CONFERENCE HOURS

I encourage you to stop in during office hours to talk about any problems or suggestions you may have concerning the course or just things in general. If the scheduled hours are inconvenient, feel free to schedule an appointment. The telephone number listed rings directly into my office and I have an answering machine. I can also be reached by email. To facilitate email communication, please type MGMT3860 in the subject line of your e-mails.

COURSE OVERVIEW AND LEARNING OBJECTIVES

MGMT 3860 is a junior-level survey course designed to inform and educate general managers as to the central importance of human resources in achieving organizational success. Accordingly, there is an emphasis on relating technical content from major areas within HRM such as staffing, compensation, training, labor relations, and health/safety to the interests and perspectives of general managers. The intent is to provide you – whether general manager or HR specialist – with the knowledge and expertise needed to analyze and craft HR policies and procedures that produce outcomes beneficial to all relevant stakeholders of the organization.

After successful completion of the course students should be able to:

- Describe the strategic importance of HRM functions and activities
- Analyze the financial impact of HRM functions and activities
- Discuss key legal issues involved in managing human resources
- Explain the role of planning and recruitment for competitive strategy
- Identify and critique methods of recruiting and selecting employees
- Discuss the utility of training and development to business strategy
- Outline an effective performance management process
- Manage employee separation and retention for competitive advantage
- Describe best practices for developing an effective compensation system
- Identify the attributes of effective incentive programs
- Discuss the major provisions of employee benefits programs
- Delineate the key features of the U.S. industrial relations system
- Understand the nature and importance of “justice on the job”

INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN

TEXTBOOK (e-book)

Wayne F. Cascio -- Managing Human Resources: Productivity, Quality of Work Life, Profits, 10/e. This textbook is a component of McGraw-Hill Connect -- a web-based assignment and assessment tool required for this course. There are two ways of buying this textbook.

(1) Connect can be purchased online by visiting our section's Connect web address:

<http://connect.mheducation.com/class/m-davis-mgmt-3860001-tuth-200-320>

(2) Students can also acquire Connect by purchasing access codes at the UNT Bookstore.

COURSE ASSIGNMENTS

There are two types of course assignments, the online assignments for each chapter of the textbook and post-exam learning assignments.

LearnSmart Assignments provide students the opportunity to learn basic terminology, concepts, and principles related to human resource management. Students can return to any assignment for additional practice and review in order to increase retention of course concepts.

Post exam learning assignments are typically team-based. The instructor will create permanent teams for this purpose. This activity always takes place during the next regularly scheduled class that follows an exam. Failure to participate in the post-exam learning assignment will result in a score of '0'. There is no make-up opportunity for these assignments.

ONLINE CONTENT

Important course information including LearnSmart assignments, announcements, ONLINE CLASS, and supplemental readings will be posted on Blackboard Learn. It is the student's responsibility to stay informed by logging into the course on a regular basis.

ASSESSMENT

During the course, there are three regular exams and an optional final exam. Each exam includes content covered in class as well as the textbook. Exam format is typically a blend of multiple-choice, true-false, and/or matching.

EVALUATION

Your grade in the course is determined by performance on four scheduled exams and learning assignments that take place during the semester.

COMPONENT	W/O Final	W Final
Exams 1, 2, and 3	75%	45%
Course Assignments	25%	25%
Optional Final Exam		30%

MAKE-UP EXAMS

Students should alert the instructor regarding “authorized absences” or “absences for religious holidays” prior to missing an exam. Absences due to emergency, health, or the death of a loved one must be formally verified by the Dean of Students Office (www.deanofstudents.unt.edu -- 940-565-2648). In either circumstance, the student and instructor will jointly determine a reasonable date and time for any make-up exam.

USE OF PLAGIARISM DETECTION SERVICE

Written assignments in this course may be provided to an internet-based plagiarism detection service that is not affiliated with the University of North Texas. To maintain student privacy, a confidential code number will be used in lieu of your name, student number, or personal identification when using the service.

RESEARCH PARTICIPATION

I make my classes available to faculty members and graduate students from the College of Business Administration who conduct research. As such, you may have opportunities to serve as a research subject and earn extra credit toward the course grade. You may choose not to participate and an alternative means of earning extra credit will be made available to you. However, you must be attending class on the day that volunteers are requested in order to earn the credit.

ACCOMMODATION FOR DISABILITY

The College of Business Administration complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) in making reasonable accommodation for qualified students with a disability. If you have an established disability as defined in the ADA and would like to request an accommodation, please see me as soon as possible but not later than the second week of the semester.

MODIFICATIONS TO SYLLABUS

In general, the schedule of exams and topics, course requirements, and policies should remain in place for the entire semester. As instructor, although I reserve the right to modify the syllabus, any changes will be out of necessity or to benefit the class as a whole.

ACHIEVING SUCCESS

UNT endeavors to offer you a high-quality education and to provide a supportive environment to help you learn and grow. And, as a faculty member, I am committed to helping you be successful as a student. Here’s how to succeed at UNT: Show up. Find support. Take control. Be prepared. Get involved. Be persistent. ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

UNT College of Business Student Ethics Statement

As a student of the UNT College of Business, I will abide by all applicable policies of the University of North Texas, including the Student Standards of Academic Integrity, the Code of Student Conduct and Discipline and the Computer Use Policy. I understand that I am responsible reviewing the policies as provided by link below before participating in this course. I understand that I may be sanctioned for violations of any of these policies in accordance with procedures as defined in each policy.

I will not engage in any acts of academic dishonesty as defined in the Student Standards of Academic Integrity, including but not limited to using another's thoughts or words without proper attribution (plagiarism) or using works in violation of copyright laws. I agree that all assignments I submit to the instructor and all tests I take shall be performed solely by me, except where my instructor requires participation in a group project in which case I will abide by the specific directives of the instructor regarding group participation.

While engaged in on-line coursework, I will respect the privacy of other students taking online courses and the integrity of the computer systems and other users' data. I will comply with the copyright protection of licensed computer software. I will not intentionally obstruct, disrupt, or interfere with the teaching and learning that occurs on the website dedicated to this course through computer "hacking" or in any other manner.

I will not use the university information technology system in any manner that violates the UNT nondiscrimination and anti-sexual harassment policies. Further, I will not use the university information technology system to engage in verbal abuse, make threats, intimidate, harass, coerce, stalk or in any other manner which threatens or endangers the health, safety or welfare of any person. Speech protected by the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution is not a violation of this provision, though fighting words and statements that reasonably threaten or endanger the health and safety of any person are not protected speech.
