Application for Grad Track

What is “Grad Track”?

The Grad Track option is a BS/MS accelerated program for BMEN undergraduate students. The student can take a maximum of nine (9) credit hours of graduate courses while the student is completing their BS degree. These credits will be counted towards both the BS and MS degrees.

How does the “Grad Track” work?

- The student will apply for the Grad Track option in their junior year (completed at least 75 credit hours with GPA of 3.5 or higher).
- The student applies to Toulouse Graduate School within the first semester of the senior year. Once the student satisfies all coursework for the BS degree and has maintained a 3.0 or higher GPA, he/she will be fully admitted to the MS program.
- The student must enroll in graduate school in the long semester after finishing his/her BS degree and should take the remaining graduate courses in the following year(s) to complete his/her BMEN-MS degree. If the student did not enroll in graduate school in the long semester after finishing his/her BS degree, those graduate course credit hours will be not be counted anymore for the MS degree even if the student comes back for graduate school in the future.

Eligibility to apply for the Grad Track option:

- Student should be a major in UNT Biomedical Engineering’s BS program.
- Student can apply for the Grad Track option from his/her junior year (completed at least 75 credit hours, a benchmark is if the student is ready for BMEN Senior Design in the following fall semester).
- Minimum of 3.5 or higher cumulative GPA required at the time of application submission.

How to apply:

- Fill out the following bottom part of this form.
- Attach a copy of unofficial UNT transcripts.
- Attach two recommendation letters from BMEN faculty members.
- Submit the signed application form, transcripts, and recommendation letters to the BMEN office at UNT Department of Biomedical Engineering, 3940 North Elm Street, B131, Denton, TX 76207
