

WHAT TO DO IN A SHELTER WHEN SOMEONE SHOWS COVID-19 SYMPTOMS

If a person gets sick or exhibits symptoms

Is the individual experiencing:

Trouble breathing, persistent pain or pressure in the chest, new confusion, inability to wake or stay awake, and/or bluish lips or face

Call 911

If experiencing:

Fever/chills, new or worsening cough, fatigue, muscle/body aches, headache, loss of taste/smell, sore throat, congestion/runny nose, nausea/vomiting, and/or diarrhea

Resident

Staff

Send staff member home for 14 days and/or recommend testing

Return to shelter

Test negative

Resident gets tested and waits for results

Resident cannot get tested

Separate resident and refer for testing

Test positive

Send to isolation site

Resident stays in isolation area within the shelter or is safely transferred to a quarantine facility