

Dexter Roberts
Author, Nonresident Senior Fellow at the Atlantic Council Asia
Security Initiative and Fellow at the University of Montana's Maureen and Mike Mansfield Center

Dexter Roberts is an award-winning writer, speaker and analyst on China now serving as a Nonresident Senior Fellow at the Atlantic Council Asia Security Initiative, a Fellow at the Maureen and Mike Mansfield Center, and an adjunct instructor in political science at the University of Montana. Previously he was China bureau chief and Asia News Editor at Bloomberg Businessweek, based in Beijing for more than two decades. He has reported from all of China's provinces and regions including Tibet and Xinjiang, covering the rise of companies and entrepreneurs, manufacturing and migrants, demography and civil society, and politics and security. He has also reported from North Korea, Mongolia and Cambodia, on China's growing economic and political influence. Roberts' first book, The Myth of Chinese Capitalism: The Worker, the Factory, and the Future of the World, was published by St. Martin's Press in March 2020 and he has also founded and publishes a weekly newsletter called Trade War. He has a BA in Political Science from Stanford University and Master of International Affairs from Columbia University and studied Mandarin Chinese at Taiwan Normal University.

Mr. Roberts has not previously testified before the Commission.