*The "National Bank Notes: Redemption Fund" was established under requirement of the act of July 14, 1890, which states: Deposits made by National Banks to redeem circulating notes shall be covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts and the Treasury shall redeem from the general cash the circulating notes which come into its possession subject to redemption. The balance of deposits shall, at the close of each month, be reported on the Monthly Public Debt Statement as a debt of the United States bearing no interest.

† Includes $43,873,100 demand gold certificates received in exchange for gold and order gold certificates.

The foregoing is a correct statement of the Public Debt and of the cash in the Treasury at the close of business August 31, 1915.
