UNT employs more than 5,000 students each semester through the Career Center, and their contributions are vital to the functions of the university.

For National Student Employment Week, departments are encouraged to spotlight their student employees on social media; make huge thank you notes in their offices; give small treats to their student employees; give student employees fun awards for the office; and host fun celebrations. On April 11, a Student Employee Appreciation Reception will be held in the University Union featuring live jazz music, food, a guest speaker and awards.

UNT Traditions

Curfew and Spirit Bell

The bell that would become our Spirit Bell is a symbol of tradition as old as our campus itself.

Brought to Denton from Michigan in 1891, it rang from the tower of the first building — the Normal Building — and later from the roof of the Power Plant, signaling class changes, curfew, the delivery of mail and celebrations such as the signing of the armistice that ended World War I. The Talons spirit group placed the bell, also called the Victory Bell, on a trailer and began ringing it at football games in 1962. It was retired to the University Union 20 years later, after cracks were discovered, and the Talons continued to promote spirit with smaller bells at football games, pep rallies and other events. In 2002, after years of searching, alumni found a large bell similar to the original and donated it and a remodeled airport tug to carry it. The bell signals pride and spirit, linking us to all the generations of students who came before.
