

UNT College of Music Piano Audition Information

Audition repertoire/screening requirements are the same, whether you plan to audition live or by recording:

Undergraduate Repertoire: <http://music.unt.edu/admissions/undergraduate-repertoire>

Graduate Repertoire: <http://music.unt.edu/admissions/graduate-repertoire>

All undergraduate piano performance applicants and all graduate piano applicants must submit a screening recording for live audition consideration. Recordings will be reviewed by the piano faculty to determine your advancement in the audition process. You will be notified no later than one month before your requested audition date regarding the results.

A live audition/interview is highly preferred (required for GAC applicants), but if you are unable to attend one of our live audition dates, you may upload a final video audition using the College of Music online application system*.

Information regarding screenings and final audition recordings:

- Applicants living within 100 miles of Denton are expected to audition live, unless approval has been received from the faculty
- We do not accept “audio only” files for piano auditions
- Video recordings must be unedited, and without artificial audio enhancement
- Recordings must be from within the past 6 months – recordings older than six months are not acceptable
- Audition videos will be uploaded directly to the College of Music application system
- The application system only allows uploading up to five videos – if you have more than five videos, please combine movements/pieces prior to uploading
- Check both the quality and playability of your recording prior to upload – high quality recordings are expected
- All Graduate Artist Certificate (GAC) applicants are required to audition live

English Language Proficiency:

- Until an applicant proves UNT English Language Proficiency, no admission or music award offer can be made.
- Music awards are not available for students who choose to attend IELI or OCT.

*Final Deadline:

The deadline to submit final video auditions and applications through Acceptd is Friday, February 1, 2019 for fall admission consideration.
