the semester unless they performed a recital. A student who performs a recital during the semester will not be required to perform a jury UNLESS they do not play a recital piece on the instrument they are enrolled in for private lessons.

Juries and barriers are held during the week prior to finals and sign-up sheets are posted on the percussion bulletin board one week before juries/barriers begin. Sign up under your private lesson teacher's name. A jury selection cannot be from barrier material books. Dress as you would for a concert performance; bring a copy of your jury music for the panel. Be early, as the schedule may get ahead.

7. Bachelor of Arts Majors and Secondary Lessons. After reaching the required six hours of private lessons, Bachelor of Arts majors will need approval from Professor's Soph or Ford to continue taking private lessons. Secondary lessons are always subject to approval. You will follow the same Lesson Grade Factors as mentioned in number 4 EXCEPT: Departmental Recital performance is at the discretion of your teacher. Remember . . . departmental attendance is required and you must play a jury at the end of the semester.

Responsibilities of Students and Faculty:

1. Students are expected to practice a minimum of 2-3 hours a day.
2. Each teacher will thoroughly explain the minimum requirements outlined in the course of study. To use supplementary material in addition to these requirements, a student should first demonstrate proficiency on the required material.
3. Teachers will post office hours for conferences on their studio door. Schedule a conference with your teacher if you are having any problems. If you need additional help resolving a problem, make an appointment with Professor Ford. If the problem persists, an appointment will be made with the appropriate university personnel.
4. Your own personal equipment is your responsibility -- take care of it. Equipment belonging to the College of Music is also your responsibility, and you are expected to take care of it as if it were your own. Under no circumstances are you to borrow or practice on equipment (without permission) that does not belong to you.
5. If you need to move any equipment from its assigned area for rehearsal, performance or practice session, it must be approved and returned to its proper storage area upon completion of use. Equipment usage must be properly signed out with Professor Ford or a designated faculty member and the appropriate form completed. Forms are on the percussion website.
6. Percussion Departmental Recital Attendance is the student's responsibility. You must make sure that the T.F. at the door marks you present. Students arriving late or leaving early will be marked absent.

Practice Facilities:

1. Percussion practice rooms are assigned during the first week of classes. If you will be giving a student recital, recital rooms are available to rent for that purpose in Bain Hall during the semester. You will need to submit a written request for a Bain Room to Professor Ford during the first week of classes. Schedules for rentals and returns will be posted on the Percussion Bulletin board.
2. Percussion Practice Rooms are available in Music Practice North & South and Bain Hall. The type of lesson you sign up for (i.e., timpani, marimba, vibes, drum set, etc.) will determine the type of room you are eligible for that semester. Practice room keys are checked out in Mary Law's office, MU131. If you have other practice room needs, contact Professor Ford for approval.
3. Drum Set Practice Rooms are available for students selected for Jazz Lab Bands and students enrolled for private drum set lessons. These are private rooms to house the student's personal drumset. They are located in Music Practice North & South. Rental periods will be posted on the board prior to the beginning of each semester. Assignments/renewals are made in Mary Law's office, MU131. Payment is by cash or check only.

4. All non-drum set practice room keys are turned in by 12 noon on the last day of finals week each semester. Drumset key return dates are posted each semester on the percussion bulletin board.

5. Rehearsals in Room 142 must be scheduled online.
