

Onstead Institute / Amon Carter Museum Fellowship in Museum Education

Job Description

The fellow will learn aspects of museum education, which would include:

Observing, planning, and implementing community outreach programs for K-12 audiences
Observing, planning, and implementing K-12 school tours in the galleries
Executing K-12 teacher workshops
Evaluating education programs

Funding

This fellowship is generously funded through the Onstead Institute and the Amon Carter Museum of American Art. The fellow will receive $8,000 in payments of $4,000 per semester.

Logistics

Participating students will enroll for three credit hours per semester in ART 5450: Internship with the Department of Art Education and Art History for a total of six credit hours. The instructor of record at UNT is Laura Evans. The six credit hours in ART 5450 can fulfill the internship requirement for the graduate Art Museum Education Certificate. For more information about the Art Museum Education Certificate, see: <https://art.unt.edu/art-history-art-education/art-museum-education>

Fellowship period

This fellowship consists of 10 hours per week at the Amon Carter Museum of American Art for a total of 135 hours on site at the museum per semester. This fellowship runs from the start of the Summer semester (2019) to the end of the Fall semester (2019). The fellow and their supervisor at the Amon Carter will decide how to distribute the 10 hours over a week.

Eligibility

Applicants must be currently enrolled graduate students at the University of North Texas and have completed at least one art museum education course in the Department of Art Education and Art History. Preferred candidates will have some experience in museums or as educators.
