About the Training

The U.S. Department of Justice, Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA), is offering a training program for trainers and potential trainers of the National Information Exchange Model (NIEM) courses. This event offers a two-day course—the first day is NIEM training and the second day offers training techniques. The course will be designed to help new trainers learn how to teach the NIEM curriculum. It will also provide existing trainers with the opportunity to refresh their training methods and learn about the current NIEM curriculum. A basic knowledge of NIEM is required. It is preferable, but not required, to have attended either a GJXDM or NIEM training class.
