Brad Stracke

Head Coach

▶ Seventh Year

The return to national prominence for North Texas golf has been led by seventh-year head coach Brad Stracke. Since taking the reins of the program in December of 2009, Stracke has taken the Mean Green golf program to heights it hasn't seen in over 40 years.

North Texas captured the Argent Financial Classic in 2014, marking the fourth straight year the Mean Green has won a tournament under Stracke. Stracke also saw the rise of one of his first recruits in Carlos Ortiz at the professional level.

Ortiz, a four-time all-conference player from 2010-13, won two tournaments on the Web.com Tour and will be playing on the PGA Tour in 2014-15.

In 2013, the Mean Green won a second consecutive Sun Belt Conference title and advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the third straight season. It marked the first time that North Texas had captured back-to-back conference titles since 1974-75. It had been 30 years since North Texas made it to the NCAA Tournament in three straight years.

The Mean Green climbed into the top-25 rankings in the spring of 2013, which was the highest ranking in school history that late in the year since the modern ranking system began in 1998.

Stracke was named the 2013 Sun Belt Conference Coach of the Year for the first time in his career. Stracke was just the fifth coach in school history to win Coach of the Year, and it was the first time since 2003 a North Texas coach has captured the award.

Stracke also brought out the best in Rodolfo Cazaubon. He ended his highly-decorated career as the 13th All-American in school history. He was the first North Texas golfer to be named an All-American since 1992.

Cazaubon won three individual tournaments in 2012-13, the most in the modern era for an individual. Cazaubon was named to the all-conference team for a fourth straight season, becoming just the second player in school history to earn all-conference honors in four consecutive years.

His teammate, Carlos Ortiz duplicated what Cazaubon did in his four seasons as he was just the third player in school history to earn all-conference honors in four straight years.

In addition Jason Roets was named to the all-conference team in 2013, giving North Texas three players on the all-conference team for the second straight season. Since taking over, Stracke has had 12 players earn all-conference honors in five seasons.

The Mean Green captured the 2012 Sun Belt Conference Championship, the first conference title since 2003 and another bid to the NCAA Tournament. In 2010-11, Stracke led the Mean Green to the first at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament, and it marks the first time that North Texas has been in the NCAA Tournament in back-to-back seasons since 1974-75.

He has coached back-to-back individual conference champions in Ty Spinella (2012) and Carlos Ortiz (2011), a feat accomplished for only the second time in school history. In his four seasons, North Texas has had nine players named to the All-Sun Belt team, which is the same number had named to the all-conference team from 2002-2009.

His first two recruits, Ortiz and Rodolfo Cazaubon are only the fifth and sixth players in school history to earn three-straight all-conference honors this season.

The 2010-11 season saw Stracke lead North Texas to its highest ranking in decades at No. 3 in the country after winning the UTA/Waterchase Invitational to begin the year. North Texas received an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament, the first since 2003 and only the second at-large selection in school history.

Individually, Carlos Ortiz won the 2011 Sun Belt Conference title with a score of 7-under par, becoming the first North Texas player to win the conference title since 2003. Ortiz and Rodolfo Cazaubon both were named to the All-Sun Belt team for a second straight season.

Ortiz won three individual tournaments throughout the year and Curtis Donahoe won the fourth individual tournament title of the year for the Mean Green.

The Mean Green posted the lowest stroke average as a team in 2010-11 since 1994-95 and Ortiz had the lowest individual stroke average since 1993-94.

The Mean Green captured its first tournament title in five seasons and had numerous individual accomplishments throughout the 2009-10 school year.

Two of Stracke's first recruits, Cazaubon and Ortiz, have paid immediate dividends. Both players were selected to play in the NCAA Men's Golf Regional, marking the first time in school history that two individuals have advanced to a regional.

Stracke's freshmen competing at the regional puts North Texas in elite company. North Texas is the only school in the nation that sent two freshmen to play at a regional in 2010.

↳ History

A golf magazine once called the University of North Texas the “Notre Dame” of men’s golf -- for a very good reason. With 81 tournament championships, including four NCAA crowns and 29 conference titles to its credit, North Texas has earned international recognition in the sport.

In all, the Mean Green have competed in the NCAA Tournament 33 times as a team and placed in the top 10 on 16 of those occasions. The program’s long list of successes also includes seven Lone Star Conference titles, two Gulf Coast Conference championships, 13 Missouri Valley Conference titles, three Southland Conference championships, three Sun Belt Conference championships and one Big West Conference title. In 2011 the Mean Green received its first at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament in the modern era. North Texas then captured consecutive conference titles in 2012 and 2013 for the first time since 1974-75.

North Texas sponsored its first varsity golf team in 1939, but much of the squad’s history was written after Fred Cobb, a college golf pioneer, was named head coach in 1946. He saw his efforts pay off just two years later when the Eagles went undefeated and untied in 11 matches and won three tournaments.

Cobb’s 1949 team garnered its first of four consecutive NCAA championships in 1949. The many standouts who donned the green and white during that period included Billy Maxwell, Don January, L.M. Crannell Jr., Buster Reed, Palmer Lawrence, Gene Towry, Joe Conrad, Bill Turner, Stan Mosel, A.J. Triggs and Marion Hiskey.

During Cobb’s reign, the Mean Green fashioned a 72-10-3 record. Nine of the defeats, however, came in his first two seasons at the helm.

Following Cobb’s death in 1955, Herb Ferrill took over the program. Among the team’s accomplishments during his 30 years as head coach were two runner-up finishes and two third-place finishes at the NCAA Championships and 13 Missouri Valley Conference titles.

Since the All-America team was created in 1958, a host of North Texas players have earned selection to the elite group, including Dick Whetzle, Dick Smith, Bobby Greenwood, Frank Luke, Don Wilson, Ron Folk, Jimmy Clayton, Jerry Greiner, Guy Collins, John Granger, Doug Higgins and Mike McCaffrey. Many of them went on to enjoy professional careers.

The Mean Green's conference championship in 2013 was the second straight conference title and the first time since 1974-75 that the Mean Green has won consecutive titles, but the hardware is just one of many in the trophy case.

In all, the Mean Green have competed in the NCAA Tournament 33 times as a team and placed in the top 10 on 16 of those occasions. The program's long list of successes also includes seven Lone Star Conference titles, two Gulf Coast Conference championships, 13 Missouri Valley Conference titles, three Southland Conference championships, one Big West Conference title and three Sun Belt Conference Championships in 2003, 2012 and 2013.
