

Center for Public Service

Main Office
Chilton Hall, Room 209

Mailing address:
1155 Union Circle #311340
Denton, TX 76203-5017
940-565-4863

Web site: www.cps.unt.edu

David A. McEntire, Director

The mission of the Center for Public Service is to promote the service, public affairs, public interest and applied research goals of the College of Public Affairs and Community Service and the university. Students, faculty and staff are involved in a variety of research and service projects that contribute to the welfare and development of individuals and of communities. The center's programs include aging and health services, urban social development, environmental education, volunteerism, and international exchange. The center coordinates a number of service learning experiences and offers a graduate academic certificate in volunteer management.

Courses of Instruction

All Courses of Instruction are located in one section at the back of this catalog.

Course and Subject Guide

The "Course and Subject Guide," found in the Courses of Instruction section of this book, serves as a table of contents and provides quick access to subject areas and prefixes.

Department of Anthropology

Main Office
Chilton Hall, Room 330

Mailing address:
1155 Union Circle #310409
Denton, TX 76203-5017
940-565-2290

Web site: anthropology.unt.edu

Alicia Re Cruz, Chair

Graduate Faculty: Davenport, Hartman, D. Henry, L. Henry, Jordan, Nuñez-Janes, Re Cruz, Wasson.

The Department of Anthropology offers both on-campus and online graduate programs leading to the following degrees:

- Master of Arts, and
- Master of Science, both with a major in applied anthropology.

In cooperation with the UNT Health Science Center in Fort Worth, on-campus students may also earn a dual degree in public health with a specialty in community health.

The master's degree in applied anthropology is grounded in the theory and methods of anthropology, and is designed primarily to prepare students for employment outside academia. Students will be prepared to apply anthropological knowledge in private and public sectors, foundations, and businesses in local, regional, and international areas. Knowledge is to be applied to our most compelling social problems and to the operation and administration of agencies charged with addressing these problems. The central goal of our program in applied anthropology is to provide the knowledge necessary for its graduates to undertake informed and thoughtful action as street-level practitioners, administrators, agency-based researchers and program evaluators.

Research

Faculty have expertise in migration, border studies, race and ethnicity, technology and cyberspace, organizational anthropology, globalization, marketing, consumer behavior, product design, medical anthropology, public health, sociocultural impact analysis, directed change and development, urban centers, sustainable communities, bilingual education, and ecological and environmental anthropology.

Recent research focuses on leadership and organizational culture in self-managed work teams, African-American health-seeking behavior, colonias on the border, Hispanic migrant women in North Texas, volunteer teaching of English in Hispanic communities, integration of Mexican migrants into public policy and urban planning, outreach and educational attainment of Latinos, bilingual education and identity, Mvskoke (Creek) Indian Medicine, virtual communication and collaboration in the workplace, Internet chat-room liaisons and the spread of HIV, violence and refugees, culture change and the reconstruction of indigenous healing systems, the acculturation of allied health students to biomedicine, physician assistants and rural health care, the culture of sleep, and quality of life with rheumatoid arthritis.

Degree Programs

Master of Arts, Master of Science with a Major in Applied Anthropology

Admission Requirements

1. The applicant must complete two application forms, one for the Toulouse School of Graduate Studies and one for the Department of Anthropology. International applicants must apply to International Admissions and be eligible for graduate study.
2. The applicant must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited U.S. institution or equivalent training at a foreign university.
3. Applicants must supply official GRE test scores.
4. Applicants must have adequate subject preparation in anthropology. If the applicant is accepted into the program with fewer than 12 hours of anthropology, the applicant must take a prerequisite leveling course (ANTH 5000) the summer before the first year of study. Please contact the Director of Graduate Programs, Lisa Henry, for more information (LHenry@unt.edu).
5. Applicants must submit a statement of purpose (500–750 words).
6. Applicants must submit a writing sample.
7. Applicants must submit three Reference Evaluation Forms (or letters of recommendation) from persons familiar with their academic record. If an applicant received an undergraduate degree from UNT, only two references may come from the UNT anthropology faculty.

For details, see anthropology.unt.edu/grad-admissions.php

Program Requirements

For the Master of Arts degree, students fulfill the 36 hours of degree requirements and demonstrate knowledge of a foreign language.

For the Master of Science degree, students fulfill the 36 hours of degree requirements including a course in an additional skill appropriate to their specialty.

The School of Public Health at the University of North Texas Health Science Center and the Department of Anthropology at the University of North Texas have developed a cooperative agreement that allows on-campus students to pursue the Master of Public Health and the Master of Science with a major in applied anthropology. Students will apply 9 hours of course work in public health as part of their electives for anthropology and 12 hours of course work in anthropology as part of their course work for public health.

Core Courses, 15 hours

- ANTH 5010, Anthropological Thought and Praxis I
- ANTH 5021, Anthropological Thought and Praxis II
- ANTH 5031, Ethnographic and Qualitative Methods
- ANTH 5041, Quantitative Methods in Anthropology
- ANTH 5050, Pre-Practicum: Problems and Cases in Applied Anthropology

Elective Courses, 15 hours

A minimum of two electives (6 hours) must be from outside anthropology. A minimum of two electives (6 hours) must be from inside anthropology. If pursuing an MS degree, the skills class requirement counts as one of the five electives. The student's graduate committee must approve the course work. Electives in the on-campus anthropology master's program are:

- ANTH 5100, Organizational Anthropology
- ANTH 5110, Design Anthropology
- ANTH 5201, Medical Anthropology
- ANTH 5210, Anthropology of Public Health
- ANTH 5300, Migrants and Refugees
- ANTH 5400, Environmental Anthropology
- ANTH 5620, Anthropology of Education
- ANTH 5710, Symbolic/Cognitive Anthropology
- ANTH 5900, Special Problems
- ANTH 5910, Special Problems

Electives in the online anthropology master's program are:

- ANTH 5100, Organizational Anthropology
- ANTH 5201, Medical Anthropology
- ANTH 5300, Migrants and Refugees
- ANTH 5400, Environmental Anthropology
- ANTH 5620, Anthropology of Education

Note: During some terms/semesters, undergraduate courses are cross-listed as graduate courses, which provide graduate students with a greater selection of elective courses.

Practicum, 6 hours

All candidates must take 6 hours of supervised practicum and seminar in lieu of thesis:

- ANTH 5800, Applying Anthropology: Practicum I
- ANTH 5810, Applying Anthropology: Practicum II

Funding

Each term/semester the department is able to provide a limited number of teaching assistant/grader positions for graduate students. If interested, the student should fill out an application and turn it in to the department before the beginning of the new term/semester.

The Department of Anthropology has a limited number of scholarships of $1,000 each. The graduate committee will decide on scholarship nominees based on first year status and academic achievement; the faculty will then vote. On-campus students must take a minimum of 9 hours. Online students must take a minimum of 6 hours.

Courses of Instruction

All Courses of Instruction are located in one section at the back of this catalog.

Course and Subject Guide

The "Course and Subject Guide," found in the Courses of Instruction section of this book, serves as a table of contents and provides quick access to subject areas and prefixes.

Institute of Applied Economics

Main Office
Chilton Hall, Room 263

Mailing address:
1155 Union Circle #310469
Denton, TX 76203-5017
940-565-3437

Web site: www.unt.edu/aeco

Bernard L. Weinstein, Director

Graduate Faculty: Clower, McKee, Weinstein.

The Institute of Applied Economics offers an interdisciplinary professional program leading to the following degree:

- Master of Science with a major in applied economics.

Faculty from the institute also participate in a program leading to the master's degree with a major in interdisciplinary studies administered by the School of Graduate Studies. For further information about the interdisciplinary studies program, consult the Toulouse School of Graduate Studies section of this catalog. Students may also pursue a professional certificate in alternative dispute resolution.

Research

Institute of Applied Economics faculty pursue a wide range of research interests, including labor relations, labor market information, local and regional economic analysis, state and local fiscal and regulatory policy, energy policy, conflict resolution and economic development. Faculty publications have appeared both in professional journals, such as Business Insights, Arbitration Journal, Policy Review, Economic Development Quarterly, Economic Development Commentary, Society and Challenge, and in the editorial and financial pages of the nation's leading news journals, including The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal and The Los Angeles Times. Faculty members also have published numerous books and monographs on economic and regional development topics.

The Institute of Applied Economics is closely affiliated with the University Center for Economic Development and Research, which provides economic and public policy consulting services to organizations in the private, nonprofit and public sectors. Projects conducted by the center offer students of the Institute of Applied Economics both