

The Federal government requires grant recipients to provide a DUNS number. DUNS numbers should be free of charge; however, there may be a charge to expedite your request. If you do not have a DUNS number you may obtain one by contacting Dun and Bradstreet.

Dun and Bradstreet Telephone Numbers.

Generally, it takes 5-10 minutes to obtain a DUNS number by telephone. DUNS numbers are not available by telephone for Latin America and the Caribbean, except Mexico; please visit the Dun and Bradstreet website at <http://www.dnbla.com> to obtain one.

United States call toll free:	866-705-5711 (weekdays 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM ET)
Canada call toll free:	800-463-6362 (weekdays 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM)
Mexico call: (Mexico City office)	011-52-55-5229-6941 (weekdays 8:30 AM to 5:30 PM) 011-52-55-5229-6900 (weekdays 8:30 AM to 5:30 PM)
Federal Agencies call toll free:	866-705-5711 (weekdays from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM (ET))
Latin America/Caribbean Customer Support: (Miami, Florida Office)	954-577-4496 (weekdays 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM ET) 954-577-4474 (weekdays 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM ET)
International Customer Support:	800-932-0025 (will provide country-specific D&B telephone number)

Dun and Bradstreet On-line Request Form.

Generally, it takes 48 hours to obtain a DUNS number on-line. You may complete the request form on-line and submit it electronically. Latin American organizations may FAX the request form to 954-577-4546, if desired.

Complete the on-line request form available at <http://dnb.com/ccr/register.html>.

Dun and Bradstreet Internet Sites.

Generally, it takes 30 working days to obtain a DUNS number through the Internet. However, DUNS numbers requested for Latin America and the Caribbean may be expedited and generally, received within 10 days.

United States:	http://www.dnb.com/US/duns_update/index.html
Canada:	http://www.dnb.ca/duns/
Mexico:	http://www.dnbmex.com.mx
Latin America:	http://www.dnbla.com